TESTIMONIALS.

Me srs. WING-KEE & Co.
[Copr.]
Hongkong, 30th July, 1902.
I am directed by the Commodore-in-charge to express his satisfaction with the manner in which you conducted your part of the coaling of H.M.S. "TERRIBLE" on 24th April, 19 2, 8th July, 1902, and 25th July, 1902. On the first occasion 2,500 tons were put on board in 9 hours 15 minutes; on the second, $2, n 00$ tons in 10 hours; and on the third 3,500 tons in 6 hours 20 minutes.

The firemen and coolies worked well, and orders were carried out rapidly and correctly, with the result that on each occasion a successful evolution was made.
J. W. L. OLIVER, Naral Store Offeer.
[Cory.]
Hongkong, 18th February, 1901
Gentlemen,
$\square$
I am desired by the Commodore-in-Charge to express his great pleasure at tho Coaling Operation which you carried out last week.

On the 14th instant a total of 3,739 l tons were handled by you, including the loading up of 2,600 tons at Lap-Sap-Wan betweon 7 a.m. and $1: 2$ midnight.

On the following day the loading of H.M.S. "TERRIBLE" with 2,600 tons was carried out, with every success, in $15 \frac{1}{2}$ hours (including $2 \frac{1}{2}$ hours for meals, $\& \mathrm{c}$.) and the Commodore and Commanding Officer of H.M.S. "TERRIBLE" have both expressed their satisfaction at this operation.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant, (Signed) W. SMITH,
Messrs. WING-KEE & Co., Hongkong.
Naval Store Officer.

[COPY.]
Messrs. WING-KEE & Co.
Hongkong, 24th January, 1899.

Dear Sirs,

I am directed by the Commodore to express to you his satisfaction with the manner in which the recent coaling of the "CENTURION" was carried out.

Both the No. 1 man and the coolies worked well, and the Captain of II.M.S. "CENTURION," who reported this to the Commodore, was also pleased with the rapid coaling of the ship.

I am, Yours Faithfully,
(Signed) II. SIMMINS, Naval Store Officer.

[Cory.]  H.M, NAVAL YARD.

Messrs. WING-KEE & Co.
Hongkong, 30th March, 1898.
I am desired by the Commodore to express to you his gratification with the expeditious manner in which the coaling of H.M.S. "CENTURION" was carried out yesterday.
(Signed) W. TARN, Naval Store Keeper.

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and His Majesty the Emperor of China, being desirous of putting an eud to the misunderstandiugs and consequent hostilities which hare arisen between the two countries, have resolved to conclude a treaty for that purpose, and have therefore named as their Plenipotentiarjes, that is to say: Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Sir Henry Pottinger, Bart., a Major-General in the Service of the East India Company, &c.; and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, the High Commissioners Ke-ving, a Member of the Imperial House, a Guardian of the Crown Prince, and General of the Garrison of Canton: and Ilpoo, of the Imperial Kindred, graciously permitted to wear the insignia of the first rank, and the distinction of a peacock's feather, lately Blinister and Governor-General, &c., and now Lieut,-General commanding at Chipoo-Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, and found them to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the tollowing Articles:-

Art. I.--There shall henceforward be peace aud friendship between Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and His Majesty the Emperor of China, and between their respective subjects, who shall enjoy full security and protection for their persons and property within the dominions of the other.

Art. II.-His Majesty the Emperor of China agrees that British subjects, with their families and establishments, shall be allowed to reside, for the purpose of carr:ing on their mercantile pursuits, without molestation or restraint, at the cities and towns of Canton, Amoy, Foochow-foo, Ningpo, and Shanghai; and Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, &c., will appoint superinteudents, or consular officers, to reside at each of the above-named cities or towns, to be the medium of communication between the Chinese authorities and the said merchants, and to see that the just duties and other dues of the Chinese Government, as hereinafter provided for, are duly discharged by Her Britannic Majesty's suljects.

Art. III.-It being obviously necessary and desirable that British subjects should have some fort whereat they may careen and refit their ships when required, and keep stores for that purpose, His Majesty the Emperor of China cedes to Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, &c., the Island of Hongkong to be possessed in perpetuity by Her Britmnic Majesty, her heirs, and successors, and to be governed by such laws and regulations as Her Najesty the Queen of Great Britain, &e., slaall see tit to direct.

Art. IV. - The Emperor of China agrees to pay the sum of six millions of dollars, as the value of the opium which was delivered up, at Canton in the month of March, 1839, as a ransom for the lives of Her Britannic Majesty's Superintendent and subjects who had been imprisoned and threatened with death by the Chinese high officers.

Art. V.--The Government of Chinal having compelled the British merchants trading at Canton todeal exclusively with certain Chinese merchants, called Hong merchants (or Co-Hong), who had been licensed by the Chinese Government for this purpose, the Emperor of China agrees to abolish that practice in future at all ports where British merchants may reside, and to permit them to carry on their mercantile transactions with whatever persons they please; and His Imperial Majesty further agrees to pay to the British Government the sum of three millions of dollars, on account of debts due to British subjects by some of the said Hong merchants, or Co-Hong, who have become iusolvent, and who owe very large sums of money to suljects of Her Britannic Majesty.

Art. VI.-The Government of Her Britanuic Majesty having been obliged to send out an expedition to demand and obtain redress for the violent and unjust proceedings of the Cninese high authorities toward.s Her Britannic Majesty's officers and subjects, the Emperor of China agrees to pay the sum of twelre millions of dollars, on account of expenses incurred ; and Her Britannic Majesty's pleuipotentiary voluntarily agrees, on behalf of Her Mujesty, to deduct from the said amount of twelve millions of dollars, any sums which may have been received by Her Majesty's combine 1 forces, as ransom for cities and towns in China, subsequent to the lst day of August, 1841.

Art. VIL.-It is agreed that the total amount of twenty-one millions of dollars, described in the three preceding articles, shall he paid as follows :-

Six millions immediately.
Six millions in 1843 ; that is, three millions on or before the 30 th June, and three millions on or before 31st of December.
Five milions in 1844; that is, two millions and a half on or before the 30th of June, and two millions and a half on or before the 31st of December.
Four millions in 1845 ; that is, two millions on or before 30 th of June, and two millions on or before the 31st of December.
And it is further stipulated that interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, shall be paid by the Goverınent of China ou any portion of the above sums that are not punctually discharged at the periods fixed.

Art. VIII. - The Emperor of China agrees to release, unconditionally, all subjects of Her Britannic Majesty (whether natives of Europe or India), who may be in confinement at this moment in any part of the Chinese Empire.

Art. IX.- The Emperor of China agrees to publish and promulgate, under his imperial sign manual and seal, a full and entire amnesty and act of indemnity to all subjects of China, on account of their having resided under, or having had dealings and intercourse with, or having entered the service of Her Britannic Majesty, or of Her Majesty's officers ; and His Imperial Majesty further engages to releise all Chinese suljects who may be at this moment in confinement for similar reasons.

Art. X.-His Majesty the Emperor of Chinu agrees to establish at all the ports which are, by Article II. of this 'lreaty, to be thrown open for the resort of Briti ih merchants, a fair and regular tariff of export and import customs and other dues, which tarift shall be publicly notified and promulgated for general information; and the Emperor further eugages that, when British merchandise shall have once paid at any of the said ports the regulated customs and dues, agreeable of the tarift to be hereafter fixed, such merchandise may be conveyed by Chinese merchants to any province or city in the interior of the empire of China, on paying a further amount as transit duties, which shall not exceed-per cent. on the tariff value of such goods.

Art. XL.-It is agreed that Her Britannic Majesty's chief high officer in China shall correspond with the Chinese high officers, both at the capital and in the provinces, under the terin "communication"; the subordinate British officers and Chinese high officers in the provinces under the term "statement," on the part of the former, and on the part of the latter, "declaration," and the subordinates of both countries on a footing of perfect equality ; merchants and others not holding official situations, and therefore not includel in the above, on both sides for use the term "representation" in all papers addressed to, or intended for, the notice of the respective Governments.

Art. XII.-On the assent of the Emperor of China to this Treaty being received, and the discharge of the first instalment of money, Her Britannic Majesty's forces will retire from Nanking and the Grand Canal, and will no longer molest or stop the trade of China. The military post at Chinhae will also be withdrawn ; but the island of Koolangsuo, and that of Chusan, will continue to be held by Her Majesty's forces until the money payments, and the arraugements for opening the ports to British merchants, be completed.

Art. XIII.-The ratifications of this Treaty by Her Majesty the Qneen of Great Britain, &e., and His Majesty the Emperor of China, shall be exchanged as soon as the great distance which separates England from China will admit; but, in the meantime, counterpart copies of it, siyned and sealed by the plemipotentiaries on behalf of their respective sovereigns, shall be mutually delivered, and all its provisions and arraugements shall take effect.

Done at Nanking, and signed and sealed by the plenipotentiaries on board Her Britiannic Majesty's ship Cornwallis, this 29th day of August, 1842; corresponding with the Chinese date, twentr-fourth daby of the seventh month, in the twenty-second year of Thou Kwang.

Henry Pottinger,

Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary.
And sigued by the seals of four Chinese Commissioners.

British subjects who may commit any crime in China shall be tried and punished by the Consul, or other public functionary authorisel thereto, according to the laws of Great Britain.

Justice slail be eguitably and impartially alministere 1 on both sides.
Art. XVII.-A British sulject, having reason to complain of Chinese, must proceed to the Consulate, and state his grievance. The Consul will inquire into the merits of the case, and do his utmost to arrange it amicably. In like manner, if a Chinese have reason to complain of a British subject, the Cusul shall no less listen to his conplaint, and endeavour to settle it in a friendly manner. If disputes take place of such a nature that the Consul cannot arringe them amicably, then he shall request the assistance of the Chinese authorities, that they may together examine into the merits of the case, and decile it equitably.

Art. XVIII.-The Chinese authorities shall at all times afford the fullest protection to the persous and property of British subjects, whenever these shall have been subjected to insult or violence. In all cases of incendiarism or robbery, the lucal authorities shall at once take the necessary steps for the recovery of the stolen property, the suppression of disorder, and the arrest of the guilty parties, whom they will punish according to law.

Art. XIX.-If any British merchant-vessel, while within Chinese waters, be plundered by robbers or pirates, it shall be the daty of the Chinese authorities to use every endeavour to captute and pmuish the said robbers or pirates and to recover the stolen property, that it may be handed over to the Consul for restoration to the owner.

Art. XX.-If any British vessel be at any time wrecked or stranded on the coast of China, or be compelled to take refuge in any port within the dominions of the Emperor of China, the Chinese anthorities, on being apprised of the fact, shall immediately adopt measures for its relief and security; the persons on board shall receive friendly treatment and shall be furnished, if necessary, with the means of conveyance to the nearest Consular station.

Art. XXI.-If criminals, suljects of China, shall take refuge in Hongkong or on buard the British ships there, they shall, upon due requisition by the Chinese authorities, be searched for, and, on proof of their guilt, be delivered up.

In like manner, if Chinese offenders take refuge in the houses or on board the vessels of British subjects at the open ports, they shall not be harboured or concealed, but slall be delivered up, on due requisition by the Chinese authorities, addressed to the British Consul.

Art. XXII.-Should any Chinese sulject fail to discharge delbts incurred to a British subject, or shonld he fraudulently abscond, the Chinese anthorities will do their utinost to effect his arrest aud enforce recovery of the debts. The British authorities will likewise do their utmost to bring to justice any British subject fraudulently absconding or failing to discharge delts ineurred by him to a Chinese sulject.

Art. XXIII.-Should natives of China who may repair to Hongkong to trade incur debts there, the recovery of such debts must be arranged for by the English Court of Justice on the spot ; but should the Chinese debtor abscond, and be known to have property real or personal within the Chinese territory, it shall be the duty of the Chinese authorities on application by, and in concert with, the British Consul, to do their utmost to see justice done between the parties.

Art. XXIV.-It is agreed that British subjects shall pay, on all merchandise imported or exported lyy them, the duties preseribed by the tariff; but in no case shall they be called upon to pay other or higher duties than are required of the subjects of any other foreign nation.

Art. XXV.- Import duties shall be considered payable on the landing of the goods, and duties of export on the shipment of the same.

Art. XXVI.-Whereas the tariff fixed by Article X. of the Treaty of Nanking, and which was estimated so as to impose on imports ind exports a duty of about the rate of five per cent. ald valorem, his been found, by reason of the fall in value of various articles of merchandise therein enumerated, $t_{0}$ impose a dutv upon these considerably in excess of the rate originally assumed, us above, to be a fair rate, it is a.rred that the said tariff shall be revised, and that as soon as the Treaty shall have been signed, application shall be made to the Emperor of China to depute a high officer of the Board of Revenne to meet, at Shanghai, officers to le deputed on behalf of the British Government, to consider its revision together, so that the tariff, as revised, may come into operation immediately after the ratification of this Treaty.

Art. XXVII--It is agreed that either of the high contracting parties to this Treaty may demand a further revision of the tariff, and of the Commercial Articles of this Treaty, at the end of ten years; but if no demand be made on either side within six months after the end of the first ten years, the: the tariff shall remain in force for ten years more, reckoned from the end of the preceding ten years, and so it shall be at the end of each successive ten years.

Art. XXVIII. - Whereas it was agreed in Article X. of the Treaty of Nanking that British imports, having paid the tariff duties, should be conveyed into the interior, free of all further charges, except a transit duty, the amount whereof was not to exceed a certain percentage on turiff value; and whereas, no accurate information having been furnished of the amount of such duty, British merchants have constantly complained that charges are suddenly and arbitrarily imposed by the provincial authorities as transit duties upon produce on its way to the foreign market, and on imports on their way into the interior, to the detriment of trade; it is agreed that within four months from the signing of this Treaty, at all ports now open to British trade, and withia a similar period at all ports that may hereafter be opened, the authority appointed to superintend the collection of duties shall be obliged, upon application of the Consul, to declare the amount of duties leviable on produce between the plave of production and the port of shipment, upon imports between the Consular port in question and the inland markets named by the Consul; and that a notitication thereof shall be published in English and Chinese for general information.

But it shall be at the option of any British subject desiring to convey produce purchased inland to a port, or to convey imports from a port to an inland market, to clear his goods of all transit duties, by payment of a single charge. The amount of this charge shall be leviable on exports at the first barrier they may have to pass, or, on imports, at the port at which they are landed; and on payment thereof a certificate shall be issued, which shall exemp,t the goods from all further inland charges whatsoever-

It is further agreed that the amonnt of the charge shall be calculated, as nearly as possible, at the rate of two and a half per cent. ad valorem, and that it shall be fixed for each article at the conference to to beld at Shanghai for the revision of the tariff.

It is distinctly understood that the payment of transit dues, by commutation or otherwise, shall in no way affect the tariff duties on imports or exports, which will continue to be levied separately and in full.

Art. XXIX.-British merchant vessels, of more than oue hundred and fifty tons burden, shall be charged tomage-dues at the rate of four mace per ton ; if of one hundred and fifty tons and under, they shall be charged at the rate of one mace per ton.

Any vessel clearing from any of the open ports of China for any other of the open parts, or for Hongkong, shall be entitled, on application of the master, to a special certificite from the Customs, on exhibition of which slie shall be exempted from all further payment of tonnage dues in any opur purts of China, for a period of four months, to he reckoned from the port-clearance.

Art. XXX.-The master of any British merchant-vessel may, within forty-eight Lours after the arrival of his vessel, but not later, decide to depart without breaking tulk, in wiich case he will not be subject to pay tomngre-dues. But tonnage-dues shall be held due after the expiration of the said forty-eight hours. No other fees or charges upon entry or departure shall be levied.

Art. XXXI. - No tonnage-dues shall be payable on boats employed by British sul,jects in the conveyance of passengers, baggrage, letters, articles of provision, or other articles not subject to duty, letween any of the open ports. All cargo-boats, however, conveying merchandiso subject to daty shall pay tonnage-dues once in six months, at the rate of four mace per register tom.

Art. XXXII.-The Consuls and Superintendents of Customs shall consult together regarding the erection of beacons or lighthouses and the distribution of buoys and lightships, as occrasion may demand.

Art. XXXIII.-Duties shall be paid to the bankers authorised by the Chinese Government to receive the same in its behalf, either in sycee or in foreign money, according to the assay made at Canton on the thirteenth of July, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three.

Art. XXXIV.-Sets of standard weights and measures, prepared according to the standard issue 1 to the Canton Custom-house by the Board of Revenue, shall be delivered by the Superintendent of Customs to the Consal at each port to secure uniformity and preveut confusion.

Art. XXXV.-Any British merchant vessel arriving at one of the open ports shall be at liberty to engage the services of a pilot to talie her into port. In like manner, after she has discharged all legal dues and duties and is ready to take her departure, she shall be allowed to select a pilot to conduct her out of port.

Art. XXXVI.--Whenever a British merchant vessel shall arrive off one of the open ports, the Superintendent of Customs shall depute one or more Customs officers to guard the ship. They shall either live in a boat of their own, or stay on board the ship, as may best suit their convenience. Their food and expenses shatl be supplied them from the Custom-house, and they shall not be entitled to any fees whatever from the master or consignee. Should they violate this regulation, they shall be yunished proportionately to the amount exactei.

Art. XXXVIL. Within twentefour hours after arrival, the ship's papers, bills of lading, &e., shall be lodged in the hands of the Consul, who will within a further period of twenty-four hours report to the Superintendent of Customs the name of the ship, her register tonnage, and the nature of her cargo. If, owing to neglect on the part of the master, the above rule is not complied with within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival, he shall be liable to a fine of fifty taels for every day's delay; the total anount of penalty, however, shall not exceed two lundred taels.

I'he master will be responsille for the correctness of the manifest, which shall contain a full and true account of the particulars of the cargo on board. For presenting a false manifest, he will subject himself to a fine of five hundred tatels; but he will be allowed to correct, within twenty-four hours after delivery of it to the customs officers, any mistake he may discover in his manifest without incurring this penalty.

Art. XXXVILI.-After receiving from the Consul the report in due furm, the Superintendent of Customs shall grant the vessel a permit to open hatches. If the master shall open hatches, and begin to discharge ny goods without such permission, he shall tef fined five hundred taels, and the grools discharged shall be confiscated wholly.

Art. XXXIX.-Any British merchant who has cargo to land or ship must apply to the Superintendent of Customs for a special permit. Cargo landed or shipped without such permit, will be liable to confiscation.

Art. XL. - No transhipment from one vessel to another can be made without special permission, under pain of confiscation of the goods so transhipped.

Art. XLI.-When all dues and duties shail have been pail, the superintendent of Customs shall give a port-clearance, and the Consul shall then return the ship's papers, so that she may depart on her yoyage.

Art. XLII.-With respect to articles sulbject, according to the tariff, to an ad valorem duty, if the British merchant cannot agree with the Chinese officer in affixiug its value, then each party shall call two or three merchants to look at the goods, and the highest price at which any of these merchants would be williug to purchase them shall be assumed as the value of the goods.

Art. XLIII.-Duties shall be charged mpon the net weight of each article, making i deduction for the tare, weight of congee, sce. To fix the tare of any articles, such ats tea, if the British merchant cannot agree with the Custom-house officer, then each party shall choose so many chnsts out of every hundred, which being first weighed in gross, shall afterwards be tired, and the average tare upon these chests shall be assumed as the tare uron the whole; and upon this principle shall the tare be fixed upno other goods and packages. If there should be any other points in dispute which cannot be settled, the British merchnnt may appeal to his Consul, who will communicate the particulars of the case to the Superintendent of Customs, that it may be equitably arranged. But the appeal must be made within twenty-four hours or it will not be attended to. While such points are still musettled, the Superintendent of Customs shall postpone the insert:on of the same in his books.

Art. XLIV.--Upon all damaged goods a fiur reduction of duty shall be allowed, proportionate to their deterioration. If any disputes arise, they shall be settled in the manner pointed out in the clause of this Treaty having reference to articles which pay duty ad valorem.

CONVENTION OF PEACE BETWEEN HER BRITANNIC MAJESTY AND THE EMPEROR OF CHINA

Signed at Peking, 24til Octobele, 1860
Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, being alike desirous to bring to an end the misunderstanding at present existing between their respective Goveruments, and to secure their relations against further interruption, have for this purpose appointed Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:-

Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine; and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, His Imperial Highness the Prince of Kung; who having met and communicated to each other their full powers, and finding these to be in proper form, have agreed upon the following Convention, in Nine Articles:-

Art. I.-A breach of friendly relations having been necasioned by the act of the Garrison of Taku, which obstructed Her Britannic Majesty's Representative when on his way to Peling, for the purpose of exchanging the ratifications of the Treaty of Peace conchuded at Tientsin in the month of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China expresses his deep regret at the misunderstanding so occasioned.

Art. II.-It is further expressly declared, that the arrangement entered into at Shanghai, in the month of October, one thousand eight hunitred and fifty-eight, between Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador, the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, and His Imperial Miljesty's Commissioners Kweiliang and Hwashana, regarding the residence of Her Britannic Majesty's Representative in China, is hereby cancelled, and that, in accordance with Article III. of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eighr, Her Britannic Majesty's Representative will henceforward reside, permanently or occasionally, at Peking, as Her Britannic Majesty shall be pleased to decide.

Art. III.-It is agreed that the separate Article of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and filty-eight is herely annulled, and that in lien of the amount of indemnity therein specified, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China shall pay the sum of eight millions of taels, in the following proportions or instaluents, namely -at Tientsin, on or before the 30th day of November, the sum of five hundred thousand taels; at Canton, on or before the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, three hundred and thirty-three thousand and thirty-three taels, less the sum which shill have been advanced by the Canton authorities toward the completion of the British Factory site of Shameen; and the remainder at the ports open to foreign trade, in quarterly payments, which shall consist of one-fifth of the gross revenne from Customs there collected; the first of the said payments being due on the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight humdred and sixty, for the quarter terminating on that day.

It is further agreed that these moneys shall be paid into the hands of an officer whom Her Britannic Majesty's Representative shall specially appoint to receive them, and that the accuracy of the amount shall, before payment, be duly ascertained by British and Chinese officers appointed to discharge this duty.

In order to prevent future discnssion, it is moreover declared that of the eight millions of ticels herein guaranteed, two millions will be appropriated to the indemnification of the British Mercantile Community at Canton for losses sustained by them; and the remaining six millions to the liquidation of war expenses.

Art. IV.--It is agreed that ou the day on which this Convention is signel, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China sball open the port of Tientsin to trade, and that it shall be thereafter competent to British subjects to reside and trade there, under the same conditions as at any other port of China by treaty open to trade.

Art. V.-As soon as the ratifications of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight shall have been exchanged, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China will, by decree, command the high authorities of every province to proclaim throughout their jurisdictions that Chinese, in choosing to take service in British Colonies or other parts beyond sea, are at perfert liberty to enter into engagements with British subjects for that purpose, and to ship themselves and their families on board any British vessels at the open ports of China; also, that the high authorities aforesad shall, in concert with Her Britannic Majesty's Representative in China, frame such regulations for the protection of Chinese emigrating as above as the circumstances of the different open ports may demand.

Art. VI.-With a view to the maintenance of law and order in and about the harbour of Hongkong, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China agrees to cede to Her Majesty the Queen of Great Brit in and Ireland, Her heirs and successors, to have and to hold as a dependency of Her Britanuic Majesty's Colony of Hougkong, that portion of the township of Kowloon, in the procince of Kwangtung, of which a lease was grauted in perpetuity to Harry Smith Parkes, Esquire, Companion of the Bath, a Member of the Allied Commission at Canton, on behalf of Her Britannic Majesty's Government by Lau Tsung-kwang, Governor-General of the Two Kwang.

It is further declared that the lease in question is hereby cancelled, that the claims of any Chinese to property on the said portion of Kowloon shall be duly investigated by a mixed Commission of British and Chinese officers, and that compensation shall be awarded by the British Government to any Chinese whose claim shall be by that said Commission estallished, should his removal be deemed necessary by the British Goverument.

Art. VII.-It is agreed that the provisions of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, except in so far as they are modified by the present Convention, shall without delay come into operation as soon as the ratifications of the Treaty aforesail shall have been exchanged. It is further agreed, that no separate ratification of the present Convention shall be necessary, but that it shall take effect from the date of its siguature, and be equally linding with the Treaty above mentioned on the high contracting parties.

Art. VIII.-It is agreed that, as soon as the ratifications of the Treaty of the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight shall have been exchanged, H:s Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Chiua shall, ly decree, command the high authorities in the capital, and in the provinces, to print and publish the aforesaid Treaty and the present Convention for general information.

Art. IX.-It is agreed that, as soon as the Convention shall have been signed, the ratifications of the Treaty of the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight shall have been exchanged, and an Inperial Decree respecting the publication of the said Convention and Treaty shall have been promulgated, as provided for by Article VIII. of the Convention, Chusan shall be evacuated by Her Britaunic Majesty's troops there stationed, and Her Britannic Majesty's force now before Peking shall commence its march towards the city of Tientsin, the forts of Taku, the north const of Shantung, and the city of Cantou, at each or all of which places it shall be at the option of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland to retain a force until the indemnity of eight millions of taels, guaranteed in Article III., shall have been paid.

Done at Peking, in the Court of the Board of Ceremonies, on the twenty-fourth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sisty.

RULES FOR JOINT INVESTIGATION IN CASES OF CONFISCATION AND FINE BY THE CUSTOM HOUSE AUTHORITIES*

Agreed to and Promulgated by the British Minister at Peking, 31st May, 1868

Rule I.-It shall be the Rule for all business connected with the Custom House Department to be in the first instance transacted between the Commissioner of Customs and the Consul, personally or by letter; and procedure in deciding cases shall he taken in accordance with the folluwing Regulations.

Rule II.-Whenever a ship or goods belonging to a foreign merchant is seized in a port in China by the Custom House officers, the seizure shall be reported witiout delay to the Kien-tuh, or Chinese Superintendent of Customs. If he considers the scizure justifiable, he will depute the Shwui-wu-sze, or foreign Commissioner of Customs, to give notice to the prarty to whom the slip or goods are declared to belong that they have been seized because such or such an irregularity has been committed, and that they will be confiscatel, unless, before noon on a certain day being the sixth day from the delivery of the notice, the Custom House authorities receive from the Consul an official application to have the case fully investigated.

The merchant to whom the ship or goods belong, if prepared to maintain that the alleged irregularity las not been committed, is free to appeal, within the limited time, directly to the Commissioner, who is to inform the Superintendent. If satisfied with his explanation, the Superintendent will direct the release of the ship or goods; otherwise, if the merchant elect not to appeal to the Customs, or if after receiving his explanation the Superiutendent still decliues to release the ship or goods, he may appeal to his Consul, who will inform the Superintendent of the particulars of this appeal, and request him to name a day for them both to investigate and try the case publicly.

Rule III.-The Superintendent, on receipt of the Consul's communication, will name a day for meeting at the Custom House; and the Consul will direct the merchant to appear with his witnesses there on the day named and will himself on that day proceed to the Custom House. The Superintendent will invite the Consul to takis his seat with him on the bench; the Commissioner of Customs will also be seated to assist the Superintendent.

Proceedings will be opened by the Superintendent, who will call on the Customs employes who seized the ship or goods to state the circumstances which occasioned the seizure, and will question them as to their evidence. Whatever the merchant may have to alvance in contradiction of their evidence he will state to the Consul who will cross-examine them for him. Such will be the proceedings in the interest of truth and equity. The Consul and Superintendent may, if they see fit, appoint deputies to meet at the Custom House in their stead, in which case the order of proceeding will be the same as if they were present in person.

Rule IV.-Notes will be taken of the statements of all parties examined, a copy of which will be signed and sealed by the Consul and Superintemdent. The room will then be cleared, and the Superintendent will inform the Consul of the course he proposes to pursue. If he proposes to confiscate the vessel or goods, and the Consul dissents, the merchant may appeal, and the Consul having given notice of the appeal to the Superintendent, they will forward certitied copies of the above notes to Peking -the former to his Minister, and the latter to the Foreign Office-for their decision.

If the Consul agrees with the Superintendent that the ship or goods ought to be confiscated, the merchant will not have the right of appeal; and in no case will the release of ship or goods entitle him to claim indemnity for their seizure, whether they be released after the investigation at the Custom House, or after the appeal to the high authorities of both nations at Peking.

Rule V.--The case having been referred to superior authority, the merchant interested shall be at liberty to give a bond, binding himself to pay the full value of [^0]the ship or goods attached should the ultimate decision be against him; which bond being sealed with the Consular seal and deposited at the Custom House, the Superintendent will restore to the merchant the ship or goods attached; and when the superior authorities shall have decided whether so much money is to be paid, or the whole of the property seized be confiscated, the merchant will be called on to pay accordingly. If he decline to give the necessary security, the ship or merchandise attached will be detained. But whether the decision of the superior authorities be favourable or not, the appellant will not be allowed to claim indemnity.

Rule VI.- When the act of which a merchant at any port is accused is not one involving the confiscaton of ship or cargo, but is one which, by Treaty or Regulation, is punished by fine, the Commissioner will report the case to the Superintendent, and at the same time cause a plaint to be entered in the Consular Court. The Consul will fix the day of the trial, and inform the Comonissioner that ho may then appear with the evidence and the witnesses in the case. And the Commissioner either personally or by deputy, shall take his seat on the bench, and conduct the case on behalf of the prosecution.

When the Treaty or Regulations affix a spesific fine for the offence, the Consul shall on conviction give judgment for that amount, the power of mitioating the sentence resting with the Superintendent aud Commissioner. If the defendant is acquitted, and the Commissioner does not demur to the decision, the ship or goods, if any ba under seizure, shall at once be released, and the circumstances of the case be communicated to the Superintendent. The merchant shall not bs put to any expense by delay, but he shall have no claim for compensation on account of hindrance in his business, for loss of interest, or for demurrage. If a difference of opinion exist between the Commissioner and Consul, notice to that effect shall bo given to the Superintendent, and copies of the whole proceedings forwarded to Peking for the consideration of their respective high authorities, Pending their decision, the owner of the property must file a bond in the Consular Court to the full value of the proposed fine, which will be sent to the Custom House authorities by the Consul, and the goods or ship will be released.

Rule VII. - If the Custom House authorities and Consul cannot agree as to whether certain duties are leviable or not, action must be taken as Rule V. directs, and the merchant monst sign a bond for the value of the duties in question. The Consul will affix his seal to this document, and send it to the Custom Hoase authorities, when the Superintendent will release the goods without receiving the duty; and these two functionaries will respectively send statements of the case to Peling, one to his Minister, the other to the Foreign Office.

If it shall be decided there that no duty shall be levied the Custom House authoritie; will return the merchant's bond to the Consul to be cancelled; but it if be decided that a certain amount of duty is leviable, the Consul shall require the nierchant to pay it in at the Custom House.

Rule VIII.-If the Consul and the Custom House authorities cannot agree as to whether confiscation of a ship, or a cargo, or both of them together, being the property of a foreign merchant, shall taie place, the case must be referred to Peking for the decisiun of the Foreign Office and the Minister of his nation. Pending ther decision, the merchant must, in accordance with Rule V., sign a bond for the amount, to which the Consul will affix his seal, and send it for deposit to the Custom House.

As difference of opinion as to the value [of slip or goods] may arise, the valuation of the merchaut will be decisive; and the Custom House authorities may, if they see fit, the over either at the price aforesaid.

If after such purchase it be decided that the property seized ought to be confiscated, the merchant must redeem his bond by paying in at the Custom House the original amount of the purchase-money. If the decision be against confiscation, the bond will be returned to the Consul for transmission to the merchant, and the case then be closed. The sum paid by the Custom House authorities or ship or goods being regarded as their proper price, it will not be in the merchant's power, loy a tender of the purchase-money, to recover them.

THE CHEFOO CONVENTION

WITH ADDITIONAL ARTICLE THERETO FOR REGULATING THE ## TRAFFIC IN OPIUM

Signed, in the English and Chinese Languages, at Chefoo, 13th September, 1876

Rutijications exchanyed at London, 6th Mray, 1886

Agreement negotiated between Sir Thomas Wade, k.c.b., Her Britannic Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of China and Li, Minister Plenipotentiary of His Majesty the Emperor of China, Seuior Grand Secretary, Governor-General of the Province of Chihh, of the First Class of the Third Order of Nobility.

The negotiation betwern the Ministers above named has its origin in a despatch received by Sir Taomas Wade, in the Spring of the present year, from the Earl of Derby, principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, dated lst January, 1876. This contained instructions regarding the disposal of three questions: first, a satisfactory settlement of the Yúunan affair; secondly, a faithful fulfilment of engagenents of last year respecting intercourse between the ligh officers of the two Governments; thirdly, the adoption of a uniform system in satisfaction of the understanding arrived at in the month of September, 1875 (8th moon of the 1st year of the reign Kwang Su ), on the subject of rectification of conditions of trade. It is to this despatch that Sir Thomas Wade has referred himself in discussions on these questions with the Tsung-li Yamen, further reference to which is here omitted as superfluous. The conditions now agreed to betwean Sir Thomas W،ade and the Grand Sarretary are as follow :-

Section I.-Settlement of the Yünnan Case.

1.-A Memorial is to be presented to the Thrme, whether by the Tsung-li Yamen or by the Grand Secretary Li is immaterial, in the sense of the memorandum prepared by Sir Thomas Wade. Bafore presentation the Chinese text of the Memorial is to bo shown to Sir Thomas Wade.
2.-The Memorial having been presented to the Throne, and the Imperial Decree in reply received, the Tsung-li Yamen will communicate copies of the Memorial and Imperial decree of Sir Thom is Wade, together with copy of a letter from the Tsung-li Yamen to the Provincial Govern ments, instructing them to issue a proclamation that shall embody at length the above Memorial and Decree. Sir Thomas Wade will thereon reply to the eifect that for two years to come officers will be sent by the British Minister to different places in the provinces to see that the proclamation is posted. On application from the British Minister or the Consul of any port instructed by him to make application, the high officers of the provinces will depute competent officers to accompany those sol sent to the places which they go to observe.
3. - In order to the framing of such regulations as will be needed for the conduct of the frontier trade between Burmah and Yünnan, the Memorial submitting the proposed settlement of the Yunnan affair will contain a request that an Imperial Decree be issued directing the Governor-General and Governor, whenever the British Government shall send officur's to Yünuan, to sele:t a competent officer of rank to confer with them and to conclude a satisfactory arrangement.
4.- The British Government will lie freefor five years, from the 1st January next, being the 17th day of the 11th moon of the 2ud year of the reign of Kwang $\mathrm{Su}_{5}$ to station officers at Ta-li Fu, or at some other suitable place in Yünnan, to observa the conditions of trade; to the end that they may have information upon which to base the regulations of trade when these have to be discussed. For the consideration and adjustment of ang matter affecting British officers or subjects, these officers will be free to address themselves to the authorities of the province. The opening of the trade may be proposed by the British Government as it may find best at any time within the term of five years, or upon expiry of the term of five years.

Passports having been obtained last year for a Mission from India into Yünnan, it is open to the Viceroy of Lndia to send such Mission at any time he may see fit.
5.--The amount of indemnity to be pail on account of the families of the officers and others killed in Yиnnaa, on account of the expenses which the Yunnan case has occasioned, and on account of claims of British merchants arising out of the action of officers of the Chinese Govermment up to the commencement of the present year, Sir Thomas Wade takes upon himselt to fix at two hundred thousand taels, payable on demand.
6. - When the case is closed an Inperial letter will be written expressing regret for what has occurred in Yunnan. The Mission bearing the Imperial letter will proceed to England immediately. Sir Thomas Wade is to be informed of the constitution of this Mission for the information of this Government. The text of the Imperial letter is also to be communicated to Sir Thomas Wade by the Tsung-li Yamén.

Section II.-Oficial Intercourse.

Under this heading are included the conditions of intercourse between high officers in the capital and the provinces, and between Consular officers and Chinese officials at the ports; also the conduct of judicial proceedings in mixed cases.
1.-In the Tsung-li Yamen's Memorial of the 28th September, 1875, the Prince of Kung and the Ministers stated that their object in rresenting it had not been simply the tansaction of business in which Chinese and Foreigners might be concerned; missions abroad and the question of diplomatic intercourse lay equally within their prayer.

To the prevention of further misunderstanding upon the sulject of intercourse and correspondence, the present conditions of both having caused complaint in the capital and in the provinces, it is agreed that the Tsung-li Yamen shall address a circular to the Legations, inviting Foreign Representatives to consider with them a code of etiquette, to the end that foreign officials in China, whether at the ports or elsewhere, may be treated with the same regard as is shown them when serving abroad in other countries and as would be shown to Chinese agents so serving abroad.

The fact that China is about to establish Missions and Consulates abroad renders an understanding on these points essential.
2.-The British Treaty of 1858 , Article XVI., lays down that "Chinese subjects who may be guilty of any criminal act towards British suljects shall be arrested and purished by Chinese authorities according to the laws of China.
"British suljects who may commit any crime in China shall be tried and punished by the Consul, or any other public functionary authorised thereto, according to the laws of Great Britain.
"Justice slatl be equitably and impartially administered on both sides."
The words "functionary authorised thereto" are translated in the Chinese text " British Guvernment."

In order to the fulfilment of its Treaty obligation, the British Government has established a Supreme Court at Shanghai, with a special code of rules, which it is now about to revise. The Chinese Government has established at Shanghai a Mixed Court; but the officer presiding over it, either from lack of power or dread of unpopularity, coustantly fails to euforce his judgreents.

It is now understood that the Tsung-li Yamén will write a circular to the Legation, inviting Foreign Representatives at once to consider with the T'sung-li Yamens the measures needed for the more effective administration of justice at the Ports open to Trade.
3.-It is agreed that, whenever a crime is committel affecting the person or property of a British subject, whether in the interior or at tha open ports, the British Minister shall be free to sen lofficers to the spot to be present at the investigation.
'To the prevention of misunderstanding on this point, Sir Thomas Wade will write a Note to the above effect, to which tho Tsung-li Yanen will reply, affirming that this is the course of proceeding to be adhered to for the time to come.

It is further understood that so long as the laws of the two countries differ from each other, there cau be but one principle to quide juclicial proceedings in mixed cases in China, namely, that the case is tried by the official of the defendant's uationality ; the official of the plaintiff's nationality werely attending to wateh the proceedings in the interest of justice. If the officer so attending be dissatisfied with the proceedings. it will bo in his power to protest against them in detail. The law administered will be the law of the nationality of the officer trying the case. This is the meaning of the words hui t'ung. indicating combined action in judicial proceedings, in Articla XVI. of the Treaty of Tientsin; an'l this is the course to be respectively followed by the officers of either nationality.

Section III.-Trade.
1.-With reference to the area within which, according to the Treatiss in force, lekin ought not to be collected on foreigu goods at the open ports, Sir Thomas Wade agrees to move his Govermment to allow the ground rented by foreigners (the so-cal'el Concessions) at the different ports, to be regarded as the area of exemption from lekin; and the Government of China will thereupon allow I-ch'ang, in the province of Hu-pi; Wu-hu, in An-hui; Wen-chow, in Che-kiang; and Pei-hai (Pak-hoi), in Kwang-tung to be added to the number of ports open to trado and to become Consuliur stations. Tho British Government will, farther, be free to send officers to reside at Ch'ung-k'ing to watch the conditions of British triade in Szechuen; British merchants will not be allowed to reside at Ch'ung-k'ing, or to open establishments or warthouses there, so loner as no steamers have access to the port. When steamers havo succeeder in ascending the river so far, further arrangements can be taken into consideration.

It is further proposed as a measure of compromise that at certain points on the shore of the Great River, namely, Tia-t'ung and Ngan-Ching in the province of Anhui; Ho-Kou, in Kiang-si; Wu-such, Lu-chi kon, and Sha-shih in Hu-Kwang, these being all places of trade in the interior, at which, as they are not open ports, foreign merchants are not legally authorised to land or ship goods, steamers shall be allowed to touch for the purpose of landing or shipping passengers or goods; but in all instances by meins of native boats only, and subject to the regulations in force affecting native trade.

Produce accompanied by a half-duty certificate may be shipped at su:h points by thi s:eamers, but may not be landel by them for sale. And at all such points, except in the case of imports accompanied by a transit duty certificate or exports similarly certificated, which will be severally passed free of lekin on exhibition of such certificates, lekin will be duly collectel on all goods whatever by the native authorities. Foreign merchants will not be authorisel to reside or open houses of business or warehouses at the places enumerated as ports of call.
2.-At all ports open to trade, whether by earlier or later agreement, at which no settlement arua has been previously defined, it will be the duty of the British Consul, acting in concert with his colleagrees, the Consuls of other Powers, to come to an understanding with the local authorities regarding the definition of the foreign settlement area.
3.-On Opium, Sir Thomas Wade will move his Government to sanction an arrangement different from that affecting other imports. British merchants, when opium is brought into port, will be obliged to have it taken cognisance of by the Customs, and deposited in bond, either in a warehonse or a receiving hulk, until such time as there is a sale for it. The importer will then pay the tariff duty upon it, and the purchasers the lekin, in order to the prevention of evasion of the Treaty. The amount of lekin to be collected will he decided by the different Provincial Governments according to the circumstances of each.
4. - The Chivese Government arree that Transit Duty Certificates shall be framed under one rule at all ports, no difference being made in the conditions set forth therein; and that, so far as impots are concerned, the nationality of the person possessing and carrying these is immaterial. Native produce carried from an inland ceutre to a port of shipment, if boni fide intended for shipment to a foreign pert, may b?, by treaty, certified ly the British suljject interested, and nxempted by payment of the half duty from all charges demanded upon it en route. If produce be not the property of a British sulbect, or is being carried to a port not for exportation, it is not entitled to the exemption that would be secured it by the exbibition of a transit duty certificate. The British Minister is prepared to agree with the Tsung-Ir Yamen upon rules that will secure the Chinese Government against abouse of the privilege as affecting produce.

The words nei-ti, inland, in the clause of Article VII. of the Rules appended to the Tariff, regarding carriage of imports inland, and of native produce purchased inland, apply is much to places on the sea coasts and river shores, as to places in the interior not open to foreign trade; the Chinese Government having the right to make arrangements for the prevention of abnses thereat.
5.-Article XLV. of the Treaty of 1858 prescribed no limit to the term within which a drawback mar be claimel upon duty-paid imports. The British Minister agrees to a term of three years, after expiry of which no drawback shall he claimed.
6. -Tie foregoing stipulation, that certain ports are to be opened to foreign trade, and that landing and shipping of goods at six places on the Great River is $t \boldsymbol{b}$ be sanctioned, shali be given effect to within six months after receipt of the Imprial Decree approviug the memorial of the Grand Secretary Li . The date for giving effect to the stipulations affecting exemption of inports from lelin taxation within the foreign settlements and the collection of lekin upon opium by the Customs Inspectorate at the sime time as the Tariff Duty upon it, will be fixed as soon as the British Government has arrived at an understanding on the subject with other foreign Governments.
7.-The Governor of Hongkong having long complained of the interference of the Canton Customs Revenue Cruisers with the junk trade of that Colony, the Clinese Government agrees to the arpointment of a Commission, to consist of a British Consul, an officer of the Hongkong Government, and a Chinese official of equal rank, in order to the establishment of some system that shall enable the Chinese Government to protect its revenue without prejulice to the interests of the Colone.

> Separate Article.

Her Majesty's Government haring it in contemplation to send a Mission of Exploration next year by way of Peking through Kan-su aud Koko-Nor, or by way of Ssu-chuen, to Thibet, and thence to India, the Tsung-li Yamen, having due regard to the circumstances, will, when the time arrives, issue the necessary passports, and will address letters to the high provincial authorities and to the Resident in Thibet. If the Mission should not be sent ly these routes, but should be proceeding across the Indian frontier to Thibet, the Tsung-li Yamên, on receipt of a commmication to the above effect from the British Minister, will write to the Chinese Resident in Thibet, and the Resident, with due regard to the circumstances, will send offieers to take due care of the Mission; and passports for the Mission will be issued by the Tsung-li Yamen, that its passage be not obstructed.

Signed at London, 18 th July, 1885
The Guvermments of Great Britain and of China, considering that the arrangements proposed in Clauses 1 and 2 of Section III. of the Agreement between Great Britain and China, signed at Chefoo on the 13th September, 1876 (hereinafter referred to as the "Chefoo Agreement"), in relation to the area within which li-kin ought not to he collected on foreign goods at the open ports, and to the definition of the Foreign Settlement area, require further consideration; also that the terms of Clause 3 of the same section are not sufficiently explicit to serve as an efficient requlation for the traffic in opium, and recongnizing the desirability of placing restrictions on the consumption of opium, have agreed to the present Additional Article.
1.-As regards the arrangements above referred to and proposed in Clanses 1 and 2 of Section III. of the Cbefoo Agreement, it is agreed that they shall be reserved for further consderation letween the two Goveruments.
2.--In lieu of the arrangement respecting opium proposed in Clause 3 of Section III. of the Chefoo Agreement, it is agreed that foreign opium, when imported into China, shall be tuken cognizance of by the Imperial Maritime Customs, and shall be deposited in bund, either in warehouses or receiving-hulks which have been approved of by the Customs, and that it shall not be removed thence until there shall have been paid to the Customs the Tariff duty of 30 taels per chest of 100 catties, and also a sum not exceeding 80 taels per like chest as $\mathrm{li}-\mathrm{kin}$.
3.-It is agred that the aforesaid import and li-kin duties having been prid, the owner shall be allowed to have the opium repacked in bond under the supervision of the Customs, and put into packages of such assorted sizes as he may select from such sizes as shall havo heen agreed upon by the Customs authorities and British Cousul at the port of entry.

The Customs shall then, if required, issue gratuitously to the owner a transit certificate for each such package, or one for any number of packages, at option of the owner.

Such certificate shall free the opium to which it applies from the imposition of any further tax or duty whilst in transport in the interior, provided that the package has not been opened, and that the Customs seals, marks, and numbers on the packages have not been efficed or tampered with.

Such certificates shall have validity only in the bauds of Chinese subjects, and shall not entitle foreigners to convey or accompany any opium in which they may be interested into the interior.
4.-It is agreed that the Regulations under which the said certificates are to be issued shall be the same for all the ports, and that the form shall be as follows :-

" Opium Transit Certificate.

"This is to certify that Tariff and li-kin duties at the rate of taels per chest of 100 eatties have been paid on the opium marked and numbered as under; and that, in conformity with the Addıtional Article signed at London the 18th July, 1885, and appended to the Agreement between Great Britain and China signed at Chefoo the 18th September, 1876, and approved by the Imperial Decree printed on the back thereof, the production of this certificate will exempt the opium to which it refers, wherever it may be found, from the imposition of any further tax or duty whatever, providel that the packages are unhroken, and the Castoms seals, marks, and numbers have not been effaced or tampered with.
"Mark,
" Port of eutry, "Date

No.
"Signature of Commissioner of Customs."
5.- The Chinese Government undertakes that when the packages shall have been opsned at the place of consumption, the opium shall not be subjected to any tax or contribution, direct or indirect, other than or in excess of such tax or contribution as is or may hereafter be levied on native opium.

In the event of such tax or contribution being calculated ad valorem, the same rate, value for value, shall be assessed on foreign and native opium, and in ascertaining for this purpose the value of foreign opinm the amount paid on it for li-kin at the port of entry shall be deducted from its market value.
6.- It is agreed that the present Additional Article shall be considered as forming part of the Chefoo Agreement, and that it shall have the same force and validity as if it were inserted therein word for word.

It shall come into operation six months after its signature, provided the ratifications have then been exchanged, or if they have not, then on the date at which such exchange takes ${ }^{1}$ lace.
7.-The arrangement respecting opium contained in the jresent Additional Articlo shall remain binding for four years, after the expiration of which period either Government may at any time give twelvo months' notice of its desire to determine it, and such notice being given, it shall terminate accordingly.

It is, however, agreed that the Government of Great Britain shall have the right to terminate the same at any time should the transit certificate lie found not to confer on the opium complete exemption from all taxation whatsoever whilst being carried from the port of entry to the place of consumption in the interior.

In the event of the termination of the present Additional Article the arrangement with regard to opium now in force and the regulations attached to the Treaty of Tientsin shall revive.
8.-The High Contracting Parties may, by common consent, adopt any modifications of the provisions of the present Additional Article which experience may show to be desirable.
9.-It is understood that the Cunmission provided for in Clanse 7 of Section III. of the Chefoo Agreement to inquire into the question of prevention of smuggling into China from Hongkong shall be appointed as soon as possible.
10.--The Chefoo Agreement, together with, and as modified by, the present Additional Article, shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London as soon as possible.

In witness whereof the Undersigned, duly anthorized thereto by their respective Governments, have sigued the present Additional Article, and have affixed thereto their scals.

Mr. Russell undertakes that the Govemment of Hongkong shall submit to the Legislative Council an Crdinance* for the regulation of the trade of the Colony in Raw Opium subject to conditions hereinafter set forth and providing:-
1.-Forthe prohibition to the impori and export of Opinm in quantities less than 1 chest. $\dagger$
2.-For rendering illegal the possession of Raw Opium, its custody or control in quantities less than one chest, except ly the Opium Farmer.
3.-That all Opium arriving in the Colony be reported to the Harhour Master, and that no Opium shall be transhipped, landed, stored or moved from one store to another, or reexported without a permit from the Harbour Master, and notice to the Opium Farmer.
4. - For the keeping by Importers, Exporters, and Godown Owners, in such form as the Governor may require, books shewing the movements of Opium.
5.-For taking stock of quantities in the stores, and search for deficiencies by the Opium Farmer, and for furnishing to the Harbour Master returns of stocis.
6. - For amendment of Harbour Regulations, as to the night clearances of junks.

I'le conditions on which it is agreed to submit the Ordinance are -
1.-That China arranges with Macao for the adoption of equiralent measures.
2.-That the Hongkong Government shall be entitled to repeal the Ordinance if it be found to lee injurions to the Revenue or to the legitimate trade of the Colony.
3.-That an Office under the Foreign Inspectorate shall be established on Chinese Jerritory at a convenient spot on the Kowloon side for sale of Chinese Opium Duty Certificates, which shall be freely sold to all comers, and for such quantities of Opium as they may require.
4.- That Opium accompanied by such certificates, at the rate of not more than Tls. 110 per picul, shall be free from all further imposts of every sort, and have all the benefits stipulated for by the Additional Article on behalf of Opium on which duty has been praid at one of the ports of China, and that it may be made up in sealed parcels at the option of the purchaser.
5.-That junks trading between Chinese ports and Hongkong and their cargoes shall not be subject to any dues or duties in excess of those leviable on junks and their cargoes trading between Chinese ports and Macao, and that no dues whatsoever shall be demanded from junks coming to Hongkong from ports in China, or proceeding from Hongkong to ports in China, over and above the dues paid or payable at the ports of clearance or destination.
6.-That the Officer of the Foreigr Inspectorate, who will be responsible for the management of the Kowloon Office, shall investigito and settle any complaints made by the junks trading with Hongkong agaiust the Native Customs Revenue Stations or Cruisers in the neighbourhood, and that the Governor of Hongliong, if he deems it advisable, shall be entitled to send a Honglong Officer to be prisunt at and assist in the investigation and decision.

If, however, they do not agree a reference may be made to the Authorities at Peking for joint decision.

Sir Robert Hart undertakes on behalf of himself and Shao Tantai (with was compelled ly unavoidable circunstances to leave before the sittings of the Commission were terminated) that the Chinese Government sball agree to the about conditions.

The undersigned are of opinion that if these arrangements are fully carried cut, a fairly satisfactory solution of the questions connected with the so-called "Hongkong Blockade" will have been arrived ar.

Al)DITIONAL ARTICLE TO THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN GREAT IRITAIN AND CHINA OF SEPIEMBER 13 тн, 1876

Signed at Peking, 31st March, 1890Ratifications Exchanged at Peking, 18th January, 1891

The Governments of Great Britain and China, being desirous of settling in an amicable spirit the divergence of opinion which has arisen with respect to the first clause of the third section of the Agrerment concluded at Chefoo in 1876, which stipulates that "The British Govermnent will be free to send officers to reside at Chungking to watch the conditions of British trade in Szechuan, that British merchants will not be allowed to reside at Chungking, or to open establishments or warehouses there, so long as no steamers have access to the port, and that when steamers have succeeded in ascending the river so far, further arrangements can be taken into consideration," lave agreed upon the following Additional Article:-
I.-Chungking shall forthwith be declared open to trade on the same footing as any other Trealy port. British subjects shall be at liberty either to charter Chinese vessels or to provide vessels of the Chinese type for the: traffic between Ichang and Chungking.
II.-Merchandise conveyed hetween Ichang and Chungking hy the above class of vessels shall be placed on the same footing as merchandise carried by steumer between Shanghai and Ichang, and shall be dealt with in accordance with Treaty, Tariff linles, and the Yaugtsze Regulations.
III.-All regulations as to the papers and flags to be carried by vessels of the above description, as to the repackage of goods for the voyage heyond Iclang and as to the general procedure to be observed by those eugaged in the traffic between Ichang and Chungking with a view to insuring convenience and security, shall be drawn up by the Superintendent of Customs nt Ichang, the Traotai of the Ch'uan Thang Circuit, who is now stationed at Chungking, and the Commissioners of Customs in consultation with the British Consul, and shall be liable to any modifications that may hereafter prove to he desiralle and may be agreed upon by common consent.
IV.-Chartered junks shali pay port dues at lchang and Chungking in accordance with the Yangtsze Regulations; vessels of Chinese type, if and when entitled to carry the British flag, shall pay tomage dues in accordance with Treaty Regulations. It is olligatory on both chartered junks and also vessels of Chinese type, even when the latter may be entitled to carry the British flag, to take out at the Maritime Custom-honse special papers and a special flag when intended to be employed by British subjects in the transport of goods between Ichang and Chungking, and without such papers and flag no vessels of either class shall be allowed the privileges nad immunities granted under this Additional Article. Provided with special papers and flag, ressels of both classes shatl be allowed to ply hetween the two ports, and they and their cargoes shall be dealt with in accordance with Treaty Rules and the Yangtsze Regulations. All other vessels shall be dealt with by the Native Customs. The special papers and flag issued by the Maritime Customs must alone be used by the particular vessel for which they were originally issued, and are not transferable from one vessel to another. The use of the British flag by vessels the property of Chinese is strictly prolibited. Infringement of these Regulations will, in the first instance, render the offender liable to the penalties in force at the ports hitherto opened under Treaty, and should the offence loe subsequently repeated, the vessel's special papers and flag will be withdrawn, and the vessel herself refused permission thenceforward to trade letween Ichang and Chungking.

Art. V.-When once Chinese steamers carrying cargo run to Chungking, British steamers shall in like manner have access to the said port.

Art. VI.--It is agreed that the present Additional Article shall be considered as forming part of the Chefoo Agreement, and as having the same force and validity as if it were inserted therein word for word. It shall be ratified, and the ratifications exchanged at Peking, and it shall come into operation six months after its signature, provided the ratifications have then been exchanged, or if they have not, then on the date at which such exchatige takes place.

KOWLOON EX'IENSION AGREEMEN'I

Whereas it has for many years past been recognised that an extension of Hongloong territory is necessary for the proper defence and protection of the colony.

It has now been agreed between the Govermments of Great Britain and China that the! imits of British territory shall be enlarged under lease to the extent indicated generally on the annexed map.

The exact boundaries shall be hereafter fixed when proper surveys have been made by officials appointed by the two Goveruments. The term of this lease shall le ninety nine years.

It is at the same time agreed that within the City of Kowloon the Chinese officials now stationed there shall continue to exercise jurisdiction, except so far as may be inconsistent with the military requirements for the defence of Hongkong. Within the remainder of the newly-leased territory Great Britrin shall have sole jurisdiction. Chinese officials and people shall be allowed, as heretofore, to use the road from Kowloon to Hsinan,

It is further agreed that the existing lauding-place near Kowloon city shall be reserved for the convenience of Chinese men-of-war, merchant and passengers vessels, which mav come and go and lie there at their pleasure; and for the convenicnce of movement of the officials and people within the city.

When, hereafter, China constructs a railway to the boundary of the Kowloon territory under British control, arrangements shall be discussed.

It is further understood that there will be no expropriation or expulsion of the inhabitants of the district included within the extension, and that if land is required for public offices, fortifications, or the like official purposes, it slall be bought at a fair price.

If cases of extradition of criminals occur they shall be dealt with in accordance with the existing treaties between Great Britain and Chint and the Hongkong Regulations.

The area leased by Great Britain, as shown on the annexed map, includes the maters of Mirs Bay and Deep Bay, but it is agreed that Chinese vessels of war, whether neutral or otherwise, shall retain the right to use those waters.

This Convention shall come into force on the first day of July, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, being the thirteenth day of the fifth moon of the twenty-fourth year of Kwang Hsiu. It shall be ratified by the Sovereigns of the two countries, and the ratitications shall be exthanged in London as soon as possible.

In witness whereof the undersigned, duly authorised thereto by their respective Governments; have sigucd the present agreement.

SUPPLEMENTARY COMLMERCIAL I'REATY WITH CHINA

Signed at Shanghai, 5til September, 1902: Ratifications exchanged at Peking, 28tif July, 1903.

His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, and His Majesty the Emperor of China, having resolved to enter into negotiations with a view to carrying out the provision contained in Article XI. of the Final Protocol signed at Peking on the 7 th of September, 1901, under which the Chinese Govermment arreed to neqotiate the amendments deemed useful by the Foreign Govermments to the Treaties of Commerce and Navigation and other sulbjects concerning commercial relations with the oljject of facilitatmg them, have for that purpose nimed as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:-

His Mrjesty the King of Great Britain and Ireland. His Majesty's Special Commissioner, Sir James Lyle Mackay, Knight Comniander of the Most Éminent Order of the Indian Empire, a nember of the Council of the Secretary of State for India, etc.

And His Majesty the Emperor of China, the Imperial Commissioners Lii Hai-huan, President of the Board of Public Works, etc., and Sheng Hsuan-huai, Junior Guardian of the Heir Apparent, Senior Vice-President of the Board of Public Works, etc.

Who having communicated to each other their respective Full Powers, and found them to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concladed the following Articles:-

Art. I.-Delay having oscurred in the past in the issue of Drawba'k Certificates owing to the fact that those documents have to be dealt with ly the Superintendent of Customs at a distance from the Customs Office, it is now agreed that Drawback Certificates shall hereafter in all cases be issued by the Imperial Maritime Customs within three weeks of the presentation to the Customs of the paprers entitling the applicant to receive such Drawback Certificates.

These Certificates shall be valid tender to the Customs Authorities in payment of any duty upon goods imported or exported (transit dues exceptel), or shall, in the case of Drawbacks on foreign goods re-exported abroad within three years from the date of importation, be payable in cash without deduction by the Customs Bank at the place where the import duty was paid.

But if, in connexion with any application for a Drawback Certificate, the Customs Authorities discover an attempt to defraud the revenue, the applicant shall le liable to a fine not exceeding five times the amount of the duty whereof he attempted to defraud the Customs, or to a confiscation of the goods.

Art. II.-China agrees to take the necessary steps to provide for a uniform national coinage which shall he legal tender in payment of all duties, taxes and other obligations thronghout the Empire by British as well as Chinese subjects.

Art. III.-China agrees that the duties and lekin comb ned levied on goods carried by junks from Hongkong to the Treaty Ports in the Canton Province aud vice versa, shal! together not be less than the duties chargel by the Imperial Maritime Customs on similar goods carried by steamer.

Art. IV.-Whereas questions have arisen in the past concerning the right of - Chinese subjects to invest money in non-Chinese enterprises and companies, and whereas it is a matter of common knowledge that large sums of Clinese capital are so invested, China hereby agrees to recognise the legality of all such iuvestments past present and future.

It being, moreover, of the utmost importance that all shareholders in a Joint Stock Company should staud on a footing of perfect equality as far as mutual obligations are concerned, China further agrees that Chinese subjects who have or may become shareholders in any British Joint Stock Company shall be held to have accepted, by the very act of becoming shareholders, the Charter of Incorporation or Memoranduni and Articles of Association of such Company and regulations framed thereunder as interpreted by British Courts, and that Chinese Courts shall enforce compliance therewith by such Chinese shareholders, if a sut to that effect be entered, provided always that their liablity shall not be other or greater than that of British shareholders in the same Company.

Similarly the British Government agree that British subjects investing in Chinese Companies shall be under the same obligations as the Chinese shareholders in such companies.

The fore roing shall not apply to cases which have already been before the Courts and been dismissed.

Art. V.-The Chinese Government undertake to remove within the next two years the artificial obstructions to navigation in the Canton River. The Chinese Goverament also arree to improve the accommodation for shipping in the harbour of Canton add ts take the necessary steps to maintain that improvement, such work to be carried out by the Imperiai Maritime Customs and the cost thereof to be defrayed by a tax on qoods landed and shipped by British and Chinese alike according to a scale to be arranged between the merchants and Customs.

The Chinese Government are aware of the desimbility of improving the navigraDility by ste:mer of the waterway between Ichang and Chinghing, but are also fully aware that such improvement might involve heavy expense and woald affect the anterests of the population of the provinces of Szechuen, Hunan, and Hupeh. It is, therefore, matually arreed that until improvements can be carried out steamship) owners shall be allowed, subject to approval by the Imperial Maritime Customs, to erect, at their own expense, appliances for hauling throngh the rapids. Such appliances shall be at the disposal of all vessels, both steamers and junks, subject to regulations to be drawn up by the Imperial Maritime Customs. These appliances .shiall not obstruct the waterway or interfere with the free passage of junks. Signal stations and channel marks where and when necessary shall be erected by the Imperial Maritime Customs. Should any practical scheme be presented for inproving the waterway and assisting navigation without injury to the local popula ion or cost to the Chinese Goverminent, it shall be considered by the latter in a friendly spirit.

Art. VI.-The Chinese Government agree to make arrangements to give increased facilities at the open ports for bondin $r$ and for repacking merchandise in bond, and, on official representalion being made by the British Auhori ies, to grant the privileges of a bonded warehouse to any warehouse which it is established to the satisfaction of the Customa Authorities affords the necessary security to the revenue.

Such warehouses will be subject to regulations, includ ng a scale of fees accordingr to comenodities. distance from Custom House and hours of working, to be drawn up by the Customs Authorities who will meet the convenience of merchants so far as is compatille with the protection of the revenue.

Art. VII.-Inasmuch as the British Government affurd protection to Chinese trade marks agrainst infringement, imitation, or colourable imitation by British subjects, the Chinese Government undertake to afford protection to British trade marks against infringement, imitation, or colourable imitation by Chinese subjects.

The Chinese Government further undertake that the Superintendents of Northern and of Southern trade shall establish offices within their respective jurisdictions under control of the Imperial Maritime Customs where foreign trade marks may be registered on payment of a reasonable fee.

Art. VIII.-Preamble. The Chinese Government, recognising that the system of levying lekin and other dues on goods at the place of production, in transit, and at destination, impedes the free circulation of commodities and injures the interests of trade, hereby undertake to discard completely those means of raising revenue with the limitation mentioned in Section 8.

The British Government, in return, consent to allow a surtax, in excess of the Tariff raters for the time being in force to be imposed on foreign groods imported be British subjects and a surtax in addition to the export duty on Chinese produce destined for export abroud or coastwise.

It is clearly understood that after lekin barriers and other stations for taxing goods in transit have heen removed, no attempt shall be made to revive thein in any form or under any pretext whatsoever; that in no case shall the surtax on foreign imports exceed the equivalent of one and a half times the import daty leviable in. terms of the Final Protocol signed bv China and the Powers on the 7th day of September, 1901; that payment of the inport duty and surtax shall secure for foreign imports, whether in the hands of Chinese or non-Chinese sulbjects, in original packages or otherwise, complete immunity from all other taxation, examination or delay; that the total amount of taxation leviable on native produce for export abroad shall, under no circumstances, excued $7 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent ad valorem.

Keeping these fundamental principles steadily in view, the Hligh Contracting Parties have agreed upon the following methods of procedure.

Section 1.-The Chinese Government undertake that all barriers of whatsoever kind, collecting lekin or such like dues or duties, shall be permanently abolished on all roads, railways, and waterways in the Eighteen Provinces of China and the Three Lastern Provinces. This provision does not apply to the Native Custom Houses at present in existence on the seaboard or waterways, at Open Ports, on land routes, and on land frontiers of China.

Section 2.-The British Government agree that foreign goods on importation, in addition to the effective 5 per cent. import duty as provided for in the Protocol of 1901, shall pay a special surtax equivalent to one and a half times the said duty to compensate for the abolition of lekin, of transit dues in lieu of lekin, and of all other taxation on foreign goods, and in consideration of the other reforms provided for in this Article; but this provision shall not impair the right of China to tax salt, native opium and native produce as provided for in Sections 3, 5, 6 and 8.

The same amount of surtitx shall be levied on groods imported into the Eighteen Provinces of China and the Three Eastern Provinces across the land frontiers as on goods eutering China by sea.

Section 3.-All Native Custom Houses now existing, whether at the Open Ports, on the seaboard, on rivers, inland waterways, land routes or land frontiers, as enmmerated in the Hu Pu and Kung $\mathrm{P}_{1}$ Tse Li (Regulations of the Boards of Revenne and Works) and Ta Ch'ing Hui Tien (Dynastic Institutes), may remain; a list of the same, with their location, shall be furnished to the British Government, for purposes of record:

Wherever there are Imperial Maritime Custom Houses, or wherever such may be lereafier placed, Native Custom Houses mily be also established; as well as at any points either on tho seabrard or land frontiers.

The location of Native Custom Houses in the Interior may be changed as the circumstances of trade seem to require, but any change must be communicated to the British Government, so that the list may be corrected ; the origimally stated number of them shall not, however, le exceeded.

Goods carried by junks or sailing-vessels trading to or from Open Ports shall not pay lower duties than the combined duties and surtax on similar cargo carried by steamers.

Native produce, when transported from one place to another in the Interior, shall, on arrival at the first Native Cusiom House after leaving the place of production, pay duty eduivalent to the export surtas mentioned in Section 7.

When this duty has been paid, a certificate shail be given which shall describe the nature of the goods, weight, number of packages, etc., amount of duty paid and intended destination. This certificate, which shall be valid for a fixed period of not, less than one year from date of payment of duty, sli:ll free the goods from all taxation examination, delay, or stopp.age at any other Native Custom Houses passed en route.

If the groods arc laken to a place not in the foreign settlements or concessions of an Open Port, for local use, they become there liable $t$, the Consumption Tax described in Section 8.

If the goods are shipped from an Open Port, the certificate is to be acceptel by the Custom Honse concerned, in lieu of the Export Sirtax mentioned in Section 7.

Junks, boats, or carts shall not be subjected to any taxation beyond a small and reasonable charge, paid periodically at a fixed annual rate. 'This does not exclude the right to levy, as at present, tronage (Chuan Chao) and port dues (Chuan Liao) on junks,

Section 4.-Foreign opium duty and present lekin-which latter will now become a surtax in lieu of lelin-shall remain as provided for by existing Treaties.

Section 5. -The British Gorernment have no intention whatever of interfering with China's right to tax native opium, but it is essential to declare that, in her arcangements for levying such taxation, China will not subject other goods to taxation delay, or stoppage.

China is free to retain at important points on the borders of each province-either on land or water-offices for collecting duty on native opium, where duties or contributions leviable shall be paid in one lump sum ; which payment shall cover taxation of all kinds wishin that province. Each cake of opium will have a stamp affixed as evidence of duty myment. Excise officers and police way be employed in connection with these offices; lut no barriers or other obstructions are to be erected, and the excise officers or police of these offices shall not stop or molest any other linds of goods, or collect taxes thereon.

A list of these offices shall be drawn up and communicated to the British Government for record.

Section 6.- Lekin ou salt is hereby abolished and the amount of sail lekin and of other taxes and contributions shall be added to the salt duty, which shall be collected at place of production or at first station after entering the province where it is to be consumed.

The Chinese Goverument shall be at liberty to establish salt reportirg offices at which boats conveying salt which is being moved under salt passes or certificates may be required to stop for purposes of examination and to have their certificates vised, but at such offices no lekin or transit taxation shall be levied and no barriers or obstructions of any kind shiall be erected.

Section 7.-The Chinese Govermment may recast the Export Tariff with specific duties as far as practicable, on a scale not exceeding five per cent. ad valorem; but existing export duties shall not be raised until at least six monhs' notice has bcen givell.

In cases where existing export duties are above five per cent. they shall be reduced to not more than that rate.

Au additional special surtax of one half the export duty payable for the time being, in liea of internal taxation and lekin, may be levied at time of export on goods exported either to foreign countries or coastwise.

In the case of silk, whether hand or filature reeled, the total export duty shall not exceed a specific rate equivalent to not more than five per rent. ad valorem. Half of this specific duty may be leviel at the tirst Native Custom House in the interior which the sills may pass and in such case a certificate shall be given as provided for in Section 3, and will be accepted by the Custom House concerned at place of export in lieu of half the export duty. Cocoons passing Native Custom Honses shall be liable to no taxation whatever. Silk not exported but consuned in China is liable to the Consumption Tax mentioned and under conditions mentioned in Section 8.

Section 8.-The abolition of the lekin system in China and the abandoument of all other linds of inturnal taxation on foreign imports and on exports will diminish the revenue materially. The surtax on foreign imports and exports and on coastwise exports is intendel to compensate in a measure for this loss of revenue, but there remains the loss of lekin revenne on internal trade to be met, and it is therefore agreed that the Chinese Government are at liberty to impose a Consumption Tax on articles of Chinese origin not intended for export.

This tix shall be levied only at places of consumption and not on goods while in transit, and the Chinese Government solemnly undertake that the arrungements which they may make for its collection shall in no way interfere with foreign goods or with native goods for export. The fact of goods being of foreign origin shall of itself free them from all taxation, delay, or stoppage, after having passed the Custom IIouse.

Foreign goods which bear a similarity to native groods shall be furnished by the Custom House, if required by the owner, with a protective certificate for each package, on payment of import duty and surtax, to prevent the risk of any dispute in the interior.

Native goods hrought by junks to Open Ports, if intended for local consumption-irrespective of the nationality of the owner of the goods-shall be reported at the Native Custom House only, where the consumption tax may be levied.

China is at liberty to fix the amount of this (consumption) tax, which may vary according to the mature of the merchandise concerned, that is to say, according is the articles are necessaries of life or luxuries; but it shall he levied at a uniform rate on goods of the same description, no matter whether carried by junk, sailing-vessel, or steaner. As mentioned in Section 3, the Consumption Tax is not to be levied within foreign settlements or concessions.

Section 9.-An excise equivalent to domble the import duty as laid down in the Protocol of 1901 is to be charged on all machine-made yarn and cloth mannfactured in China, whether ly foreigners at the Open Ports or by Chinese anywhere in China.

A rebate of the import duty and two-thirls of the Import Surtax is to be given on raw cotton imported from foreigu countries, and of all duties, including Consumption Tax, paid on Chinese raw cotton used in mills in China.

Chinese machine-made yarn or cloth having paid excise is to be free of Export Duty, Export Surtax, Coast 'Irade Duty, and Consumption T'ax. This Excise is to be collected through the Imperial Maritime Customs.

The same principle and procedure are to be applied to all other products of foreign type turned out by machinery, whether by foreigners at the Open Ports or by Chinese anywhere in China.

This stipulation is not to aplly to the outturn of the Hanyang and Ta Yeh Tron Works in Hupeh aud other similar existing Government Works at present exempt from taxation; or to that of Arsenals, Government Dockyards, or establishments of that nature for Government purposes which may hereafter be erected.

Section 10.-A member or members of the Imperial Maritime Customs Foreign Staff shall be selected by each of the Governors-General and Governors, and appointed, in consultation with the Inspector-General of Imperinl Maritime Customs to each province for duty in connection with Native Customs affars, Consumption Tax, Salt and Native Opiun Taxes. These officers shall exercise an efficient supervision of the working of these departments and in the event of their reporing any case of abuse, illegal exaction, obstruction to the movement of goods, or other canse of complaint, the Governor-General or Governor concerned will take immediate steps to put an end to saiue.

Section 11.-Cases where illegal action as described in this article is complained of shall be promptly investigated by an officer of the Chinese Government of sufficiently high rank, in conjunction with a British officer ant an officer of the Imperial Maritime Customs, each of sutticient standing; and in the event of its being found by a majority of the investigating officers that the complaint is well founded and loss has been incurred, due compensation is to be at once paid from the Surtax funds, through the Imperial Maritimo Customs at the nearest open port. The High Provincial Officials are to be held responsible that the officer guilty of the illegal action shall be severely punished and removed from his post.

If the complaint turns out to be without foundation, complainant shall be held responsible for the expenses of the investigation.

His Britannic Majesty's Minister will have the right to demand investigation where from the evidence before him he is satisfied that illegil exactions or obstructions have occurred.

Section 12.-The Chinese Government agree to open to foreign trade, on the same footing as the places opened to foreign trade by the Treaties of Ninking and Tientsin, the following places, namely:-

> Ch'angsha in Hunan;
> Wanhsien in Szechuen;
> Nganking in Anhui;
> Waichow (Hui-chow) in Kuangtung ; and > Kongmoon (Chiang-men) in Kuangtung.

Foreionners residing in these Open Ports are to observe the Municipal and Police Regulations on the same footing as Chinese residents, and they are not to be entitled to est blish Municipalities and Pulice of their own with:n the limits of these Treaty Ports except with the consent of the Chinese authorities.

If this Article does not come into operation the right to demand under it the opening of these ports, with the exception of Kong:moon, which is provided for in Article 10, shall lapse.

Section 13.-Subject to the provisions of Sjaction 14, the arrangements provided for in this Article are to come into force on 1st January, 1904.

By that date all lekin burriers shall he removed and officials employed in the collection of taxes and dues prohibited by this Article shall be removed from their posts.

Section 14. -The condition on which the Chinese Government enter into the present engagement is that all Powers entilled to most faroured nation treatment in China enter into the same engagements as Great Britain with regard to the payment of surtaxes and other obligations imposel by this Article on His Britannic Majesty's Government aud subjects.

The conditions on whicin His Britannic Mrjesty's Guvernment enter into the present engagement are: -
(1.) That all Powers who are now or who may hereafter become entitled to most favoured nation treatment in China enter into the same engagements;
(2.) And that their assent is neither directly nor indirectly made dependent on the granting by China of any political concession, or of any exclusive commercial concession.

Section 15. -Should the Powers entitled to most faroured nation treatment by China have failed to agree to enter into the engagements undertaken by Great Britain under this Article by the 1st Janu ury, 1904, then the provisions of the Artic!e shall ouly come into force when all the Powers h:ve signified their acceptance of these engagements.

Section 16. - When the abolition of lekin and other furms of internal tasation on goods as provided for in this Article hias been decided upon and sanctioned, an Imperial Edict shall be published in due form on yellow paper and circulated, setting forth the abolition of all lekin taxation, lekin barriers and all descriptions of internal taxation on goods, except as pruvided for in this Article.

The Edict sliall state that the Provincial $\mathrm{Hi}_{\mathrm{s}}$ h Officials are responsible that any official disregarding the letter or spirit of its injunction shall be severely punished and removed from his post.

Art. IX.-The Chinese Government, recognising that it is advantageous for the country to derelop, its mineral resources, and that it is desirable to attract foreign as well as Chinese capital to embark in mining enter,rises, agree within one year from the signing of this Treaty to initiato and conclude the revision of the existiag Mining Regulations. China will, with all expelition and earnestness, go into the whole question of Mining Rules and, selecting from the rules of Great Britain, India, and other countries, regulations which seem applicable to the condition of China, she will recast her present Mining Rules in such a way as while promoting the interests of Chinese subjecis and not injuring in any way the soveraign rights of China, shatl uffer no impe liment to the attraction of foreign capital or place foreirn capitalists at a greater disudvautage than they would be under generally accepted furcign regratations.

Any mining concession granted after the publication of these new Rules shthll bo subject to their provisions.

Art. X.-Wheress in the year 1898 the In!and Witters of China we e opened to all such steam vessels, native or foreign, as might he especially resistered for that trade at the Treaty Ports, and whereas the Regratations dated 28 th July, 1898, and Supplementary Rules dated September, 1898, hive been found in some respects inconvenient in worling, it is now mutually agreed to amend them and to annex such new Rules to this Treaty. These Rules shill remain in force until altererl by mutual consent.

It is further agreed that Kongmoon shall be opeued as a Treaty Port, and that, in addition to the places na ned in the special Article of the Burmah Convention of 4 th February, 1897, British steamers shall be allowed to land or ship cargo and passengers, under the sane regulations as apply to the "Ports of Call" on the Yangtze River, at the following "Ports of Call": Pak Tau Hau (Pai-t‘uk'ou), L, Ting Hau (Ioo-ting k'ou), and Do Sing (Tou-ch'eng) ; and to land or discharge passengers at the following ten passenger landin.. stages on the West River:-Yung Ki (Jung-chi), Mah Ning (Maning), Kan Kong (Chiu-chiang), Kulow (Kı-lao), Wing On (Yung-an), How Lik (Hnuli), Lak Pu (Lu-pu), Yuet Sing (Yueh-ch'eng), LukTo (Tu-tu) and Fung Chuen (Fengr-ch'uan), Art. XI.-His Britannic Majesty's Government agree to the prohibition of the general importation of morphia into China, on condition, however, that the Chinese Government will allow of its importation, on payment of the Tariff import duty and under special permit, by duly qualified British medical practitioners and for the use of hospitals, or by British chemists and druggists who shall only be permitted t) sell it in small quantities and on receipt of a requisition signed by a duly qualified foreign medical practitioner.

The special permits above referred to will be granted to an intending importer on his signing a bond before a British Consul guaranteeing the fulfilment of these conditions. Should an importer be found guilty before a British Consul of a breach of his bond, he will not be entitled to take out another permit. Any British subject importing morphia without a permit shall be liable to hive such morphia confiscated.

This Article will come into operation on all other Treaty Powers agreeing to its conditions, but any morphia actually shipped before that date will not be affected by this prohibition.

The Chinese Government on their side undertalse to allopt measures at once to prevent the manufacture of morphia in Chima.

Art. XII.-China haviner expresse la strong desire to reform her judicial system and to being it into accord with that of Western nations, Great Britain arrees to give every assistance to such reform, and she will also be prepared to relinguish her extra-territorial rights when she is satisfied that the state of the Chinese laws, the ar:angement for their administration and other considerations warrant her in so doing.

Art. XIII--The missionary question in China being, in the opinion of the Chinese Govermment, one requiring careful consideration, so that, if possible, troubles such as have occurred in the past may be averted in the future, Great Britain agrees to join in a Commission to investigate this question, and, if possible, to devise means for securing permanent peace between converts and non-converts, should such a Commission be formed by China and the Treaty Powers interested.

Art. XIV.-Whereas under Rule V. appended to the Treaty of Tientsin of 1858. British merchants are permitted to export rice and all other grain from one port of China to another under the same conditions in respect of security as copper "cash," it is now agreed that in cases of expected scarcity or famine from whatsoever culuse in auy district, the Chinese Govermment shatl, on giving tweaty-one days' notice, be at liberty to prohibit the shipment of rice and other grain from such district.

Should auy vessel specially chartered to load rice or grain previonsly contracted or have arrived at her loading port prior to or on the day when a notice of prohibition to export comes into force, she shull be allowed an extra week in which to ship her cargo.

If, during the existence of this prohibition, any shipment of rice or grain is allowet by the authorities, the prohibition shall, ipso facto, be considered cance:'led and shall not be re-imposed until six weeks' notice has been given.

When a prohilition is nolified, it will be stated whether the Governnent have any Tribute or Army Rice which they intend to ship during the time of prohibition, and if so, the quantity shall be named.

Such rice shall not be included in the prohibition, and the Customs shall keep a record of any Tribute or Army Rice so shipped or landed.

The Chinese Government undertake that no rice, other than Tribute or Army Rice belonging to the Govern went, shall be shipped during the period of prohibition.

Notifications of prohibitions, and of the quantities of Army or Tribute Rice for shipment shiall be made by the Goveruors of the Provinces concernel.

Similarly, notifications of the removals of prohibitions shall be made by the same authorities.

The export of rice an 1 other grain to foreign countries remains prohibited.
Art. XV.--It is agreed that either of the High Contracting Parties to this Tre.ty may demand a revision of the Tariff at the end of 10 years; but if no demand be made ou either side within 6 months after the end of the first 10 years, then the Tariff shall remain in force fir 10 years more, reckoned from the end of the preceding 10 years; and so it shall be at the end of each successive 10 years.

Any Tariff concession which China may hereafter accord to articles of the produce or minufacture of any other State shall immeliately be extended to similar articles of the produce or manufacture of His Britannic Majesty's Dominions by whomsoever imported.

Treaties already existing between the United Kingdom and China shall continue in force in so far as they are not abrogated or modified by stipulations of the present Treaty.

Art. XVI.-The English and Chinese Texts of the present Treaty have been carefully compared, but in tie event of there beng any difference of me ming between them, the sense as expresse $$$ in the English text shall be held to be the correct sense.

The ratifications of this Treaty, under the hand of His Majesty the Kng of Great Britain and Ireland and of His Majesty the Emperor of China respectively shall be exchanged at Peking within a year from this day of signature.

In token whereaf the respactive Plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed this Treatr, two copies in English and two in Chinese.

Shanghai: K. H. XXVIII., th moon, 1lth day  (Received August 15, 1902)

We have the honour to inform you thit we have received the following telngram from His Excellency Liu, Governor General of the Liang Chian; on the subject of Clause II. mutually agreed upon by us:
"As regards this clause, it is necessary to insert therein a clear stipulation, to the "effect that, no matter what, changes may take place in the future, all Customs' duties "must continue to be calculated on the basis of the existing higher rate of the Haikwan "Tael over the 'Treasury Tael, and that ' the touch' and weight of the former must be "made good."

As we have already arranged with you that a declaration of this kind should be e:nbodied in an Official Note, and form an annex to the present Treaty, for purposes of record, we hereby do ourselves the honour to uake this communication.

> Annex A-(2.)

Shanghai, August 18th, 1902.

Gentlemen,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch of the 14th instant forwarding copy of a telegra:n from His Excellency Liu, Goveruor-General of the Liang Chiang, on the subject of Article II. of the new 'Treaty, and in reply I have the honour to state that His Excellency's understanding of the Article is perfectly correct.

I presume the Chinese Government will make arrangements for the coinage of a national silver coin of such weight and touch as may be decided upon by them. These coins will be made available to the public in return for a quantity of silver bullion of equivalent weipht and fineness plus the usual mintage charge.

The coins which will become the national coinage of China will be declared by the Chinese Government to be legal tender in payment of Customs duty and in discharge of obligations contracted in Haikwan taels, but only at their proportionate value to the Haikwan tael, whatever that may be.

I have the honour to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,

Shanghai, September 2nd, 1902.
We have the honour to inform you that on the 22nd of August, we, in conjunction with the Governors-General of the Liang Chiang and the Hu-kuang Provinces, Their Excellencies Liu and Chang, addressed the fullowing telegraphic Memorial to the Throne:-
"Of the revenue of the different Provinces derived from lekin of all kinds, a "portion is appropriated for the service of the foreign loans, a portion for the Peking "Government, and the balance is reserved for the local expenditure of the Provinces " concerned.

Shanghai, September 5th, 1902.

Gentlemen,

I have the h nour to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch of the 2 nd instant forwarding the text of the Memorial and Decree dealing with the disposal of the surtaxes.

I understand that the surtaxes in addition to not being pledged for any new fureign loan are not to be pledged to, or held to be security for, liabilities already contracted by China except in so far as lekin revenue has already been pledged to an existing loan.

I also understand from the Memorial that the whole of the surtaxes provided by Article VIII. of the New Treaty goes to the Provinces in proportions to be agreed upon between them and the Baard of Revenue, but that out of these surtaxes each Province is obliged to remit to Peling the same contribution as that which it has hitherto remitted out of its lehin collections, and that the Provinces also provide as hitherto out of these surtaxes funds whatever may be necessary for the service of the foreign loan to which lekin is partly pledged.

I hope Your Excellencies will send me a reply to this despatch and that you will agree to this correspon lence forming part of the Treaty as an Annex.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

> Your obedient servant,

Lu, President of the Board of Works;

Imperial Chinese Commissioners for dealing with questions comnected with the Commercial Treaties, to Sir James L. Mackay, His Britannic Majesty's Special Commissioner.

Shanghai, September 5th, 1902.
We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of to day's date with repard to the allocation of the surtax funds alloted to the Provinces, and to inform you that the views therein expressed are the same as our own.

We would, however, wish to point out that, were the whole amount of the allocation due paid over to the Proviuces, unnecessary expense would be incurred in the retransmission by them of such portions thereof as would have to be remitted to Peking in place of the contributions hitherto payable out of lekin revenue. The amount, therefore, of the allocation due to the Provinces, arranged between them and the Board of Revenue, will be retained in the hands of the Maritime Customs, who will await the instructions of the Provinces in regard to the remittance of such portion thereof as may le necessary to fulfil their obligations, and (on receipt of these instructions) will send forward the amount direct. The balance will be held to the order of the Provinces.

In so far as lekin is pledged to the service of the 1898 lom, a similar method of procedure will be adopted.

As you request that this correspondenre be annexed to the Treaty, we have the honour to state that we see no objection to this being done.

Annex C.

INLAND WATERS STEAM NAVIGATION.

Admitional Rules.

1.- British steamship owners are at liberty to leuse warehouses and jetties on the banks of waterways from Chinese subjects for a term not exceeding 25 years, with option of renewal on terms to be mutually arranged. In cases where British merchunts are unable to secure warehouses and jetties from Chinese subjects on satisfactory terms, the local officials, after consultation with the Minister of Commerce, shall arrange to provide these on renewable lease as above mentioned at current equitable ristes.
2.-Jetties shall only be erected in sucl positions that ther will not obstruct the inland waterway or interfere with navigation, and with the sanction of the nearest Commissioner of Customs ; such sunction, however, slu 11 not ba arbitrarily withleld.
3.-British merchants shall pay taxes and contributions on these warehonses and jetties on the same footing as Chinese proprietors of similar properties in the neighbourhood. British merchants may only employ Chnese agents and staff to reside in warehouses so leased at pla es touched at by steamers eagaged in inland traffic to carry on their business; but British merchants may visit these places from time to time to look after their aff iirs. The existing rights of Chinese jarisdiction over Chinese suljects shall not by reason of this clause be diminished or interfered with in any way.
4.-Steam vessels navigrating the inland waterways of China shall be responsible for loss caused to riparian proprietors by damage which they may do to the banks or works on them and for the loss which may be cused by such damage. In the event of Chma desiring to prohibit the use of some particular slunllow waterway by launches, because there is reason to fear that the use of it hy them would be likely to injure the banks and cause damage to the adjoining country, the British authorities, when appealed to, shall, if satisfied of the validity of the objection, prohibit the us, of that waterway by British launches, provided that Chinese launches are also prohibited from using it.

Both Foreign and Chinese launches are prohibited from crossing dams and weirs at presint in existence on inland waterways where they are likely to canse injury to such works, which would be detrimental to the water service of the local people.
5.-The main oljject of the British Government in desiring to see the inland waterways of China opened to steam navigation being to afford facilities lor the rapid transport of both foreigu and native merchandise, they undertake to offer no impe:liment to the transfer to a Chinese company and the Chinese flag of any British Steamer which may now or hereafter he employed on the inland waters of China, should the owner le willing to make the transfer.

In event of a Chinese company registered under Chinese law leing formel to ran steamers on the inland waters of China the fact of British subjects holding shares in such in company shall not entitle the steamers to fly the British flig.
6.-Registered steamers and their tows are forbidden, just as ju-1ks have always been forbidden, to carry contrabind goods. Infraction of this rule will entail the penalties prescribed in the Treaties for such an offence, and cancellation of the Inlaad Waters Navigation Cerificate carried by thg vessels, which will be prohibited from thereafter plying on inland water.
7.-As it is desirable that the people living inland should be disturbed as little as possible by the advent of steam vessels to which they are not accustomed, inland waters not hitheito frequented by stamers shall be opened as gradually as may bo convenient to merchauts and only as the owners of steamers may see prospects of remunerative trade.

In cases where it is intended to run steam vessels on waterways on which such vessels have not hitherto rum, intimution shall be made to the Commissioner of Customs at the nearest open port who shall report the matter to the Ministers of Commerce. The latter in conjunction with the Governor-General or Guvernor of the Province, after careful consideration of all the circumstance of the case, shall at once give their approval.
8. - A regristered steaner may ply within the waters of a port, or from one open port or ports to another open port or ports, or from one open port or ports to places inland, and thence back to such port or ports. She may, ou miking due report to the Customs, land or ship passengers or cargo at any recognised places of trade passed in the course of the voyare; but may not ply between inland places exclusively except with the consent of the Chinese Govermment.
9.-Any cargo and passenger boats may be towed by steaners. The helmsman aud crew of any boat towed shall be Chinese. All boats, irrespective of ownership, must be registered before they can proceed inland.
10.-These Rules are supplementary to the Inland Stean Navigation Regulations of July and September, 1898. The latter, where intouched by the present Rules, remain in full force and effect: but the present Rules hold in the case of such of the former Regulations as the present Rules affect. The present IRules, and the Regulations of July and September, 1898, to which they are supplementary, are provisional, and may be modified, as circumstances require, by mutual consent.

Done at Shanshai this fifth day of September in the year of Our Lord, 1902; corresponding with the Chinese date, the fourth day of the eighth moon of the twenty-eighth year of Kwang Hsii.

R U I, E S

Rule I.-Imports unenumerated in this Tariff will pay Duty at the rate of 5 per cent. ad valorem; and the value upon which Duty is to be calculated shall be the market value of the goods in local currency. This market value when converted into Haikwan Taels shall be considered to be 12 per cent. higher than the amount upon which Duty is to be calculated.

If the goods bare been sold before presentation to the Customs of the Application to pay Duty, the gross amount of the bona fide contract will be accepted as evidence of the market value. Should the goods bave been sold on c. f. and i. terms, that is to say, without inclusion in the price of Duty and other charges, such c. f. and i. price shall he taken as the value for Duty-paying purposes without the deduction mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

If the goods have not been sold before presentation to the Customs of the Application to pay Duty, and should a dispute arise between Customs and importer regarding the value or classification of grods, the case will be referred to a Board of Arbitration composed as follows:-

An official of the Customs; in merchant selected by the Consul of the impoiter; and
A merchat, differing in nationality from the importer, selected by the Senior Consul.
Questions regarding procedure, etc., which may arise during the sittings of the Board shall be decided by th: majority. Ihe final finding of the majority of the Board, which must be announced within fifteen days of the reference (not including holidays), will be binding upon both parties. Each of the two merchants on the Board will be entitled to a fee of ten Haikwan Taels. Should the Board sustain the Customs valuation, or, in the event of not sustaining that valuation, should it decide that the goods have been undervalued by the importer the extent of not less than $7 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent., the importer will pay the lees; if otherwise, the fees will be paid by the Customs. Should the Board decide that the correct value of the goods is 20 per cent. (or more) higher than that upon which the importer originally claimed to pay Duty, the Customs authorities may retain possession of the goods until full Duty has been paid and may lery an additional Duty equal to four times the Duty sought to be evaded.

In all cases invoices, when available, must be produced if required by the Customs.
Rule II.-The following will not be liable to Import Duty: Foreign Rice, Cereals, and Flour; Gold and Silver, both Bullion and Coin; Printed Books, Charts, Maps, Periodicals, and Newspapers.

A freight or part freight of Duty-free commodities (Gold and Silver Bullion and Foreign Coins exceptea) will render the vessel carrying them, though no other cargo be on board, liable to Tomage Dues.

Drawbacks will lye issued for Ships' Stures and Bunker Coal when taken on board.

Rule III.-Except at the requisition of the Chinese Government, or for sale to Chinese duly authorised to purchase them, Import trale is prohibited in all Arms, Ammuntion, and Munitions of War of every description. No Permit to land them will be issued until the Customs have pro f that the necessary authority has been given to the Importer. Infraction of this rule will be punishable by confiscation of all the goods concerned. The import of Salt is absolutely prohibited.

CUSTOMS NOTIFICATION.

Notification issue l by the Imperial Maritime Customs at Canton on the 14 th November, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that:-

1. On and after the 11 th inst., the Tirriff of Import Duties hitherto existing and the list of Duty-free Goods cease to be operative and, until further notice, whatever is imported, with certain exceptions, is to pay an effestive 5 per cent. ad valorent Duty.
2. The exceptions are as follows:-
(a.) Foreign Rice, Cereals and Flour, as well as Guld and Silver, coined and uncoined, are exempt from Duty.
(b.) The Import Duty on Opium remains unchanged at thirty taels, that and lekin at the rate of eighty taels, or one hundred and ten taels in all, per picul, being payable simultaneously as at preseut.
(c.) Foreign Goods on the way to China or which shall have been despatched to China within six days after the signature of the Protocol-that is, on or hefore the 13 th September-are to pay Import Duty according to the old 'Tnriff, a fixed Duty if enumerated, and an ad valorene $\overline{0}$ per cent. Duty if unenumerated, and are to be exempt from Duty if on the Duty-free list. Goods despatched after the 13 th September are to pay an effective 5 per cent. according to the new rule.
(d.) Merchandise taken out of bond is to pay Duty according to its liability on the day of bondiag - that is, if already in bond, or if bonded nn any future day, but forming part of a cargo now on the way to China, or despatched to China on or before the 13 th September, it is to be treated according to the old Tariff and Tariff Rules. All other bouded imports are to pay an effective 5 per cent.
(e.) Whatever is imported for the use of Legations at Peking is exempt from Import Duty-applications for Exemption Permits, etc., to be countersigned and sealed by the Consulate of the Iegation concerned.
(f.) Whatever is shipped or discharged for the use of Foreign forces, military or naval, is exempt from Import Daty-applientions for Exemption Permits, etc., to be comntersigned and sealed by the Consulate of the firg concerned.
3. The values on which the new 'Tarift' is to fix Duties will be the average values for the three years 1897, 1898, 1899. Where the valuation is questioned, the market value of the day minus Duty and charges, or where that cannot be ascertained, invoice value plus 10 per cent. will rule instead; but as this will involve detention of grods concerned at owner's risk and expense till such market, or failing market, invoice value can be ascertained and settled, it is hoped the valuation . . . . will be acquiesced in.
4. Gouds exported pay Duty accorating to the Tariff hitherto existing.
5. Const Trade Iuty, which is not an Import Duty, but a Coast Duty on Native produce inwards, remains as before, and is not affected by the effective 5 per cent. tules.

RULES

(Annexed to the Tariff of 1858.)

Rule I.-Unenumerated Goods.-Articles not enumerated in the list of exports, but enumerated in the list of imports, when exported, will pay the amount of duty set against them in the list of imports; and, similarly, articles not enumerated in the list of imports, but enumerated in the list of exports, when imported, will pay the amount of duty set against them in the list of exports.

Articles not enumerated in either list, nor in the list of duty-free goods, will pay an ad dalorem duty of 5 per cent., calculated on their market value.

Rule II.-Duty-free Goods.-Gold and silver bullion, foreign coins, flour., Indian meal, sago, liscuits, preserved meats and regetables, cheese, butter, confectionery, foreign clothing, jewellery, plated-ware, perfumery, soap of all kinds, charcoal, firewood, candles (foreign), tobacco (foreign), cigars (foreign), wine, beer, spirits, household stores, ship's stores, personal baggage, stationery, cirpeting, druggeting, cutlery, foreign medicines, glass, and crystal ware.

The abore pay no import or export duty, but, if transported into the interior will, with the exception of personal baggage, gold and silver bullion, and foreign coins, pay a transit duty at the rate of $2 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. a.l valorem.

A freight, or part freight of duty-free commodities (personal baggage, gold and silver bullion, ind foreign coins, excepted) will render the vessel carrying them, though no other cargo be on board, liable to tonnage dues.

Rule III.-Contraband Goods.-Import and export trade is alike prohibited in the following articles: Gunpowder, shot, cannon, fowling-pieces, rifles, muskets, pistols, and all other munitions and implements of war ; and salt.

Rule IV.-Weights and Measures.-In the calculation of the Tariff, the weipht of a picul of one hundred catties is held to be equal to one hundred and thirty-three and one-third pounds aroirdupois; and the length of a chang of ten Chinese feet to be equal to one hundrel and forty-oue English inches.

One Chinese chih is held to be equal to fourteen and one-tenth inches English; aul four yards English, less three inches, to equal one chang.

Rule V.-Lerjarding Certain Commodities Heretofore Contraband.-The restrictions affecting trade in opium, cash, grain, pulse, sulpuu', brimstone, saltpetre, and spelter are relaxed, under the followiug conditions; -
1.-*Opium will henceforth pay thirty Taels per picul import duty. The importer will sell it it only at the port. It will be carried into the interior by Chinese only, and only as Chinese property; the foreign trader will not be allowed to occompany it. The provisions of Articie IX. of the Treaty of Tientsin, by which British subjects are atuthorized to proceed into the interior with passports to trade, will not extend to it, nor will those of Article XXVII. of the same trenty, by which the transit-dues are recrulated. The transit dues on it will be arranged as the Chinese Government see fit: nor in future revisions of the Tariff is the same rule of revision to be applied to opium as to other goods.
2.-Copper C'ash.-The export of cash to any foreign port is prohibited; but it shall be lawful for British subjects to ship it at one of the open ports of China to another, on compliance with the following Regulation:-The shipper shall give notice of the amount of cash he desires to ship, and the port of its destination, and shall bind himself either by a bond, with two sufficient sureties, or by despositing

[^3]such other security as may le deemed loy the Customs satisfactory, to return, within six months from the date of cleareance, to the collector at the port of shipment, the certificate issued by him, with an acknowledgment thereon of the receipt of the cash at the port of destination ly the collector at that port, who shall thereto alfix his seal; or failing the production of the certificate, to forfeit a sum equal in value to the cash shipped. Cash will pay no duty inwards or outwards; lut a freight or part freight of eash, though no other cargo be on board, will render the vessel carrying it liable to pay tomage dues.
3.-The export of rice and all other grain whatsover, native or foreign, no matter where grown or whence imported, to any foreign port, is prohibited; but these commodities may be carried by British merchants from one of the open ports of China to another, under the same conditions in respect of security as cash, on payment at the port of shipment of the duty specified in the Tariff.

No import duty will be leviable on rice or grain ; but a freight or part freight of rice or grain, though no other cargo be on board, will render the vessel importing it liable to tomage dues.
4.- *The export of pulse and beancake from Tung-chau and Newchwang, under the British flag, is prohibitel. From any other of the ports they may be shipped, on payment of the tariff duty, either to other ports of China, or to foreign countries.
5.-Saltpetre, sulphur, brimstone, and spelter, being muitions of war, shall not be imported l,y British subjects, save at the requisition of the Chinese Government, or for sale to Chinese duly authorized to purchase them. No permit to land them will be issued until the Customs have proof that the necessary authority has been given to the purchase. It shall not be lawful for British subjects to carry these commodities up the Yang-tsze-kiang, or into any port other than those open on the seaboard, nor to accompany them into the interior on behalf of Chinese. They must le sold at the ports only, anl, except at the ports they will be regardel as Chinese property.

Infractions of the conditions, as above set forth, under which trade in opium, cash, grain, pulse, saltpetre, brimstone, sulphur, and spelter may be henceforward carried on, will be punishable by contiscation of all the goods concerned.

Rule VI.-Liability of Vessels Entering Port. For the prevention of misunderstanding, it is acreed that the term of twenty-four hours, within which Britsh vessels musti be reported to the Consul under Article XXXVII. of the Treaty of Tientsin, shall be understood to commence from the time a British vessel cones within the limits of the port; as also the term of forty-eight hours allowed her by Article XXX. of the same Treaty to remain in port withont payment of tonnage dues.

The limits of the ports shall be defined by the Customs, with all consileration for the convenience of trade compatille with due protection of the revenue; also the limits of the anchorages within which lading and discharging is permitted by the Customs ; and the same shall be notified to the Consul for pullic information.

Iucue VII.-Trensit Dues.-It is agreed that Article XXXVIII. of the Treaty of Tientsin shall be interpreted to declare the amounts of transit dues legally leviable upon merchandise imported or exported by British subjects to be one-half of the tariff duties, except in the case of the duty-free goods liable to a transit duty of $2 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. ad valorem, as provided in Article II. of these Rules. Merchandise shall De cleared of its transit dues under the following conditions:-

In the case of Imports.- Notice lieing given at the port of entry, from which the Imports are to be forwarded inland, of the nature and fuantity of the goods, the ship

FRANCE

TREATY OF PEACE, FRIENDSHIP, COMMERCE, AND NAVIGATION BETWEEN FRANCE AND CHINA

Signed, in the French and Chinese Languages, at Tientsin, 27th June, 1858
Ratifications Exchanged at Peking, 25th October, 1860

His Majesty the Emperor of the French and His Majesty the Emperor of China, being desirous to put an end to the existing misunderstanding between the two Empires, and wishing to re-establish and improve the relations of friendship, commerce, and navigation between the two powers, have resolved to conclude a new treaty based on the common interest of the two countries, and for that purpose have named as their plenipotentiaries, that is to say :-

His Majesty the Emperor of the French, Baron Gros, Grand Officer of the Legion of Honour, Grand Cross of the Order of the Saviour of Greece, Commander of the Order of the Conception of Portugal, &c., &c., &c.

And His Majesty the Emperor of China, Kweiliang, Imperial High Commissioner of the Ta-Tsing Dynasty, Grand Minister of the East Palace, Director-General of the Council of Justice, &c., &c., &c.; and Hwashana, Imperial High Commissioner of the Ta-T'sing Dynasty, President of the Board of Finance, General of the Bordered Blue Banner of the Chinese Banner Force, &c., &c., &c.;

Who, having exchanged their full powers, which they have found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Artieles:-

Art. I.-There shall be perpetual peace and friendship between His Majesty the Emperor of the French and His Majesty the Emperor of China, and between the subjects of the two Empires, who shall enjoy equally in the respective states of the high contracting parties full and entire protection for their persons and property.

Art. II.- In order to maintain the peace so happily re-established between the two empires it has been agreed between the high contracting parties that, following in this respect the practice amongst Western nations, the duly accredited diplomatic agents of His Majesty the Emperor of the French of His Majesty the Emperor of China shall have the right of resorting to the capital of the empire when important affairs call them there. It is agreed between the high contracting parties that if any one of the powers having a troaty with China obtains for its diplomatic agents the right of permanently residing at Peking, France shall immediately enjoy the same right.

The diplomatic agents shall reciprocally enjoy, in the place of their residence, the privileges and immunities accorded to them by international law, that is to say, that their persons, their families, their houses, and their correspondence, shall be inviolable, that they may take into their service such employes, couriers, interpreters, servants, &c., &c., as shall be necessary to them.

The expense of every kind occasioned by the diplomatic mission of France in China shall be defrayed by the French Government. The diplomatic agents whom it shall please the Emperor of China to accredit to His Majesty the Emperor to the French, shall be received in France with all the honours and prerogatives which the diplomatic agents of other nations accredited to the court of His Majesty the Emperor of the French enjoy.

Art. III.-The official communications of the French diplomatic and consular agents with the Chinese authorities shall bo written in French, but shall be accompanied, to facilitate the service, by a Chinese trunslation, as exact as possible, until such time as the Imperial Government at Peking, having interpreters speaking and writing French correctly, diplomatic correspondence shall be conducted in this language by the French agents and in Chinese by the officers of the empire. It is agreed that until then, and in case of difference in the interpretation, in reference to the French text and Chinese text of the clauses heretofore agreed upon in the conventions made by common accord, it shall always be the original text and not the translation which shall be held correct. This provision applies to the present treaty, and in the communications between the authorities of the two countries it shall always be the original text, not the trauslation, which shall be held correct.

Art. IV.-Henceforth the official correspondence between the authorities and the officers of the two countries shall be regulated according to their respective ranks and conditions and upon the basis of the most absolute reciprocity. This correspondence shall take place between the high French officers and high Chinese officers, in the capital or elsewhere, by dispatch or communication; between the French subordinate officers and the high authorities in the provinces, on the part of the former by statement, and on the part of the latter by declaration.

Between the officers of lower rank of the two nations, as above provided, on the footing of a perfect equality.

Merchants and generally all persons not having an official character shall on both sides use the form of representation in all documents addressed to or intended for the notice of the respective authorities.

Whenever a French subject shall have recourse to the Chinese nuthority, his representation shall first be submitted to the Consul, who, if it appears to him reasonable and properly addressed, shall forward it; if it be otherwise, the Consul shall cause the tenour to be modified or refuse to transmit it. The Chinese, on their part, when they have to address a Consulate, shall follow a similar course towards the Chinese authority, who shall act in the same manser.

Art. V.-His Majesty the Emperor of the French may appoint Consuls or Consular Agents in the coast and river ports of the Chinese empire named in Article VI. of the present treaty to conduct the business between the Chinese authorities and French merchants and subjects and to see to the strict observance of the stipulated rules. These officers shall be treated with the consideration and regard which are due to them. Their relations with the authorities of the place of their residence shall be established on the footing of the most perfect equality. If they shall have to complain of the proceedings of the said authorities, they may address the superior authority of the province direct, and shall inmediately advise the Miuister Plenipotentiary of the Emperor thereof.

In case of the absence of the French Consul, captains and merchants shall be at liberty to have recourse to the intervention of the Consul of a friendly power, or, if this be impossible, they shall have recourse to the chief of the Customs, who shall advise as to the means of assuring to the said captains and merchants the benefits of the present treaty.

Art. VI.-Experience having demonstrated that the opening of new ports to foreign commerce is one of the necessities of the age, it has been agreed that the forts of Kiung-chow and Chao-chow in the province of Kwangtung, Taiwan and Tamsui in the island of Formosa (province of Fohkien), Tang-chow in the province of Shantung, and Nanking in the province of Kiangsu, shall enjoy the same privileges as Canton, Sh.nghai, Ningpo, Amoy, and Foochow. With regard to Nanking, the French agents in China shall not deliver passports to their nationals for this city until the rebels have been expalled by the Imperial troops.

Art. VII. -French subjects and their families may establish themselves and trade or pursue their avocations in all security, and without hindrance of any kind, in the ports and cities enumerated in the preceding article.

They may travel freely botween them if they are provided with passports, but it is expressly forbidden to them to trade elsewhere on the coast in search of clandestine markets, under pain of confiscation of both the ships and goods used in such operations, and this confiscation shall be for the benefit of the Chinese Government, who, however, before the seizure and confiscation can be legally pronounced, must advise the French Consul at the nearest port.

Art. VIII.-French suljects who wish to go to interior towns, or ports not open to foreign vessels, may do so in all security, on the express condition that they are provided with passports written in French and Chiness, legally delivered by the diplomatic agents or consuls of France in China and vised by the Chinese authorities.

In case of the loss of his passport, the French subject who cannot present it when it is legally required of him, shall, if the Chinese anthorities of the place refuse him permission to remain a sufficient tims to obtain aunther passport from the Consul, be conducted to the nearest consulate and shall not be maltreated or insulted in any way.

As is stipulated in the former treaties, French subjects resident or sojourning in the ports open to foreign trade may travel without passorts in their immediate neighbourhood and there pursue their occupations as freely as the natives, but they must not pass certain limits which shall be agreed upon between the Consul and the local authority. The French ajents in China shall deliver passports to their nationals only for the places where the rebels are not established at the time the passport shall be demanded.

These passports shall ba delivered by the French authorities only to persons who offer every desirable guarantee.

Art. IX.-All changes made by common consent with one of the signatory powers of the treaties with China on the subject of amelioration of the tariff now in force, or which may hereafter ba in foree, as also all rights of customs, tonnage, importation, transit, and exportation, shall be immediately applicable to French trade and merchants by the mere fact of their being placed in execution.

Art. X.-Any Frenchs subject who, conformably to the stipulations of Article VI. of the present treaty, shall arrive at one of the ports open to foreign trade, may, whatever may be the length of his sojourn, rent houses and warehouses for the disposal of his merchandise, or lease land and himself build houses and warehouses. Frencil subjects may, in the same manner, establish churches, hospitals, religious houses, schools, and cemeteries. To this end the local authority, after having agreed with the Consul, shall designate the quarters most suitable for the residence of the French and the sites on which the above mentioned structures may have place.

The terms of rents and leases shall be freely discussed between the interested parties and regulated, as far as possible, according to the average local rates.

The Chinese authorities shall prevent their nationals from exacting or requiring exorbitant prices, and the Consul on his side shall see that French subjects use no violeuce or constraint to force the consent of the proprietors. It is further understood that the number of houses and the extent of the ground to be assigned to French subjects in the ports open to foreign trade shall not be limited, and that they shall be determined according to the need and convenience of the parties. If Chinese subjects injure or destroy French churches or cemeteries, the guilty parties shall be punished with all the rigour of the laws of the conntry.

Art. XI.-French subjects in the ports open to foreign trade may freely engage, on the terms agreed upon between the parties, or by the sole intervention of the Consul, compradores, interpreters, clerls, workmen, watermen, and servants. They shall also have the right of engaging teachers in order to learn to speak and write the Chinese language and any other langaage or dialect used in the empire, as also to secure their aid in scientific or literary works. Equally they may teach to Chinese subjects their own or foreign languages and sell without obstacle French books or themselves purchase Chinese books of all descriptions.

Art. XII.-Property of any kind appertaining to French subjects in the Chinese empire shall be considered by the Chinese inviolable and shall always be respected by them. The Chinese authorities shall not, under any circamstances whatever, place French vessels under embargo nor put them under requisition for any service, be it public or private.

Art. XIII.-The Christian religion having for its essential object the leading of men to virtue, the nembers of all Christian communities shall enjoy entire security for their jersons and property and the free exercise of their religion, and efficient protection slaall be given the missionaries who travel peaceably in the interior furnished with passports as provided for in Article VIII.

No hindrance shall be offered by the authorities of the Chinese Empire to the recornisel right of every individual in China to embrace, if he so pleases, Christianity and to follow its practices without being liable to any punishment therefor.

All that has previously been writteu, proclaimed, or published in China by order of the Govermment arginst the Christian religion is completely abrogated aud remains null and void in all provinces of the empire.

Art. XIV.-No privileged commercial society shall henceforward be established in China, ind the same shall apply to any organised coalition having for its end the exeruise of a monopoly of trade. In case of the contravention of the present article the Chinese Authorities, on the representation of the Consul or Consular Agent, shall idvise as to the means of dissolving such associations, of which they are also bound to prevent the existence by the preceding prohibitions, so as to remove all that may stand in the way of free competition.

Art. XV.-When a Trench vessel arrives in the waters of one of the ports open to foreign trade she shall be at liberty to engage any pilot to take her immediately anto the port, and, in the same mamer, when, having discharged all legal charges she shall be ready to put to sea, she shall not be refused pilots to enable her to leave the port without hindrance or delay.

Any individual who wishes to exercise the profession of pilot for French vessels may, on the presentation of three certificates from captains of ships, be commissioned Dy the French Consul in the same manner as shall be in use with other nations.

The remuneration payable to pilots shall be equitably regulated for each particular port by the Consul or Consular Agent, who shall fix it having regard to the distance and circumstances of the navigation.

Art. XVI.-After the pilot has brought a French trading ship into the port, the Superintendent of Customs shall depute one or two officers to guard the ship and prevent fraud. These officers may, according to their convenience, remain in their -own boat or stay on board the ship.

Their pay, food, and expenses shall be a charge on the Chinese Customs, and they shall not demand any fee or remuneration whatever from the captain or consignee. Every contravention of this provision shall entail a punishuent proportionate to the amount exacted, which also sball be returned in full.

Art. XVII.-Wihin the twenty-four hours following the arrival of a French merchant vessel in one of the ports open to foreign trade, the captain, if he be not unavoidably prevented, and in his default the supercargo or consignee, shill report at the French Consulate and place in the hands of the Consul the ship's papers the bills of lading, and the manifest. Within the twenty-four hours next following the Consul shall send to the Superintendent of Customs a detailed note indicating the name of the vessel, the articles, the tomage, and the nature of the caryo; if, in consequence of the negligence of the captain this cannot be accomplished within the forty-eight hours following the arrival of the vessel, the captain shall be liable to a penalty of 50 dollars for each day's delay, to the profit of the Chinese Government, Wut the said penaity shall in no case exceed the sum of 200 dollars.

Immediately after the reception of the consular note the Superintendent of Customs shall give a permit to open hatches. If the captain, before having received the said permit, shall have openel hatches and commencerl to discharge, he may be fined 500 dollars, and the goods discharged may be seized, the whole to the profit of the Chinese Government.

Art. XVIII.-French captains and merchants may hire whatever boats and lighters they please for the transport of goods and passengers, and the sum to be paid for such boats shall be settled between the parties themselves, without the intervention of the Cbinese authority, and consequently without its guarantee in case of accident, fraud, or disappearance of the said boats. The number of these boats shall not be limited, nor shall a monopoly in respect either of the boats or of thecarriage of merchandise by porters be granted to any one.

Art. XIX. - Whenever a French merchant shall have merchandise to load or discharge he shall first remit a detailed note of it to the Consul or Consular Agent, who will immediately charge a recognised interpreter to the Consulate to communicate it to the Superintendent of Customs. The latter shall at once deliver a permit for shipping or landing the goods. He will then proceed to the verification of the goods in such manner that there shall be no chance of loss to any party.

The French merchant must cause himself to he represented (if he does not prefer to attend himself) at the place of the verification ly a person possessing the requisite knowledge to protest his interect at the time when the verification for the liquidation of the dues is made; otherwise any after claim will be null and of no effect.

With respect to groods subject to an ad valorem duty, if the merchant cannot agree with the Chinese officers as to their value, then each party shall call in two or three merchants to examine the goods, and the highest price which shall be offered by any of them shall be assumed as the value of the said groods.

Duties shall be charged on the net weight; the tare will therefore be deducted.
If the French merchant cannot agree with the Chinese officer on the amount of tare, each party shall choose a certain number of chests and bales from among the goods respecting which there is a dispute; these shall be first weighed gross, then tared and the average tare of these shall be taken as the tare for all the others.

If during the course of verification any difficulty arises which cannot be settled, the French merchant may claim the intervention of the Consul, who will immediately bring the subject of dispute to the notice of the Superintendent of Customs, and botir will endeavour to arrive at an auicable arrangement, but the claim must be made within twenty-four hours; otherwise it will not receive attention. So long as the result of the dispute remains pending, the Superintendent of Customs shall not enter the matter in his books, thus leaving every latitule for the examiuation and solution of the difficulty.

On goods imported which have sustained damage a reduction of duties proportionate to their depreciation shall be made. 'This shall be equitably determined, and if necessary, in the manner above stipulated for the fixing of ad valorem duties.

Art. XX.-Any vessel having entered one of the ports of China, and which has not yet used the permit to open hatches mentioned in Article XIX., may within two days of arrival quit that port and proceed to another without having to pay either tomage dues or customs duties, but will discharge them ultimately in the port where sale of the goods is effected.

Art. XXI.-It is established by common consent that import duties shall be discharged by the captains or French merchants after the lauding and verification of the goods. Export duties shall in the same manner lee paid on the shipment of the goods. When all tomage dues and Customs duties shall have been paid in full by a French vessel the Superintendent of Customs shall give a general quittance, on the exhibition of which the Consul shall return the ship's papers to the captain and permit him to depart on his voyage. The Superintendent of Customs shall name one or several banks, which shall be authorised to receive the sum due by French merchants on account of the Government, and the receipts of these banks for all payments which have been made to them shall be considered as receipts of tho

Chinese Government. These payments may be made in ingots or foreign money, the relative value of which to sycee shall be determined by agreensent between the Consul or Consular Agent and the Superintendent of Customs in the different ports, according to time, place, and circumstances.

Art. XXII.-*After the expiration of the two days named in Art. XX., and before proceeding to discharge her cargo, every vessel shall pay tonnage-dues according to the following seale:-Vessels of one hundred and fifty tons and upwards at the rate of four mace per ton; vessels of less than one hundred and fifty tons measurement at the rate of one mace per ton.

Any vessel clearing from any of the open ports of China for any other of the open ports, or trading between China and such ports in Cochin-China as belong to France, or any port in Japan, shall be entitled, on application of the master, to a special certificate from the Superintendent of Customs, on exhibition of which the said vessel shall be exempted from all further payment of tonnage-dues in any open port of China for a period of four months, to be reckoned from the date of her port-clearance; but after the expiration of four months she shall be required to pay tomarre-dues again.

Sinall French vessels and boats of every class, whether with or without sails, shall be reckoved as coming within the category of vessels of one hundred and fifty tons and under, and shall pay tonnage-dues at the rate of one mace per ton once in every four months.

Native craft chartered by French merchants shall in like manner pay tonnagedues once in every four months.

Art. XXIII.-All French groods, after having discharged the Customs duties according to the turiff in one of the ports of China, may be transported into the interior without being subjected to any further charge except the transit dues according to the amended scale now in force, which dues shall not be augmented in the future.

If the Chinese Customs Agents, contrary to the tenor of the present Treaty, make illegal exactions or levy ligher dues, they shall be punished according to the laws of the empire.

Art. XXIV.--Any French vessel entered at one of the ports open to fureign trade and wishing to discharge only a part of its goods there, shall pay Customs dues only for the part discharged; it may transport the remainder of its cargo to auother port and sell it there. The duty shall then be paid.

French suljects having paid in one port the duties on their goods, wishing to re-export them and send them for sale to another port, shall notify the Consul or Consular Agent. The latter shall inform the Superintendent of Customs, who, after having verified the identity of the goods and the perfect integrity of the packages, shall send to the claimants a declaration attesting that the duties on the said goods have been paid. Provided with this declaration, the French merchants on their arrival at the other port shall only have to present it through the medium of the Consul or Superintendent of Customs, who will deliver for this part of the cargo, without deduction or charge, a permit for discharge free of duty; but if the authorities discover fraud or anything contraband amongst the goods re-exported, these shall be, after verification, confiscated to the profit of the Chinese Government.

Art. XXV.-Transhipment of goods shall take place only by special permission and in case of urgency; if it be indispensable to effect this operation, the Consul shall be referred to, who will deliver a certificate, on view of which the transhipment shall be authorised by the Superintendent of Customs. The latter may always delegate an employc of his administration to be present.

Every unauthorised transhipment, except in case of peril by delay, will entail the confiscation, to the profit of the Chinese Government, of the whole of the goods illicitly transhipped.

Art. XXVI.-In each of the ports open to foreign trade the superintendent of Customs shall receive for himself, and shall deposit at the French Consulate, legal scales for goods and silver, the weights and measures agreeing exactly with the weights and measures in use at the Canton Custom-house, and bearing a stamp and seal certifying this authority. 'These scales shall be the base of all lignidations of duties and of all payments to be made to the Chinese Government. They shall be referred to in case of dispute as to the weights and measures of goods, and the decree shall be according to the results they show. *

Art. XXVII.-Import and export duties levied in China on French commerce shall be regulated according to the tariff annexed to the present treaty under the seal and signature of the respective plenipotentiaries. This tariff may be revised every seven years in order to be in harmony with the changes brought about hy time in the value of the products of the soil or industry of the two empires.

By the payment of these duties, the amount of which it is expressly provided shall not be increased nor augmented by ary kind of charge or surtax whatever, French subjects shall be free to import into China, from French or foreign ports, and equally to export from China, to any destination, all goods which shall not be, at the date of the signing of the present Treaty and according to the classification of the annexed tariff, the object of a special prohibition or of a special monopoly. The Chinese Govermment renouncincr therefore the right of angmenting the number of articles reputed contraband or subjects of a monopoly, any modification of the tariff shall be made only after an understanding hits been come to with the French Govermment and with its full and entive consent.

With regurd to the tariff, as well as every stipulation introduced or to be introduced in the existing treaties, or those which may hereafter be concluded, it remains well and duly established that merchants and in general all French subjects in China shall always have tho same rights and be treated in tho same way as the most favoured nation.

Art. XXVIII. -The publication of the regular tariff doing awar henceforth with all pretext for souggling, it is not to be presumed that any act of this nature may be coumitted by Frencli vessels in the ports of China. If it should be otherwise, all contraband goods introduced into these ports by French vessels or merchants whatever their valne or nature, as also all prohibited groods fraudulently discharged, shall be seized by the local authority and confiscated to the profit of the Chinese Govermment. Further, the latter mar, if it see fit, interdict the re-entry to China of the vessel taken in contravention and compel it to leave immediately after the settlement of its accounts.

If any foreign vessel fraudulently makes use of the French flag the French Government shall take the necessary measures for the repression of this abuse.

Art. XXIX.-His Majesty the Emperor of the French may station a vessel of war ir any principal port of the empire where its presence may be considered necessary to maintain good order and discipline amongst the ciews of merchant vessels and to facilitate the exercise of the Consular authority ; all necessary measures shall be taken to provide that the presence of these ressels of war shall entail no inconvenience, and their commanders shall receive orders to cause to be executed the provisions of Article N゙XXIII. in respect of the communications with the land and the policing of the crews. Vessels of war shall le subject to no duty.

Art. XXX.-Every French vessel of war cruising for the protection of commerce shall be received as a friend and treated as such in all the ports of China which it shall enter. These vessels may there procure the divers articles of refitting and victualling of which they shali have need, and, if they have suffered damage, may repair there and purchase the materials necessary for such repair, the whole without the least olposition.

The stime shall apply to French trading ships which in consequence of great damage or any other reason may be compelled to seck rofuge in any port whatsoever of China.

If a vessel be wrecked on the coast of China, the nearest Chinese authority, on being informed of the occurrence, shall immediately send assistance to the crew, provide for their present necessities, and take the measures immediately necessary for the salvage of the ship and the preservation of the cargo. The whole shall then We brought to the knowledre of the nearest Consul or Consular Agent, in order that the latter, in concert with the competent authority, may provide means for the relief of the crew and the salvage of the débris of the ship and cargo.

Art. XXXI.-Should China be at war with another power, this circumstance shall not in any way interfere with the free trade of French with China or with the opposing nation. French vessels may always, except in the case of effective blockade, sail without ohstacle from the ports of the one to the ports of the other, trade in the ordinary manner, and import and export every kind of merchandise not prohibited.

Art. XXXII.-Shonld sailors or other persons desert from French ships-of-war, or leave French trading vessels, the Chinese authority, on the requisition of the Consul, or failing the Consul that of the captain, shall at once use every means to discover and restore the aforesad fugitives into the hands of one or the other of them.

In the same manner, if Chinese deserters or persons accused of any crime take refuge in French houses or on board of French vessels, the local authority shall address the Consul, who, ou proof of the guilt of the accused, shall immediately take the measures necessary for their extradition. Each party shall carefully avoid concealment and connivance.

Art. XXXIII.-When sailors come on shore they shall be under special disciplinary regulations framed by the Consul and communicated to the local anthority, in order to prevent as far as possible all occasion of quarrel between French sailors and the people of the country.

Art. XXXIV.-In case of French trading vessels being attacked or pillaged by pirates within Chinese waters, the civil and military anthorities of the nearest place, upon learning of the occurrence, shall active!y pursue the authors of the crime and shall neglect nothing to secure their arrest and punishment, according to law. The pirated goods, in whatever place or state they may be found, shall be placed in the lands of the Consul, who shall restore them to the owners. If the criminals cannot be seized, or the whole of the stolen property cannot be recovered, the Chinese officials shall suffer the penalty inflicted by the law in such circunstances, but they shall not be held pecumiarily responsible.

Art. XXXV. - When a French subject shall have a complaint to make or claim to bring against a Chinese, he shall first state his case to the Consul, who, after having examined the affair, will endeavour to arrange it amicably. In the same manner, when a Chinese has to complain of a French subject, the Cousul shall attentively hear his claim and endeavour to bring about an amicable arrangement. But if in either case this be impossible, the Consul shall invoke the assistance of a coinpetent Chinese official, and these two, after having conjointly examined the affair, shall decide it equitably.

Art. XXXVI.-If hereafter French subjects suffer damage, or are subjected to auy insult or vexation by Chinese subjects, the latter shall be pursued by the local authority, who shall take the necessary measures for the defence and protection of French subjects; if illdoers or any vagrant part of the population commence to pillage, destroy, or burn the houses or warehouses of French subjects or any other of their establishments, the same authority, either on the requisition of the Consul or of its own motion, shall send as speedily as possible an armed force to disperse the riot and to arrest the criminals, and shall deliver the latter up, to the severity of the law; the whole without prejudice of the claims of the French subjects to be indemmified for proved losses.

Art. XXXVII.-If Chinese become, in future, indebted to French captains or merchants and involve them in loss by fraud or in any other manner, the latter shall no longer avail themselves of the combination which existed under the former state of things; they may address themselves only through the medium of their Consul to the local authority, who shall neglect nothing after having examinel the affair to compel the defaulters to satisfy their engagements according to the laws of the country. But, if the debtor cimnot be found, if he be dead, or bankrupt, and is not able to pay, the French merchants camot claim ardainst the Chinese authority.

In case of fraud or non-payment on the part of French merchants, the Consul shall, in the same manner, afford every assistance to the claimants, but neither he nor his Government shall in any manner be held responsible.

Art. XXXVIII.-If unfortunately any fight or quarrel occurs between French and Chinese subjects, as also if during the course of such quarrel one or more persons be killed or wounded, by firearms or otherwise, the Chinese shall be arrested by the Chinese authority, who will be responsible, if the charge be proved, for their punishment according to the laws of the country. With regard to the French, they shall be arrested at the instance of the Consul, who shall take the necessary measures that they may be dealt with in the ordinary course of French law in accordance with tho forms and practice which shall be afterwards decided by the French Government.

The same course shall he observed in all similar circumstances not enumerated in the present convention, the principle being that for the repression of crimes and offences committed by them in China French subjects shall be dealt with according to the laws of France.

Art. XXXIX.-Disputes or differences arising between French subjects in China shall, equally, be settled hy the French authorities. It is also stipulated that the Chinese authorities shall not in any manner interfere in any dispute between French subjects and other foreigners. In the same way they shall not exercise any authority over French ressels; these are responsible only to the French authorities and the captain.

Art. XL.--If the Government of His Majesty the Emperor of the French shall consider it desirable to modify any of the clauses of the present tre ty it shall be at liberty to open negotiations to this effect with the Chinese Government after an interval of ten years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications. It is also understood that no obligation not expressed in the present convention shall be imposed on the Consuls or Consular Agents, nor on their nationals, but, as is stipulated, French subjects shall enjoy all the rights, privileges, immunities, and guarantees whatsoever which have been or shall be accorded by the Chinese Government to other powers.

Art. XLI.-His Majesty the Emperor of the French, wishing to give to His Majesty the Emperor of China a proof of his friendly sentiments, agrees to stipulate in seprate articles, having the same force and effect as if they were inserted in the present treaty, the arraugements come to between the two governments on the matters antecedent to the events at Canton and the expeuse caused by them to the Government of His Majesty the Emperor of the French.

Art. XLII.-The ratifications of the present treaty of friendship, commerce, and navigation shall be exchanged at Peking within one year after the date of signature or sooner if possible.

After the exchange of ratifications, the Treaty shall be brought to the knowledge of all the superior authorities of the Empire in the provinces and in the capitul, in order that its publication tnay be well established.

In token whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the present Treaty and affixed their seals thereto.

CONVENTION BETWEEN THE EMPEROR OF THE FRENCH AND THE EMPEROR OF CHINA

Signed at Peking, 25th October, 1860

His Majesty the Emperor of the French and His Majesty the Emperor of China, being desirous to put an end to the difference which has arisen between the two Empires, and to re-establish and assure for ever the relations of peace and amity which before existed and which regrettable events lave interruptel, have named as their respective Plenipotentiaries:-

His Majesty the Emperor of the French, Sieur Jean Baptiste Louis, Baron Gros, Senator of the Empire, Ambassador and High Commissioner of France in China, Grand Officer of the Inperial Order of the Legion of Honour, Knight Grand Cross of several Orders, etc., etc., etc. ;

And His Majesty the Emperor of China, Prince Kung, a member of the Imperial Family and High Commissioner ;

Who, baving exchanged their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles:-

Art. I.-His Majesty the Emperor of China has regarded with pain the conduct of the Chinese military authorities at the mouth of the Tientsin river, in the month of June last year, when the Ministers Plenipotentiary of France and England arrived there on their way to Peking to exchange the ratifications of the Treaties of Tientsin.

Art. II.-When the Ambassador, the High Commissioner of His Majesty the Emperor of the French, shall be in Peking for the purpose of exchauging the ratifications of the Treaty of Tientsin, he shall be treated during his stay in the caprital with the honours due to his rank, and all possible facilities shall be given him by the Chinese Authorities in order that he may without obstacle fulfil the high mission confided to hiin.

Art. III.-The treaty signed at Tientsin on the 27th June, 1858, shall be faithfully placed in execution in all its clauses immediately after the exchange of the ratifications referred to in the preceding article, subject to the modifications introduced by the present Convention.

Art. IV.-Article IV. of the Secret Treaty of Tientsin, by which His Majesty the Emperor of Chma undertook to pay to the French Govermment an indemnity of two million taels, is aunulled and replaced by the present Article, which increases the amount of the indemnity to eight million taels.

It is agreel that the sun already paid by the Canton Custons on account of the sum of two milliou taels stipulated by the Treaty of Tientsin shall be considerel as having been paid in advance and on account of the eight million taels referred to in the present article.

The provisions the Article of the Secret Treaty of Tientsin as to the mode of payment of the two million taels are annulled. Payment of the remainder of the sum of eight million tauls to be paid by the Chinese Government as provided by the present Convention shall be made in quarterly instalments consisting of one-fifth of the gross Customs revenues at the ports open to foreign trade, the first term commencing on the Ist October of the present year, and finishing on the 31st December following. This sum, specially reserved for the payment of the indemnity due to France, shall be paid into the hands of the Minister for Frauce or of his delegates in Mexican dollars or in bar silver at the rate of the day of payment.

A sum of five hundred thousand taels shall, however, be paid on account in advance at one time, and at Tientsin, on the 30th November next, or sooner if the Chinese Government judges it convenient.

A Mixed Commission, appointed by the Minister of France and by the Chinese Autnorities, shall determine the rules to be followed in effecting the payment of the whole of the indemnity, the verification of the amount, the giving of receipts, and in short fulfilling all the formalities required in such case.

Art. V.-The sum of eight million teals is allowed to the French Government to liquidate the expenses of its armanent against China, as also for the indemnification of French subjects and proteges of France who sustained loss by the burning of the factories at Canton, and also to compensate the Catholie missionaries who have suffered in their persons or property. The French Government will divide this sum between the parties interestel, after their claims shall have been legally established, in satisfaction of such claims, and it is understoo: l hetween the contracting parties that cne million of taels shall be appropriated to the indemnification of French subjects or protuges of France for the losses they have sustained or the treatment to which they have been subjected, and that the remaining seven million taels shall be applied to the liquidation of the expenses occasioned by the war.

Art. VI.-In conformity with the Imperial edict issued on the 20th March, 1856, by the August Emperor 'Tao Kwang, the religions and charitable establishments which have been confiscated during the persecutions of the Christians shall be restored to their proprietors through the Minister of France in China, to whom the Imperial Government will deliver them, with the cemeteries and edifices appertaining to them.

Art. VII.-The town and port of Tientsin, in the province of Pechili, shall be opesel to fureign trade on the same conditions as the other towns and ports of the Empire where such trude is permitted, and this from the date of the signature of the present Convention, which shall be obligatory on the two nations without its being necessary to exchange ratifications, and which shall have the same force as if it were inserted word for word in the Treaty of Tientsin.

The French troops now occupying this town shall, on the payment of the five hundred thousand taels provided by Article IV. of the present Convention, evacuate it and proceed to occupy 'rakn and the north-east coast of Shantung, whence they shall retire on the same conditions as goveru the evacuation of the other points occupied on the shores of the Empire. The Commanders-in-Chief of the French force sliall, however, have the right to winter their troops of all arms at Tientsin, if they judge it convenient, and to withdraw them only when the indemmoties due by the Chinese Government shall have been entirely paid, unless the Comminders-in-Chief shall think it convenient to withdraw them before that time.

Art. VIII.-It is further agreed that when the present Convention slaall have been signed and the ratifications of the Treaty of Tientsin exchanged, the French forces which occupy Chusan shall evacuate that island, and that the forces before Peking shall retire to Tientsin, to Taku, to the north coast of Shantung, or to the town of Canton, and that in all these places or in any of them tho French Grovermment mily, if it thinks fit, leave troops until such time as the total sum of cight million taels shall have been fully paid.

Art. IX.-It is argreed between the high contracting parties that when the matifications of the Treaty of Tientsin shall have been exchanged an Imperial edict shall order the high authorities of all tha provinces to permit any Chinese who wishes to gos to countries beyond the sea to establish himself there or to seek his fortune, to embark, himself and his family, if he so wishes, on French ships in the ports of the empire open to foreign trade. It is also agreed, in the interest of the emigrants, to ensure their entire freedom of action and to saferguard their rights, that the competent Chinese authorities shall confer with the Minister of France in China for the making of regulations to assure for these engagements, always voluntary, the guarautees of morality and security which ought to grovern them.

Art. X.-It is well understood between the contracting parties that the tonnage dues which by error were fixed in the French Treaty of Thentsin at five mace per tom for vessels of 150 tons and over, and which in the treaties with England and the United States signed in 1858 were fixed at fonr mace only, shall not exceed this same sum of four mace, and this without the invocation of the last paragraph of Art. XXXIL, of the Treaty of Tientsin, which gives to France the forual right to claim the same treatment as the most favoured nation.

The present Convention of Peace has been made at Peking, in four copies, on the 25 th Octolser, 1860, and hias been signed by the respective plenipotentiaries, who have thereto affixed their seals and their arms.

TREATY OF PEACE, FRIENDSHIP, AND COMAERCE BETWEEN FRANCE AND CHINA

Signed at Tientsin, 9th June, 1883
The President of the French Republic and His Majesty the Emperor of China each animated by an equal desire to bring to an end the difficulties which have given rise to their simultaneous intervention in the affairs of Annam, and wishing to re-establish and improve the relations of friendship and commerce which previously existed between France and China, have resolved to conclude a new treaty to further the common interest of both uations on the basis of the preliminary Convention signed at Tieutsin on the 11th May, 1884, and ratified by an Imperial decree of the 13th April, 1885.

For that purpose the two high contracting parties have appointed as their plenipotentiaries the following, that is to say:-

The President of the French Republic, M. Jules Patenốtre, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary for France in China, Officer of the Legion of Honour, Grand Cross of the Swedish Order of the Pole Star, &c., &c.

And His Majesty the Emperor of China, Li Hung-chang, Imperial Commissioner, Senior Graul Secretary of State, Grand Honorary Preceptor of the Heir Presumptive; Superintendent of Trade for the Northern Ports, Governor-General of the Province of Chilhli, of the First degree of the Third Order of Nobility, with the title of Sou-yi;

Assisted by Hsi Chen, Imperial Commissioner, Member of the Tsung-li Yamen, President of the Board of Punishments, Administrator of the Treasury at the Ministry of Finance, Director of Schools for the Education of Hereditary Officers of the Left Wing of the Yellow Bordered Banner ;

And Teng Clang-su, Imperial Comınissioner, Member of the Tsung-li Yamên, Director of the Board of Ceremonies ;

Who having communicated their full powers, which have been found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles:-

Art. I.-Frauce engages to re-cstablish and maintain order in those provinces of Annam which border upon the Chinese empire. For this purpose she will take the necessary measures to disperse or expel the bands of pirates and vagabonds who endanger the public safety, and to prevent their collecting together again. Nevertheless the French troops shall not, under any circumstances, cross the frontier which separates Tonkin from China, which frontier France promises both to respect herself and to guarantee against any aggression whatsoever.

On her part Chiiua undertakes to disperse or expel such bands as may take refuge in her provinces bordering on Tonkin and to disperse those which it may be attempted to form there for the purpose of causing disturbances amongst the populations placed under the protection of France; and, in consideration of the guarantees which have been given as to the security of the frontier, she likewise engages not to send troops into Tonkin.

The high contracting parties will fix, by a special convention, the conditions under which the extradition of malefactors between Cbina and Annam shall be carried out.

The Chinese, whether colonists or disbanded soldiers, who reside peaceably in Annam, supporting themselves by agriculture, industry, or trade, and whose conduct shall give no cause of complaint, shall enjoy the same security for their persons and property as French proteges.

Art. II.-China, being resolved to do nothing which may imperil the work of pacification undertaken by France, engages to respect, both in the present and in the future, the treaties, conventions, and arringements concluded directly between France and Annam, or which may hereafter be concluded.

As regards the relations between China and Annam, it is understood they shall be of such a nature as shall in no way injure the dignity of the Chinese empire or give rise to any violation of the present treaty.

Art. III.-Within a period of six months from the signature of the present treaty commissioners appointed by the high contracting parties shall proceed to the spot in order to define the frontier between China and Tonkin. They shall place landmarks wherever necessary to render the line of demarcatina clear. In those cases where they may not be able to agree as to the location of these landmarks or on such rectifications of detail as it may be desirable to make, in the interest of the two nations, in the existing frontier of Tonkin, they shall refer the difficulty to their respective Governments.

Art. IV.-When the frontier shall have been agreed upon, French or French protegés and foreign residents of Tonkin who may wish to cross it in order to enter China shall not be allowed to do so unless they shall have previously provided themselves with passports issued by the Chinese frontier authorities on the requisition of the Freach authorities. For Chinese subjects an authorisation given by the Imperial frontier authorities shall be sufficient.

Chinese subjects wishing to proceed from China to Tonkin by the land route shall be obliged to provido themselves with regular passports, issued by the French authorities on the requisition of the Imperial authorities.

Art. V.-Import and export trade shall be permitted to French or Frenchprotected traders and to Chinese traders across the land frontier between China and Tonkin. It shall, however, be carried on through certain spots which shall be settled later, and both the selection and number of which shall correspond with the direction and importance of the traffic between the two countries. In this respect the Regulations in force in the iaterior of the Chinese Empire shall be taken into account.

In any case, two of the said spots shall be marked out on the Chinese frontier, the one above Lao-kai, the other beyond Lang-son. French traders shall be at liberty to settle there under the same conditions, and with the same advantages, as in the ports open to foreign trade. The Government of His Majesty the Emperor of China shall establish custom-houses there, and the Government of the French Republic shall be at libertv to maintain Consuls there whose powers and privileges shall be identical with those of Agents of the same rank in the open ports.

On his part, His Majesty the Emperor of China shall be at liberty, with the concurrence of the French Government, to appoint Consuls in the principal towns of Tonkin.

Art. VI.-A special code of Regulations, annexed to the present Treaty, shall define the conditions under which trade shall be carried on by land between Tonkin and the Chinese provinces of Yunnan, of Kwang-si, and of Kwang-tung. Such Regulations shall be drawn up by Commissioners, who shall be appointed by the High Contracting Parties, within three months from the signature of the present Treaty.

All goods dealt with by such trade shall be subject, on import and export between Tonkin and the provinces of Yunnan and Kwang-si, to duties lower than those laid down by the present Tariff for foreign trade. The reduced Tariff shall not, however, be applied to goods transported by way of the land frontier between Tonkin and Kwang-tung, and shall not be enforced within the ports already open by Treaty.

Trade in arms, engines, supplies, and munitions of war of any lind whatsoever shall be subject to the Laws and Regulations issued by each of the Coutracting States within its own territory.

The export and import of opium shall be governed by special arrangements to be inserted in the above-mentioned code of Regulations.

Trade by sea between China and Annam shall likewise be dealt with by a separate code of Regulations. In the ineanwhile, the present practice shall remain unaltered.

Art. VII.-With a view to develop under the most advantageous conditions the relations of commerce and of good neighbourship, which it is the object of the present Treaty to re-establish between France and China, the Government of the Republic shall construct roads in Tonkin, and shall encourage the construction of railways there.

When Cbina, on her part, shall have decided to construct railways, it is agreed that she shall have rerourse to French industry, and the Government of the Republic shall aftord every facility for procuring in France the staff that may be required. It is, moreover, understood that this clause shall not be looked upon as constituting an exclusive privilege in favour of France.

Art. VIII.-The commercial stipulations of the present Treaty and the Regulations to be agreed upon shall be liable to revision after an interval of ten complete years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the present Treaty. But in case six months before it expires neither one nor other of the High Contracting Parties sball have expressed a wish to proceed to a revision, the commercial stipulations shall remain in force for a fresh period of ten years, and so further in like manner.

Art. IX.-As soon as the present Treaty shall have been signed, the French forces shall receive orders to retire from Kelung and to cease search, &c., on the high seas. Within one month from the signature of the present Treaty the Island of Formosa and Pescadores shall be entirely evacuated by the French troops.

Art. X.-All stipulations of former Treaties, Agreements, and Conventions between France and China, which are not modified by the present Treaty, remain in full force.

The present Treaty shall be ratified at onco by His Majesty the Emperor of China, and after it shall have been ratified by the President of the French Republic, the exchange of ratificatious shall take place at Peking with the least possible delay.

TRADE REGULATIONS FOR THE TONKIN FRONTIER JOINTLY DETERDINED ON BY FRANCE AND CHINA

Signed at Peking, 25th April, 1886

[Translated from the French Text]

Whercas in Article VI. of the Treaty between the President of the French Republic and His Majesty the Emperor of China, signed the 9th day of June, 1865, it is stated that " Regulations for the conduct of overland trade between Tonkin and the Chinese proviuces of Yunuan, Kwang-si, and Kwang-tung shall be jointly discussed and concluded by Commissioners appointed by the two Powers, and will form a supplement to the present Treaty"; and whereas in the tenth article of that agreement it is set forth that "provisions of former Treaties and Regulations agreed to by France and China, except in so far as they are nodified by the present agreement, will continue to retain their original validity," the two High Contracting Partics have for this purpose named as their plenipotentiaries, that is to say :-

The President of the French Republic, G. Cogordan, Minister Plenipotentiary of France to China, Officer of the Legion of Honour, Kuight of the Order of the Crown of Italy, &c., &c., topether with E. Bruwaert, Consul of the first class, Assistant Commissioner for Treaty neqotiations, Knight of the Order of Gustav of Sweden, and of the Order of Leopold of Belgium ;

And His Majesty the Emperor of China, Li, Grand Preceptor of the Heir Apparent, Graud Secretary of State, Superintendent of Trade for the Northern Seaboard, Joint Commissioner of Admiralty, Governor of Chihli, and a member of the first, degree of the third order of the hereditary nobility, with the title of Sou-yi;

Who after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, and found them to be in due form, have concluded the following Articles:-

Art. I. - In accordance with the terms of Article V. of the Treaty of the 19th June, 1885, the higl contracting parties agree that for the present two places shall be opened to trade, one to the north of Langson and the other above Lao kai. China will establish Custom Houses there, and France shall have the right to appoint Consuls, who shall enjoy all rights and privileges conceded in China to the Consuls of the most favoured nation.

The work of the Commission charged with the delimitation of the two countries not being completed at the time of the signature of the present Convention, the place to be opened to trade north of Lingson shall be selected and determined in the course of the present year by arrangement between the Imperial Government and the representative of France at Peking. As to the place to be opened to trade above Lao-kai, this will also be determined by common accord when the frontier between the two countries shall have been defined.

Art. II.-The Imperial Government may appoint Consuls at Hanoi and at Haiphong. Chinese Consul may also be sent later on to other large lowns in I'cnkin by arrangement with the French Government.

The agents shall be treated in the same manner and have the same rights and privileges as the Consuls of the most favoured nation in France. They shall maintain official relations with the Erench authorities charged with the Protectorate.

Art. III.-It is agreed, on the one side and the other, that in the places where Consuls are appointed the respective authorities will facilitate the installation of these agents in suitable residences.

Frenchmen may establish themselves in the places opened to trade on the frontier of China under the conditions set forth in the Articles VII., X., XI., XII., and others of the Treaty of the 27 th June, 1858.

Annamites stall enjoy in these places the same privileged treatment.
Art. IV.-Chinese shall have the right of possessing land, erectiug buildings, opening commercial houses, and having warehouses throughout Annam.

They shall receive for their persons, their families, and their goods the same protection as the most favoured European nation, and, like the latter, may not be made the object of any ill-treatment. The official and private correspondence and telegrams of Chinese officials and merchants shall be freely transmitted through the French postal and telegraphic administrations.

Frenchmen will receive from China the same privileged treatment.
Art. V.-Frenchmen, French protigecs, and foreigners residing in Toniin may cross the frontiers and enter China on condition of loeing furnished with passports. These passports will be given by the Chinese authorities at the frontier, on the requisition of the French authorities, who will ask for them only for respectable persons; they will be surrendered to be cancelled on the holler's return. In the case of those who have to pass any place occupied by aborigines or savagres, it will be mentioned in the passport that there are no Chinese officials there who can protect them.

Chinese who wish to come from China to Tonkin by land must in the same way be furnished with passports granted by the French authorities on the requisition of the Chinese authorities, who will asi for them only on behalf of respectable persons.

The passports so granted on the one side or the other shall serve only as titles to travel and shall not be considered as certificates of exemption from taxes for the transport of merchandise.

Chinese authorities on Chinese soil and French authorities in Tonkin shall have the right to arrest persons who have crossed the frontier without passports and send them back to their respective authorities to be tried and punished if necessary.

Chinese residing in Annam may return from Tonkin to China on simply obtaining from the Imperial authorities a pass permitting then to cross the frontier.

Frenchmen and other persons established in the open places on the frontier may travel without passports to a distance of 50 li ( 578 metres to the $l i$ ) around such places.

Art. VI.-Merchandise imported into the places opened to trade on the frontier of Chiua by French merchants and French protercs may, after payment of the import duties, be conveyed to the interior markets of China under the conditions fixed by Rule VII. annexed to the Treaty of the 27 th June, 1858 , and by the general rules of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs with regard to import transit passes.

When foreign merchandise is imported into these places a declaration shall be made at the Custom House of the nature aud quantity of the merchandise, as well as of the name of the person by whom it is accompanied. 'The Customs authorities will proceed to verification, and will collect the duty according to the general tariff of the Imperial Maritine Customs, diminished by one-fifth. Articles not mentioned in the tariff will remain sulject to the duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem. Until this duty has been paid the goods may not be taken out of the warehouses to be sent away and sold.

A merchant wishing to send foreign merchandise into the interior shall make a fresh declaration at the Custom House, and pay, without reduction, the transit dues fixed by the general rules of the Chinese Maritime Customs.

After this payment the Customs will deliver a transit pass which will en ible the carriers to go to the localities mentioned in the pass for the purpose of disposing of the said merchandise.

Under these conditions, no new duties will be levied at the interior bartiers or lekin stations.

Merchandise for which transit passes have not been olvtained will be liable to all the barrier and lekin duties imposed upon indigenous products in the interior of the country.

Art. VII.-Merchandise bought by Frenchinen and persons under French protection in the interiur markets of China may be brought into the open places on the frontier, for the purpose of being from thence exported to Tonkin, under the conditions fixed by Rule VII. annexed to the Treaty of the 27th June, 1858, with regard to the transit of merchandise for export.

When Chinese merchandise for export arrives at these places, declaration shall be made at the Custom House as to the nature and quantity of the werchandise, as well as the name of the person accompanying it.

The Customs authorities will proceed to verification.
Such of this merchandise as shall have been bought in the interior by a merchant furnished with a transit pass, and which consequently has not paid any lekin or varrier duty, shall in the first place pay the transit duty fixed by the general tariff of the Chinese Maritime Customs.

It shall then pay the export duty diminished by one-third. Articles not named in the tariff will remain subject to the duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem.

After payment of these duties the merchandise will be allowed to pass free, and to be sent beyond the frontier.

The merchant who, not being furnished with a transit pass, has bought goods in the interior, shall pay the duties levied at the barriers and lekin stations; receipts shall be delivered to him, and on arriving at the Custom House he shall le exempted from payment of the transit dues on presentation of these receipts.

French merchants and persons uuder Freuch protection importing or exporting merchandise through the Customs offices on the frontiers of Yunnan and Kwangsi, and Chinese merchants importing or exporting merchandise to or from Tonkin, will not have to pay any toll on their carriages or beasts of burden. On the navigable water-courses on the frontier, vessels may, on the one side and the other, be subjected to the payment of tomage-dues, conformably to the rules of the Maritime Customs of the two countries.

As regards the provisions of the present article and the preceding one, it is agreed by the high contracting parties that if a new customs tariff should be established by common accord between China and a thitd Power, for trade by land on the south.western frontiers of the Chinese Empire, France shall obtain the application of it.

Art. VIII.-Foreign merchandise which, not having been sold withm a period of thirty-six months after having paid the import duty at one of the Chinese frontier: Customs stations, is forwarded to the other frontier Customs station, shall be examined at the first of these stations, and if the wrappings are found intact, and if nothing has been disturbed or changed, a certificate of exemption for the amount of the first duty collected will be given. The bearer of this certificate will deliver it to the other frontier station, in payment of the new duty which he will have to pay. The Customs may in like manner give bonds which will be available for payment of duties at the Custom Honse by which they are issued any time within three years Money will never be returned.

If the same merchandise is re-despatched to one of the open ports of China, it will there, conformably to the general rules of the Chinese Maritime Customs, be subjected to payment of the import duties, and the certificates or bonds given at the frontier Customs shall not there be made use of. Neither will it be allowed ta present there, in payment of duties, the quittances delivered by the frontier Customs on the first payment. As to transit dues, conformably to the rules in force at the open ports, when once they have beeu paid, bonds or exemption certificates will never be given in respect of these.

Art. IX.-Chinese merchandise which, after having paid transit and export dues at one of the frontier Customs stations, may be sent to the other frontier Customs station to be sold, shall be subjected on its arrival at the second station only to a payment-called a re-importation duty-of one-lalf the export duty already collectel. 'l'he merchandise conformably to the rules established in the open ports may not be transported into the interior by foreign merchants.

If this Chinese merchandise be transported to one of the open ports of China, it will be assimilated to foreign merchandise, and shall pay a new import duty in full, conformably to the general tariff of the Imperial Maritime Customs.

This merchandise will be allowed to pay transit duty on being sent into the interior. Chinese merchandise imported from a Chinese seaport into an Annaınite port in order to be transported to the land frontier and then to re-enter Chinese territory, will be treated as fureign merchandise aud will pay the local import dues. This merchandise will be allowed to pay the transit duty on being sent juto the interior.

Art. X.-Declarations to the Chinese Customs must be male within thirty-six hours of the arrival of the goods under a penalty of Tls. 50 for each day's delay; but the fine shall not exceed TIs. 200. An inexact declaration of the quantity of the goods, if it is proved that it has been made with the intention of evading payment of the duties, will entail upon the merchant confiscation of bis goods. Goods not provided with a permit from the chief of the Customs, which are clandestinely introduced by by-ways, and unpacked or sold, or which are intentionally smuggled, shall be entirely confiscated. In every case of false declaration or attempt to deceive the Customs as regards the quality or the real origin or real destination of goods for which trausit passes have been applied the goods shall be liable to confiscation. The penalties shall be adjudged according to the conditions and procedure fixed by the Rules of 31st May, 1863. In all cases where confiscation shall have been declared, the merchant shall be at liberty to recover his goods on payment of a sum equivalent to their value, to be duly settled by arrangement with the Chinese authorities. The Chinese authorities shall have every libert; to devise measures to be taken in China, along the frontier, to prevent smuggling.

Merchan lise descending or ascending navig ble rivers in Frensh, Amamite, or Cbinese vessels will not necessarily have to be landed at the frontier, unless there is an appearance of fraud, or a divergence between the nature of the cargo and the declaration of the manifest. The Customs will only senil on board the said vessels agents to visit them.

Art. XI.--Produces of Chinese origin imported into Tonkin by the land frontier shall pay the import duty of the Franco-Ammamite tariff. They will pay no export Aluty on leaving Tonkiu. The Imperial Government will be notified of the new tariff wbich Frauce will establish in Tonkin. If taxes of excise, of consumption, or of guarantee be established in Tonkin on any articles of indigenous production, similar Chinese productions will be subjected, on importation, to equivalent taxes.

Art. XII.-Chinese merchandise transported acress Tonkin from one of the two frontier Customs stations to the other, or to an Annamite port to be from thence exported to China, shall be subjected to a specific transit duty which shall not exceed two per cent. of the value. At the point where it leaves Chinese territory this merchandise will be examined by the French Customs authorities on the frontier, who will specify its nature, quantity, and destination in a certificate which shall be produced whenever required by the French authorities during its transport across Tonkin, as well as at the port of shipment.

In order to guarantee the Franco-Annamite Customs against any possible fraud, such Chinese produce, on entering Tonkin, shall pay the import duty.

A transit permit will accompany the goods to the place of leaving the country whether this be the port of transhipment or the land frontier, and the sum paid hy the proprietor of the merchandise will, after deducting the transit dues, be then restored to him in exchange for the receipt delivered to him by the Tonkin Customs.

Every false declaration or act evidently intended to deceive the French administration as to tha quality, quantity, real origin, or real destination of merchandise or which the special treatment applicable to Chinese products traversing Tonkin in transit is asked, will entail the confiscation of such merchandise. In every case where confiscation has been declared, the merchant slall be free to recover his goods on payment of a sum equivalent to their value, which shall be duly determined by an arrangement with the French authorities.

The same rules and the same transit duty will be applicable in Annam to Chinees merchandise despatched from a Chinese port to an Annamite port in order to get to the Chinese frontier Customs ly crossing Tonkin.

Art. XIII.-The following articles, that is to sar, gold and silver ingots, foreign money, flour, Indian meal, sago, biscuits, preserred meats and vegetables, cheese, butter, confectionery, foreign clothing, jewellery, plated ware, perfumery, soaps of all kinds, charcoal, firewood, candles (foreign), tobacco, wine, beer, spirits, household stores, ship's stores, personal baggage, stationery, carpeting, cutlery, drugs, foreigu medicines, and glass ware, shall be verified by the Chinese Customs on their entry and clearance; if ther are really of foreign origin and intended for the personal use of foreigners, and if they arrive in moderate qual:tity, a duty exemption certificate will be given which will pass them free at the frontier. If these articles are withheld from declaration or the formality of an exemption certificate, their clandestine introduction will render them subject to the same penalty as smuggled goods.

With the exception of gold, silver, money, and luggage, which will remain exempt from duty, the above-mentioned articles destine l for the personal use of foreigners and imported in moderate quantity, will par, when they are transported into the interior of China, a duty of $2 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on their value.

The Franco-Annamite frontier Customs shall cullect no duty on the following articles of personal use which Chinese carry with tbem, either on entering or leaving Tonkin, that is to say, money, 'luggage, clothes, women's head ornaments, paper, hair pencils, Chinese ink, furniture, or food, or on articles ordered by the Chinese Consuls in Tonkin for their personal consumption.

Art. XIV.-The high contracting parties agree to prohibit trade in and transport of opium of whatsoever origin by the land frontier between Tonkin on the one side and Yunnun, Kwang-si, and Kwangtung on the other side.

Art. XY.-The export of rice and of cereals from China is forbidden. The im port of these articles shall be free of duty.

The import of the following articles into China is forbidden :-Gunpowder, projectiles, rifles and guns, saltpetre, sulphur, lead, spelter, arms, salt, and immoral publications.

In case of contravention these articles shall be entirely confiscated.
If the Chinese authorities have arms or munitions bought or if merchants receive express authority to buy them, the importation will be permitted under the special surveillance of the Chinese Customs. The Chinese authorities may, furthermore, ly arrangement with the French Consuls, obtain for the arms and munitions which they wish to have conveyed to China through Tonkin exemption from all the Franco-Annamite duties.

The introduction into Tonkin of arms, munitions of war, and immoral publications is also prohibited.

Art. XVI.-Chinese residing in Annam shall be placed under the same conditions, with regard to criminal, fiscal, or other jurisdiction, as the subjects of the most favoured nation. Law-suits which may arise in China, in the open markets on the frontier, between Chinese subjects and Freuchmen or Annamites shall be decided in a Mixed Court by Chinese and French officers.

With reference to crimes or offences committed by Frenchmen or persons under French protection in China, in the places opened to trade, the procedure shall he in conformity with the stipulations of Articles XXXIII. and XXXIV. of the treaty of the 27th June, 1858.

Art. XVII.-If in the places opened to trade on the frontier of China, Chinese deserters or persons accused of crimes against the Chinese law shall take refuge in the houses or on board the vessels of Frenchmen or persons under French protection the local authority shall apply to the Consul, who, on proof cf the guilt of the accused, shall immediately take the necessary measures in order that they may be given up and delivered to the regular course of the law.

Chinese guilty or accused of crimes or offences who scek refuge in A nnarn shall, on the request of the Chincse authorities and on proof of their guilt, be sought for, arrested, and extradited in all cases where the sulbjects of the countries enjoying the most liberal treatment in the matter of extrudition might be extradited from France.

Frenchmen guilty or accused of crimes or offences, who seek refuge in China, shall, at the request of the French authorities and on proof of their guilt, be arrested and delivered up to the said authorities to be tried according to the regular process of law.

On both sides all concealment and connirance shall be aroided.
Art. XVIII.--In any difficulty not provided for in the preceding provisions, recourse shall be had to the rules of the Maritime Customs, which, in conformity with existing treaties, are now applied in the open towns or ports.

In case these rales are insufficient the representatives of the two countries shall refer the matter to their respective Govermments.

In accordance with the terms of Article VIII. of the treaty of the 9th June, 1885 , the present stipulations may be rerised ten years after the exchange of the ratifications.

ADDITIONAL CONVENTION BETWEEN FRANCE AND CHINA, 1887

[Translated from the Chinese Text]

His Inperial Majesty the Emperor of China and the President of the French Republic, desiring to strengthen the commercial relations between the two countries and also to ratify and give effect to the Treaty signed at Tientsin on the 25th April, 1886, have appointed Plenipotentiaries to take the necessary steps thereto. H.I.M. the Emperor of China has specially appointed H.I.H. Prince Ching and H.E. Sun Yu-wen, member of the Tsung-li Yamen and Vice-President of the Bourd of Works. The President of the Republic has appointed His Excellency Constans, Deputy, ex-Minister of the Interior, and Minister Pleuipotentiary in China. Who, having exchanged their full powers and established their authenticity in due form, hare agreed on the following Articles:-

Art. I.-Such articles of the Treaty sigued at Tientsin as are not affected by this Convention shall on the exchange of the ratifications be put in force at once.

Art. II.-Whereas it was agreed loy the Ireaty of 1886 that Lungchow in Kwangsi and Mengtzu in Yunnan should be opened to trade, and whereas Manghao, which lies between Paosheng and Mengtzu, is in the direct road between the two places by water, it is agreed that this also should be opened to trade on the same conditions as the other ports, and that a deputy of the Consul at Mengtzu shall be allowel to reside there.

Art. III. - In order to develop the trade between China and Tonkin as rapidly as possible the tariff rules laid down in Articles VI. and VII. of the Treaty of 1886 are temporarily altered, and it is agreed that foreign goods imported to Yunnan and Kwangsi from Tonkin shall pay 70 per cent. of the import duties collected by the Customs at the Coast Ports in China, and that produce exported from China to Tonkin, shall pay 60 per cent. of the export duties in force at the Treaty Ports.

Art. IV.-Chinese produce which has paid import duties under Art. XI. of the Treaty of 1886 , and is transported through Tonkin to a port of shipment in CochinChina, shall if exported thence to any other place than Chiua pay export duties according to the Franco-Annamite tariff.

Art. V.-Trade in Chinese native opium by land is allowed on payment of an export duty of Tls. 20 per picul, but French merchants or persons under Frenc'a protection may only purchase it at Lungchow, Mengtzix, and Manghao, but no more than Tls. 20 per picul shall be exacted from the Chinese merchants as inland dues. When opium is sold the seller shall give the buyer a receipt showing that the inland dues have been paid, which the exporter will hand to the Customs when paying export duty. It is agreed that opium re-imported to China by the Coast Ports cannot claim the privileges accorded other re-imports of goods of native origin.

Art. VI.-French and Tonkinese vessels ocher than men-of-war and vessels carrying troops and Government stores plying on the Songkat and Caobang Rivers between Langshan and Caobang shall pay a tonnage due of 5 candareens per ton at Lungchow, but all grods on board shall pass free. Goods may be imported to China by the Songkat and Caobang Rivers or overland by the Government road, but until the Chinese Government establishes Custom-houses on the frontier goods taken overland must not be sold at Lungchow until they have paid duty there.

Art. VII.-It is agreed that should China enter into treaties with regard to commercial relations on her southern and south-western frontiers all privileges accorded by her to the most favoured nation are at once without further formality accorded to France.

Art. VIII.-'The above Articles having been agreed to and translated into Chinese, H.I.H. the Prince on behalf of China and H.E. th:e Minister on behalf of France have signed duplicate copies and affixed their seals hereto.

Art. IX. - When the ratitications of this Convention and of the Treaty of 1886 shall have been exchanged they shall be put in force as if they were one Treaty.

Art. X.-The ratifications of the Convention shall be exchanged at Peking when the assent of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China and of His Excellency the President of the French Republic sliall have been signified.

Signed at Peking on the 26th June, 1887.

E. Constans.Prince Chi'na.Sun Yu-wen.

ADDITIONAL CONVENTION BETWEEN FRANCE AND CHINA

Signed at Peking, 20th June, 1895

Art. I.-It is agreed, to assure the policing of the frontier, that the French Government will have the right of maintaining an agent of the Consular order at Tonghing opposite Monkay on the frontier of Kwantung. A further regulation will determine the conditions under which these should be exercised in accordance with the French and Chinese authorities and the communal police of the SinoAnnamite froutier.

Art. II.-Article 2 of the Additioual Convention, signed at Peking, June 26th, 1887, is modified and completed as follows:-It is agreed between the high contracting parties that the town of Jungchow in Kwangsi and that of Mengtse in Yumnan are open to French-Annamite commerce. It is intended besides that the post open to commerce on the river route of Laokay to Mengtse will no longer be Manhao, but Hokow, and that the French Government have the right of maintaining at Hokow an agent under the Consul at Mêngtse, at the same time the Chinese Government can maintain a customs agent.

Art. IIL.-It is agreed that the town of Ssumao in Yunnan shall be open to French-Anuamite commerce, like Lungchow and Mễngtse, and that the French Government will have the right as in the other open ports of maintaining a Consul at the same time that the Chinese Government can maintain a customs agent. The local authorities will employ themselves to facilitate the installation of the French Consul in the proper residence. Frenchmen and protected French subjects may establish themselves at Ssumao under conditions of the Articles 7, 10, 11, 12, and others of the treaty of June 27th, 1858; also by Article 3 of the Convention of $A_{1}$ ril 25 th, 1886. Goods destined for China can be transported by the rivers, particularly the Loso and the Mekong as well as by land routes, and particularly by the Mandaru-road, which leads either from Mongle or Ipang to Ssumao and Puerlh, the duties which these goods will be subject to being paid at Ssumao.

Art. IV.-Article 9 of the Commercial Convention of April 25th, 1886, is modified as follows:-(1) Chinese goods in transit from one of the other four towns open to commerce on the frontier, Lungchow, Mengtse, Ssumao, and Hokow, in passing by Aunam, will pay on leaving the reduced duties of four-tenths. A special certificate will be delivered stating the payment of this duty, and destined to accompany the goods. Whe:a they have come to another town they shall be exempt from payment aud import duty. (2) Chinese goods which shall be exported from the four above-named localities and transported to Chinese ports, maritime or fluvial, open to commerce, shall be freed on leaving the froutier by payment of the reduced export duty of four-tenths. A special certificate will be delivered stating the payment of this duty, and destined to accompany tho goods. When they shall arrive at one of the ports, maritime or fluvial, open to commerce, they stall be freed the half-duty of re-importation in conformity with the general rule for all such goods in thie maritime or fluvial ports open to comnerce. (3) Chinese goods which shall be transported from Chinese ports, maritime or fluvial, open to commerce, by way of Annam, towards the four-above named localities, shall be freed on leaving of all duty. A special certificate will be delivered, stating the payment of this duty, and destined to accompany the goods. When they shall have arrived at one of the frontier customs they slall be freed on entry by half duty of re-importation based on tha reduction of four-tenths. (4) The Chinese goods above mentioned, accompanied by the special certificate above mentioned, shall be, before passing the export customs, or after passing customs re-importation, submitted to the regulations governing native Chinese goods.

Art. V.-It is understood that China, for the exploitation of its mines in the provinces of Yunnan, Kwangsi, and Kwangtung, will address itself, in the first instance, to French commerce and engineers, the exploitation remaining otherwise subject to the rules and the edicts by the Imperial Government which affects national industry. It is understood that railways already in existence or projected in Annam can, after mutual agreement, and under conditions to be defined, be prolonged on Chinese territory.

Art. VI.-Article 2 of the Telegraphic Convention between France and China, signed at Chefoo, December 1, 1888, is completed as follows:-D.-A union shall be established between the secondary prefecture of Ssumao and Annam by two stations, which shall be Ssumao in China and Muang Hahin in Annam, midway between Laichow and Luang Prabang. The tariff shall be fixed in conformity with Article 6 of the Telegraphic Convention of Chefoo.

Art. VII.- It is agreed that the commercial stipulations contained in the present Convention being of a special nature, and the result of mutual concessions determined by the necessities of the relations between Lungchow, Hokow, Mengtse, Ssumao, and Annam, the advantages which result therefrom cannot be invoked by the subjects and protected subjects of the two high contracting parties but on these points as well as on the fluvial and land ways here determined of the frontier.

Art. VIII.-The present stipulations shall be put in force as if they were inserted in the text of the additional convention of June $26 \mathrm{th}, 1887$.

Art. IX. -The terms of furmer treaties, agreements, and conventions between France and China not modified by the present treaty remain in full force. The present complementary convention shall be ratified immediately by His Majesty the Emperor of China, and after it has been ratified by the President of the French Republic the exchange of ratifications shall be made at Peking with the least delay possible.

His Majesty the King of Prussia, Frederick Albert Count of Eulenburg, Chamberlain, His Majesty's Envoy Fntraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, Knight of the Red Eagle, Knight of St. John, &c., &c., de.; and His Majesty the Emperor of China, Cheong-meen, a member of the Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs at Pekiug, Director-General of Public Supplies, and Imperial Cominissioner : and Chong-hee, Honorary Uuder-Secretary of State, Superintendent of the three Northern Ports, and Deputy Imperial Commissioner, who after laving communicated to each other their respective full powers, and found the same in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles:

Art. I.-There shall be perpetual peace and unchanging friendship between the contracting States. The suljects of both States shall enjoy full protecion of person and property.

Art. II.-His Majesty the King of Prussia may, if he see fit, aceredit a diplomatic agent to the Court of Peking, and His Majesty the Emperor of China may, in like manner, if he see fit, nominate a diplomatic agent to the Court of Berlin.

The diplomatic agent nominated by His Majesty the King of Prussia shall also represent the other contracting German States, who shall not be perinitted to be represented at the Court of Peking by diplomatic agents of their own. His Majesty the Emperor of China hereby agrees that the diplomatic agent, so appointed by His Majesty the King of Prussia, may, with his family and establishment, permanently reside at the capital, or may visit it occasionally, at the option of the Prussian Government.

Art. III.-The diplomatic agents of Prussia and China shall, at their respective residences, enjoy the privileges and immunities accorded to them by international law.

Their persons, their families, their residence, and their correspondence shall be held inviolable. They shall be at liberty to select and appoint their own officers, couriers, interpreters, servants, and attendants without any kind of molestation.

All expenses occasioned by the diplomatic missions shall be borne by the respective Governments.

The Chinese Goverument agrees to assist His Prussian Majesty's diplomatic agent, upon his arrival at the capital, in selecting and renting a suitable house and other buildings.

Art. IV.-The contracting German States may appoint a Consul-General, and for each port or city opened to foreign commerce a Consul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent, as their interests may require

These officers shall be treated with due respect by the Chinese authorities, and enjoy the same privileges and immunities as the Consular officers of the most favoured nations.

In the event of the absence of a German Consular Officer, the subjects of the contracting German States shall be at liberty to apply to the Consul of a friendly Power, or in case of need to the Sujerintendent of Customs, who shall use all efforts to secure to thein the privileges of this treaty.

Art. V.-All official communications addressed by the diplomatic agents of His Majesty the King of Prussia, or by the Consular officers of the contracting German States, to the Chinese authorities, shall be written in German. At present and until otherwise agreed, they shall be accompanied by a Chinese translation; but it is hereby mutually agreed that, in the event of a difference of meaning appearing between the German and Chinese texts, the German Goverument shall be guided by the sense expressed in the German text.

In like mamer shall all official communications addressed ly the Chinese authorities to the Ambassadors of Prussia, or to the Consuls of the contracting German States, be written in Chinese, and the Chinese authorities shall be cruided by this text. It is further agreed that the translations may not be adduced as a proof in deciding difference.

In order to avoid future differences, and in consideration that all diplomatists of Europe are acquainted with the French language, the present treaty has been executed in the German, the Chinese, and the French languages. Ail these versions have the same sense and signification; but the French text shall be consiflered the original text of the treaty, and shall decide wherever the German and Chinese versions differ.

Art. VI.-The subjects of the contracting German States may, with their families, reside, frequent, and carry on trade or industry in the ports, cities, and towns of Canton, Swatow or Chao-chow, Amoy, Foochow, Ningpo, Shaughai, Tanguhow or Chefoo, Tientsin, Newchwang, Chinkiang, Kiukiang; Hankow, Kiungchow (Hainan), and at Taiwan and Tamsui in the Island of Formosa. They are permitted to proceed to and from thece places with their vessels and merchandise, and within these localities to purchase, rent, or let houses or land, build, or open churches, churelyyards, and hospitals.

Art. VII.-Merchant vessels belonging to any of the contracting German States may not enter other ports than those declared open in this treaty. They must not, contrary to law, enter other ports, or carry on illicit trade along the coast. All vessels, detected in violating this stipulation shall, together with their carso, be subject to confiscation by the Chinese Government.

Art. VIII.-Subjects of the contracting German States may make excursions in the neighbourhood of the open ports to a distance of one hundred li, and for a time not exceediny five dars.

Those desirous of proceeding into the interior of the country must be provided with a passport, issued by their respective Diplomatic or Consular authorities, and countersigned by the local Chinese authorities. These passports must upon demand be exhibitel.

The Chinese authorities shall be at liberty to detain merchants and travellers subjects of any of the contracting German States, who may have lost their passports until they have procured new ones, or to convey them to the next Consulate, but they shall not be permitted to subject them to ill-usage or allow them to be ill-used.

It is, however, distinctly understood that no passport may be given to places at present occupied by the rebels until peace has been restored.

Art. IX.-The subjects of the contracting German States slaall be permitted to engage compradores, interpreters, writers, workmen, sailors, and servants from any part of China, upon a remuneration agreed to by both parties, as also to hire boats for the transport of persons and merchandise. They shall also be permitted to engage Chinese for acquiring the Chinese language or dialects, or to instruct them in foreign languages. There shall be no restriction in the purchasing of German or Chinese books.

Art. X.-Parsons professing or teaching the Christian religion shall enjoy full protection of their persons and proparty, and bo allowed free exercise of their religion.

Art. XI.-Any merchant-vessel of any of the contracting German States arriving at any of the open ports shall be at liberty to engage the services of a pilut to take her to port. In like manuer, after she has discharged all legal dues and duties, and is ready to take her departure, she shall be permitted to select a pilot to conduct ber out of port.

Art. XII.-Whenever a ressel belonging to any of the contracting German States has entered a harbour, the Superintendent of Customs may, if he see fit, depute one or more Customs officers to guard the ship, and to see that no merchandise is smuggled. These officers shall live in a boat of their own, or stay on board the ship, as may best suit their convenience. Their salaries, food, and expenses shall be defrayed by the Chinese Customs autborities, and they shall not be entitled to any fees whatever from the master or consignee. Every violation of this regulation shall be punished proportionally to the amount exacted, which shall be returned in full.

Art. XIII.-Within twenty-four (24) hours after the arrival of the ship, the master, unless he be prevented by lawful causes, or in his stead the supercargo or the consignee, shall lodge in the hands of the Consul the ship's papers and copy of the manifest.

Within a further period of twenty-four (24) hours the Consul will report to the Superintendent of Customs the name of the ship, the number of the crew, her registered tomage, and the nature of the cargo.

If owing to neglect on the part of the master the above rule be not complied with within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival he shall be liable to a fine of fifty (50) dollars for every day's delay; the total amount of penalty, however, shall not exceed two liundred (200) dollars.

Immediately after the receipt of the report, the Superintendent of Customs shall issue a permit to open hatches.

If the master shall open hatches and begin to discharge the cargo without said permit, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundre l (500) dollars, and the goods so discharged without permit shall be liatle to confiscation.

Art. XIV.-Whenever a merchant, a subject of any of the contracting German States, has cargo to land or ship, he must apply to the Superiutendent of Customs for a special permit. Merchandise landed or shipped without such permit shall be subject to forfeiture.

Art. XV.-The subjects of the contracting German States shall pay duties on all goods imported or exported by them at the ports open to foreign trade according to the tariff appended to this treaty; but in no case shall they be taxed with higher duties than, at present or in future, subjects of the most favoured nations are liable to.

The commercial stipulations appended to this Treaty shall constitute an integral part of the same, and shall therefore be considered binding upon both the high contracting parties.

Art. XVI.-With respect to articles subject to an ad valorem duty, if the Gerinan merchant cannot agree with the Chinese officers as to their value, then each party shall call in two or three merchants to examine and appraise the goods, and the highest price at which any of these merchants may declare himself willing to purchase them shall be issumed as the value of the goods.

Art. XVII.-Duties shall be charged upon the net weight of each article; tare therefore to be deducted. If the German merchant camot agree with the Chinese officers on the exact amount of tare, then each party shall choose from among the goods respecting which there is a difference a certain number of chests or bales, which being first weighted gross, shall afterwards be tared and the tare fixed accordingly. The average tare upon these chests or bales shall constitute the tare upon the whole lot of packages.

Art. XVIII.-If in the course of verification there arise other points of dispute, which cannot be settled, the German merchant may appeal to his Consul, who will communicate the particulars of the differences of the case to the Superintendent of Customs, and both will endeavour to bring about an amicable arrangement. But the appeal to the Consul inust be made within twenty-four hours, or it will not be attended to.

As long as no settlement be come to, the Superintendent of Customs shall not enter the matter at issue in his books, in order that a thorough investigation and the final settlement of the difference be not prejudiced.

Art. XIX.-Should imported goods prove to be damaged, a fair reduction of duty shall be allowed, in proportion to their deterioration. If any disputes arise, thay shall be settled in the same manner as agreed upon in Art. XVII. of this treaty having reference to articles which pay duty ad valorem.

Art. XX.-Any merchant vessel belonging to one of the contracting German States having entered any of the open ports, and not yet opeued hatches, may quit the same within forty-eight hours after her arrival, and proceed to another port, without being subject to the payment of tonnage-dues, duties, or any other fees or charges; but tomnage-dues must be paid after the expiration of the said forty-eight hours.

Art. XXI.-Import duties shall be considered payable on the landing of the goods, and duties of export on the shipping of the same. When all tonnage-dues and duties shall have been paid, the Superintendent of Customs shall give a receipt in full (port-clearance), which being produced at the Consulate, the Consular officer shall then return to the captain the ship's papers and permit him to depart on the voyage.

Art. XXII.-The Superintendent of Customs will point out one or more bankers authorized by the Chinese Government to receive the duties on his behalf. The receipts of these bankers shall be looked upon as given by the Chinese Government itself. Payment may be made in bars or in foreign coin, whose relative value to the Chinese Sycee silver shall be fixed by special agreement, according to circumstances, between the Consular Officers and the Superintendent of Customs.

Art. XXIIL.-Merchant-vessels belonging to the contracting German States of more than one hundred and fifty tons burden shall be charged four mace per ton; merchant-vessels of one hundred and fifty tons and under shall be charged at the rate of one mace per ton.

The captain or consignce having paid the tonnage-dues the Superintendent of Customs shall give them a special certificate, on exhibition of which the ship shall be exempted from all further payment of tomage-dues in any open port of China which the captain may visit for a period of four months, to be reckoned from the date of the port clearance mentioned in Art. XXI.

Boats employed by subjects of the contracting German States in the conveyance of passengers, baggage, letters, articles of provisions, or articles not subject to duties shall not he liable to tonnage dues. Any boat of this kind, however, conveying merchandise subject to duty, shall come under the category of vessels under one hundred and fifty tons, and pay tonnage-dues at the rate of one mace per register ton.

Art. XXIV.-Goods on which duties have been paid in any of the ports open to forsign trade, upon being sent into the interior of the country shall not be subject to any but transit duty. The same shall be paid according to the tariff now existing, and may not be raised in future. This also applies to goods sent from the interior of the country to any of the open ports.

All transit duties on produce brought from the interior to any of the open ports or importations sent from any of the open ports into the interior of China may be paid once for all.

If any of the Chinese officers violate the stipulations of this artiele by demanding illegal or higher duties than allowed by law, they shall be punished according to Chinese law.

Art. XXV.-If the master of a merchant vessel belonging to any of the contracting German States, having entered any of the open ports, should wish to land only a portion of his cargo, he shall only pay duties for the portion so landed. He way take the rest of the cargo to another port, pay duties there, and dispose of the same.

Art. XXVI.-Merchants of any of the contracting German States, who may have imported merchandise into any of the open ports and paid duty thereon, if they desire to re-export the same, shall be entitled to make application to the Superintendent of Customs, who shall cause examination to be made to satisfy himself of the identity of the groods and of their having remained unchanged.

On such duty-paid goods the Superintendent of Customs shall, on application of the merchant wishing to export them to any other open port, issue a certificate, testifying the payment of all legal duties thereon.

The Superintendent of Customs of the port to which such goods are brought, shall, upon presentation of said certificate, issue a permit for the discharge and landing of them free of all duty, without any additional exactions whatever. But if, on comparing the goods with the certificate, any fraud on the revenue be detected, then the goods shall be subject to confiscation.

But if the groods are to be exported to a foreign port, the Superintendent of Customs of the port from which they are exported shall issue a certificate stating that the merchant who exports the goods has a claim on the Customs equal to the amonnt of duty paid on the gools. The certificate shall be a valid tender to the Custons in payment of import or export duties.

Art. XXV̇II. - No transhipment from one vessel to another can be made without special permission of the Superintendent of Customs, under pain of confiscation of the goods so translipped, unless it be proved that there was danger in delaying the transhipment.

Art. XXVIII.—Sets of standard weights and measures, such as are in use at the Canton Custom House, shall be delivered by the Superintendent of Customs to the Consul at each port open to foreign trade. These measures, weights, and balances shall represent the ruling standard on which all demands and payments of duties are made and in case of any disp,ute they shall be referred to.

Art. XXIX.-Penalties enforced or confiscations made for violation of this Treaty, or of the appended regulations, shall belong to the Chinese Govermment.

Art. XXX.-Ships-of-war belonging to the contracting German States cruising about for the protection of trade, or being engaged in the pursuit of pirates, shall be at liberty to visit, without distinction, all ports within the dominions of the Emperor of China. They shall receive every facility for the purchase of provisions, the procuring of water, and for naking repairs. The commanders of such ships shall hold intercourse with the Chinese authorities on terms of equality and courtesy. Such ships shall not bo liable to payment of duties of any lind.

Art. XXXI.-Merchant vessels belonging to any of the contracting German States, from injury sustained, or from other causes, compelled to seek a place of refuge, shall be permitted to enter any port within the dominions of the Emperor of China without being subject to the payment of tomnage dues or duties ou the goods, if only landed for the purpose of making the necessary repairs of the vessel, and remaining under the supervision of the Superintendent of Customs. Should any such vessel be wrecked or stranded on the coast of China, the Chinese authorities shall immediately adopt measures for rescuing the crew and for securing the vessel and cargo. The crew thus saved shall receive friendly treatment, and, if necessary, shall be furnished with means of conveyance to the nearest Consular station.

Art. XXXII.-If sailors or other individuals of ships-of-war or merchant vessels belonging to any of the contracting German States desert their ships and take refuge in the dominions of the Emperor of China, the Chinese authorities shall, upon due requisition by the Consular Officer, or by the captain, take the necessary steps for the detention of tae deserter, and hand him over to the Consular Officer or to the captain.

In like manner, if Chinese deserters or criminals take refuge in the houses or on board ships belonging to subjects of the contracting German States, the local Chinese authorities shall apply to the German Consular Officer, who will take the necessary measuies for apprehending the said deserter or criminal, and deliver him up to the Chinese authorities.

Art. XXXIII.-If any vessel belonging to any of the contıacting German States, while within Chinese waters, be plundereal by pirates, it shall be the duty of the Chinese authorities to use every means to capture and punisis the said pirates, to recover the stolen property where and in whatever condition it may be, and to hand the same over to the Consul for restoration to the owner. If the robbers or pirates cannot be apprebended, or the property taken cannot be entirely recovered, the Chinese authorities shall then be punished in accordance with the Chinese law, but they shall not be held pecuniarily responsible.

Art. XXXIV.-If subjects of any of the contracting German States have any occasion to address a communication to the Chinese authorities, they must submit the same to their Consular Officer, determine if the matter be just, and the language be proper and respectful, in which event he shall transmit the same to the proper authorities, or return the same for alterations. If Chinese subjects have occasion to address a Consul of one of the coutracting German States, they must adopt the same course, and submit their communication to the Chinese authorities, who will act in like manner.

Art. XXXV.-Any subjects of any of the contracting German States having reason to complain of a Chinese, must first proceed to the Consular Officer and state his grievance. The Consular Officer, having inquired into the merits of the case, wilk endeavour to arrange it amicably. In like manner, if a Chinese have reason to complain of a subject of any of the contracting German States, the Consular Officer shall listen to his complaint and endeavour to bring about a friendly settlement. If the dispute, however, is of such a nature that the Consul cannot settle the same amicably, he shall then request the assistance of the Chinese authorities, that they may conjointly examine into the merits of the case, and decide it equitably.

Art. XXXVI.-The Chinese anthorities shall at all times afford the fullest protection to the subjects of the contracting German States, especially when they are exposed to insult or violence. In all cases of incendiarism, robbery, or demolition, the local authorities shall at once dispatch an armed force to disperse the mob, to apprehend the guilty, and to punish them with the rigour of the law. Those robbed or whose property has been demolished shall have a claim upon the despoilers of their property foi indemnification, proportioned to the injury sustained.

Art. XXXVII.-Whenever a subject of His Majesty the Emperor of China fails. to discharge the debts due to a subject of one of the contracting German States, or fraudulently absconds, the Chinese authorities, upon application by the creditor, will do their utmost to effect his arrest and to enforce payment of the debt. In like manner the authorities of the contracting German States shall do their utmost to euforce the payment of debts of their subjects towards Chinese subjects, and to bring to justice any who fraudulently abscond. But in no case shall either the Chinese Government or the Guvernment of the contracting German States be held responsible for the delots incurred by their respective subjects.

Art. XXXVIII.-Any subject of His Majesty the Emperor of China having committel a crime agaiust a subject of one of the contracting German States, shall be apprehended by the Chinese authorities and punished according to the laws of China.

In like manuer, if a subject of the contracting German States is guilty of a crime against a subject of His Majesty the Emperor of China, the Consular Officer shall arrest him and punish him according to the laws of the State to which he belongs.

Art. XXXIX.-All questions arising between subjects of the contracting German States in reference to the rights of property or person shall be subuitted to the jurisdiction of the authorities of their respective States. In like manner will the Chinese authorities abstain from interfering in differences that may arise between subjects of one of the contracting German States and fureigners.

Art. XL.-The contracting parties agree that the German States and their subjects shall fully and equally participate in all privileges, immunities, and advantages that have been, or may be hereafter, granted by His Majesty the Einperor of China to the government or subjects of any other nation. All changes made in favour of any nation in the tariff, in the customs duties, in tomage and harbour dues, in import, export, or transit duties, shall as soon as they take effect, immediately and without a new treaty, be equally applied to the contracting German States and to their merchants, shipowners, and navigators.

Art. XLI.-If in future the contracting German States desire a modification of any stipulation contained in this treaty, they shall be at liberty, after the lapse of ten years, dated from the day of the ratification of this treaty, to open regotiations to that effect. Six montha before the expiration of the ten years it must le officially notified to the Chinese Government that modifications of the treaty are desired, aud in what these consist. ## SUPPLEMENTARY CONVENTION BETWEEN GERIIANY AND CHINA

Signed at Peking in the German and Chinese Languages on the 31st March, 1880
[Translated from the German Text]
His Majesty the German Emperor, King of Prussia, \&c., in the name of the German Empire, and his Majesty the Emperor of China, wishing to secure the more perfect execution of the Treaty of the 2nd September, 1861, have, in conformity with Article XLI. of that Treaty, according to the terms of which the High Contracting German States are entitled, aft $-\times$ a period of ten years, to demand a-revision of the Treaty, decided to conclude a Supplementary Convention.

With this view they have appointed their Plenipotentiaries-viz., His Majesty the German Emperor, King of Prussia, &c., his Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, Max August Scipio von Brandt; and His Majesty the Emperor of China, the Minister of the Tsung-li Yamen, the Secretary of State, &ic., Shen Kue-fen; and the Secretary of State, &c., Chin Lien;

Who, after communicating to each other their full powers, and finding them in due form, have agreed upon the following Articles:-

Art. I.-Chinese concession.-The harbours of Ichang, in Hupei; Wuhu, in Anhui; Wenchow, in Chekiang; and Pakhao, in Kwangtung, and the lancing-places Tat'ung and Anking in Anhui; Hukow, in Kiangsi; Wusueh, Luchikow, and Shahshilh, in Hukuang, having already been opened, German ships are in future also to be permitted to touch at the harbour of Woosung, in the province of Kiangsu, to take in or discharge merchandise. The necessary Regulations are to be drawn up by the Taotai of Shanghai and the competent authorities.

German concession.- In the event of special regulations for the execution of concessions which the Chinese Government may make to foreign Governments being attached to such concessions, Germany, while claiming these concessions for herself and for her subjects, will equally assent to the regulations attarhed to them.

Art. XI. of the Treaty of the 2nd September, 1861, is not affected by this regulation, and is hereby expressly confirmed.

Should German subjects, on the strength of this article, claim privileges, immunitics, or advantages which the Chinese Government way further concede to another Power, or the subject of such Power, they will also submit to the regulations which have been agreed upon in cunnection with such concession.

Art. II.-Chinesc concession.-German ships, which have already paid tonnage dues in China, may visit all other open ports in China, as well as all ports not Chinese, without exception, without being again obliged to jay tonnage dues, within the given period of four months.

German sailing-vessels which remain in the same Chinese harbour for a longer period than fourtren days shall only pay for time over and abore this period half of the tomnage dues stipulated by Treaty.

German concession.-The Chinese Government shall have the right of appointing Consuls to all tiwns of Germany in which the Consuls of other States are admittod, and they shall enjoy tie same rights and privileges as the Consuls of the most favoured nation.

ArI. III.-Chinese concession.-The Chinese Comm:ssioner of Customs, and the other competent authorities, shall, after agreeing upon the necessary rcgulations, themselves take measures for the establishment of bonded warehouses in all the open ports of China in which they are required in the interests of fureign commerce, and where local circumstances would admit of such an arrangement being made.

German concession.-German ships, visiting the open ports of Chira, shall deliver a manifest containing an exact statement as to the quality and quantity of their cargoes. Mistakes which may have occurred in the manifests can be rectified in the course of twenty-four hours (Sundays and holidays excepted). False statements as to the quantity and quality of cargo are puishable by confiscation of the goods and also ly a fine, to be imposed upon the captain, but not to exceed the sum of Tls. 500 .

Art. IV.-Chinese concession.-The export duty on Chinese coal, exported by German merchants from the open ports, is reduced to 3 mace per ton. In tho-e ports in which a lower duty on the export of coal has already been fixed upon, the lower duty remains in force.

German concession.-Any one acting as pilot for any kind of craft whatever, without being furnished with the regulation certificate, is liable to a fine not to exceed Tls. 100 for each separate case.

Regulations with a view to exercising a proper control over sailors are to be introduced with the least possible delay.

Art. V.-Chinese concession.-German ships in want of repairs in consequence of damages sustained within or without the port are not required to pay tomnage dues during the period necessary for repairs, which is to be fixed by the Inspectorate of Customs.

German concession.-Ships belonging to Chinese may not make use of the German flag, nor may German ships make use of the Chinese flag.

Art. VI.-Chinese concession.-In the event of German ships, no longer fit for sea, being broken up in any open port of China, the material may be sold without any import duty being levied upon it. But if the materials are to be lrought ashore a "permit of dischirge" must first be obtained for them from the Cutsoms Inspectorate, in the same manner as in the case of merchandise.

German concession.-If German subjects travel into the interior for their own pleasure without being in possession of a passport issued by the Consul and stamped by the proper Chinese authority, the local authorities concerned are entitled to bave them taken back to the nearest German Consulate, in order that the requisite supervision may be exercised over them. The offender is, in addition to this, liable to a fine up to 300 taels.

Art. VII.-Chinese concession.-Materials for German docks are free of duty A list of articles which may be imported free of duty in conformity with this stipulation is to be drawn up and published by the Inspector.General of Customs.

German concession.-Passes issued to German subjects for conveying foreign merchandise into the interior, as well as passjorts for the purpose of travelling issued to German subjects, are only to remain in force for a period of thirteen Chinese months from the day on which they were issued.

Art. VIIL.--The settlement of the question relating to judicial proceedings in mixed cares, the taxation of foreign merchandise in the interior, the taxation of Chinese goods in the possession of foreign merchants in the interior, and intercourse between foreign and Chinese officials are to become the subject of special negotiations, which both Governments hereby declare themselves ready to enter upon.

Art. IX.-All the provisions of the former Treaty of the 2nd Sejtember, 1861, which have not been altered by this agreement, are hereby confirmell anew, as both parties now expressly declare.

In the cases of those articles, on the other hand, which are affected by the present treaty, the new interpretation of them is to be considered as binding.

Art. X.-The present Supplementary Convention shall be ratified by their Majesties, and the ratifications exchanged at Peking, within a year from the date of its signature.

Special Stipulations to the Supplementary Convention

For the sake of greater clearness and completeness, it has seemed fitting to append a number of special stipulations to the Supplementary Convention.

The following stipulations must be observed by the subjects of both the Contracting Parties, in the same way as the stipulations of the Treaty itself. In proof whereof the plenipotentiaries of the two States have thereto set their seals and signatures:-
1.-In acaordance with the newly granted privileges for the port of Woosung, in the province of Kiangsu, German ships shall be at liberty to take in aud to nuload there merchandise which is either intended for Shanglai or comes from Shanghai; and for this purpose the competent authorities there shall have the right of devising regulations in order to prevent frauds on the taxes and irregularities of every kind; which regulations shall be binding for the merchants of both countries, German mercbants are not at likerty to construct landing-places for ships, merchants ${ }^{3}$ houses, or warehouses at the said place.
2.-An experiment to ascertain whether bonded warehouses can be established in the Chinese open ports shall first be made at Shanghai. For this purpose the Customs Director at the said place, with the Customs Inspector-General, shall forthwith draw up regulations suitable to the local conditions, and then the said Customs Director and his colleagues shall proceed to the establishment of such bonded warehous.
3.-If any goods found on board a German ship, for the discharge whereof a written permit from the Customs Office is required, and not entered in the manifest, this shall be taken as proof of a false manifest, no matter whether a certificate of the reception of such goods on board, bearing the captain's signature, be produced or not.
4.-If a German ship, in consequence of damages received in one of the open Chinese ports, or outside thereof, needs repair, the time required for such repair shall be reckoned in addition to the term after the lapse of which tonnage-dues are to be paid. Whe Chinese authorities have the right to make the necessary arrangements for this purpose. But if it appears therefrom that this is only a pretext and a desion to evade the legal payments to the Customs chest, the ship therein concerned shall be fined in double the amount of the tomage-dues whereof it has tried to evade the payment.
b.- No ships of any lind which belong to Chinese subjects are allowed to make use of the German flag. If there are definite grounds for suspicion that this has nevertheless been done, the Chinese authority concerned is to address an official communication thereon to the German Consul, and if it should be shown, in consequence of the investigation instituted by him, that the ship was really not entitled to bear the German flag, the ship as well as the groods found therein, so far as they belong to Chinese merchants, shall be immediately delivered over to the Chinese authorities for further disposal. If it $b$ : ascertained that German suljects were aware of the circumstances, and took part in the commission of the irregularity, the whole of the grods belonging to them found in the ship are liable to confiscation, and the people themselves to punishment according to law.

In case a German ship carries the Chinese flag without authority to do so, then, if it be ascertained through the investigation mule by the Chinese authoraties that the ship was really not entitled to bear the Chinese flag, the ship, as well as the goods found therein, so far as they beloug to German merchants, shall he imore diately delivered over to the German Consul for further disposal and the punishmegt of the guilty. If it be shown that German owners of goods were aware of the gies ing to them fonnd in the ship slall incur the penalty of confiscation by the Chiqest authorities. The goods belonging to Chinese may be immediately seized by ine Cbinese authorities.
6.-If on the sale of the materials of a German ship which, from unseaworthiness, has been broben up in oue of tho open Chinese ports, an attempt be made to mix up with theiu goods belonging to the cargo, these goods shall be liable to confiscation, and, moreover, to a fine equal to double the amount of the import duty which they would otherwise bave had to pay.
7. -If German subjects go into the interior with foreign goods, or travel there, the passes or certificates issued to them shall only be valid for thirteen Chinese months, reckoned from the day of their issue, and after the lapse of that term must no longer be used. The expired passes and certificates must be returned to the Customs authorities in whose official district they were issued in order to be cancelled.
$N . B$.-If a pleasure excursion be undertaken into regions so distant that the ierm of a year appears insufficient, this must be noted on the pass by reason of an understanding letween the Consul and the Chinese authority at the time it is issued.

If the return of the passport be omitted, no further pasa shall be issued to the person concerned until it has taken place. If the pass be lost, no matter whether within the term or after its expiration, the person concerned must forthwith make a formal declaration of the fact before the nearest Chinese authority. The Chinese official applied to will then do what else may be necessary for the invalidation of the pass. If the recorded declaration prove to be untrue, in case the transport of goods be concerned, they will be confiscated; if the matter relate to travelling, the traveller wili be taken to the nearest Consul, and be delivered up to him for punishment.
8.-Materials for German docks only enjoy, in so far as they are actually employed for the repair of ships, the favour of duty-free importation, in open purts. The Customs authority has the right to send inspectors to the dock to convince themselves on the spot as to the manner and way in which the materials are being used. If the construction of a new ship be concerned, the materials employed for this, in so far as they are specially entered in the impost or export tariff, will be reckoned at the tariff duty, and those not entered in the tariff at a duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem, and the merchant concerued will be bound to pay this duty subsequently.

Any one who wishes to lay out a dock is to get from the Customs Office a gratis Concession certificate, and to sign a written undertaking, the purport and wording whereof is to be settled in due form by the Customs office concerned.
9.-Art. XXIX. of the Treaty of the 2nd September, 1861, shall be applicable to the fines established loy this present Supplementary Convention.

Done at Peking the thirty-first March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, corresponding with the tiventy-first day of the second month of the sixth year Kwang Sü.

THE KIAOCIIOW CONVENTION

I.-His Majesty the Emperor of China, being desirous of preserving the existing good relations with His Majesty the Emperor of Germany, and of promoting an increase of German power and influence in the Far East, sanctions the acquirement under lease by Germany of the land extending for $100 l$, at high tide (at Kiaochow).

His Majesty the Emperor of China is willing that German troops should take possession of the above-mentioned territory at any time the Emperor of Germany chooses. China retains her sovereignty over this territory, and should slee at any time wish to enact laws or carry out plans within the leased area, she shall be at liberty to enter into negociations with Germany with reference thereto; provided always that such laws or plans shall not be prejudicial to German interests. Germany may engage in works for the public benefit, such as water-works, within the territory covered by the lease, without reference to China. Should Clina wish to march troops or establish garrisons therein she can only do so after negotiating with and obtaining the express permission of Germany.
II.-His Majesty the Emperor of Germany, being desirous like the rulers of certain other countries, of establishing a naval and coaling station and constructing dockyards on the coast of China, the Emperor of China agrees to lease to him for the purpose all the land on the southern and northern sides of Kiaochow Bay for a term of ninety-nine years. Germany is to be at liberty to erect forts on this land for the defence of her possessions therein.
III.-During the continuance of the lease China shall have no voice in the government or administration of the leased territory. It will be governed and administered during the whole term of ninety-nine years solely by Germany, so that the possibility of friction between the two Powers may be reduced to the smallest magnitude. The lease covers the following districts:-
(a)-All the land in the north-east of Lienhan, adjacent to the north-eastern mouth of the Bay, within a straight line drawn from the north-eastern corner of Yintao to Laoshan-wan.
(b.)-All the land in the south-west of Lienlian, adjacent to the southern mouth of the Bay, within a straight line drawn from a point on the shore of the Bay bearing south-west by south from Tsi-pe-shan-to.
(c.)-Tsi-pe-shan-to and Yintao.
(d.) The whole area of the Bay of Kiaochow covered at high-water.
(e.)-Certain islands at the entrance of the Biy which are ceded for the purpose of erecting forts for the defence of the German possessions. The boundaries of the leased territory shall hereafter be more exactly defined by a commission appointed jointly by the Chinese and German Governments, and consisting of Chinese and German subjects. Chinese ships of war and merchant-ships, and ships of war and nerchant-ships of countries having treaties and in a state of anity with China shall receive equal treatment with German ships of war and merchant ships in Kiaochow Bay during the continance of the lease. Germany is at liberty to enact any regulations she desires for the government of the territory and larhour, provided such regulations apply impartially to the ships of all nations, Germany and China included.
IV.-Germany shall be at liberty to erect whatever lighthouse, beacons, and other aids to navigation she chooses within the territory leased, and along the islands and coasts approaching the entrance to the harbour. Vessels of China and vessels of other countries entering the harbour shall le liable to special duties for the repair and maintenance of all light-houses, beacons and other aids to navigation which Germany may erect and establish. Clinese vessels shall be exempt from other special duties.
V.-Should Germany desire to give up her interest in the leased territory before the expiration of ninety-nine years, China shall take over the whole area, and pay

Germany for whatever German property may at the time of surrender be theresituated. In cases of such surrender taking place Germany shall be at liberty to lease some otner point along the coast. Germany shall not cede the territory leased to any other Power than China. Chinese subjects shall be allowed to live in the territory leased, under the protection of the German authorities, and there carry on their avocations and business as long as they conduct themselves as peaceable and law-abiding citizens. Germany shall pay a reasonable price to the native proprietors for whatever lands her Government or subjects require. Fugitive Cbinese criminals taking refuge in the leased territory shall be arrested and surrendered to the Chinese authorities for trial and punishment, upon application to the German authorities, but the Chinese authorities shall not be at liberty to send agents into the leased territory to make arre,ts. The German anthorities shall not interfere with the lekin stations outside but adjacent to the territory.

'THE RAILWAY AND MIN[NG CONCESSION

I.-The Chinese Government sunctions the constuction by Germany of two lines of railway in Shantung. The first will run from Kiaochow and Tsinan-fu to the boundary of Shantung province via Wei-hsien, I'sinchow, Pashan, Tsechuen and Suiping. The second line will connect Kiaochow with Chinchow, whence an extension will be constructed to Tsinan through Laiwu-hsien. The construction of this extension sball not be begun until the first part of the line, the main line, is completed, in order to give the Chinese an opportunity of connecting this line in the most adrantageous manner with their own railway system. What places the line from Tsinan-fu to the provincial boundary shall take in en route is to be determined hereafter.
II.-In order to carry out the above mentioned railway work a Chino-German Company shall be formed, winh branches at whatever places may be necessary, aul in this Company both German and Chinese subjects shall be at liberty to invest money if they so choose, and appoint directors for the management of the undertaking.
III.-Ail arrangements in connection with the works specified slall be determined by a future conference of German and Chinese representatives. The Chinese Government shall afford every facility and protection and extend every welcome to representatives of the German lailway Company operating in Chinese territory. Profits derived from the working of these railways shall be justly divided pro rata between the shareholders without regard to nationality. The object of constructing these lines is solely the development of commerce. In inaugurating a railway srstem in Shantung Germany entertains no treacherous intention towards China, and undertakes not to unlawfully seize any land in the province.
IV.-The Chinese Government shall allow German subjects to hold and develop. mining property for a distance of 30 li from each side of these railways and along the whole extent of the lines. The following places where mining operations may be carried on are particularly specified along the northern ralway from Kiaochow to Tsinan, Weihsien, Pa-shan-hsien and various other points; and along the Southem Kiaochow-Tsinan-Chinchow line, Chinchow-fu, Luiwuhsien, etc. Chinese capital may be investeld in these operations and arrangements for carrying on the work shall hereafter by made by a joint conference of Chinese and German representatives. All German subjects engaged in such works in Chinese territory shall be properly protected and welcomed ly the Chinese authorities and all profits derived shall be fairly divided hetween Chinese and German shareholders according to the extent of the interest they hold in the undertakings. In trying to develope mining property in China, Germany is actuated by no treacherous motives against this countrg, but seeks alone to increase commerce and improve the relations between the two countries.

If at any time the Chinese should form schemes for the development of Shantung, for the execution of which it is necessary to obtain foreign capital, the Chinese.

Government, or whatever Chinese may be interested in such schemes, shall, in the first instance, apply to German capitalists. Application shall also be made to German manufacturers for the necessary machinery and materials before the manufacturers of any other Power are approached. Should German capitalists or manufacturers decline to take up the business the Chinese shall then be at libertv to obtain money and materials from sources of other nationality than German.

This convention requires the sanction of His Majesty the Emperor of China and His Majesty the Emperor of Germany. When the sanction of His Majesty the Emperor of China reaches Berlin the agreement approved by His Majesty the Emperor of Germany shall be handed to the Chinese Ambassador. When the final draft is agreed to by both parties four clean copies of it shall be made, $t$ wo in Chinese and two in German, which slall be duly signed by the Chinese and German Minister at Berlin and Peking. Each Powor shall retain one Chinese copy and one German copy, and the agreement shall be faitlffully observed on either side.

Dated, the fourteenth dav of the second moon of the twenty-fourth year of Kuang Hsu. (March 6th, 1898).

TREATY BETWEEN RUSSIA AND CHINA

Signed, in the Russian, Chinese, and French Languages, at S'r. Petersburg, 12 th February, 1881
Ratifications exchanged at St. Petersbu'g, 19th August, 1881
[Translated from the French Text]
His Majesty the Emperor and Autocrat of all the Russias and His Majesty the Emperor of China, desiring to regulate some questions of frontier and trade touching the interests of the two Empires, in order to cement the relations of friendship between the two countries, have named for their plenipotentiaries, to the effect of establishing an agreement on these questions:-

His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias: His Secretary of State Nicholas de Giers, senator, actual privy councillor, directing the Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and his envoy extrandinary and minister plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of China, Eugene de Buzow, actual councillor of state.

And His Majesty the Emperor of China: Tseng, Marquess of Neyong, vicepresident of the high court of justice, his envoy extraordinary and minister plenipo tentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, furnislled with special powers to sign the present Treaty in quality of ambassador extraordinary.

The above named plenipotentiaries, furnished with full powers, which have been found sufficient, have agreed upon the following stipulations:-

Art. I.-His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias consents to the reestablishment of the Chinese Government in the country of Ili, temporarily occupied since 1871 by the Russian Armies. Russia remains in possession of this couutry, within the limits indicated loy Article VII. of the present Treaty.

Art. II.-His Majesty the Emperor of China engages to decree the proper measures to shelter the inhabitants of the comitry of Ili, of whatever race and to whatever religion they belong, from all persecution, in their goods or in their persons, for acts committed during or after the troubles that have taken place in that country.

A proclamation in conformity with this engagement will be addressed by the Chinese autborities, in the name of His Majesty the Emperor of China, to the population of the country of Ili, before the restoration of this country to the said authorities.

Art. III.- The inhabitants of the conntry of Ili will be free to remain iu the places of their actual residence as Chineso subjects, or to emigrate to Russia and to adopt Russian dependence. They will be called to pronounce themselves on this subject before the re-establishment of Chinese authority in the country of Ili, and a delay of one year, from the rate of the restoration of the country to the Chinese authorities, will be accorded to those who show a desire to emigrate to Russia. The Chinese will oppose no impediment to their emigration or to the transportation of their moveable property.

Art. IV.-Russian suljects possessing land in the country of Ili will keep their rights of property, even after the re-establishment of the authority of the Chinese Government in that country.

This provision is not applicable to the inhabitants of the country of Ili who shall adopt Russian nationality upon the re-establishment of Chinese authority in this country.

Russian subjects whose lands are situatel without places appronriated to Russian finctories, in virtue of Article XIII. of the Treaty of Kuldja of 1851, ought to discharge the same taxes and contributions as Chinese subjects.

Art. V.-The two goveruments will appoint commissioners of Kuldja, who will proceed to the restoration on the one part, to the resumption on the other, of the administration of the province of Ili, and who will be charged, in general, with the execution of the stipulations of the present Treaty relating to the re-establishment, in this country, of the Chinese Government.

The said commissioners will fulfil their commission, in conforming to the understanding which will be established as to the mode of restoration on the one part aud of resumption on the other, of the administration of the country of Ili, between the Governor-General of Turkestan and the Governor-General ol Shansi and Kansuln, charged by the two governments with the high direction of the affair.

The resumption of the country of Ili should be finished within a delay of three months or somer, if it can be done, dating from the dav of the arrival at Tashkend of the functionary who will be delegated by the Governor-General of Shansi aud Kansuh to the Governor-General of Turkestan to notify to him the ratification and the promulgation of the present Ireaty ly His Majesty the Emperor of China.

Art. VI.-'The Government of His Majesty the Emperor of China will pay tothe Russian Governmeat the sum of nine millions of metallic roubles, designed to cover the expenses occasioned by the occupation of the comntry of Ili by the Russian troops since 1871, to satisfy all the pecuniary claims arising from, up to the present day, the losses which Russian subjects have suffered in their goods pillaged on Chinese territuries, and to furnish relief to the famulies of Russian subjects lilled in armed attacks of which they have been victims on Chinese territory.

The abore mentioned sum of nine millions of metallic roubles will be paid within the teim of two years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the present Treaty, according to the order and the conditions agreed upn betwe n the two governments in the speciil Protocol annexed to the present Treaty.

Art. VII.-The western portion of the comntry of Ili is incorporated with Russia, in order to serve as a place of establishment for the inhabitants of this country who shall adopt the Russian dependence and who, by this action, will have had to abandon the lands which they possessed there.

The frontier between the possessions of Russia and the Chinese province of Inx will follow, starting from the mountains Bedjin-taou, the course of the river Khorgos, as firr as the place where this river falls into the river Ili, aud, coossing the latter, will take a direction to the south, towards the mountains Ouzoun-taou, leaving to the west the village of Koldjat. Proceeding from this point it will follow, whilst heing directed to the south, the delineation fixed by the protocol signed at Tchugrtu-hhack in 1864.

Art. VIII.-A part of the frontier line, fixed by the protocol signed at Tchugtuchack in 1864, at the east of the Lake Zaisan, having been found defective, the two govermments will name commissioners who will modify, by a common agreement, the ancient delineation in such a manner as to remove the defects pointed out and to establish an effective separation between the Kirghiz tribes submitted to the two Empires.

To the new delineation will be given, as much as possible, an intermediate direction between the old frontier and a straight line leading from the Kouitoun hill towards the Saour hills, crossing the Tcherny-Irtysh.

Art. IX. -The commissioners to be named by the two contracting parties will proceed to place posts of demarcation, as well on the delineation fixed by the preceding Articles VII. aud VIII., as on the parts of the frontier where posts have not yet been placed. The time and the place of neeting of these commissioners. shall be fixed by an understanding between the two governments.

The two Governments will also name commissioners to examine the frontier and to place posts of demarcation between the Russian province of Ferganah and the western part of the Chinese province of Kashgar. The commissioners will takefor the base of their work the existing frontier:

Art. X.-The right recognised by the treaties of the Russian Government to nominate Consuls to Ili, to Tarbagatai, to Kashyar, and to Ourga is extended, from the present time, $t$, the towns of Soutcheon (Tsia-yu-kwan) and of Turfan. In the following towas : Kobdo, Uliassoutai, Khami, Urumtsi, and Goutchen, the Russian Government will establish consulates in proportion to the development of commerce, and after an understanding with the Chinese Government.

The Consul of Soutcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan) and of Turfan will exercise consular functions in the neighbouring districts, where the interests of Russian subjects demand their presence.

The dispositions contained in Articles V. and VI. of the Treaty concluded at Peking in 1860, and relative to the concession oc land for the houses for the consulates, for cemeteries, and for pasturage, will apply equally to the towns of Soutcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan) and of Turfan. The local aithorities will aid the Consul to find provisional habitations until the time when the houses of the consulates shall be built.

The Russian Consuls in Mongolia and in the districts situated on the two slopes of the Tien-shan will make use of, for their journeys and for their correspondence, the postal instilutions of the government, conformably to the stipulations of Article XI. of the Treaty of Tientsin and of Article XII. of the Treaty of Peking. The Chinese authorities, to whom they will address themslves for this purpose, will lend them aid and assistance.

The town of Turfan not being a locality open to foreign trade, the right of establishing a consulate will not be invoked as a precedent to obtain a right analogous to the ports of China for the provinces of the interior and for Manchuria.

Art. XI.-Russian Cousuls will communicate, for affairs of service, either with the local authorities of the town of their residence, or with the superior authorities of the circuit or of the province, ascording as the interests which are respectively confided to them, the importance of the affairs to be treated of, and their prompt expedition shall require. As to the rules of etiquet:e to be observed at the time of their interviews and, in general, in their relations, they will be baseil upon the respect which the functionaries of two friendly powers reciprocally uwe each other.

All the affairs which may arise on Chinese tervitory, on the sulject of commer. cial or other transactions, between those under the juriscliction of the two states, will be examined and regratated, by a common agreement, by the consuls and the Chinese authorities.

In lawsuits on commercial matters, the two parties will terminato their difference amicably by means of arbitrators chosen by one side and the other. If arreement is not established in this way, the affair will be examined and regulated by the authorities of the two states.

Engagements contracted in writing, between Russian and Chinese subjects, relative to orders for merchandise, to the transport of it, to the location of shops, of houses, and of other places, or relating to other transactions of the same kind, may le presented for legalisation by the consulates and by the superior local administrations, who are bound to legalize the documents woich are presented to them. In case of mon-execution of the engagenents contracted, the consul and the Chinese anthorities will consult as to the measures necessary to secure the execution of these olliga ions.

Art. XII.-Russian subjects are authorized to carry on, as in the past, trade free of duties in Mongolia subject to China, as well as in places and aimaks where there is a Chinese administration as in those where there is none.

Russian subjects will equally enjoy the right of carrying on trade free of duties in the towas and other localities of the provinces of Ili, of Tarbagatai, of Kashgar, of Urumtsi, and others situated on the slopes north and south of the chain of the Tien-shan as far as the Great Wall. This imınunity will be abrogated when the development of tha trade necessitates the establishment of a customs tariff, conformable to an understanding to be come to by the two Governments.

Russian subjects c.m import into the above-named provinces of China and export from them every description of produce, of whatever origin they may be. They may make purchases and sales, whether in cush, or by way of exchange ; they will have the right to muke thoir payments in merchandise of every description.

Art. XIII.-In the places where the Russian Government will have the right to establish consulates, as well as in the town of Kalgan, Russian subjects may construct houses, shops, warehouses, and other buildings, on the lands which they will acquire by me uns of purchase, or which may be conceded to them by the local authorities, conformably to that which has been established for Ili and Tarbagatai, by Article XIII. of the Trenty of Kuldja of 1851.

The privileges granted to Russian subjects, in the town of Kalgan, where there will not be a consulate, constitute an exception which cannot be extended to any other locality of the interior provinces.

Art. XIV.-Russian merchants who may wish to dispatch merchandise from Russia, by land, into the interior provinces of China, can, as formerly, direct it. by the towns of Kalgan and Tungchow, to the port of Tientsin, and from there, to the other ports and interior markets, and sell it in those different places.

Merchants will use this same route to export to Russia the merchandise purchased, as well in the towns and ports above named as in the interior m:trkets.

They will equally have the right to repair, for matters of trade, to Soutcheour (Tsia-vu-kway), the terminal point of the Russian caravans, and they wili enjoy there all the rights granted to Russian trade at Tientsin.

Art. XV.-Trade by land, exercised by Russian subjects in the interior and exterior provinces of China, will be governe l by the Regulations annexed to the present Treaty.

The commercial stipulations of the present Treaty, as well as the Regulations which serve as a supplement to it, can be revised after an interval of ten years has elapsed from the date of the exchange of ratifications of the Treaty; but if, in the course of six munths before the expiration of this term, neither of the contracting parties manifest a desire to proceed to the revision, the trade stipulations as well as the Regulations will remain in force for a new term of ten years.

Trade by sea route of Russian subjects in China will be subject to the general regulations established for foreign maritime commerce in China. If it becomes necessary to make modifications in these regulations, the two Governments will establish an understanding oni this subject.

Art. XVI.-If the development of Russian overland trarle provokes the necessity of the establishment, for goods of export and import in China, of a Customs tariff, more in relation than the tariffs actually in force, to the necessities of that trade, the Russian and Chinese Governments will proceed to an understanding on this subject, by adopting as a base for settling the duties of entry and exit the rate of five per cent. of the value of the goods.

Until the establishment of this tariff, the export duties on some kinds of teas of inferior quality, actually imposed at the rates established for the tea of superior quality, will be diminished proportionately to their value. The settling of these duties will be proceeded with, for each kind of tea, by an understanding between the Chinese Government and the envoy of Russia to Peking, within the term of one year, at the latest, from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the present Treaty.

Art. XVII.-Some divergencies of opinion having arisen hitherto as to the application of Article $X$. of the treaty concluded at Pekmg, in 1860, it is established by these presents, that the stipulations of 1 he above-named article, relative to the recoveries to be effected, in case of theft and the harbouring of cattle beyond the frontier, will be for the future interpreted in this sense, that at the time of the discovery of the individuals guilty of theft or the harbouring of cattle, they will be condemned to pay the real value of the cattle which they have not restored. It is understood that in case of the insolvency of the individuals guilty of theft of cattle, the indemnity to be paid cannot be placed to the charge of the local authorities.

The frontier authorities of the two States will prosecute with all the rigour of the laws of their country, the individuals guilty of the harbouring of or theft of cattle, and should take the measures in their power for the restitution to whom they belong of cattle diverted, or which may have passed the frontier.

The traces of cattle turned aside or which may have passed the frontier may be indicated, not only to the guards of the frontier posts, but also to the olders of the nearest villages.

Art. XVIII.-The stipulations of the treaty concluded at Aigoun the 16th May, 1858, concerning the rights of the subjects of the two Empires to navigate the Anoor, the Sungari, and the Oussouri, and to carry ou trade with the populations of the riveriue localities, are and remain confirmed.

The two Governments will proceed to the establishment of an understanding concerning the mode of application of the said stipulations.

Art. XIX-The stipulations of the old treaties between Russia and China, not modificd by the present Treaty, remain in full vigour.

Art. XX. - The present Treaty, after having been ratified by the two Emperors, will be promulgated in each Empire, for the knowledge and governance of each one. The exchange of ratifications will take place at St. Petersburg, withm a period of six months counting from the day of the signature of the Treaty.

Having concluded the above Article, plenipotentiaries of the two contracting parties have signed and sealed two copies of the present Treaty, in the Russian, Chinese, and French languages. Of the three texts, duly compared and found in agreement, the French text will be evidence for the interpretation of the present Treaty.

REGULATIONS FOR THE LAND TRADE

Art. I.-A trade by free exchange and free of duty (free trule) between Russian and Chiness subjects is authorised within a $z$ one extending for fifty versts ( 100 li ) on either side of the frontier. The sunervision of this trade will rest with the two Governments, in accordance with their respactive frontier regulations.

Art. II.-Russian subjects proceeding on business to Mongolia and to the districts situated on the northern and southern slopes of the Tian-shan mountains may only cross the frontier at certain points specified in the list annexed to those regulations. They must procure from the Russian authorities permits in the Russian and Chinese languages, with Mongolian and T'artar translation. The name of the owner of the goods, or that of the leader of tho caravan, a specification of the groods, the number of packages, and the number of heads of cattle may be indicated in the Mongolian or Tartar languages, in the Chinese text of these permits. Merchants, on entering Chinese territory, are buund to produce theil permits at the Chinese post nearest to the frontier, where, after examination, the permit is to be countersigned by the chief of the post. The Chinese authorities are entitled to arrest merchants who bave crossed the frontier without permit, and to deliver them over to the Russian authorities nearest to the frontier, or to the competens Russian Consul, for the infliction of ia severe penulty. In case of the permit being lost, the owner is bound to give notice to thy Russian Consul, iu order that a fresh one may be issued to him, and inform the local authorities, in order $t$, obtain a temporary certificate which will enable him to pursue his journey. Merchandise introduced into Mongolia and the districts situatel on the slopes of the Tian-shan, but which have found no sale there, may be forwarded to the towns of Tientsin and Soutcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan), to be sold or to be seut farther into China. With regard 10 the duties on such merchandise, to the issue of permits for its carriage, and to other Customs formalities, proceedings shill be taken in accordance with the following provisions.

Art. III.-Russian merchants forwarding goods from Kiachta and the Nertchinsk country to Tientsin must send them by way of Kalran, Dounba, and Toun-tcheou. Merchandise forwarded to Tientsin from the Russian froutier by Kobdo and Kouihoua-tchen is to follow the same route. Mercbants must ba provided wita tramsport permits issued by the Russian authoritics, and duly vise by the competent Chinese anthorities, which must give, in the Chinese and Rassian languages, the name of the owner of the goods, the number of packages, andadescription of the goods they coutain. The officials of the Chinese Custom h ouses sicuated on the road by which inerchandise is forwarded will proceed, withont delay, to verify the number of the packages, and to exumine the goods, which they will allow to pass onwards, after fixing a visn to the permit. Packages opened in the course of the Customs examinations will be closed agrain at the Custom-house, the number of packages opened being noted on the permit. The Customs examination is not to last more than two hours. The permits are to be presented within a term ot sis months at the Tientsin Custom-house to be cancelled. If the owner of the goods finds this term insufficient, he must at the proper time and place give notice to the Chinese quthorties. In case of the permit being lost the merchans must give notice to the authoricies who delivered it to him to obtain a duplicate ard must for that purpose make known the number and date of the missing permit. The nearest Custowhouse on his road, after having ascertained the accuracy of the merchaut's declarations, will give him a provisional certificate, accompanied by which his goods may p"oceed on t'ueir journey. An inaccurate duclaration of the quantity of the guods, if it be pruved that it was intended to conceal sales effected on the road, or to escape payment of duty, will render the merchant liable to the infliction of the penalties laid down by Art. VIII. of the present regulations.

Art. IV.-Russian merchants who may wish to sell at Kalgan any portion of the goods brought from Russia must make is declaration to that effect to the local authorities within the space of five diys. These aut!orities, after the merchant has paid the whole of the entrance duties, will furnish him with a permit for the sale of the goods.

Art. V.-Goods brought by Russian merchants by land from Russia to Tientsin will pay an entrance duty equivalent to two-thirds of the rate establishel by the tariff. Goids brought from Russia to Sou-tcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan) will pay in that town the same duties and be subject to the same regulations as at Tientsin.

Art. VI.-If the goods left at Kalgan, having paid the entrance duties, are not sold there, their owner may send them on to Toun-tcheou, or to Tientsin, and the Customs anthorities, without levging fresh duties, will repay to the merchant one-third of the entrance duty paid at Kalgan, a note to that effect being made on the permit issued by the Kul, pan Custom-house. Russian merchants, after prying transit dues, i.e., on :-inalf of the duty specifiel in the tariff, may forward to the internal markets goods left a: Kalgain which lave paid the entrance dues, subject only to the general regulations established for foreign trade in China. A transport permit, which is to be produced at all the Custom-houses and barriers on the road, will be delivered for these goods. Goods not accompanied by such permit wall have to pay duty at the Custonn-honses they pass, and lekin at the barriere.

Art. VII.-Guods brought from Rassia to Sou-tcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan) may be forwarded to the internal markets un ler the conditions stipulated by Art. IX. of these Regulations for goods forwarded from Tientsin destined for the internal market.

Art. VIIL.-If it be ascertained, when the Customs examination of goods brou ght from Russia to Tientsin takes place, that tne goods specified in the permit have been withdrawn from the packages and replaced by others, or that their quantity (after deducting what has been left at Kalgian) is smaller than that indicated in the permit, the whole of the groods included in the examination will be confiscated by the Customs authorities. It is understood that packages damaged on the road, and which, consequently, hav, been repacked, shall not be liable to confiscation, provided always that such damage has been duly declared at the nearest Custom-honse, and that a note to such effect hias been made by the office after it has ascertainel the untouched e ndition of the gools as at first sent, off. Goods concerning which it is ascertained that a portion has been sold on the road will be liable to confiscation. If goods have been taken by by-ways in order tu evade their examination at the Custom houses estalblished on the routes indicated in Art. III., the owner will be liable to a fine equal in amount to the whole entrance duty. If a breach of the aforesaid regulations has been committed by the carriers, without the ksowledge or connivance of the cwaer of the goods, the Customs authorities will take this circumstance into consideration in determining the amount of the fine. This provision only applies to localities through which the Russian land trade passes, an 1 is not applicable to similar coses arising at the ports and in the interior of the provinces. When goods are confiscated tha merchant is entitled to release them by paying the equivalent of their value, duly arrived at by an understandiner with the Chinese authorities.

Art. IX. - $O_{i}$ the exporiation by sea from Tientsin to some other Chinese port opened to foreign tradu by treaty of goods brought from Russia by land, the Tientsin Customs will levy on such goods one-third of the tariff duty, in addition to the two-thirds already paid. No duty shall be levied on these goods in other ports. Goods sont from Fientsin or the other ports to the interaal markets are subject to transit dues (i.e., half of the tariff duty) according to tho general provisions laid down for foreigu trade.

Art. X.-Chinese goods sent from Tientsin to Russia bv Russian merchants must be forwarded to Kalgran by the route indicated undor Art. III. The entire export duty will be levied on these goods when they leave the country. Nevertheless, re-imported g.ools bought as Tientsin, as well as those bought, in another port and forwarded in transitu to Tientsin $t$ ) bs exportel to Rassia, if accompanied by a Customs receipt for the export duty, shall not pay a second time, and the half re-inportation duty (coasting duty) paid at Tientsin will be repaid to the merchant if the goods upon which it has been paid are exported to Russia a year from the time of such payment. For the transport of goods in Russia the Russian Consul will issute a permit indicating in the Russian and Chinese languages the name of the owner of the goods, the number of pachages, and the nature of the goods they contain. These permits will be visé by the Port Custom authorities, and must accompany the goods for production when they are examined at the Custom houses on the road. The rules given in detail in Article III, will be observed as to the term within which the permit is to be presented to the Custom house to be cancelled, and as to the proceedings in case of the permit being lost. Goods will follow the route indicated by Article III., and are not to be sold on the road; a breach of this rule will render the merchant liable to the penalties provided for mer Article VIII. Goods will be examined at the Custom houses on the road in accordance with the rules laid down under Article III. Chinese goods bought by Russian merchants at Sou-tcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan), or brought by them from the internal markets to be forwarded to Russia, on leaving Sou-tcheou for Russia will have to pay the duty leviable upon goods exported from Tientsin, and will be subject to the regulations established for that port.

Art. XI.-Goods bought at Toun-tcheou, on leaving that place for Russia by land, will have to pay the full export duty laid down by the tariff. Goods bought at Kalgan will pay in that town, on leaviner for Russia, a duty equivalent to half the tariff rate. Goods bought by Russian merchants in the internal markets, and brought to Toun-tcheou and Kalgan to be forwarded to Russia, will moreover he subject to transit dues, according to the general rules established for foreign trade in the internal markets. The local Custom houses of the aforesaid towns after levying the duties will give the merchant a transport permit for the goods. For goods leaving Toun-tcheou this permit will be issued by the Dounba Customs authorities, to whom application is to be made for it, accompanied by payment of the duties to which the goods are liable. The permit will mention the prohibition to sell goods on the road. The rules given in detail in Article III. relative to permits, the examination of goods, &c., will apply in like manner to goods exported from the places mentioned in this Article.

Art. XII.-Goods of foreign origin sent to Russia by land from Tientsin, Tous tcheou, Kalgan, and Sou-tcheou (Tsia-yu-kwan) will pay no duty if the merchant produces a Customs receipt acknowledging piyment of the import ind transit duties on those goods. If they have only paid entrance duties the competent Custom house will call upon the merchant for the payment of the transit dues fixed by the tariff.

Art. XIIL.-Goods imported into China by Russian merchants, or exported by them, will pay Castom duties according to the general tariff for foreign trade with China, and according to the additional tariff drawn up for Russian trade in 1862.

Goods not enumerated in either of those tariffs will be subject to a 5 per cent. ad valorem duty.

Art. XIV.-The following articles will be admitted free of export and import duty :-Gold and silver ingots, foreign coins, flour of all kinds, sago, biscuits, preserved ineats and vegetables, cheese, butter, confectionery, foreign clothes, jewellery and silver plate, perfumery and soaps of all kinds, cbarcoal, firewood, candles of foreign manufacture, foreign tobacco and cigars, wine, beer, spirits, household stores and utensils to be used in houses and on board ship, travellers, luggage, official stationery, tapestries, cutlery, foreign medicines, glassware, and ornaments. The above-mentioned articles will pass free of duty on entering and on leaving by laud; but if they are sent from the towns and ports mentioned in these regulations to the internal markets they will pay a transit duty of $2 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. ad valorem. Travellers' luggage, gold and silver ingots, and foreign coins will, however, not pay this duty.

Art. XV.-The exportation and importation of the following articles is prohibited under penalty of confiscation in case of smuggling: -Gunpowder, artillery ammunition, cannon, muskets, rifles, pistols, and all firearms, engines, and munitions of war, salt, and opium. Russian subjects going to China may, for their personal defence, have one musket or one pistol each, of which mention will be made in the permit they are provided with. The importation by Russian subjects of saltperre, sulphur, and lead is allowed only under special licence from the Cainese authorities, and those articles may only be sold to Chinese subjects who hold a special purchasepermit. The exportation of rice and of Chinese copper coin is furbidden. On the other hand, the importation of rice and of all cereals may take place duty free.

Art. XVI. -The transport of goods belonging to Chinese merchants is forbidden to Ru-sian merchants attempting to pass them offi as their own property.

Art. XVII. -The Chinese authorities are entitled to take the necessary measures against smuggling.

PORT ARTHUR AND TALIENWAN AGREEMENT

His Majesty the Emperor of China, on the sixth day of the third moon of the twenty-fourth year of Kuang Hsu (March 27, 1898), appointed the Grand Secretary, Li Hung Chang, and the Senior Vice-President of the Board of Revenue, Cbang Yin-hnan, as Plenipotentiaries to arrange with M. Pavloff, Charge d'Affaires and Plenipotentiary for Russia, all matters connected with the leasing and use by Russia of Port Arthur and Ta-lien-wan.

The treaty arrange 1 between them in this condition is as follows :-
Art. I.-İt being necessary for the due protection of her navy in the waters of North China that Russia should possess a station she can defend, the Emperor of China agrees to lease to Russia Port Arthur and Ta-lien-wan, together with the adjacent seas, but on the understanding that such lease shall not prejudice China's sovereignty over this territory.

Art. II --The limits of the territory thus leased, for the reasons above stated, as well as the extent of territory north of Ta-lien-wan necessary for the defence of that now leased, and what sholl be allowed to be leasel shall be strictly defined and all details necessary to the carrying out of this treaty be arrangel at St. Petersburg with Hsi Tajen so soon as possible after the signature of the present treaty, and embodied in a separate treaty. Once these limits have been determined, all land held by Chinese within such limits, as well as the adjacent waters, shall be held by Russia alone on lease.

Art. III. - The duration of the lease shall be 25 years from the day this treaty is signed, but may be extended by mutual agreement between Russia and China.

Art. IV.-The control of all military forces in the territory leased by Russia and of all naval forces in the adjacent seas, as well as of the civil officials in it, shall be vested in one high Russian official, who sliall, however, be designated by some title other than Governor-General (Tsung-tu) or Governor (Hsun-fu). All Chinese military forces shall, without exception, be withdrawn from the territory, but it shall remain optional with the ordinary Chinese inhabitants either to remain or to go, and no coercion shall be used towards them in this matter. Should they remain, any Cbiness churged with a criminal offence shall be handed over to the nearesti Chinese official to be dealt with according to Art. VILI. of the Russo-Chinese Treaty of 1860 .

Ait. V.-To the north of the territory leased shall be a zone, the extent of which shall bs arranged at St. Petersburg between Hsil Ta-jen and the Russiau Foreign Office. Jurisdiction over this zone shall be vested in China, but China may not quarter truops in it except with the previous consent of Russia.

Art. VI.-The two nations agree that Port Arthur shall be a naval port for the sole use of Russian and Chinese inen-of-war, and be considered as an unopened port so far as the naval and mercantile vossels of other nations are concerned. As regurds Ta-lien-wan, one portion of the harbour shall be reserved exclusively for Russian and Chines m men-of-war, just like Port Arthur, but the remainder shall be a commereial port freely open to the merchant vessels of all countries.

Art. VI[.-Port Arthur and Ta-lien-wan are the points in the territory leased most important for Russian military purpuses. Russia shall, therefore, be at liberty to erect, at her own expense, forts and build barracks and provide defences at such places as she desires.

Art. VIII.-China agrees that the procedure sanctioned in 1896 regarding the construction of railroads by the board of the Eastern China Railway shall, from the date of the signature of this treaty, be extended so as to include the construction of a branch line to Ta-lien-wan, or, if necessary, in view of the interests involved, of a branch line to the most suitable point on the coast between Newchwang and the Yalu River. Further, the agreement entered into in September, 1896, between the Chinese Government and the Russo-Chinese Bank shall apply with equal strength to this brancls line. The direction of this branch line and the places it shall touch shall be arranged between Hsii Ta-jen and the board of the Eastem Railroads. The construction of this line shall never, however, be made a ground for encroaching on the sovereignty or integrity of China.

Art. IX.-This treaty shall take full force and effect from the date it is. signed, but the ratifications shall be exchanged in St. Petersburg.

Signed March 27, 1898.

THE MANCHURIAN CONVENTTION.

Signed at Peking, 8th April, 1902.

His Mijesty the Emperor and Ruler of all the Russias and H. M. the Einperor of China, with the object of re-establishing and consolidating the goot neighbourly relations broken by the rising which took place in 1900 in the Celestial Empire, have nansed as Plenipotentiaries to establish an understanding on certain questions concerning Manchuria M. Panl Lassar and Prince Ching together with Wang Weushao, respectively. The above Plenipotentiaries furnished with full powers which have been found sufficient, have agree. to the following stipulations:-

Art. I.-H.M. the Emperor of all the Russiaz being desirous of giving a new proof of his love of peace and of his sentiments of friendship towards H.M. the Emperor of Chima in spite of the fact that it was at different points of the Manchurian froutier that the first attacks against the peaceable Russian population were made, consents to the re-establishment of authority by the Chinese Government in the aforesaid Province, which remins an integral part of the Enpire of China, and restore3 to the Chinese Government the right to exercise governmental and administrative powers as they were before the occupation by the Russian troops.

Art. II.-In taking passession of the governmental and administrative rights in Manchuria, the Chinese Government accepts equally with all the other articles (of this agreement) the obligation to observe strictly the stipulation of the contract with the Russo-Chinese Buk of 27th August, 1896, and according to Article No. 5 of the said contract assumes the obligations to protect by every possible means the railway and its staff, and is equally obliged to safeguard in Manchuria the security of all Russian subjects in general who may be there, and all enterprises undertaken by them. The Rassian Government in view of this obligation assumed by the Gavernment of H.M. the Emperor of China consents on its side in the case of there being no troubles whatever and if the action of the other Powers permits, to gradually withdrav all its troops from Manchuria as follows:-
(a) To withdraw in the course of six months after the signature of this Convention the Russian troops from the S.W. portion of the province of Mukden as firr as the Liao River, and to restore the railway to China.
(b) To withlraw during the course of the following six months the Imperial Russian troops from the remaining part of the province of Mukden and from the province of Kirin ; and-
(c) To withdraw during the followiug six months the remainder of the Russian troops who are in the province of Hei-lung-kiang.

Art. III.-In view of the necessity to avoid for the future the repetition of the troubles of 1900 in which the Chinese troops stationed in the Province on the borders of Russia tonk part, the Russian Government and the Chinese Government undertake to instruct the Russian military authorities and the Dzian-dziuns to make an arrangement with a view to fix the number and to determine the stations of the Chinese troops in Manchuria as well as the Russian troops which have not been withdrawn; the Chinese Government undertakes besides not to raise any other troops atove the number determined in this way by the Russian military authorities and Dzian-dziuns, which ought to be sufficient to exterminate the brigands and to pacify the country.

After the complete evacuation of the Russian troops the Chinese Government will have the right to vary the number of troops in Manchuria and to augment or reduce them by informing beforehand the Imperial Government, because it is self-evident that the maintenance of troops in the aforesaid province in superfnous numbers will inevitably lead to the reinforcement of the Russian military forces in the neighbouring district, and will also result in increased military expenses to the great disadvantage of the two States.

For the police service and fur the maintenance of order in this region outside the territory ceded to the "Socicte du Chemin-de-fer Chinois de l'Est" there will be formed by the local Governors and Dzian-dziuns, a Chinese gendarmerie mounted and unmounted, composed exclusively of the subjects of H.M. the Emperor of China.

Art. IV.-The Russian Government consents to restore to the Chinese Govervment the Railway lines of Shanhaikwan, Yingkow, Sinminting occupied and protected by the Russian troops since the end of the month of September, 1900, in consideration of which the Chinese Government undertakes:-
1.-That in the case of it being necessary to asssure the security of the aforesaid. lines the Chinese Government will undertake this itself and will not invite any other Power to undertake or participate in the defence, construction, or exploitation of these lines, and will not permit the foreign Powers to occupy the territory restored by Russia.
2.-That the above-mentioned railway lines will be completed and exploited on the precise basis, botl of the arrangement between Russia and Great Britain dated 16 th April, 1899, and of the contract undertaken on the 26 th September, 1888 , with a certain Company relative to a loan for the construction of the aforesaid lines and besides to observe the obligations assured by this Company especially not to take possession of the line Shanhaikwan, Yingkow, Sinminting, nor to dispose of it in any possible way.
3.-That if eventually the continuation of the railway lines in the south of Manchuria is proceeded with or the construction of branch lines towards these as well as the construction of a bridge at Yingkow or transferring the terminus of the Railway at Shanhaikwan where it now is, this shall be done according to an undertaking between the Governments of Russia and China.
4.-That as the expenses incurred by Russia for the re-establishment and: exploitation of the restored railway lines of Shanhaikwan, Yingkow and Sinminting: have not been included in the total sum of the indemnity, they will be repaid by the Chinese Government. The two Governments will come to an understanding as to the amounts to be reimbursed.

The tenor of all previous treaties between Russia and (hina not modified by the present Convention remains in full force.

The present Convention will have legal force corresponding from the day of signature by the Plenipotentiaries of both contracting Powers.

The exchange of the ratification will take place at St. Petersburg three months. from the day of the signature of the Convention.

In view of which the respective Plenipotentiaries of the two high contracting Powers have signed and sealed with their seals two copies of the present Convention in the Russian, Chinese and French languages.

The French text shall rule.

> Signed, in the English and Chinese Languages, at Tientsin, 187h June, 1588
> Katifications exchanged at Pehtang, 16 th August, 1859

The United States of America and the Ta-Tsing Empire desiring to maintain firm, lasting, and sincere friendship, have resolved to renew, in a manner clear and positive, by means of a Treaty or general Convention of peace, amity, and commerce, the rules which shall in future be mutually observed in the intercourse of their respective countries; for which most desirable object the President of the United States and the August Sovereign of the Ta-Tsing Empire have named for their Plenipotentiaries, to wit: the Presideut of the United Stites of America, William B. Reed, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to China; and His Majesty the Emperor of China, Kweiliang, a member of the Privy Council and Superinteudent of the Board of Punishments, and Hwashana, President of the Board of Civil Office and Major-General of the Bordered Blue Banner Division of the Chinese Bannermen, both of them leing Imperial Commissioners and Plenipotentiaries: And the said Ministers, in virtue of the respective full powers they have received from their governments, have agreed upon the following articles:-

Art. I.-There shall be, as there has always been, peace and friendship between the United States of America and the Ta-Tsing Empire, and between their people respectively. They shall not insult or oppress each other for any trifling cause, so as to produce an estrangement between then; and if any other nation should act unjustly or oppressively, the United States will exert their good offices, on being informed of the case, to bring about an amicable arrangement of the question, thus showing their friendly feelings.
A.rt. II.-In order to perpetuate friendship, on the exchange of ratifications by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate of the United States, and by His Majesty the Emperor of China, this Treaty shall be kept and sacredly guarded in this way, viz.: The original Treatr, as ratified by the President of the United States, shall be deposited at Peking, the capital of His Majesty the Emperor of China, in charge of the Privy Council; and, as ratified by His Majesty the Emperor of China, shall be deposited at Washington, the capital of the United States, in charge of the Secretary of State.

Art. III.-In order that the people of the two countries may knorr and obey the provisions of this Treaty, the United States of America agree, immediately on the exchange of ratsfications, to proclain the same and publish it by proclamation in the Gazettes where the laws of the United States of America are publi.hed by authority; and His Majesty the Emperor of China, on the exchange of ratifications, agrees immediately to direct the publication of the same at the capital and by the Governors of all the provinces.

Art. IV.-In order further to perpetuate friendship, the Minister or Commissioner, or the highest diplomatic representative of the United States of America in Cuina, shall at all times have the right to correspond on terms of perfect equality and confidence with the officers of the Privy Council at the capital, or with the GovernorGeneral of the Two Kwang, of Fohkien and Chekiang, or of the Two Kiang ; and whenever he desires to have such correspondence with the Privy Council at the capital he shall have the right to send it through either of the said Goverwors-General, or by general post; and all such communications shall be most carefully respected. The Privy Council and Governors-General, as the case may be, shall in all cases consider and acknowledge such communications promptly and respectfully.

Art. V.-The Minister of the United States of America in China, whenever he has business, shall have the right to visit and sojourn at the capital of His Majesty the Emperor of China and there confer with a member of the Privy Council or any other high officer of equal rank deputed for that purpose, on matters of common interest and advantage. His visits shall not exce one in each year, and he shall complete his business without unnecessary delay. He shall be allowed to go by land or come to the mouth of the Pei-bo, in which he shall not bring ships-of-war, and he shall inform the authorities of that place in order that boats may be provided for him to go on his journey. He is not to take advantage of this stipulation to request visits to the capital on trivial occasions. Whenever he means to proceed t. the capital be shall communicate in writing his intention to the Board of Rites at the capital, and thereupon the said Board shall give the necessary direction to facilitate his journey, and give him necessary protection and respect on his way. On his arrival at the capital he shall be furnished with a suitable residence prepared for him, and he shall defruy his own expenses; and his entire suite shall not exceed tiventy persons exclusive of his Chinese attendants, none of whom shall be engaged in trade.

Art. VI.-If at any time His Majesty the Emperor of China shall, by treaty voluntarily mate, or for any other reason, permit the representative of any frienilly nation to reside at his capital for a long or short time, then, without any further consultation or express permission, the representative of the United States in China sball have the same privilege.

Art. VII.-The superior autiorities of the United States and of China in corresponding together shall do so on turms of equality and in form of mutual commmication (chau-lwwi). The Consuls and the local officers, civil and military, in corresponding together shall likewise employ the style and form of mutual communication (chau-hwui). When inferior officers of the one government address the supurior officers of the other they shall do so in the style and form of memorial (shin-chin). Private individuals, in addressing superior officers, shall emplay the style of petition (piu-ching). In no case shall any terms or style be used or suffered which shall be offensive or disrespectful to either party. And it is agreed that no present, under any pretext or form whatever, shall ever be demanded of the United States by China, or of China by the United States.

Art. VIII.-In all future personal intercourse between the representative of the United States of America and the Governors-General or Governors the interviews shall be had at the official residence of the said officers, or at their temporary residence, or at the residence of the representative of the United States of America, whichever may be agreed upon between them; nor shall they make any pretext for declining these interviews. Current matters shall be discussed by correspondence so as not to give the trouble of a personal meeting.

Art. IX.-Whenever national vessels of the United States of America, in cruising along the coast and among the ports opened for trade for the protection of the commerce of their country, or the adrancement of science, shall arrive at or near any of the ports of China, the commanders of said ships and the superior local authorities of government shall, if it be necessary, hold intercourse on terms of equality and courtesy, in tok no of the friendly relations of their respective nations; and the sairl vessels shall enjoy all suitable facilities on the part of the Chinese Government in procuring provisions or other suppliez, and making necessary repairs. And the United States of America agree that in case of the shipwreck of any American vessel and its being pillaged by pirates, or in case any American vessel shall be pillaged or captured by pirates on the seas aljacent to the coast, withont being shipwrecked, the national vessels of the United Stites shall pursue the said pirates, and if captured deliver them over for trial and punishment.

Art. And the master, supercargo, or consignee, if he proceed to discharge the cargo without such permit, shall incur a fine of five hundred dollars, and the goods so discharged without permit shall be subject to forfeiture to the Chinese Government. But if a master of any vessel in port desire to discharge a part only of the cargo, it shall be lawtul for him to do so, paying duty on such part only, and to proceed with the remainder to any other ports. Or if the master so desire, he may within fortyeight hours after the arrival of the vessel, but not later, decide to depart without breaking bulk; in which case be shall not be subject to pay tonnage or other duties or charges, until, on his arrival at another port, he shall proceed to discharge cargo when he shall pay the duties on vessel and cargo, according to law. And the tonnage duties shall be held due after the expiration of the said forty-eight hours. In case of the absence of the Cousul or person charged with his functions, the captain or supercargo of the vessel may have recourse to the corsul of a friendly power; or, if he please, directly to th" Superintendent of Customs, who shall do all that is required to conduct the ship's business.

Art. XX.-The Superintendent of Customs, in order to the collection of the proper duties, shall, on application made to him through the Consul, appoint suitable officers, who shall proceed, in the presence of the captain, supercargo, or consignee. to make a just and fair examination of all goods in the act of leeing discharged for importation, or laden for exportation, on board any merchant vessel of the United States. And if disputes occur in regard to the value of goods subject to ad valorem duty, or in regard to the amount of tare, and the same cannot be satisfactorily arranged by the parties, the question may, within twenty-four hours, and not afterwards, be referred to the said Consul to adjust with the Superintendent of Customs.

Art. XXI.-Citizens of the United States who may have imported merchandise into any of the free ports of China, and paid the duty thereon, if they desire to re-export the same in part or in whole to any other of the said ports, shall be entitled to make application, through their Consul, to the Superintendent of Customs, who, in order to present frand on the revenue, shall cause examination 10 be made, by suitable officers, to see that the duties paid on such goods as are entered on the Customhouse books correspond with the representation made, and that the goods remain with their original marks unchanged, and shall then make a memorandum in the port-clearance of the goods and the amount of duties praid on the same, and deliver the same to the merchant, and shall also certify the facts to the officers of Customs at the other ports; all which being done, on the arrival in port of the vessel in which the goods are laden, and everything being found, on examination there, to correspond, she shall be permitted to break bulk, and land the said goods without being subject to the payment of any additional duty thereon. But if, on such examination, the Superintendent of Customs shall detect any fraud on the revenue in the case, then the goods shall be subject to forfeiture and confiscation to the Chinese Government. Foreign grain or rice brought into any port of China in a ship of the United States, and not landed, may be re-exported without hindrance.

Art. XXII.-The tonnage duty on ressels of the United States shall be paid on their being admitted to entry. Duties of import shall be paid on the discharge of the goods, and duties of export on the lading of the same. When all such duties shall have been paid, and not before, the Collector of Customs shall give a port-clearance, and the Consul shall return the ship's papers. The duties shall be paid to the shroffs authorized by the Chinese Government to receive the same. Duties shall be paid and received either in sycee silver or in foreign money, at the rate of the day. If tho

Consul permits a ship to leave the port before the duties and ton:age dues are pail he shall be held responsible therefor.

Art. XXIII.-When goods on board any merchant vessel of the United States in port require to be transhipped to another vessel application shall be made to the Consul, who shall cartify what is the occasion therefor to the Superintendent of Customs, who may appoint officers to examine into the facts and permit the transhipment. And if any goods be transbipped without written permits, they shall be subject to be forfeited to the Chinese Government.

Art. XXIV.- Where there are debts clue by subjects of China to citizens of the Unite? States, the latter may seek redress in law; and on suitable representation being mad; to the local authorities through the Consul, they will cause due examination in the premises, and take proper steps to compel satisfaction. And if citizens of the United States be indebted to suljects of China, the latter may seek redress by represenation through the Consul, or by suit in the Consular Court; but neither government will hold itself responsible for such debts.

Art. XXV.-It shall be lawful for the officers or citizens of the United States to remploy scholars and people of any part of Chiua, without distinction of persons, to teach any of the languages of the Empire, and assist in literary labours, and the persons so emploved shill not for that cause be sulject to any injury on the part either of the Government or individuals; and it shall in like manner be lawful for citizens of the United States to purchase all manner of books in China.

Art. XXVI.-Relations of peace and amity between the United States and China lbeing established by this treaty, and the vressuls of the United States being admitted to trille freely to and from the ports of China opew to foreigu commerce, it is further agreed that, iu case at any time hereafter China should be at war with any foreign nation whatever, and should for that cause exclude such mation from entering lier ports, still the vessels of the United States shall not the less continue to pursue their commerce in freedom and security, and to trausport goods to and from the ports of the belligerent powers, full respect being paid to the neutrality of the flag of the United States, provided that the said flag shall not protect vesse!s engaged in the transportation of officers or soldiers in the enemy's service, nor shall satid flag be fraudulently used to enable the enemy's ships, with their cargoes, to enter the ports rof Cbina; but all such vessels so offending shall be sulbject to forfeiture and confiscation to the Chinese Government.

Art. XXVII.-All questions in regard to rights whether of property or person, arising between citizens of the Uniced States in Chına, shall be subject to the jurisdiction and be regulated by the authorities of their own government; and all controversies occurring in China between citizens of the United States and the subjects of any otber government shall be regulatel by the treaties existing between the United States and such governments respectively, without interference on the part of China.

Art. XXVIII.-If citizens of the United States have special occasion to address any communication to the Chinese local officers of Government, they shall submit the same to their C, nsul or other officer, to determine if the language be proper and respectful, an $i$ the matter just and right, in which event he shall transmit the same to the appropriate authorities for their consideration and action in the premises. It subjects of China have occasion to address the Comsul of the United States they may address him directly, at the same time they inform their own officers, representing the case for his consideration and action in the premises; and if controversies arise between citizens of the United States and subjects of China, which camot be amicably settled otherwise, the same shall be examined and decided conformably to justice and equity by the public officers of the two nations, unting in conjunction. The extortion of illegal fees is expressly prohibited. Any peaceable persons are allowed to enter the Court in order to interpret, lest iniustice be done.

Art. XXIX -The prinsiples of the Christian Religion, as professed by the Protestant and Roman Catholic Churches, are recognised as teaching men to do good, and to do to others as they would have ot iers to do to them. Hereafter those who quetly profess and teach these doctrines shall not be harassed or persecuted on account of their faitin. Any person, whether citizen of the United States or Chiuese convert, who, according to those tenets, peaceably teaches and practises the principles of Christianity, shall in no case be interfered with or molested.

Art. ## ADDITIONAL ARTICLES TO THE TREATY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND CHINA. OF 18ти JUNE, 1858

Signed, in the English and Chinese Languages, at Washington, 28тн Jülx, 1868Ratifications Exchanged at Peling, 23rd November, 1869

Whereas, since the conclusion of the Treaty brtwem the United States of Amprica and the Ta-Tsing Empire (China) of the 18th Jun", 1858, circumstances have arisen showing the necessity of additional articles therto: the President of the United States and the August Sovereign of the Ta-Tsing Empire have named for their Plenipotentiaries: to wit, the President of the United States of America, Williain R Seward, Speretary of State; and His Majesty the Emperor of China, Anson Burlingame, accredit d as his Envoy Extraordinary and Ministar Plonipotentiary, and Chih-kang and Sun-chia-ku, of the second Chinese rank, associated high Envoys and Ministers of his said Majesty; and the said Plenipot-ntiaries, after having exchanged their full powers, found to be in due and proper form, have agred upon the following articles:-

Art. I.-His Majesty the Emperor of China, being of the opinion that in making concessions to the citizens or subjects of foreign powers, of the privilege of residing on certain tracts of land, or resorting to certain waters of that Fmpire, for purposes of trade, he has by no means relinquished his right of eminent domain or dominion over the said lands and waters, hereby agrees that no such concession or grant, shall le constrned to give to any power or party which may be at war with or hostile to the United States, the right to attack the citizens of the United States, or their property, within the said lands or waters: And tha United States, for themselves hereby agree to abstain from offensively attacking the citizens or subjects of any power or party, or their property, with which they may be at war, on any such tract of land or water of the said Empire. But nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the United States from resisting an attack by any hostile power or party upon their citizens or their property.

It is further agreed that if any right or interest in any tract of land in China, has been, or shall hereafter be, granted by the Government of China to the United States or their citizens fur purposes of trade or commerce, that grant shall in no event be construed to divest the Chinese Authorities of their right of jurisdiction over persons and property within said tract of land except so far as the right may have been expressly relinquished by treaty.

Art. II.-The United States of America and His Majesty the Emperor of China, believing that the safety and prosperity of commerce will thereby best be promoted, agree that any privilege or immunity in respect to trade or navigation within the Chinese dominions which may not have been stipulated for by treaty, shall be subject to the discretion of the Chinese Government, and mav be regulated by it accordingly, but not in a mamer or spirit incompatible with the Treaty stipulations of the parties.

Art. ILI. - The Einperor of China shall have the right to appoint Consuls at ports of the United States, who shall enjoy the same privileges and immunit:es as those which are eujoye lly public law and treaty in the United States by the Consuls of Great Britain and Russia or either of them.

Art. IV.-The 29 th article of the Treaty of the 18 th June, 1858 , having stipulated for the exemption of the Christian citizens of tho United States and Chinese converts from jersecution in China on account of their faith, it is further arreed that citizens of the United States in China of every religious persuasion, and Chinese subjeets in the Unitel States, shall enjoy entire liberty of conscience, and shall be exemp: from all disability or persecution on account of their religinus faith or worship in either country. Cemeteries for sepulture of the dead, of whatever nativity or nationality, shall be held in respect and free from disturbance or profanation.

Art. V.-The United States of America and Emperor of China cordially recognize the inherent and inalienable right of man to change his home and allegiance, and also the mutual advantage of the free migration and emigration of their citizens and subjects respectively from the one country to the other for the purposes of curiosity, of trade, or as permanent residents. The High Contracting Parties, therefore, join in reprobating anv other than an entirely voluntary emigration for these purposes. They consequently agree to pass laws, making it a penal offence for a citizen of the United States, or a Chinese sibject, to take Chinese suljects either to the United States or to any other foreign country; or for a Chinese subject or citizen of the Unite 1 States $t$, take citizens of the United States $t$., China, or to any other foreign country, without their free and volumtary consent respectively.

Art. VI.-Cinizens of the United States visiting or residing in China shall enjoy the sane privileges, immunities, or exemptions, in respect to travel or residence as may there be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favoured nation. And reciprocally, Chinese subjects visiting or residing in the United States shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities, and exemptions in respect to travel or residence as may there be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favoured nation. But nnthing herein contained shall be held to confer naturalization upon vitizens of the United States in Caina, nor upon the sulijects of Cuina in the United States.

Art. VII.-Citizens of the United States shall enjoy all the privileges of the public educational institutions under the contr.l of the Government of China; aud reciprocally Chinese subjects shall enjoy all the privileges of the publice educational institutions under the control of the Government of the Unite I States, which are enjoyed in tho respective countries by the citizens or subjects of the most favoured nation. The citizens of the United States may freely establish and maintain schools within the Empire of China at those places where foreigners are by treaty permittod to reside; and reciprocally, Chinese subjects may enjoy the same privileges and immunities in the United States.

Art. VIII.-The United States, always disclaiming and discouraging all practices of unnecessary dictation and intervention hy one nation in the affairs or domestic administration of another, do hereby freely disclain and disavow any intention or right to intervene in the domestic adinituistration of China in regard to the construction of railroads, telegraphs, or other material internal improvements. On the other hand, His Majesty the Emperor of China reserves to bimself the right to decide the time and manner and circunstances of introducing such improvements within his dominions. With this mutual understanding it is agreed by the contracting parties that, if at any time hereafter his Imperial Majesty shall determine to construct, or cause to be constructed, works of the character mentioned within the Empire, and shall make application to the United States or any other Western Power for facilities to carry out that policy, the United States will in that case designate or authorize suitable engineers to be employed by the Chinese Government, and will recommend to other nations an equal compliance with such applications; the Chinese Government in that case protecting such engineers in their persons and property, and paying them a reasonable compensation for their services.

In faith whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed this treaty and thereto affixed the seals of their arms.

IMMIGR:ITION AND COMMERCIAL TREATIES BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CHINA

Signed at Peking, in the English and Chinese Languages, on the 17 th November, 1880

The Immigration Treaty
Whereas, in the eighth year of Hien Fung, Anno Domini 1858, a treaty of peace and friendship was concluded between the United States of America and China and to which were added in the seventh year of Tung Chi, Anno Domini 1868, certain supplementary articles to the arlvantage of both parties, which supplementary articles were to be perpetually observed and oberved; anil

Whereas the Govermment of the United States, becauso of the constantly increasing immigration of Chinese labourers to the territory of the United States, and the embarrassments consequent upon such immigration, now desires to negotiate a modification of the existing treaties which will not be in direct contravention of their spirit; now, therefore, the President of the United States of America appoints James B. Angell, of Michigau; John F. Swift, of California; aud William H. Trescott, of South Carolina, as his Commissioners Plenipotentiary; and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China has appointed Pao Chun, a member of His Imperial Majesty's Privy Council and Superintendent of the Board of Civil Office, and Li Hung Tsao, a member of His Imperial Majesty's Privy Council, as his Commissioners Plenipotentiary; and the said Commissionrrs Plenipotentiary, having conjointly examined their full powers, and havimg discussed the points of possible modifications in existing treaties, have agreed upon the following articles in modification:-

Art. I.-Whenever, in the opinion of the Government of the United States, the coming of Chinese labourers to the United States, or their residence therein, affects, or threatens to affect, the interests of that country, or to endanger the good order of any locality within the territory thereof, the Government of China agrees that the Goverument of the United States may regulate, limit, or suspend such coming or residence, but may not absolutely prohibit it. The limitation or suspension shall be reasonable, and shall apply only to Chinese who may go to the United States as Iabourers, other classes not being included in the limitation. Legislation in regard to Chinese labourers will be of such a character only as is necessary to enforce the regulation, limitation, or suspension, of immigration, and immigrants shall not be subject to personal maltreatment or abuse.

Art. II.-Chinese subjects, whether prrceeding to the United States as traders or students, merchants, or from curiosity, together with their body and household servants, and Chinese labourers who are now in the United States, shall be allowed to go and come of their own free vill and accord and shall be accorded all the rights, privileges, immunities, and exemptions which are accorded to the citizens and subjects of the most favoured nations.

Art. III.-If Chinese labourers, or Chinese of any other class, now either permanently or temporarily residing in the territory of the United States, meet with ill-treatment at the hands of auy other persons, the Government of the United States will exert all its power to devise measures for their protection, and secure to them the same rights, privileges, immunities, and exemptions as may be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favoured nation, and to which they are entitled by treaty.

Art. IV.-The high contracting Powers, having agreed upon the foregoing Articles, whenever the Government of the United States shall adopt legislative measures in accordance therewith, such measures will be communicated to the Government of China, and if the measures, as effected, are found to work hardship upon the subjects of China, the Chinese Minister at Washington may bring the matter to the notice of the Secretary of State of the United States, who will consider the subject with him, and the Chinese Foreign Office may also bring the matter to the notice of the U.S. Minister at Peking and consider the subject with him, to the end that mutual and unqualified benefit may result. In faith whereof, the Plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed the foregoing at Peking, in English and Chinese, there being three originals of each text of even tenor and date, the ratifications of which shall lee exchanged at Peking within one year from the date of its execution.

Done at Peking, this 17th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty, Kuang Sü sixth year, tenth moon, fifteenth day. Signed and sealed by the above named Commissioners of both Governments.

The Commercial Treaty
The President of the United States of America and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, because of certain points of incompleteness in the existing treaties hetween the two Governments, have named as their Commissioners Plenipotentiary = The President of the United States of America, James B. Angell, of Michigan ; John F. Swift, of California ; and William H. Trescott, of South Carolina, as his Commissioners Plenipotentiary; and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China has appointed Pao Chun, a member of His Imperial Majesty's Privy Council and Superintendent of the Board of Civil Office; and Ii Hung Tsao, a meinber of His Imperial Majesty's Privy Council, as his Conmissioners Plenipotentiary; and the said Commissioners Plenipotentiary, having conjointly examined their full powers, and having dissussed the points of possible modification in existing treaties, have agreed upon the following additional articles :-

Art. I.-The Governments of the United States and China, recognizing the benefits of their past commercial relations, and in order to still further promote such relations between the citizens and subjects of the two Powers, mutually agree to give the most careful and favourable attention to the representations of either as to such special extension of commercial intercourse as either may desire.

Art. II.-The Governments of China and of the United States mutually agree and undertake that Chinese subjects shall not bo permitted to import opium in any of the ports of the United States, and citizens of the United States shall not be permitted to import opium into any of the open ports of China, or trausport from one open jort to any other open port, or to buy and sell opium in any of the open ports in China. This absolute prohibition, which extends to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either Power, to foreigu vessels employed by them, or to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either Power and employed by other persons for the transportation of opium, shall be enforced by appropriate legislation on the part of China and the United States, and the benefits of the favoured natio: clauses in existing treaties shall not be claimed by the citizens or subjects of either Power as against the provisions of this article.

Art. III.-His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China hereby promises and agrees that no other kind or higher rate of tonnage dues or duties for imports or exports or coastwise trade shall be imposed or levied in the open ports of China upon vessels wholly belonging to citizens of the United States, or upon the produce, manufactures, or merchandise imported in the same from the United States or from any foreign country, or upon the produce, manufactures, or merchandise exported in the same to the United States, or any foreign country, or transported in the same from one open port of China to another, than are imposed or levied on vessels or cargoes of any other nation, or on those of Chinese subjects. The United States hereby promises and agrees that no other lind or higher rate of tonnage duties and dues for imports shall be imposed or levied in the ports of the United Stites upon vessels wholly belonging to the subjects of his Imperial Majesty, coming either directly or by way of any foreign port from any of the ports of China which are open to foreign trade to the ports of the United States, or returning therefrom either directly or by way of any foreign port to any of the open ports of China, or upon the produce, manufactures, or merchandise imported in the same from China, or from any foreign country, than are imposed or levied on vessels of any other nations which make wo discrimination against the United States in tonnage dues or duties on imports, exports, or coastwise trale, or than are imposed or levied on vessels and cargoes of citizens of the United States.

Art. IV.-When controversies arise in the Chinese Empire between citizens of the United States and subjects of His Imperial Majesty, which need to be examined and decided by the public officer of the two nations, it is agreed between the Guvernments of the United States and China that such cases shall be tried by the proper official of the nationality of the defendant. The properly authorized official of the plaintiff's nationality shall be freely permitted to attend the trial, and shall be treated with the courtesv due to his position. He shall be granted all proper facilities for watching the proceedings in the interest of justice, and if he so desire, he shall have the right to be present aud to examine and to cross-examine witnesses. If he is dissatisfied with the proceedings, he shall be permitted to protest against them in debate. The law administered will be the law of the nationality of the officer trying the case.

In faith whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed the foregoing, at Peking, in English and Chinese, there heing three originals of each text, of even tenor and date, the ratifications of which shall be exchauged at Peking within one year from the date of its execution.

IMMIGRATION PROHIBITION TREATY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND CHINA, 1894

Ratifications Exchanged at Washington, 7th December, 1894

Whereas, on the 17 th of November, A. d. 1880, and of Kwanhsui, the sixth year, the tenth month, and the 15th day, a treaty was concluded between the United States and China for the purpose of regulating, limiting, or suspending the coming of Chinese labourers to and their residence in the United States, and, whercas, the Government of China, in view of the antagonism and much depreciated and serious disorders to which the presence of Chinese labourers has given rise in certain parts of the United States, desires to prohibit the emigration of such labourcrs from Cbina to the United States; and, whereas, the two Governments desire to co-operate in prohibiting such emigration and to strengthen in many other ways the bonds of relationship between the two countries; and, whereas, the two Governmeuts are desirous of adopting reciprocal measures for the better protection of the citizens or subjects of each within the jurisdiction of the other; now, therefore, the President of the United States has a!pointed Walter Q. Gresham, Secretary of State, as his Plenipotentiary, and his Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of China, has appointed Yang Yui, Officer of the Secon! Rank, Sub-director of the Court of Sacrificial Worship and Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, and the said Plenipotentiaries haring exhibited their respective full powers, found to the in due form and gool faith, have agreed upon the following articles:-

Art. T. The high contracting parties agree that for a period of ten years, beginsing with the date of the ratifications of this Convention, the coming, except under the conditions hereinafter specified, of Chinese labourers to the Uuited States slall be absolutely prohibited.

Art. II.-Thie preceding article shall not apply to the return to the Tnited States of any registered Chinese labourer who has a lawful wife, child, or parent in the United States or property therein of the value of $$ 1,000$, or debts of like amount due to him and pending settlement. Nevertheless, every such Chinese labourer shall, before learing the United States, dejosit, as a condition of his return, with the collector of customs of the district from which he departs, a full description in writing of his family or property or debts as aforesaid, and shall be furnished by the said collector with such cerlificate of his right to return under this treaty as the laws of the United States nay now or hereafter prescribe, and not inconsistent with the provisions of the treaty; and, should the written description aforesaid be proved to be false, the rights of return thereunder, or of continued residence afterreturn, shall in each case be forfeited. And such right of return to the United States shall lie exercised within one year from the date of leaving the United States; but such right of return to the United States may be extended for an additional period, not to exceed one year, in cases where, by reason of sickuess or other cause of disability beyond his control, such Chinese labourer shall be rendered unable sooner to return, which facts shall be fully reported to the Chinese Consul at the port of departure, and by him certified to the satisfaction of the collector of the port at which such Chinese subject shall land in the United States. And no such Chinese labourer shall be permitted to enter the United States by land or sea without produciug to the proper officer of the Customs the return certificate herein required.

Art. III.-The provisions of the convention shall not affect the right at present enjoyed of Chinese suljects, being officials, teachers, students, merchants, or travellers for curiosity or pleasure, but not labourers, of coming to the United States and residing therein. To entitle such Chinese subjects as are alove described to admission into the United States ther may produce a certificate either from their Government or from the Government of the country where they last resided, vised by the diplomatic or consular representative of the United States in the country or port whence they depart. It is also agreed that Chinese labourers s' all continue to enjoy the privilege of transit across the territory of the United States in the course of their journey to or from other countries, subject to such regulations by the Government of the United States as may be necissary to prevent the said privilege of transit from being abused.

Art. IV.-In pursuance of Article 3 of the Immigration Treaty between the United States and China, signed at Peking on the 17th day of November, 1880, it is hereby understood and agreed, that Chinese labonrers or Chinese of any other class, either permanently or temporarily residing in the United States, shall have for the protectinn of their persons and property all rights that are given by the laws of the United Stites to citizens of the more faroured nations, excepting the right to become naturalized citizens. And the Government of the United States reaffirms its obligations, as stated in the said Article 3, to exert all its power to secure the protection to the person and property of all Chinese subjects in the United States.

Art. V.-Tho Goverument of the United States having, by an Act of Congress, approved May 5th, 1892, as amended and approved November 3rd, 1893, required all Chiness labourers lawfully within the United States, before the passage of the first-wamed Act, to be registered, as in the said Acts provided, with a view of affording them better protection, the Chinese Govermment will not object to the enforcement of the said Acts, and reciprocally the Government of the United States recognises the right of the Government of China to enact and enforce similar laws and regulations, for the registration, free of charge, of all labomers, skilled or unskilled (not merchants, as defined by the said Acts of Congress), citizens of the Uuited States in China whether residing within or without the treaty ports. And the Government of the United States agrees that within twelve months from the date of the excharge of the ratifications of this convention, and annually thereafter, it will furnish to the Government of China registers or reports showing the full name, age, occupation, and number or place of residence of all other citizens of the United States, including missionaries residing bot's within and without the treaty ports of China, not including, however, diplomatic and other officers of the United States residing or travelling in China upon official busiuess, together with their body and household servants.

Art. VI.-This ecnvention shall remain in force for a period of ten years, beginning with the date of the exchange of ratifications, and, if six months before the expiration of the said period of ten years neither Government shall Lave formally given notice of its final termination to the other, it shall remain in full force for another like period of ten years.

In faith whereof, we, the respective plenipotentiaries, have signed this Convention and have heremito affixed our seals.

Done, in duplicate, at Washington, the 17th day of March, A.d. 1894.

COMMERCIAL TREATY BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND CHINA.

[Translation.]

The United States of America and His Majesty the Emperor of China, being animated by an earnest desire to extend further the commercial relations between them and otherwise to promote the interests of the peoples of the two comutries, in view of the provisions of the first paragraph of Article XI. of the final Protocol signed at Peking on the 7 th day of September, A.d. 1901, whereby the Chinese Govcrnment agreed to negotiato the anendments deemed necessary by the foreign Governments to the treaties of commerce and navigation and other subjects concerning commercial relations, with the object of facilitating them, have for that purpose named as their Plenipotentiaries:-

The United States of America-Edwin H. Conger, Envoy Extraordinary aud Minister Plenipoteutiary of the United States of America to China; John Goodnow, Consul-Gencral of the United States of America at Shanghai ; John F. Seamau, a Citizen of the United States of Anerica resident at Shanghai-

Who, having met and duly exchanged their full powers which were found to be in proper form, lave agreed upon the fullowing anendments to existing treaties of commerce and navigation previously concluded between the two countries, and upon the subjects hereinafter expressed connected with commercial relations, with the object of facilitating them.

Art. I.-In accordance with international custom, and as the diplomatic representative of China has the right to reside in the Capital of the United States, and to enjoy there the same preroratives, privileges and immunities as are enjoyed by the similar representative of the most favoured nation, the diplomatic representative of the United States shall have the right to reside at the capital of His Majesty the Emperor of Caina. He shall be given audience of His Majesty the Einperor whenever necessary to present his letters of credence or any communication from the President of the Uuited States. At all such times he shall be received in a place and in a manuer befitting his high position, and on all such occasions the ceremonial observed toward him shall be that observed toward the representatives of nations on a footing of equality, with no loss of prestige on either side.

The diplumatic representatives of the United States shall enjoy all the prerogatives, privileges and immunities accorded by international usage to such representatives, and shall in all respocts be entitled to the treatment extended to similar representatives of the most favoured uation.

The English text of all notes or despatches from United States officials to Chinese officials, and the Chinese text of all from Chinese officials to United States officials shall be authoritative.

Art. II.-As China may appoint consular officers to reside in the United States and to enjoy there the same attributes, privileges and immunities as are enjoyed by consular officers of othe: nations, the United States may appoint, as its interests may require, consular officers to reside at the places in the Empire of China that are now or that may hereafter be opened to foreign residence and trade. They shall hold direct offecial intercourse and correspondence with the local officers of the Chinese Government witain their consular districts, either personally or in writing as the case may require, on terms of equality and reciprocal respect. These officers shall be treated with proper respect by all Chinese authorities, and they shall enjoy all the attributes, privileges and immunities, and exercise all the jurisdiction over their nationuls which are or my hereafter be extended to similar officers of the nation the most favoured in these respects. If the officers of either government are disrespectfully treated or aggrieved in any way by the authorities of tha other, they shall have the right to make representation of the same to the superior officers of their own government, who shall see that full inquiry and strict justice be had in the premises. And the said consular officers of either nation shall carefully avoid all acts of offence to the officers and people of the other nation.

On the arrival of a consul properly accredited at any place in China opened to foreign trade, it shall be the duty of the Minister of the United States to inform the Board of Foreign Affairs, which shall, in accordnnce with international usage, forthwith cause the due recournition of the said consul and grant him authority to act.

Art. III.-Citizens of the United States may frequent, reside, and carry on trade, industries and manufactures, or pursue any lawful aroction, in all the ports or iocalities of China which are now open or may hereafter be opened to foreign trade and residence; and, within the suitable localities at those places which have been or may be set apart for the use and occupation of foreigners, they way rent or purchase houses, places of business and other buildings, and rent or lease in perpetuity land and build thereon. They shall generally enjoy as to their persons and property all such rights, privileges and immnnities as are or may hereafter be granted to the subjects or citizens of the nation the most favoured in these respects.

Art. IV.- The Chinese Government, recognising that the existing system of levying dues on goods in transit, and especially the system of taxation known as lekin, impedes the free circulation of commodities to the general injury of trade, hereby undertakes to abandon the levy of lekin and all o! her transit dues throughout the empire and to abolish the offices, stations anl barriers maintained for their collection and not to establish other offices for levying dues on goods in transit It is clearly understood that, after the offices, stations and barriers for taxing goods in transit have been abolished, no attempt shall be made to re-establish then in any form or under any pretext whatsoever.

The Government of the United States, in return, consents to allow a surtax, in excess of the tariff rates for the time being in force, to be imposed on foreign goods imported by citizens of the United States and on Chinese produce destined for export abroad or constwise. It is clearly understool that in no case slaall the surtax on foreign imports exceed one and one-half times the import duty leviable in terms of the final Protocol signel by China and the Powers on the seventh day of September, A.D. 1901 ; that the payment of the import duty and surtax slall secure for foreign imports, whether in the hands of Cbinese or foreigners, in original packages or otherwise, complete immunity from all other taxation, examination or delay; that the total anount of taxation, inclusive of the tiriff export duty leviable on native produce for export abroad shall, under no circumstances, exceed seven and one-half per cent. ad valorem.

Nothing in this article is intended to interfere with the inherent right of China to levy such other taxes as are not in conflict with its provisions.

Keeping these fundamental priuciples in view, the High Contracting Parties have agreed upon the following method of procedure:

The Chinese Gorernment undertakes that all offices, stations and barriers of whatsover kind for collecting lehin, duties, or such like dues on goods in transit, shall bs perman ntly abolished on all roads, railways and waterways in the nineteen Provinces of China and the three Eastern Provinces. This provision does not apply to the native Customs offises at present in existence on the seaboard, at open ports whare there are offices of the Imperial Maritime Customs, and on the land frontiers of Chima embracing the nineteen Provinces and the three Eastern Provincos.

Wherever there are offices of the Imperial Maritime Customs, or wherever such may be hereafter placed, native Customs offices may also loe cstablishe 1 , as well as at any point either on the seaboard or land frontiers.

Lhe Government of the Unitel Stites agrees t'at foreign goods on importation, in addition to the effective five per cent. import duty as provided for in the Protocol of 1901, shall pay a special surtax of one and one-half times the amount of the said duty to compansite for the abolition of lekin, of other transit dues besides lebin, and of all other taxation on foreign goods and in consideration of the uther reforms provided for in this article.

The Cbinese Government may recast the fureign export tariff with specific duties as fiur as practicable, on a scale not exceeding five per cent. ad villorem; but existing export duties shall not be raised until at least six months' notice las been given. In cases whe:e existing export duties are above five per cent., they shall be reduced to in t more than that rate. An additional special surtax of one-half the export duty pasable for the time being, in lieu of internal taxation of all kinds, may be levied at the place of original slipment, or at the time of export on gools exported either to foreign countries or constwise.

Foreign goods which bear a similarity to mative goods shall be furnished by the Customs officers, if required by the owner, with a protective certificate for each package, on the payment of import duty and surtax, to prevent the risk of any dispute in the interior.

Native goods brought ly junks to open ports, if intended for local cossum ption irrespective of the nationality of the owner of the goods, shall be reported at the native Customs offices only, to le dealt with according to the fiscal regulations of the Chinese Government.

Machine-made cotton yarn and cloth manufactured in China, whether by foreigners at the open ports or by Chinese anywhere in China, shall as regards taxation be on a footing of perfect equality. Such goods upon payment of the taxes thereon shall be granted a relate of the import duty and of two-thirds of the import surtax paid on the cotton used in their manufacture, if it has been imported from abroad, and of all duties paid thereon if it be Chinese grown cotton. They shall also be free of export duty, coast-trade duty and export surtai. The same principle and procedure shall be applied to all other products of foreign type turned out by machinery in China.

A member or members of the Imperial Maritime Customs foreign staff slall be selected by the Governors-General and Governors of each of the various provinces of the Empire for their respective provinces, and appointed in consultation with the Inspector-General of Imperial Maritime Customs, for duty in connection with native Customs affairs to have a general supervision of their working.

Cases where illegal action is compluined of by citizens of the United States shall be promptly investigated by au officer of the Chinese Government of sufficiently high rank, in conjunction with an officer of the United States Goverument, and an officer of the Imprial Maritime Customs, each of sufficient standing; and, in the event of it being found by the investigating officers that the complaint is well founded and loss has been incurred, due empensation shall be paid through the Imperial Maritime Customs. The high provincial officials shall be held responsible that the officer guilty of the allegal action shall te severely punished and remored from his post. If the complaint is slown to be frivolous or malicious, the complainant shall be held responsible for the expenses of the investigation.

When the ratifications of this Treaty shall have been exchanged by the High Contracting Parties hereto, and the provisions of this Article shall hive been accepted by the Powers having treaties with Chima, then a date shall be agreed upon when the provisions of this Article shall take effect, and an Imperial Edict shall be published in due form on yellow paper and circulated throughout the Empire of China setting forth the abolition of all lekin taxatiou, duties on goods in transit, offices, stations and barriers for c ollecting the same, and of all descriptions of internal taxation on foreign goods, and the imposition of the surtax on the import of foreign grods and on the export of natire goods, and the other fiscal changes and reforms provided for in this Article, all of which shall take effect from the said date. The Edict shall state that the provincial high officials are responsible that any official disregarding the letter or the spirit of its injunction shall be severely punished and removed from bis post.

Art. V.-The tariff duties to be paid by citizens of tlie United States on goods imported into China siall be as set forth in the schednle annexed hereto and made part of this Treaty, sulbect only to such amendment and changes as are authorised by Article IV. of the present convention, or as may hereafter be agreed upon by the present High Contracting Parties. It is expressly agreed, however, that citizens of the United States shall at no time pay other or higher duties than those paid by the citizens or suljects of the most favoured nation.

Conversely, Chinese subjects shall not pay higher duties on their imports into the Uuited States than those paid by the citizens or subjects of the most favoured nation.

Art. VI.-The Government of China agrees to the establishment hy citizens of the United States of warehouses approved by the proper Chinese authorities as bouded warehouses at the several open ports of China, for storage, re-packing, or preparation for shipment of lawful goods, subject to such needful regulations for the protection of the revenue of China, including a reasonable scale of fees according to commodities, distance from the custom house, and hours of working, as shall be made from time to time by the proper officers of the Govermment of China.

Art. VII.-The Chmese Government, recognising that it is advantageous for the country to develop its mineral resources, and that it is desirable to attract foreign as well as Chinese capital to embark in mining enterprises, agrees, within one year from the signing of this Treaty, to initiate and conclude the revision of the existing mining regulations. To this end Chinia will, with all expedition and earnestness, go into the whole question of mining rules; aud, selecting from the rules of the United States and other countries, regulations which seem applicalle to the condition of China, will recast its present mining rules in such a way as, while promoting the interests of Chinese subjects and not injuring in any way the sovereign rights of China, will offer no impediment to the attraction of foreign capital nor place foreign capitalists at a greater disadvantage than they would be under generally accepted foreign regulations; and will permit citizens of the (Thited States to carry on in Chinese territory mining operations and other necessary business relating thereto, prosided they comply with the new regulations and conditions which may be imposed by China on its subjects and foreigners alike, relating to the opening of mines, the renting of mineral land, and the payment of royalty, and provided they apply for permits, the provisions of which in regard to necessary business relating to such - operations shall be observed. The residence of citizeus of the United States in connection with such mining operations shall bo subject to such regulations as sball be agreed upon between the United States and China.

Any mining concession granted after the publication of such new rules shall be sulbject to their provisions.

Art. VIII.-Drawback certificates for the return of duties slaill be issued by the Imperial Maritime Customs to citizens of the United States within three weaks of the presentation to the Customs of the papers entitling the applicant to receive such drawback certificates, and they shall be receivable at their face valne in payment of duties of all kinds (tonnage dues excepted) at the port of issue; or shall, in the case of drawbacks on foreigu goods re-exported within thres years from the date of importation, be recleemable by the Imperial Maritime Customs in full in ready money at the port of issue, at the opition of the holders thereof. But if, in concection with any application for a drawback certficate, the Customs authorities discover an attempt to defraud the revenue, the applicant shal be dealt with and punished in accordance with the stipulations provided in the Treaty of Tientsin, Article XXI. in the case of detected frauds on the revenue. In case the goods have been removed from Chinese territors, then the Consul shall iuflict on the guilty party a fine to bepaid to the Chinese Government.

Art. IX. - Whereas the United States undertakes to protect the citizens of any country in the exclusive use within the United States of any lawful trade-marks, provided that such country agrees by treaty or convention to give like protection tocitizens of the United States:-

Therefore the Government of China, in order to secure such protection in the United States for its suljects, now agrees to fully protect any citizen, firm or corporation of the United States in the exclusive use in the Empire of China of any lawful trade-marl to the exclusive use of which they are entitled in the United Siates, or which they have adopted and usel, or intend to adopt and use as soon as registered, for exclusive use within the Empire of China. To this end the Chinese Government agrees to issue by its proper authorites proclamations, having the force of las, forbidding all suljects of China from infringing on, imitating, colourably imitating, or knowingly passing off an imitation of trade marks belonging to citizens of the United States, whith shall have been registered by the proper authorities of the United States at such offices as the Chinese Goveroment will establish for such purpose, on payment of a reasomable fee, after due investigation by the Chinese authorities, and in compliance with reasonable regulations.

Art. X. -The United States Government allows subjects of China to patent their inventions in the United States and protects them in the use and ownership of such patents. The Govermment of Chin now agrees that it will establish a Patent Office. After this office has been established and special laws with regard to inventions bave been adopted it will thereupon, after the payment of the legal fees, issue certificates of protection, valid for a fixed lerm of years, to citizens of the United States on all their patents issued by the United Sta!es, in respect of articles the sale of which is lawful in China, which do not infringe on previous inventions of Chinese subjects, in the same manner as patents are to be issued to subjects of China.

Art. XI.-Whereas the Government of the United States engages to give the benefits of its copyright laws to the citizens of any foreign State which gives to thecitizens of the United States the benefits of coperights on an equal basis with its own citizens:-

Therefore the Government of China, in order to secure such benefits in the United States for its subjects, now agrees to give full protection, in the same way and manner and subject to the same conditions upon which it agrees to protect trademarks, to all citizens of the United States who are authors, designers or proprietors of any book, map, print or engraring especially prepared for the use and education of the Chinese people, or translation into Chinese of any hook, in the exclusive right to print and sell such book, map, print, engraving or translation in the Empire of China during ten years from the date of registration. With the exception of the books, maps, etc,, specified aloove, which may not be reprinted in the same form, no work shall be entitled to copyright privileges under this article. It is understood that Cbinese suljects shall be at liberty to make, print and sell original translations into Chinese of any works written or of maps compiled by a citizen of the United States. This article shall not be held to protect against due process of law any citizen of the United States or Chinese subject who may be author, proprietor or seller of any publication calculated to injure the well-being of China.

Art. XII.-The Chinese Government having in 1898 opened the navigableinland waters of the Empire to commerce ly all steam vessels, native or foreign, that may be specially registered for the purpose, for the conveyance of passengers and lawful merchandise, citizens, firms and corporations of the United States may engarre in such commerce on equal terms with those granted to subjects of any foreign power,

In case either party hereto considers it advantageous at any time that the rules and regulations then in existence for such commerce be altered or amended, the Chinese Government agrees to consider amically, and to adopt such modifications thereof as are found necessary for trade and for the benefit of China.

The Chinese Government agrees that, upon the exclange of the ratifications of this Treaty, Mukden and Antung, both in the province of Sheng-king, will be opened by Cbina itself as places of international residence and trade. The selection of fitting localities to be set apart for international use and occupation, and the regulations for these plaees set apart for foreigu residence and trade shall be agreed upou by the Governments of the United States and China after consultation together.

Art. XIII.-China agrees to take the necessary steps to provide for a uniform national coinage which shall be legal tender in payment of all duties, taxes and other obligations throughout the Empire of China by the citizens of the Unitel States as well as Chinese subjects. It is understood, however, that all Customs duties shall continue to be calculated and paid on the basis of the Haikuan Tael.

Art. XLV.-The principles of the Christian religion, as professed by the Protestant and Roman Catholic Churches, are recognised as teaching' men to do good and to do to others as they would have others do to then. Those who quietly profess and teach these doctrines shall not be harassed or persecuted on account of their faith. Any person, whether citizen of the United States or Chinese convert, who, according to these tenets, peaceably teaches and practises the principles of Christianity shall in no case be interfered with or molested therefur. No restrictions shall be placed on Chinese joining Christian Churches. Converts and non-conrerts, being Chinese subjects, shall alike conform to the laws of China; and shall pay due respect to those in authority, living together in peace and amity; and the fact of being converts shall not protect them from the consequences of any offence they may have committed before or may commit after their admission into the Church, or exempt them from paying legal taxes levied on Chinese subjects generally, except taxes levied and contributions for the support of religious customs and practices contrary to the ir religion. Missionaries shall not interfere with the exercise ly the native authorities of their jurisdiction over Chinese subjects; nor shall the native authorities make any distinction between couverts and non-converts, but shall administer the laws without partiality so that buth classes can live together in peace.

Missionary societies of the United States shall be permitted to rent and to lease in perpetuity, as the property of such societies, buildings or lands in all parts of the Empire for missionary purposes and, after the title deeds have been found in order and duly stamped by the local authorities, to erect such suitable buildings as may be required for carrying on their good work.

Art. XV.-The Government of China having expressel a strong desire to reform its judicial system and to briog it into accord with that of VVestern nations, the United States agrees to rive every assistance to this reform, and will also be prepared to relinguish extraterritorial rights when satisfied that the state of the Chinese laws, the arrangements for their administration, and other considerations warrant it in so doing.

Art. XVI. -The Government of the United States consent; to the prohibition by the Government of China of the importation into China of morphia and of instruments for its injection, excepting morphia and instruments for its injection imported for medical purposes, on payment of tariff duty, and under regulations to be framed by China which shall effectually restrict the use of such import to the said purposes. This prohibition shall be uniformly applied to such importation from all countries. The Chinese Government engages to adopt at once measures to prevent the manufacture in China of morphia and of instruments for its injection.

Art. XVII.-It is agreed between the High Contracting Parties hereto that all the provisions of the several treaties between the Unitel States and China which were in force on the first day of January A.D. 1900, are continued in full force and effect except in so far as they are modified by the prisent Treaty or other treaties to which the United States is a party.

The present 'lreaty shall remain in force for a period of ten years beginning with the date of the exchange of ratifications and until a revision is effected as hereinafter provided.

It is further agreed that either of the High Contracting Parties may demand that the tariff and the articles of this convention be sevised at the end of ten years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications hereof. If no revision is demanded before the end of the first term of ten years, then these articles in their present form shall remain in full force for a further ter:n of ten years reckoned from the end of the first term and so on for successive periods of ten years.

The English and Chinese texts of the present Treaty and its three annexes have been carefully compared; but, in the event of there being any difference of meaning between them, the sense as expressed in the English text shall be held to be the correct one.

This Treaty and its three annexes shall be ratified by the two High Contracting Parties in conformity with their respective constitutions, and the ratifications shall be exchanged in Washington not later than twelve months from the present date.

In testimony whereof, we, the undersigned, by virtue of our respective powers, have signed this Treaty in duplicate in the English and Chinese languages, and hare affixed our respective seals.

Done at Shanglai, this eighth day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three, and in the twenty-ninth year of Kuang Hsii eighth month and eighteenth day.

As citizens of the United States are already forbidden by treaty to deal in or handle opium, no mention has been made in this Treaty of opium taxation.

As the trade in salt is a Government monopoly in China, no mention has been made in this Treaty of salt taxation.

It is, however, understood, after full discussion and consideration, that the collection of inland duties on opium and salt and the means for the protection of the revenue therefrom and for preventing illicit traffic therein are left to be administered by the Chinese Government in such manner as shall in no wise interfere with the provision of Article IV. of this treaty regarding the unobstructed transit of other goods.

Annex 11.

Article IV. of the Treaty of Commerce between the United States and China of this date provides for the retention of the uative Customs offices at the open ports. For the purpose of safeg nardmg the revenue of Chima at such places, it is minderstood that the Chinese Government shall be entitled to establish and maintain such branch native Customs offices at each open port within a reasonable distance of the main native Customs offices at the port, as shall be deemed ly the authorities of the Imperial Maritime Customs at that port necessary to collect the revenue from the trade into and out of such port. Such branches, as well as the principal native Customs offices at each open port, shall be administered by the Imperial Maritime Uustoms as provided by the Protocol of 1901.

Annex III.

The schedule of tariff duties on imported groods annexed to this Treaty under Article V. is hereby mutually declared to be the schedule agreed upon between the representatives of China and of the United States and sigued by John Goodnow for the United States and 'Alheir Excellencies Lü Hai-huan and Sheng Hsïan-huai for China at Shanghai on the sixth day of September A.d. 1902, according to the Protocol of the seventh day of September A.d. 1901.

The Treaty

Ratifications Exchanged at Peking 28th April, 1838
His Most Faithful Majesty the King of Portural and the Algarves, and His Inperial Majesty the Emperor of China, desiring to draw closer and to consolidate the ties of friendship which have subsisted for more than three lundred years between Portugal and China, and having agreed in Lisbon on the 26th day of March, 1887, and day of Srd moon of the 13th year of the reign of the Emperor Kwang-sii, through their rejresentatives, on a Protocol of four Articles, have now resolved to conclude a Treaty of Amity aud Commerce to rerulate the relations between the two States; for this end they have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:-

His Most Foithful Majesty the King of Portugal and the Algarves, Thomas de Souza Roza, His Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary in special mission to the Court of Peking, Knight of the Order of Nossa Senhora de Conceicao de Villa Vicosa, Grand Cross of the Order of the Rising Sun of Japan and of the Crown of Siam, Commander of the Order of Charles II. and of Isabella the Catholic of Spain, and Knight of the Iron Crown of Austria :

His Imperial Majesty the Enaperor of China, His Highness Prince Ch‘ing, President of the Tsuug-li Yamèn, and Sun, Minister of the I'sung-li Yamén and Senior Vice-President of the Board of Public Works;

Who, after having commnicated to each other their respective full powers and found them to be in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles:-

Art. I.-There shall continue to exist constant peace and amity between His Most Faithful Majesty the King of Portugal and the Algarves and His Imperial Majesty the Empror of China, whose respective subjects slaall equally enjoy in the dominions of the High Contracting Parti"s the most complete and decided protection for their persons and property.

Art. II-China confirms in its entirety the second article of the prolocol of Lisbon, relating to the perpetual occupation and government of Macao by Portngal.

It is stipulatel that Commissioners a;pcinted by both Governments shall proceed to the delimitation of the boundaries, which shail bo determined by a special convention; but so long as the delimitation of the bonudaries is not cuncluded, everything in respect to them shall continns as at present, without addition, diminution, or alteration ly either of the parties.

Art. III.-Portugal confirms, in its entirety, the third articic of the protocol of Lisbon, relating to the engagement never to alienate Macao without previous agreement with China.

Art. IV.-Portugal agrees to co-oprate with China in the collection of duties on opium exported from Macao into China ports, in the same way, and as long as England co-operates with China in the collection of duties on opium exported from Hougloug inte Chinese ports.

The basis of this co-operation will be established by a convention appended to this treaty, which shall be as valid and binding to both the High Contracting Parties as the present treaty.

Art. V.-His Most Faithful Majesty the King of Portugal and the Algarves may appoint an Ambassalor, Minister, or other diplomatic agent to the Court of Mis Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, and this agent, as well as the persons of his suite and their families, will be permitted, at the option of the Portuguese Government, to reside permanently in Peking, to visit that Court, or to reside at any other place where such residence is equally accorded to the diplomatic representative of other nations. The Chineso Government may also, if it thinks fit, appoint an Ambassador, Minister, or other diplomatic agent to reside at Lisbon, or to visit that Court when his Government shall order.

Art. VI.-The diplomatic agents of Portugral and China shall reciprocally enjoy in the place of their residence all the prerogatives and immunities accorded by the laws of nations; their persons, families, and houses, as well as their correspondence shall be inviolate.

Art. VII.-The official correspondence adiressed by Portuguese authorities to the Chinese anthorities shall be written in the Portuguese language accompanied by a translation in Chinese, and each nation shall regard as authoritative the document written in its own language.

Art. VIII.-The form of correspondence between the Portuguese and the Chinese authorities will be regulated by their respective rank and position, based upon complete reciprocity. Between the high Portuguese and Chinese functionaries at the capital or elsewhere, such correspondence will take the form of dispatch (Chau-hoei) ; between the subordinate functionaries of Portugal and the chief anthorities of the provinces, the former shall make use of the form of exposition (Xen-chen) and the latter that of decluration (Cha-hsing) ; and the subordinate officers of both nations shall correspond together on terms of perfect equality. Merchants and generally all others who are not invested with an official character shall adopt, in addressing the authorities, the form of representation or petition (Pin-ching).

Art. IX.-His Most Faithful Majesty the King of Portugal and the Algarves may appoint Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, or Consular agents in the ports or other places where it is allowed to other nations to have them. These functionaries will have powers and attributes similar to those of the Consuls of other nations, and will enjoy all the exemptions, privileges, and immunities which at any tine the consular functionaries of the most faroured nation may enjoy.

The Consuls and the local authorities rill show to each other reciprocal civilities and correspond with each other on terms of perfect equality.

The Consuls and acting Consuls will rank with Tro-tais, Vice-Consuls, acting Vice-Consula, Consular agents and interpreters-trinslators, with Prefects. 'I'he Consuls must be offisials of the Portuguese Government and not merchants. The Chinese Government will make no objection in case the Portuguese Government should deem it munecessary to appoint an official Consul at any port and choose to entrust a Consul of some other nation, for the time being, with the duties of Portuguese Cunsul at that port.

Ait. X.-All the immunities anl privileges, as well as all the advantages concerning commerce and navigation, such as any reduction in the duties of navigation, importation, exportation, transit or any other, which may have been or may be hereafter granted by China to any other State or to its subjects, will be immediately extended to Portugal and its subjects. If any concession is granted by the Chinese Government to any foreign Government under special conditions, Portugal, on claim. ing the same concession for herself and for her own subjects, will equally assent to the conditions attached to it.

Art XI.-Portugnese subjects are allowed to reside at, or frequent, the ports of China opened to foreigu commerce and there carry on trade or employ themselves fresly. Their boats may navigate without hindrance between the ports open to foreign commerce, and t'iey may import and export their merchandise, enjoging all the rights and privileges enjoyed by the subjects of the most favoured nation.

Art. X[I.-Portuguese subjects shall pay import and export duties on all merchandise according to the rates specified in the tariff of 1858 , adopted for all the other nations; and in no instance shall higher duties be exastel from them than those paid by the subjects of any other forcign nation.

Art. XIII.-Portuguese subjects are perinittel to hire any description of boats they mav require for the conveyancs of cargo or passensers, and the price of said hire will be fixed by the contracting parties alone, without, interference of the Chinese Government. No limit shall be put to the number of boats, neither will it be permitted to any ons to catablish a monopoly of such boats or of the service of coolies employed in the carriage of merchandise.

Should contraband articles be on board any such boats, the guilty parties shall immediately be punished according to law.

Art. XIV.-Portuguese subjects residing in the open ports may take into their service Chinese subjects, aud employ them in any lawful capacity in China, without restraint or hindrance from the Chinese Governnent; but shall not engage them for foreign countries in coutravention of the laws of China.

Art. XV.-The Chinese authorities are bound to grant the fullest protection to the persons aud to the property of Portuguese subjects in China, whenever they may be exposed to insult or wrong. In case of roblery or incendiarism, the local authorities will immediately take the necessary measures to recuver the stolen property, to terminate the disorder, to seize the guilty, and punish them according to the law. Similar protection will be given by Portuguese nuthorities to Chinese subjects in the possession of Portugal.

Art. XV I. - Whenever a Porturuese subject intends to build or opan houses, shops or warehouses, churches, hospitals, or cometeries, at the Treaty ports or at other places, the purchase, rent, or lease of these properties shall be made out according to the curreut terms of the place, with equity, without exaction on either side, without offending against the usiges of the people, and after due notice given by the proprietors to the local authority. It is understood, however, that the shops or warehouses above mentioned shall ouly be allowed at the ports open to trade, and not in any place in the interior.

Art. XVII.-Portuguese subjects conveying merchandise between open ports shall be required to take certificates from the Superintendent of the Customs house, such as are specified in the regulations in force with reference to other nationalities.

But Portuguese subjects, who, without carrying merchandise, would like to go to the interior of China, must have passports issued by their Consuls and countersigned by the local anthorities. The bearer of the passport must produce the same when demanded, and the passport not being irregular, he will be allowed to proceed and no opposition shall be offered, especially to his hiring persons or vessels for the carriage of his baggage or merchandise.

If he be without a passport, or if he commits any offence against the law, he shall be handed over to the nearest Consul of Porturgal to be punished, but he inust not be subjected to an oppressive measure. No passport need be applied for by persons going on excursions from the ports open to trade to a distance not exceeding 100 li and for a period not exceeding five days.

The provisions of this article do not apply to crews of ships, for the due restraint of whom regulations will be drawn up by the Consul and the lozal authorities.

Art. XVIII.-In the event of a Portuguese merchant vessel being plundered by pirates or thieves within Chinese waters, the Chinese authorities are to employ their utmost exertions to seize and punish the said robbers and to recover the stolen goods, which, through the Consul, shall be restored to whom they belong.

Art. XIX.-If a Portuguese vessel be shipwrecked on the coast of China, or be compelled to take refuga in any of the ports of tho Empire, the Chinese authorities, on receiving notice of the fact, shall provide the necessary protection, affording proupt assistance and lind treatment to the crews and, if necessary, furnishing themthe means to reach the nearest Consulate.

Art. XX.-Portuguese merchant vessels of more than one hundred and fifty tons burden will pay tonnage dues at the rate of four mace per ton; if of one hundred and fifty tons and under they shall be charged at the rate of one mace per ton. His Majesty the Emperor of Jaman, and His Majesty the Emperor of China, desiring to restore the blessings of peace to their countries, and subjects, and to remove all cause for future complications, have named as their Plenipotentiarics for the purpose of concluding a Treaty of Peace, that is to say:-

His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, Count Ito Hirobumi, Junii, Grand Cross of the Imperial Order of Paullownia, Minister-Presilent of State, and Viscount Mutsu Munemitsu, Junii, First Class of the Imperial Order of the Sacred Treasure, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs;

And His Majesty the Emperor of Chinn, Li Hung-chang, Senior Tutor to the Heir Apparent, Senior Grand Secretary of State, Minister Superintendent of Trade for the Northern Ports of China, Viceroy of the Province of Chihli, and Earl of the First Rank, and Li Ching-fong, ex-Minister of the Diplomatic Servico of the Second Official Rank;

Who, after having exchanged their full powers, which were found to be in good and proper form, have agreed to the following Articles:-

Art. I.-China recognizes definitely the full and complete independence and autonomy of Corea, and, in consequence, the payment of tribute and the performance of ceremonies and formalities by Corea to China in derogation of such independence and autonomy shall wholly cease for the future.

Art. II.-China cedes to Japan in perpetuity and full sovereignty the following territories, together with all fortifications, arsenals, and public prop rty thereon:-
(a.) The southern portion of the Province of Fing-tien, within the following boundaries-

The line of demarcation begins at the mouth of the River Yalu, and ascends that stream to the mouth of the River An-ping; from thence the line runs to Feng Huang; from thence to Haicheng; from thence to Ying Kow, forming a line which describes the southern portion of the territory. The places aloove named are included in the ceded territory. When the line reaches the River Liao at Ying Kow it follows the course of that stream to its mouth, where it terminates. The mid-channel of the River Lian shall be taken as the line of demarcation.

This cession also includes all islands appertaining or belonging to the Province of Feng Tien situated in the eastern portion of tho Bay of Liao 'Tung, and in the northern part of the Yellow Sea.
(b.) The Island of Formosa, together with all islands appertaining or belonging to the said Island of Formosa.
(c.) The Pescadores Group, that is to say all islands lying between the 119 th and 120 th degrees of longitude east of Greenwich and the 23rd and 24th degrees of north latitude.

Art. III.-The alignments of the frontiers described in the preceding Article, and shown on the annexed map, shall be subject to verification and demarcation on the spot by a Joint Commission of Delimitation, consisting of two or more Japanese and two or more Chinese Delegates, to be appointed immediately after the exchange of the ratifications of this Act. In case the boundaries laid down in this Act are found to be defective at any point, either on account of topography or in consideration of good administration, it shall also be the duty of the Delimitation Commission to rectify the same.

I'he Delimitation Commission will enter upon its duties as soon as possible, and will bring its labours to a conclusion within the period of one year after appointment.

Tho alignments laid down in this Act shisll, however, be maintained until the rectifications of the Delimitation Commission, if any are made, shall have received the approval of the Governments of Japan and China.

Art. IV.-China agrees to pay to Japan as a war imdemnity the sum $200,000,000$ Kuping taels. The said sum to be paid in eight instalments. The first instalment of $50,000,000$ taels to be paid within six months, and the second instalment of $50,000,000$ taels to be paid within twelve months after the exchange of the ratifications of this Act. The remaining sum to be paid in six equal annual instalments as fullows: the first of such equal annual instalments to be paid within two years, the second within three years, the third within four years, the fourth within five years, the fifth within six years, and the sixth within seven years after the exchange of the ratifications of this Act. Interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum shall becin to run oull alr unpaid portions of the said indemnity from the date the first instalment falls due.

China shall, however, have the right to pay by anticipation at any time any or all of said instalments. In case the whole amount of the said indemnity is paid within three years after the exchange of the ratifications of the present Act, all interest shall be waived, and the interest for two years and a half, or for any less period if then already paid, shall be included as a part of the principal amount of the indemnity.

Art. V.-The inhabitants of the territories ceded to Japan who wish to take up their residence outside the ceded districts shall be at liberty to sell their real property and retire. For this purpose a period of two years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of tho present Act shall be granted. At the expiration of that period those of the inhalitants who shall not have left such territories shall, at the option of Japan, be deemed to be Japanese suljects.

Each of the two Governments shall, immediately upon the exchange of the ratifications of the present Act, send one or more Commissioners to Formosia to effect a final transfer of that province, and within the space of two months after the exchinge of the ratifications of this Act such transfer shall be completed.

Art. VI. - All Treaties between Japan and China having come to an end in consequence of war, China engages, immediately upon the exchange of the ratifications of this Act, to appoint Plenipotentiaries to conclude with the Japanese Plenipotentiaries a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, aud a Convention to regulate frontier intercourse and trade. The Treaties, Conventions, and Regulatious, now subsisting between China and European Powers, shall serve as a basis for the said Treaty and Convention between Japan and China. From the date of the exchange of the ratifications of this Act until the said Treaty and Convention are brought into actual operation the Japanese Government, its officials, commerce, navigation, frontier intercourse and trade, industries, ships and suljects, shall in every respect be accorded by China most favoured-nation treatment.

China makes, in addition, the following concessions, to take effect six months after the date of the present Act:-

SUPPLEMENTARY TREATY OF COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION BETWEEN JAPAN AND CHINA

Signed at Shanghai 8th October, 1903
His Majesty the Emperor of Japan and His Majesty the Emperor of China, in order to give full effect to the provisions of Article XI. of the Final Protocol signed at Peking on the seventh day of the minth month of the thirty-fourth year of Meiji, corresponding to the tirenty-fifth day of seventh moon of the twenty-seventh year of Kuang-hsü, have resolved to conclude a Supplementary Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, designed to facilitate and promote the commercial relations between Japan and China, and have for that purpose named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:

His Majesty the Emperor of Japan:-Hioki Eki, Jugoi, Fifth Class of the Imperial Order of the Rising Sun, First Secretary of Legation, and Odagiri Masnoske, Shorokui, Fifth Class of the Imperial Order of the Rising Sun, Consul-General; and

His Majesty the Emperor of China:-Lui Hai-huan, President of the Board of Public Works; Sheng Hsuan-huai, Junior Guardian of the Heir Apparent, formerly Senior Vice-President of the Board of Public Works; and Wu T'ing-fang, Senior Vice-President of the Board of Commerce.

Who, after having communicated to each other their full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:--

Art. I.-Whereas China, with the olject of reforming its fiscal system, proposes to levy a surtax in excess of the tariff rates on all goods passing through the Custom Houses, whether maritime, or inland and frontier, in order to compensate, in a measure, for the loss incurred by the complete abolition of likin, Japan consents to pay the same surtax as is agreed upon between China and all the Treaty Powers. With regard to the production tax, consumption tax, and excise, and the taxes on native opium and salt, leviable by China, Japan also consents to accept the same arrangements as are agread upon between all the Treaty Powers and China. It is understood however that the commerce, rights and privileges of Japan shall not, on ascount of the ahove, be placel at any disadvantage as compared with the commerce, rights and privileges of other Powers.

Art. II.-The Chinese Government arrees to permit Japanese steamship-owners to erect, at their own expense, appliances for hauling through the rapits of that part of the Yangtzekiang between Ichang and Chungking; but as the interests of the population of the provinces of Szechuen, Hunan and Hupeh are involved, it is therefore necessary that the approval of the Imperial Maritime Customs be obtained before such appliances may be so erected. These appliances, which shall be at the disposal of all vessels, both steamers and junks, shall not obstruct the waterway nor interfere with the free passage of junks or of persons on the bauks on the river. Such appliances shall be subject to special regulations to ba drawn up by the Imperial Customs.

Art. III.-The Chinese Govermment agrees that any Japanese steamer capable of navigating the inland waterways, upon reporting at the Imperial Maritime Customs, may proced for the purpose of trade from a Treaty Port to places inland so reportel, on complying with the Original and Supplementary Regulations for Steam Navigation Inland.

Art. IV.-In case Chinese subjects conjointly with Japanese subjects organise a partnership or company for a legitimate purpose, they shall equitably share the prolits and losses with all the menbers accorling to the terms of the agreement or memoraudum and articles of association and the regulations framed thercunder, and they slall be liable to the fulfilment of the obligations imposed by the said agreement or memormulam and articles of association and the regulations framed thereunder, as ascepted by them and as interpreted by the Japanese Courts. Should they fail to fulfil the obligations so imposed and legal action be taken against them in consequence, Chinese Courts shall at once enforce fulfilment of such obligations. It is understood that in case Japanese subjects coujointly with Chinese subjects organise a partuership or company, they shall also equitably share the profits and losses with all the members according to the terms of the agreement or memorandum and articles of association and the regulations framed thereunder. Should such Japanese subjects fail to fultil any of the obligations imposed by the said agreement or memoranduan and articles of association, or by the regulations framed thereander, Japanese Courts shall in like manner at once enforce fulfilment of such obligations by them.

Art. V.--The Chinese Government agree to make and faithfully enforce such regulations as are necessary for preventing Chinese subjects frou infringing registered trade-marks held by Japanese subjects. The. Chinese Government likewise agree to make such regulations as are necessary for affording protection to registered copyrights held by Japanese subjects in the books, pamphlets, maps and charts written in the Chinese language and specially prepared for the use of Chinese people. It is further agreed that the Chinese Government shall establish registration offices where foreign trade-marks and copyrights held by Japanese subjects in protection of the Chinese Government, shall be registered in accordance with the provisions of the regulations to be hereafter framed by the Chinese Government for the purpose of protecting trade-marks and copyrights. It is understood t.at Chinese trademarks and copyrights mroperly registered according to the provisions of the laws and regulations of Japan, will receive siuitar protection against infringement in Japan.

This Article shall not be held to protect against duo process of law any Japanese or Chinese subject who may be the author, proprietor or seller of any publication calculatel to injure the well-being of China.

Art. VI.-China agrees to establish itself, as soon as possible, a system of uniform nation colnage, and provide for a uniform national currency, which sha!l be freely used as legral tender in payment of all duties, taxes and other obligations by Japanese subjects as well as ly Chinese subjects in the Chinese Empire. It is understood, however, that all Customs duties shall continue to be culculated and paid on the basis of the Haikwan tael.

Ait. VII.-As the weights and measures used ly the mercantile and other classes for general and commercial purposes in the different provinces of China vary and do not accord with the standards fixed by the Imperial Government Boards, thus resulting in detriment to the trade of Chinese and foreigners, the Governors-General and Governors of all the provinces, after careful inquiry into existing conditions, shall consult togetber and fix upon miform staudards which, after a Memorial to the Throne for sanction, shall be adopted and used in all transactions by officials and people throughout all the Empire. These standards shall be first used in the places opened to foreign trade and grodually extended to inland places. Any differences resulting from divergence between the new weights and measures and those now in vogue shall be equitably settled, whether by way of increase or decrease, according to the amount of such difference.

Art. VIII.-The Regulations for Steam Navigation Inland of the fifth moon of the twenty-fourth year of Kuang Hsu and the Supplementary Rules of the seventh moou of the same year, having been found in some respects inconvenient in working, the Chinese Government hereby arrees to amend them, and to annex such new Rules to this Treaty. These Rules shall remain in force until altered by mutual consent.

Art. IX.--The provisions of all Treaties and Enqagements now sulsisting between Japan and China, in so far as they are not modified of repealed ly this Act, are herely expressly stipulated in addition, that the Japanese Government, Officers, Suljects, Commerce, Navigation, Shipping, Industries and Property of all kinds shall be allowed free and full participation in all privileges, immunities and advantages which have been or may hereafter be granted by His Majesty the Emperor of China or by the Chinese Government or by the Provincial or Local Administrations of China to the Government, Officers, Subjects, Commerce, Navigation, Shipping, Industries or Property of any otber mation. The Japause Gorernment will do its utmost to secure to Chinese Officer's and Subjects resident in Japan the most favourable treatment compatible with the laws and regulations of the Empire.

Art. X.-The High Contracting Parties hereto acree that, in case of ard after the complete withdrawal of the foreign troops stationed in the province of Chibli and of the Legation guards, a place of international residence and trade in Peking will be forthwith opened by China itself. The detailed regulation relating thereto shall be settled in due time after consultation. The Chinese Goverument agree to open to foreign trade, within six months from the exclange of the Ratifications of this Treaty, Chrangsha-fu in the prorince of Hunan on the same footing as the ports already opened to foreign trade. Foreigners residing iu this open port are to observe the Municipal and Police Regulations on the same fouting as Chinese residents, and they are not to be entitled to establish a Municipality and Police of their own within the limits of this Treaty Port, except with the consent of the Chinese authorities. The Chinese Goverment agrees that, upon the exchange of the Ratifications of this Treaty, Moukden and Tatungkow, both in the province of Shengking, will be opened by China itself as places of international residence and trade. The selection of suitable localities to be set apart for international use and occupation and the regulations for these places set apart for foreign residence and trade shall be agreed upon by the Governments of Japan and China, after consultation together.

Art. XI. -The Government of China having expressed a strong desire to reform its judicial system and to bring it into accord with that of Japan and Western nations, Japan agrees to give every assistance to such reform, and will also be prepared to relinquish its extraterritorial rights when satisfied that the state of the Chinese laws, the arrangements for their administration, and other considerations warrant it in so doing, Art. XII.-The present Treaty is signed in the Japanese, Chinese and English languages. In order, however, to prevent future discussions, the Plenipotentiaries of the High Contracting Parties have agreed that in case of any divergence in the interpretation between the Japanese and Chinese texts of the Treaty, the difference. shall he settled by reference to the English text.

Art. XIII.-The present Treaty shall be ratified by His Majesty the Emperor of Japan and His Majesty the Emperor of China, and the ratifications thereof shall beexchanged at Peking as soon as possible, and not later than six months from the present date. In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Shanghai, this eighth day of the tenth month of the thirty-sixth year of Meiji, corresponding to the eighteenth day of the eighth moou of the twenty-ninth year of Kuang Hsū.

Annex 1

INLAND WATERS STEAM NAVIGATION

ADDITIONAL RULES
1.-Japanese steamship-owners are at liberty to lease warehouses and jetties on the banls of waterways from Chinese subjects for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, with option of renewal on terms to be mutually arranged. In cases where Japanese merchants are unable to secure warehouses and jetties from Chinese subjects on satisfactory terms, the local officials, after consultation with the Governor or Governor-General or Minister of Commerce, shall arrange to provide these on renewable lease, as above mentioned, at current equitable rates.
2.-Jetties shall only be erected in such positions that they will not obstruct the inland waterway or interfere with navigation, and with the sanction of the nearest Commissioner of Customs ; such sanction, however, shall not be arbitrarily withheld.
3.-Japanese merchants shall pay taxes and contributions on these warehouses. and jetties on the same footing as Chinese proprietors of similar properties in the neighbourhood. Japanese merchants may only employ Chinese agents and staff to reside in warehouses so leased at places touched at by steamers engaged in inland traffic to carry on their business ; but Japanese merchants may visit these places from time to time to look after their affairs. The existing rights of Chinese jurisdiction over Chinese subjects shall not by reason of this clause be diminished or interfered with in any way.
4.-Steam vessels navigating the inland waterways of China shall be responsible for loss caused to riparian proprietors by damage which they may do to the banks or works on them, and for the loss which may be caused by such damarre. In the event of China desiring to prohibit the use of some particular shallow waterway by launchs, because there is reason to fear that the use of it by them would be likely to injure the banks and cause damage to the adjoining country, the Japanese authcrities, when appealed to, shall, if satisfied of the validity of the objection, prohibit the use of that waterway by Japanese launches, provided that Chinese launches are also prohibited from using it. Both Foreign and Chinese launches are prohibited from crossing dams and weirs at present in existence on inland waterways where they are likely to canse iujury to such works, which would be detrimental to the water service of the local people.
5.-The main object of the Japanese Government in desiring to see the inland waterways of China opened to sterm navigation being to afford facilities for the rapid transport of both foreign and native merchandise, they undertake to offer no impediment to the transfer to a Chinese company and the Chinese flag of any Japanese steamer which may now or hereafter be employed on the inland waters of China, should the owner be willing to make the transfer. In the event of a Chinese company registerd under Chinese law being formed to run steamers on the inland waters of China, the fact of Japanese suljects holding shares in such a company shall not entitle the steamer to fly the Japanese flag.
6.-Registered steamers and their tows are forbidden, just as jumks have always been forbidden, to carry contraband goods. Infraction of this rule will entail the penalties prescribed in the treaties for such an offence and cancellation of the Inland Waters Navigation Certificate carried by the vessels, which will be prohibited from thereafter plying on inland waters.
7.-As it is desirable that the people living inland should be disturbed as little as possible by advent of steam vessels to which they are not accustomed, inland waters not hitherto frequented ly steamers shall be opened as gradually as may be convenient to merchants and only as the owners of steamers may see prospect of remunerative trade. In cases where it is intended to run steam vessels on waterways on which such vessels have not hitherto run, intimation shall be made to the Commissioner of Customs at the nearest open port, who shall report the matter to the Ministers of Commerce. The latter, in conjunction with the Governor-General or Governor of the province, after careful consideration of all the circumstances of the case, shall at once give their approval.
8.-A registered steamer may ply within the waters of a poit, or from one open port or ports to another open port or ports, or from one open port or ports to places inland, and thence back to such port or ports. She may, on making due report to the Customs, land or ship passengers or cargo at any recognised places of trade passed in the course of the voyage; but may not ply between inland places exclusively except with the consent of the Chinese Government.
9.-Any cargo and passenger boats may be towed by steamers. The helmsman and crew of any boat towed shall be Chinese. All boats, irrespective of ownership, must be registered before they can proceed inland.
10.-The above Rules are supplementary to the Regulations published in the fifth and seventh moons of the twenty-fourth year of Kuang Hsu, which remain in full force and effect in so far as they are not modified by the Rules now agreed upon. The present Rules and the Regulations of the fifth and seventh moons of the twenty-fifth year of Kuang Hsū may hereafter be modified, as circumstances require, by mutual consent.

Commissioners for Treaty Revision

Shanghai, the 18th Day of the 8th Moon of the 29th Year of Kuang Hsū-Gentlfmen,-According to the provision of Article X. of this Treaty, regarding the establishment in Peking of a place of international residence and trade, it is agreed that in case of, and after, the complete withdrawal of the foreign troops, now guarding the Legations and Communications, a place in Peking outside the Inner City, convenient to both parties and free from oljections, shall be selected and set apart as a place where merchants of all nationalities may reside and carry on trade. Within the limits of this place merchants of all nationalities shall be at liberty to lease land, build houses and warehouses, and establish places of business; but as to the leasing of houses and land belonging to Chinese private individuals, there must be willingness on the part of the owners, and the terms thereof must be equitally arranged without any force or compulsion. All roads and bridges in this place will be under the jurisdiction and control of China. Foreigners residing in this place are to observe the Municipal and Police Regulations on the same footing as Chinese residents, and they are not to be entitled to establish a Municipality and Police of their own within its limits except with the consent of the Chinese authorities. When such place of international residence and trude shall have been opened and its limits properly defined, the foreigners who have been residing scattered both within and without the city walls, shall all be required to remove their residence thereto and they shall not be allowed to remain in separate places, and thereby cause inconvenience in the necessary supervision by the Chinese authorities. The value of the land and buildings held by such foreiguers shall be agreed upon equitably, and due compensation therefore shall be paid. The period for siach removal shall be determined in due time, and those who do not remove before the expiry of this period shall not be entitled to compensation.

We have considered it to be to our mutual advantage to come to the present basis of understanding in order to avoid future unnecessary negotiations, and we beg that Your Excellencies will consider and agree to it, and will favour us with a reply.

On the West, the line 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.
On the South, the line 12-1 drawn along the exterior base of the Tarter wall and following the line of the bastions.
In the protocol anuexed to the letter of the 16th of January. 1901, China recognised the right of each Power to maintain a permanent guard in the said quarter for the defence of its Legation.

Art. VIII.-The Chinese Government has conscuted to raze the forts of Taku aud those which might impede free communication between Peking and the sea. Steps have been taken for carrying this out.

Art. IX.-The Chinese Government conceded the right to the Powers in the Protocol annexed to the letter of the 16 th of Jannary, 1901, to occupy certain points, to be determined by an agreement between them for the maintenance of open communication between the capital and the sen. The points occupied by the Porers are:-Huang-ts'un, Lang-fang, Yang-ts'un, 'Tientsin, Chtin-liang-Ch'eng, Tong-ku, Lu-t'ai, Tong-shan, Lan-chou, Chang-li, Cl'in-wang Tao, Shauhai-kwan.

Art. X.-The Chinese Government has agreed to post and to have published during two years in all district cities the following Imperial Edicts:-
(a) Edict of the 1st of February, 1901 (Aunex No. 15) prohibiting for ever, under pain of death, membership in an anti-foreign society.
(b) Edicts of the 13th and 21st of February, 29th of April and 19th of August, 1901, enumerating the punishments inflicted on the guilty.
(c) Edict of the 19th of August, 1901, prohibiting examinations in all cities where foreigners were massacred or subjected to cruel treatment.
(d) Edict of the 1st of February, 1901 (Annex No. 16) declaring all Governors-general, Governors and Provincial or local officials responsible for order in their respective districts, and that in case of new anti-foreign troubles or other infractions of the Treaties which shall not be immediately repressed and the authors of which shall not have been punished, these officials shall be immediately dismissed without possibility of being given new functions or new honours.
The posting of these Edicts is being carried on throughout the Empire.
Art. XI.-The Chinese Government has agreed to negotiate the amendments deemed necessary by the Foreign Goveruments to the Treaties of Commerce and Navigation and the other subjects concerning commercial relations with the object of facilitating them.

At present, and as a result of the stipulation contained in Article VI concerning the indemuity, the Chinese Government agrees to assist in the improvement of the courses of the rivers Peiho and Whangpoo, as stated below.
(a) The works for the improvement of the mavigability of the Peiho, begun in 1898 with the co-nperation of the Chinese Government, have been resumed under the direction of an International Commission. As soon as the administration of Tientsin shall have been handed back to the Chinese Government it will be in a position to be represented on this Commission, and will pay each year a sum of 60,000 Haikwan Taels for maintaining the works.
(b) A Cunservancy Board, chargol with the management and control of the works for straighteuing the Whangpoo and the improvement of the course of that river, is hereby created.
This Board shall consist of members representing the interests of the Chinese Government and those of foreigners in the shipping trade of Shanghai.

The expenses incurred for the works and the general management of the undertaking are estimated at the annual sum of 460,000 Haikwan Taels for the first twenty years. This sum shall be supplied in equal portions by the Chinese Government and the foreign interests concerned. Detailed stipulations concerning the composition, duties and revenues of the Conservancy Board are embodied in Aunex No. 17.

Art. XII.-An Imperial Edict of the 24th of July, 1901 (Amnex No. 18) reformed the Office of Foreign Affairs, Tsungli Yamen, on the lines indicated by the Powers, that is to say, transformed it into a Ninistry of Foreign Affiirs, Wai Wu Pu, which takes precedence over the six other Ministries of State: the same Edict appointed the principal members of this Ministry.

An agreement has also been reached concerning the modification of Court Ceremonial as regards the reception of the Foreign Representatives, aud has been the subject of several notes from the Chinese Plenipotentiaries, the substance of which has been embodied in a memorandum herewith annexed. (Annex No. 19.)

Finally it is expressly understood that as regards the declarations specified above and the annexed documents originating with the Foreign Plenipotentiaries, the French Text only is authoritative.

The Chinese Government having thus complied to the satisfaction of the Powers with the conditions laid down in the above-mentioned Note of December 22nd, 1900, the Powers have agreed to accede to the wish of China to terminate the situation created by the disorders of the summer of 1900 . In consequence thereof the Foreign Plenipotentiaries are authorised to declare in the names of their Governments that, with the exception of the Legation guards mentioned in Article VII, the International troops will completely evacuate the city of Peking on the 17 th of September, 1901, and, with the exception of the localities mentioned in Article IX, will withdraw from the Province of Chihli on the 22 nd of September, 1901.

The present final protocol has been drawn up in twel ve identical copies and signed by all the Plenipotentiaries of the contracting countries. One copy shall be given to each of the Foreign Plenipotentiaries, and one copy shall be given to the Chinese Plenipotentiaries.

He shall, at the same time, deposit a writteu manifest of his cargo, setting forth the marks and numbers of the packages and their contents as they are described in the bills of lading, with the names of the persons to whom they are consigned. The master shall certify that this description is correct, and shall sign his name to the same. When a vessel has been duly entered, the Customs authorities will issue a permit to open hatches, which shall be exhibited to the Customs officer on board. Breaking bulk without having obtained such permission will render the master liable to a fine not exceeding oue hundred Mexican dollars.
2.-If any error is discovered in the manifest, it may be corrected within twentyfour hours (exclusive of Sundays and holidays) of its being handed in, without the payment of any fee, but for alteration or post entry to the manifest made after that time a fee of five Mexican dollars stall be paid.
3.--Any master who shall neglect to enter his vessel at the Corem Custom house within the time fixed by this Regulation shall pay a penalty not exceeding fifty Mexican dollars for every twenty-four hours that he shall so neglect to enter his slip.
4.-Any British vessel which remains in port for less than forty-eight hours (exclusive of Sundays and holidays) and does not open her hatches, also any vessel driven into port by stress of weather, or only in want of supplies, shall not be required to enter or pay tonage dues so long as such vessel does not engage in trade.
5.-When the master of a vessel wishes to clear, he shall hand in to the Customs authorities an export munifest contaning similar particulars to those given in the import manifest. The Customs authorities will then issue a clearance certificate and return the Consul's receipt for the ship's papers. These documents must be handed into the Consulate before the ship's papers are returned to the master.
6.-Should any ship leave the port without clearing outwards in the manner aloove prescribed, the master shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Mexican dollars.
7.-British steamers may enter and clear on the same day, and they shall not be required to hand in a manifest except for such goods as are to be lauded or transhipped at the port of entry.

II.-Landiug and Shipping Cargo and Payment of Duties

1.--The importer of any goods who desires to land them sball make and sign an application to that effect at the Custom house, stating his own name, the name of the ship in which the gools have been imported, the marks, numbers, and contents of the pac'rage; and their values, and declaring that this statement is correct. The Customs authorities may demand the production of the invoice of each consignuent of merchandise. If it is not produced, or if its absence is not satisfactorily accounted for, the owner shall be allowed to land his goods on payment of double the Tariff duty, but the surplus duty so levied shall be refunded on the production of the invoice.
2.-All goods so entered may be examined by the Customs officers of the places appointed for the purpose. Such examination shall be made without delay or injury to the merchandise, and the packares shall be at once resorted by the Customs authorities to their original condition, in so far as may be practicable.
3.-Should the Customs authorities consider the value of any goods paying an ad valorem duty as declared by the importer or exporter insufficient, they shall call upon him to pay duty on the value determined by an appraisenent to be made by the Customs appraiser. But should the importer or exporter le dissatistied with that appraisement, he shall within twenty-four hours (exclusive of Sundays and holidays) state his reasons for such dissatisfaction to the Commissioner of Customs, and shall appoint an appraiser of his own to make a re-appraisement. He shall then declare the valuc of the goods as determined by such re-appraisement. Tho Commissioner of Customs will thereupon, at his option, either assess the duty on the value determined by this re-appraisement, or will purchase the gcods from the importer or exporter at the price thus determined, with the addition of five per cent. In the latter case the purchase money shall be paid to the importer or exporter withiu five days from the date on which he bas declared tho value determined by his own appraiser.
4.-Upon all goods damared on the voyage of importation a fair reduction of duty shall be allowed, proportionate to their deterioration. If any disputes arise as to the amount of such reduction, they shall be settled in the manner pointed out in the preceding clause.
5.-All groods intended to be exportel shall be entered at the Corean Custom house before they are shipped. The application to ship shall be made in writing, and shall state the name of the vessel by which the goods are to be exported, the marks and number of the packages, and the quantity, description, and value of the contents. The exporter shall certify in writing that the application gives a true account of all the goods contained herein, and shall sion his name hereto.
6.-No goods shall be landed or shipped at other places than those fixed by the Corean Customs authoritics, or between the hours of sunset and sumrise, or on Sundays or holidays, without the special permission of the Customs authorities, who will be entitled to reasonable fees for the extra duty thus performed.

PROTOCOL

The above-named Plenipotentiaries hereby make and append to this Treaty the following three Declarations:-
I.-With reference to Article III. of the Treaty, it is hereby declared that the right of extra-territorial jurisdiction over British subjects in Corea cranted by this Treaty shall be relinquished when, in the judgment of the British Government, the laws and legal procedure of Corea shall have been so far modified and reformed as to remove the objections which now exist to British subjects being placed under Corean jurisdiction, and Corean Judges shall have attained similar legal qualifications and a similar independent position to those of British Judges.
II.-With reference to Article IV. of this Treaty, it is hereby declared that if the Chinese Government shall hereafter surrender the right of openin'r commercial establishments in the city of Hanyang, which was granted last year to Chinese subjects, the same right shall not be claimed for British suljects, pruvided that it be not granted by the Corean Government to the subjects of any other Power.

ILI.-It is hereby declared that the provisions of this Treaty shall apply to all British Colonics, unless any exception shall be notified by Her Majesty's Government to that of Corea within one year from the date on which the latifications of this Treaty shall be exchanged.

And it is hereby further stipulatel that this Protocol shall be laid before the High Contracting Parties simultaneously with this Treaty, and that the ratification of this Treaty shall include the confirmation of the above three declarations for which, therefore, no separate act of ratification will be required.

In faith of which the above-named Plenipotentiaries have this day signed this Protocol, and have hereto affixed their seals.

Done at Hanyang this twenty-sixth day of November, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-three corresponding to the twenty-seventh day of the tenth month of the four hundred and ninety-second year of the Corean era, being the ninth year of tho Chinese reign Kuang Hsü.

UNITED STATES

TREATY OF PEACE AND FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE KINGDOM OF COREA (CHOSEN)

Signed at Gensan, 22nd May, 1882Ratifications Exchanged at Hanyang, 19th May, 1883

Art. I.-There shall be perpetual peace and friendship between the President of the United States and the King of Chosen and the citizens and subjects of their respective Goveruments. If other Powers deal unjustly or oppressively with either government the other will exert their good offices, on being informed of the case, to bring about an amicable arrangenent, thus showing their friendly feelings.

Art. II.-After the conclusion of this treaty of amity and commerce the high contracting Powers may each appoint diplomatic representatives to reside at the Court of the other, and may euch appoint consular represertatives at the ports of the other which are open to foreign commerce, at their own convenience.

The officials shall have relations with the corresponding local authorities of equal rank upon a basis of mutual equality. The Diplomatic and Consular representatives of the two Governments shall receive mutually all the privileges, rights, and immunities, without discrimination, which are accorded to the same classes of representatives from the most faroured nations.

Consuls shall exercise their functions only on receipt of an exequatur from the Government to which they are accredited. Consular authorities shall be bona fide officials. No merchants shall lee permitted to exercise the duties of the office, nor shall consular officers be allowed to engage in trade.

At ports to which no consulnr representatives have been appointed the consuls. of other Powers may be invited to act, provided that no merchant shall be allowed to assume consular functions, or the provisions of this treaty may be, in such case, enforced by the local authorities.

If consular representatives of the United States in Chosen conduct their business in an improper manner their exequaturs may bo revoked, sulbject to the approval, previously obtained, of the diplomatic representative of the United States.

Art. 1II.-Whenever United States vessels, either because of weather or by wint of fuel or provisions, cannot reach the nearest open port in Chosen, they may enter any port or harbour either to take refuge therein or to get wood, coal, and other necessarics or to make repairs; the expenses incurred thereby being defrayed by the ship's master. In such event the officers and people of the locality shall display their sympathy by rendering full assistance, and their liberality by furnishing the necessities required.

If a United States vessel carries on a clandestiue trade at a port not open to foreign commerce, such vessel with her cargo shall be seized and confiscated.

If a United States ressel be wrecked on the const of Chosen, the coast authorities, on leing informed of the occurrence, shall immediately render assistance to the crew, provide for their present necessities, and tuke the measures necessary for the salvage of the ship and the preservation of the cargo. They shall also bring the matter to the knowledye of the nearest consular representative of the United States, in order that steps may be taken to send the crew home and save the ship and cargo. The necessary expenses shall be defrayed cither by the shin's master or by the United States.

Art. IV.-All citizens of the United States of America in Chosen, peaceably attending to their own affairs, shall receive and enjoy for themselves and everything appertaining to them the protection of the local anthorities of the Government of Chosen, who shall defend them from all insult and injury of any sort. If their dwelings or property be threatened or attacked by mols, incendiaries, or other violent or lawless persons, the local officers, on requisition of the Consul, shall immediately dispatch a military force to disperse the rioters, apprehend the guilty individuals, and punish them with the uinsost rigour of the law.

Subjects of Chosen, ruilty of any criminal act towards citizens of the United States, shall be punished by the authorities of Chosen according to the laws of Chosen ; and citizens of the United States, either on shore or in any merchant vessel, who may insult, tronble, or wound the persons or injure the property of the people of Chosen shall be arrested and punished only by the Consul or other publicfunctionary of the United States thereto authorized, according to the laws of the United States.

When controversies arise in the kingdom of Chosen, between citizens of the United States and subjects of His Majesty, which need to be examined and decided by the public officers of the two nations, it is agreed between the two governments of the United States and Chosen that such case shall be tried by the proper official of the nationality of the defendant according to the law of that nation. The properly authorized official of the plaintiff's nationality shall be freely permitted to attend the trial and shall be treated with the courtesy due to his position. He shall be granted all proper facilities for watching the proceedings in the interests of justice. If he so desire he shall have the right to be present, to examine and cross-examine witnesses. If he is dissatisfied with the proceedings he shall be permitted to protest against them in detail.

It is, however, mutually agreed and understood between the high contracting Powers that whenever the King of Chosen shall have so far modified and reformed the statutes and the judicial procedure of his kingdom that, in the judgment of the United States, they conform to the laws and course of justice in the United States, the right of exterritorial jurisdiction over United States citizens in Chosen shall beabandoned, and thereafter United States citizens, when within the limits of the kingdom of Chosen, sball be subject to the jurisdiction of the native authorities.

Art. V.-Merchants and merchant vessels of Chosen visiting the United States for the purpose of traffic shall pay duties and tomage dues and fees according to the customis regulations of the United States, but no higher or other rates of duties and tonnage dues shall be exacted of them than are levied upon citizens of the United: States or upon citizens or sulbjects of the most favoured nation.

Merchants and merchant vessels of the United States visiting Chosen for purposes of traffic shall pay duties upon all merchandise imported and exported. The authority to levy duties is of right vested in the Government of Chosen. 'The tariff of duties upon exports and imports, together with the customs regulations for the prevention of smuggling and other irregularities, will be fixed by the authorities of Chosen and communicated to the proper officials of the United States, to be by the latter notified to their citizens and duly observed.

It is, however, agreed in the first instance, as a general measure, that the tariff upon such imports as are articles of daily use shall not excecd an ad valorem duty of ten per cent.; that the tarift upon such imports as are luxuries-as for instance foreign wines, foreign tobacco, clocks and watches-shall not exceed an ad valorem duty of thirty per cent., and that native produce exported shall pay a duty not to exceed five per cent. ad valorem. And it is further agreed that the duty upon forcign imports shall be paid once for all at the port of entry, and that no other ducs, duties, fees, taxes, or charges of any sort shall be levied upon such imports either in the interior of Chosen or at the ports.

United States merchant vessels entering the ports of Chosen shall pay tonnage dues at the rate of five mace per ton, payable once in three months on eich vessel, according to the Chinese calendar.

Art. VI.-Subjects of Chosen who may visit the United States shall be permitted to reside and to rent premises, purchase land, or to construct residences or warehouses in all parts of the country. They shall be freely permitted to pursue their various callings and avocations, and to traffic in all merchandise, raw and manufactured, that is not declared contraband by law. Citizens of the United States who may resort to the ports of Chosen which are open to foreigu commerce shall be permitted to reside at such open ports within the limits of the concession and to lease buildings or land, or to construct residences or marehouses therein They shall be freely permitted to pursue their various callings and avocations within the limits of the ports and to traffic in all merchandise, raw and manufactured, that is not declared contraband by law.

No coercion or intimidation in the acquisition of land or buildings shall be permitted, and the land rent as fixed by the authorities of Chosen shall be paid. And it is expressly agreed that land so acquired in the open ports of Chosen still remains an integral part of the kingdom, and that all rights of jurisdiction over persons and property within such areas remain vested in the anthorities of Chosen, except in so far as such rights have been expressly relinquished by this treaty.

American citizens are not permitted either to transport foreign imports to the interior for sala or to proceed thither to purchase native produce, nor are they permitted to transport native produce from one open port to another open cort.

Violation of this rule will subject such merchandise to confiscation, and the merchants offending will be handed over to the consular authorities to be dealt with.

Art. VII.-The Governments of the United States and of Chosen mutually agree and undertake that subjects of Chosen shall not be permitted to import opium into any of the ports of the United States, and citizens of the United States shall not be permitted to import opium into any of the open ports of Chosen, to transport it from one open port to another open port, or traffic in it in Chosen. This absolute prohibition, which extends to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either Power, to fareign vessels employed by them, and to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either Power and employed by other persons for the transportation of opium, shall be enforced by appropriate legislation on the part of the United States ard of Chosen, and offenders against it shall be severely punished.

Art. VII.- Whenever the Government of Chosen shall have reason to apprehend a scarcity of food within the limits of the kingdom, His Majesty way by decree temporarily prohibit the export of all breadstuffs, and such decree shall be binding upon all citizens of the United States in Chosen upon due notice having been given them by the authorities of Chosen through the proper officers of the United States; but it is to be understood that the exportation of rice and breadstuffs of every description is prohibited from the open port of Yin-Chuen.

Chosen having of old prohibited the exportation of red ginseng, if citizens of the United States clandestinely purchase it for export it shall be confiscated and the offenders punished.

Art. IX.-Purchase of cannon, small arms, swords, gunpowder, sliot, and all munitions of war is permitted only to officials of the Government of Chosen, and they may be imported by citizens of the United States only under written permit from the authorities of Chosen. If these articles are clandestinely imported they shall be confiscated and tlie offending party shall be punished.

Art. X.-The officers and people of either nation residing in the other shall have the right to employ natives for all kinds of lawful work.

Should, however, subjects of Chosen, guilty of violation of the laws of the kingdom, or against whom any action has been brought, conceal themselves in the residences or warehouses of United States citizens or on board United States merchant yessels, the Consular authorities of the United States, on being notified of the fact by the local authorities, will either permit the latter to despatch constables to make the arrests, or the persons will be arrested by the Consular authorities and handed over to the local constables.

Officials or citizens of the United States shall not harbour such persons.
Art. XI.-Students of either nationality who may proceed to the country of the other in order to study the language, literature, laws, or arts, shall be given all possible protection and assistance, in evidence of cordial goodwill.

Art. XII.-This being the first treaty negotiated hy Chosen, and hence being general and incomplete in its provisions, shall, in the first instance, be put into operation in all things stipulated herein. As to stipulations not contained herein, after an interval of five years, when the officers and people of the two Powers shall have become more familiar with each other's language, a further negotiation of commercial provisions and regulations in detail, in conformity with international law and without unequal discriminations on either part, shall be had.

Art. XIII.-This Treaty and future official correspondence between the two contracting governments shall be made on the part of Chosen in the Chinese language.

The United States shall either use the Chinese language, or if English be used it sball be accompanied with a Chinese version in order to avoid misunderstanding.

Art. XIV.-The high contracting Powers hereby agree that should at any time the King of Chosen grant to any nation or to the merchants or citizens of any nation any right, privilege, or favour connected either with napigntion, commerce, political or other intercourse, which is not conferred by this treaty, such right, privilege, and favour shall freely enure to the benefit of the United States, its public officers, merchants, and citizens ; provided always, that whenever such right, privilege, or favour is accompanied by any condition or equivalent concession granted by the other nation interested, the United States, its officers and people, shall only be entitled to the benefit of such right, privilege, or favour upon complying with the conditions or concessions connected therewith.

In faith whereof the respective Cowmissioners Plenipotentiary have signed and sealed the foregoing at Yin-Chuen, in English and Chinese, being three originals of each text of even tenor and date, the ratifications of which shall be exchanged at Fin-Chuen within one year from the date of its execution, and immediately hereafter* this treaty shall be, in all its provisions, publicly proclaimed and made known by both govermments in their respective countries in order that it may bo obeyed by their citizens and subjects respectively.

Treaty uf peace and friend ship between the empire of JAPAN AND THE KINGDOM OF COREA (CHOSEN)

Síned at Kokwa, 26th Febrdary. 1876
The Governments of Japan and Chosen being desirous to resume the amicable relations that of yore existed between them and to promote the friendly feelings of both mations to a still firmer basis have, for this purpose, appointed their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say :-'The Government of Japan, Kuroda Kiyotaka, High Commissioner Extraordinary to Chosen, Lieutenant-General and Member of the Privy Council, Minister of the Colonization Department, and Inouye Kaoru, Associate High Commissioner Extraordinary to Chosen, Member of the Genro In ; and the Government of Chosen, Shin Ken, Han-Choo-Su-Fu, and In-Jishó, Fu-So-Fu, Fuku-sô-Kwan, who, according to the powers received from their respective Governments, have agreod upon and concluded the following Articles:-

Art. I.-Chosen being an independent state enjoys the same sovereign rights as does Japan.

In order to prove the sincerity of the friendship existing between the tro nations, their intercourse shall henceforward be carried on in terms of equality and courtesy, each aroiding the giving of offence by arrogance or manifestations of suspicion.

In the first instance, all rules and precedents that are apt to obstruct friendly intercourse shall be totally abrogated, and, in their stead, rules, liberal and in general usage fit to secure a firm and perpetual peace, shall be established.

Art. II.-'Lhe Government of Japan, at any time within fifteen months frow the date of signature of this Treaty, shall have the right to send an Enroy to the Capital of Chosen, where he shall be admitted to confer with the Rei-sohan-sho on matters of a diplomatic nature. He may either reside at the capital or return to his country on the completion of his mission.

The Government of Chosen in like manner shall have the right to send an Envoy to Tokyo, Japan, where he shall be admitted to confer with the Minister for Foreign Affairs on matters of a diplomatic nature. He may either reside at Tokyo or return home on the completion of his mission.

Art. III.-All official communications addressed by the Government of Japan to that of Chosen shall be written in the Japanese language, and for a period of ten years from the present date they shall be accompanied by a Chinese translation. The Government of Chosen will use the Chinese language.

Art. IV.-Sorio in Fusan, Chosen, where an ofticial establishment of Japan is situated, is a place originally opened for commercial intercourse with Japan, and trade shall henceforward be carried on at that place in accordance with the provisions of this Treaty, whereby are abolished all former usages, such as the practice of Sai-ken-sen (junk annually sent to Chosen by the late Prince of Tsushima to exchange a certain quantity of articles between each other).

In addition to the above place, the Government of Chosen agrees to open two ports, as mentioned in Article V. of this Treaty, for commercial intercourse with Japanese suljjects.

In the foregoing places Japanese subjects shall be free to lease land and to erect buildings thereon, and to rent buildings the property of subjects of Chosen.

Art. V.-On the coast of five provinces, viz:-Keikin, Chiusei, Jenra Kensho, and Kankio, two ports, suitable for commercial purposes, shall be selected, and the time for opening these two ports shall be in the twentieth month from the second montis of the ninth year of Meiji, corresponding with the date of Chosen, the first moon of the year Hei-shi.

Art. VI.-Whenever Japanese vessels either by stress of weather or by want of fuel and provisions cannot reach one or the other of the open ports in Chosen, they may enter any ports or harbour either to take refuge therein, or to get supplies of wood, coal, and other necessaries, or to make repairs; the expenses incurred thereby are to be defrayed by the ship's master. In such events both the officers and the people of the locality shall display their sympathy by rendering full assistance, and their liberality in supplying the necessaries required.

If any vessel of either country be at any time wreckel or stranded on the coasts of Japan or of Chosen, the people of the vicinity shall immediately use every exertion to rescue her crew, and shall inform the local authorities of the disaster, who will either send the wrecked persons to their native country or hand them over to the officer of their country residing at the nearest port.

Art. VII.-The coasts of Chosen, having hitherto bien left unsurveyed, are very dangerous for vessels approaching them, and in order to prepare charts showing the positions of islands, rocks, and reefs, as well as the depth of water, wherchy all navigators may be enabled safely to pass between the two comntries, any Japanese mariners may freely survey said coasts.

Art. VIlI.-There shall be appointed by the Goverument of Japan an officer to reside at the open ports in Chosen for the protection of Japanese merchauts resorting. there, provided that such arrangement be deemed necessary. Should any question interesting both mations arise, the said officer shall confer with the local authoritiesof Chosen and settle it.

Art. IX.-Friendly relations haring been established between the two contracting parties, their respective subjects may freely carry on their business without any interference from the officers of either Government, and neither limitation nor prohibition shall be made on trale.

In case any fraud be committed, or payment of debt be refused by any merchant of either country, the officer of either one or of the other Government shall do their utmost to bring the delinquent to justice aud to enforce recovery of the debt.

Neither tie Japanese nor the Chosen Government shall be held responsible for the payment of such debt.

Ait. X.-Should a Japanese subject residing at either of the open ports of Chosen commit any offence against a subject of Chosen, he shall be tried by the Japanese authorities, Should a sulject of Chosen commit any offence against a Japanese sulject, he shall be tried by the authorities of Chosen. The offenders sball be punished according to the laws of their respective countries. Justice shall be equitably and impartially administered on both sides.

Art. XI.-Friendly relations having been established between the two contracting parties, it is necessury to prescribe trade relations for the benefit of the merchants of the respective countries.

Such trade regulations, together with detailed provisions, to be added to the Articles of the present Treaty, to develop its meaning, and facilitate its observance, shall be agreed upon at the capital of Chosen or at Kokwa Fu in the country, within six months from the present date, by Special Commissioners appointed by the two countries.

Art. XII.-The foregoing eleven articles are linding from the date of the signing hereof, and shall be obscrved by the two contracting parties, faithfully and invariably, whereby perpetual friendship shall be secured to the two comntries.

The present Treaty is executed in duplicate and coplies will be exchanged between the two contracting parties.

RUSSO-JAPANESE AGREEMEN'I REGARDING COREA

AGREEMENT AS TO COREA

Protocol

[Translation]

The Secretary of State, Prince Lobanow Rostovsky, Minister of Foreign Affairs for Russia, and the Marshal Marquis Yamagata, Ambassador Extraerdinary of his Majesty the Emperor of Japan, having exchanged views on the situation of Corea, have concluded the following articles :-

Art. I.-The Russian and Japanese Governments, with the view of remedying the finaucial embarrassment of Corea, will advise the Corean Government to suppress all useless expenditure and to establish an equilibriun between the expenses and the revenue. If, as the result of admittedly indispensable reforms, it should become necessary to have recourse to foreign loans, the two Governments will lend by mutual accord their assistance to Corea.

Art. II.-The Russian and Japanese Governments will endeavour to leave to Corea, as soon as the financial and economical situation of that country will permit them to do so, the creation and maintenance of an armed force and of a native police in sufficient proportions to maintain internal order without foreign aid.

Art. III.-With the view of facilitating communications with Corea the Japanese Government will continue to administer the telegraph lines, which are at the present moment in its hands. Russia reserves the right to establish a telegraph line from Seoul to her own fronter. The different lines may be bought back by the Corean Government as soou as it has the means of doing so.

Art. IV.-In the event of any of the principles herein set forth requiring a more precise and more detailed definition, or if other points should raise on which it would be necessary for the two Governments of agree, their representatives shall be charged to consider the matter in a friendly sense.

Done at Moscow, May 28th (June 9th), 1896,

> Lobanow. Yamagata.

The following Memorandum, drawn up in Euglish, is attached to the Moscow Convention :-

Memorandum.

The Representatives of Russia and Japan at Seoul, having conferred under the identical instructions from their respective Governments, have arrived at the following conclusions:

Art. I.-While leaving the matter of his Majesty the King of Corea's return to the palace contirely to his own discretion and judgment, the Representatives of Russia and Japan will friendly advise his Majesty to return to that place, when no doubts enncerning his safety could be entertained.

The Japanese Represeutative on his part gives the assurance that the most complete and effective ineasures will be taken for the coutrol of Japanese soshi.

Art. II.-The present Cabinet Ministers have been appointed by his Majesty from his own free will, and most of them held Ministerial or other high offices during the last two years, and are known to be liberal and moderate men. The two Representatives will always aim at recommending to his Majesty to appoint liberal and moderate men as Ministers and to show clemency to his subjects.

Art.III. - Tiue Representative of Russia quite agrees with the Representative of Japan that at the present stato of affairs in Corea it may be necessary to have Japanese guards stationed at some places for the protection of the Japanese telegraph line between Fusan and Seoul, and that these guards, now consisting of three companies of soldiers, should be withdrawn as soon as possible and replaced by gendarmes, who will be distributed as follows:-Fifty men at Taiku, fifty men at Kaheung, and ten men each at ten intermediate posts between Fusan and Seoul. This distribution may be liable to some changes, but the total number of the gendarmes force shall never exceed 200 men , who will after xards gradually be withdrawn from such places where peace and order have been restored by the Corean Government.

Art. IV.-For the protection of the Japanese settlements at Scoul and the open ports against possible attacks by the Corean populace two companies of Japanese troops may be stationed at Seoul, one company at Fusan and one at Gensan, each company not to exceed 200 men . These troops will be quartered near the settlements, and shall be withdrawn as soon as no apprehensions of such attack could beentertained.

For the protection of the Russian Legation and Consulates the Russian Government may also keep guards not exceeding the number of Japanese troops at those places, and which will be withdrawn as soon as tranquillity in the interior is completely restored.

Seoul, May 14th, 1896.

RUSSO-JAPANESE AGREEMENT REGARDING COREA

PROTOCOL

Baron Rosen, State Councillor, Chamberlain, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Emperor of Russia, and Baron Nissi, Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Emperor of Japan, in order to give effect to Article IV. of the Protocol signed at Moscow on June 9, 1896, between Prince Lobanoff and the Marquis Yamagata, being duly authorised to that effect, have agreed to the following Articles:-

Art. I.-The Imperial Governments of Russia and Japan recognise defivitely the Sovereignty and entire independence of Corea, and pledge themselves mutually to abstain from all direct interference in the internal affairs of that country.

Art. II.-Desiring to remove all possible cause of misunderstanding in the future, the Imperial Governments of Russia and Japan pledge themselves mutually-, in the event of Corea having recourse to the advice and assistance either of Russia. or of Japan, to take no measure in respect to the appointment of Military Instructors or Financial Advisers without arriving beforehand at a mutual agreement on this subject.

Art. III.-In view of the wide development taken by the commercial and industrial enterprise of Japan in Corea, as well as the large number of Japanesc subjects residing in that country, the Russian Govermment will not hinder in any way the development of commercial and industrial relations between Japan and Corea.

GREAT BRITAIN

TREATY OF COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION BETIVEEN great britain and Japan

Signed at London, 16th July, 1894 Ratifications Exchanged at Tokyo, 25th August, 1894

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of Iudia, and His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, being equally desirous of maintaining the relations of good understanding which happily exist between them, by extending and increasing the intercourse between their respective States, and being convinced that this object cannot better be accomplished than by revising the Treaties hitherto existing between the two countries, have resolved to complete such a revision, based upon principles of equity and mutual benefit, and, for that purnose, have named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:-

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India, the Right Honourable John, Earl of Kimberley, Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, dic., dc., Her Britannic Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs;

And His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, Viscount Aoki Siuzo, Junii, First Class of the Imperial Order of the Sacred Treasure, His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of St. James';

Who, after having communicated to each other their Full Powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:-

Article I. -The subjects of each of the two High Contracting Parties shall have full liberty to enter, travel, or reside in any part of the dominions and possessions of the other Contracting Party, and shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property.

They shall have free and easy access to the Courts of Justice in pursuit and defence of their rights; they shall be at liberty equally with native subjects to choose and employ lawyers, advocates, and representatives to pursue and defend their rights before such Courts, and in all other matters connected with the administration of justice they shall enjoy all the rights and privileges enjoged by native subjects.

In whatever relates to rights of residence and travel ; to the possession of goods and effects of any kind; to the succession to personal estate, by will or otherwise, and the disposal of property of any sort in any manner whatsoever which they may lawfully acquire, the subjects of each Contracting Party shall enjoy in the dominions and possessions of the other the same privileges, liberties, and rights, and shall be subject to no higher imposts, or charges in these respects than native subjects, or subjects or citizens of the most favoured nation. The subjects of each of the Contracting Parties shall enjoy in the dominions and possessions of the other entire liberty of conscience, and, subject to the Law, Ordinances, and Regulations, shall enjoy the right of private or public exercise of their worship, and also the right of burying their respective countrymen, according to their religious customs, in such suitable and convenient places as may be established and maintained for that purpose.

They shall not be compelled, under any pretext whatsoever, to pay any charges or taxes other or higher than those that are, or may be, paid by native subjects, or subjects or citizens of the most favoured nation.

Article II.-The subjects of either of the Contracting Parties residing in the dominions and possessions of the other shall be exempted from all compulsory military service whatsoever, whether in the army, navy, National Guards, or militia; from all contributions imposed in lieu of personal service; and from all forced loans. or uilitary exactions or contributions.

Article III.-There shall be reciprocal freedom of commerce and navigation between the dominions and possessions of the two High Contracting Parties.

The sulbjects of each of the High Contracting Parties may trade in any part of the dominions and possessions of the other hy wholesale or retail in all kinds of produce, manufactures, and merchandize of lawful commerce, either in person or by agents, singly, or in partnerships with foreigners or native subjects: and they may there own or hire and occupy the houses, manufactorics, warehouses, shops, and premises which may be necessary for them, and lease land for residential and commercial purposes, conforming themselves to the Laws, Pulice, and Customs Regulations of the country like native subjects.

They shall have liberty to come with their sbips and cargoes to all places, ports, and rivers in the dominions and possessions of the other which are or may be opened to foreign commerce, and shall enjoy, respectively, the same treatment, in matters of commerce and navigation, as native subjects, or subjects or citizens of the most farourcd nation, without having to pay taxes, imposts, or duties, "f whaterernature or under whatever denomination levied in the name or for the profit of the Gorermment, pullic functionaries, private individuals, corporations, or establishsments of any kiud, other or greater than those paid by native sulbjects, or suljects or citizens of the most faroured nation, subject always to the Laws, Ordinances, and Regulations of each country.

Article IV.-The dwellings, manufactories, warehouses, and shops of the subjects of each of the High Contracting Parties in the dominions and possession of the other, and all premises appertaining thereto destined for purposes of residence or commerce, shall be respected.

It shall not be allowable to proceed to make a search of, or a domiciliary visit to, such dwellings and premises, or to examine or inspect books, papers, or accounts except under the conditions and with the forms prescribed by the Laws, Ordiranens, and Regulations for subjects of the country.

Article V.-No other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty of any article, the prorluce or manufacture of dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, from whatever place arriving; and no other or higher duties small be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan of any article, the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, from whatever place arriving than on the like article produced or manufictured in any other foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be waintained or imposed on the importation of any article, the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of either of the High Contracting Parties, ints the dominions and possessions of the other, from whatever place arriving, which shall not equally extend to the importation of the like article, being the produce or mannfacture of any other country. This last provision is not applicahlo to the sanitary and other prohibitions occasioned by the necessity of protecting the safety of persons, or of cattle, or of plants useful to agriculture.

Article VI.-No other or bigher duties or charges shall lje imposed in the dominious and possessions of either of the Higl Contracting Parties on the exportation of any article ts the dominions and possessions of the other than such as are, or may be, payable on the exportation of the like article to any other foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be imposed on the expertation of any article from the dominions and possessions of either of the two Contracting Parties to the dominions and possessions of the other which shall not equally extend to the exportation of the like article to any other country.

Article VII.-The subjects of each of the High Contracting Parties shall enjoy in the dominions and possessions of the other exemptions from all transit duties and a perfect equality of treatment with native subjects in all that relates to warehousing, kounties, furilitie:, and drawbacks.

Article VIII.-All artic'es which are or may be legally imported into the ports of the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan in Japanese resse's may likewise be imported into those ports in British ressels, without being liable to auy other or higher duties or charges of whatever denomination than if such articles were imported in Japanese vessels; and reciprocally, all articles which are or may be legally imported into the ports of the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty in British vessals may likewise be imported into those ports in Japanese vesssels, without being liable to any other or higher duties or charges of whatever denomination than if sucl articles were imported in British vessels. Such reciprocal equality of treatment shall take effect without distinction, whether such articles come directly from the place of origin or from any other places.

In the same manner there shall be perfect equality of treatment in resard to exportation, so that the same export duties shall be paid and the same bounties and drawbacks allowed in the dominions and possessions of either of the High Contracting Parties on the exportation of any article which is or may be legally exported therefrom, whether such exportation shall take place in Japanese or in Britis'l vessels, and whatever may be the place of destination, whether a port of either of the Contracting Parties or of any third Power.

Article IX.-No duties of tomnage, harbour, pilotage, lighthouse, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties of whatever nature or under whatever denomination, levied in the name or for the profits of the Goverument, public functionaries, private individuals, corporations, or establishments of any kind, shall be imposed in the ports of the dominions and possessions of either country upon the vessels of the other country which shall not equally and under the same conditions be imposed in the like cases on national vessels in general, or vessels of the most favoured nation. Such equality of trentment shall apuly reciprocally to the respective ressels, from whatever port or place they may arrive, and whatever may le their place of destination.

Article X.-In all that regards the stationing, loading, and unloading of vessels in the ports, basins, docks, roadsteads, harbours, or rivers of the dominions and possessions of the two comitries, no privilege shall lee granted to national ressels which shall not be equally granted to vessels of the other country; the intention of the High Contracting Parties being that in this respect also the respective vessels shall be treated on the footing of perfect equality.

Article XI.-The coasting trade of both the High Contracting Parties is excepted from the provisions of the present Treaty, and shall be regulated according to the Laws, Ordinances, and Regulations of Japan and of Great Britain respectively. It is, however, understood that Japanese subjects in the dominions and possessions of Her Britamic Majesty, and British subjects in the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, shall enjoy in this respect the rights which are or may be granted under such Laws, Ordinances, and Regulations to the sulyjects or citizens of any other country,

A Japanese vessel laden in a foreign country with cargo destined for two or more ports in the dominions and posscssions of Her Britannic Majesty, and a British vessel laden in a foreign country with cargo destined for two or more ports in the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, may discharge a portion of her cargo at one port, and cuntinue her voyage to the other port or ports of destination where foreign trade is pernitted, for the purpose of landing the remainder of her original cargo there, subject always to the Laws and Custom House Regulations of the two countries.

The Japanese Government, however, agrees to allow British vessels to continue, as heretofore, for the period of the duration of the present Treaty, to carry cargs between the existing open ports of the Empire, excepting to or from the ports of Osaka, Niigata, and Elbisn-minato.

Article XII.-Any ship of war o: merchant vessel of either of the High Contracting Parties which may be compelled by stress of weather, or liy reason of any other dintress, to take shelter in a port of the other, shall be at liberty to refit therein, to procure all necessary supp!ies, and to put to sea again, without paying any dues other than such as would be payable by national vessels. In case, however, the master of a merchant vessel should be under the necessity of disposing of a part of his cargo in order to defray the expenses, he shall be bound to conform to the Regulations and Tariffs of the place to which he may have come.

If any ship of war or merchant vessel of one of the Contracting Parties should run arround or be wrecked upon the coast of the other, the local authorities shall juform the Consul-General, Consul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent of the district of the occurrence, or if there be no such Consular officer, they shall inform the Consul-General, Cousul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent of the nearest district.

All proceedings relative to the salvage of Japanese vessels wrecked or cast on shore in the territorial waters of Her Britamic Majesty shall take place in accordance with the Laws, Ordinances, and Regulations of Great Britain, and, reciprocally, all measures of salvage relative to British vissels wreckel or cast on shore in the territorial waters of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan shall take place in accordance witl the Laws, Ordinances, and Regulations of Japan.

Such strand $\pm$ or wrecked ship or vessel, and all parts thereof, and all furniture, and appurtenances belonging thereunto, and all goods and merchandise saved therefrom, including those which may have been cast into the sea, or the proceeds thereof, if sold, as well as all papers found on board such stranded or wrecked ship or vessel, shall b: given up to the owners or their agents, when claimed by them. If such owners or agents are not on the spot, the same shall be delivered to the respective Consuls-Genaral, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, or Consular Agents upon beiner claimed by them within the period fixed by the laws of the country, and such Consular officers, owners, or agents shall pay only tise expenses incurred in the preservation of the property, together with the salvagr or other expenses which would have been payable in the case of a wreck of a national vessel.

The goods and merchandise saved from the wreck shall be exempt from all the duties of Customs unless cleared for consumption, in which case they shall pay the ordinary duties.

When a ship or vessel belonging to the subjects of one of the Contracting Parties is stranded or wrecked in the territories of the other, the respective ConsulsGeneral, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall be authorized, in case the owner or master, or other agent of the owner, is not present, to lend their official assistance in order to afford the necessary assistance to the subjects of the respective states. The same rule shall apply in case the owner, master, or other agent is present, hut requires such assistance to be given.

Article XIII.-All vessels which, according to Japanese law, are to be deemed Japanese vessels, an all vessels which, according to British law, are to be deemed British vessels, shall, for the purposes of this Treaty, be cleemed Japanesa and British vessels respectively.

Article XIV.-The Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents of each of the Contracting Parties, residing in the dominions and possessions of the other, shall receive from the local authorities such assistance as can by law be given to them for the recovery of deserters from the vessels of their respective countries.

It is understood that this stipulation shall not apply to the subjects of the country where the desertion takes place.

Article XV.-The High Contracting Parties agree that, in all that concerns commerce and navigation, any privilege, favour, or immunity which either Contracting Party has actually granted, or may hereafter grant to the Goverament, ships, subjects, or citizens of any other State, shall be extended immediately and unconditionally to the Government, ships, subjects, or citizens of the other Contracting Party, it being their intention that the trade and navigation of each country shall be placed, in all respects, by the other on the footing of the most favoured uation.

Article XVI.-Eash of the High Contracting Parties may appoint CoasulsGen ral, Consuls, Vico-Consuls, Pro-Consuls, and Consular Agents in all the ports, cities, and places of the other, except in those where it may not be convenient to recognize such officers.

This exception, however, shall not be made in regard to one of the Contracting Parties without being made likewise in regard to every other Power.

The Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, Pro-Consuls, and Consular Agents may exercise all functions, and shall enjoy all privileges, exemptions, and immunities which are or may hereafter be granted to Consular officers of the most favoured uation.

Article XVII.-The subjects of each of the High Contracting Parties shall enjoy in the dominions and possessions of the other the same protection as native subjects in regard to patents, trade marks, and desigus, upon fulfilment of the formalities prescribed by law.

Article XVIII.-Her Britannic Majesty's Government, so far as they are concerued, give their consent to the following arrangement:--

The several foreign Settlements in Japan shall be incorporated with the respective Japanese Communes, and shall thenceforth form part of the general munieipal system of Japan.

The competent Japanese authorities shall thereupon assume all municipal obligations and duties in respect thereof, and the common fuuds and property, if any, belonging to such Settlements, shall at the same time be transferred to the said Japanese authorities.

When such incorporation takes place existing leases in perpetuity muder which property is now held in tho said Settlements shall be confirmed, and no conditions whatsoever other than those contained in such existing leases shall be imposed in respect of such property. It is, however, understood tbat the Cousular authorities mentioned in the same are in all cases to be replaced by the Japanese anthorities.

All lands which may previously have been granted by the Japaucse Government free of rent fur the public purposes of the said Settlements shall, subject to the right of eminent domain, be permanently reserved free of all taxes and charges for the public purposes for wheh they were originally set apart.

Article XIX.-The stipulations of the present Treaty slall be applicable, so far as the laws permit, to all the Colonies and foreign pissessions of Her Britannic Majesty, excepting to those hereinafter named, that is to sy, except to-

Protocol
The Government of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India and the Government of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, deeming it advisable in the interests of both countries to regulate certain special matters of mutual concern, apart from the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation signed this day have, through their respective Plenipotentiaries, agreed upon the following stipulations :-
1.-It is agreed by the Contracting Parties that one month after the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation signed this day, the Import Tariff hereunto annexed shall, subject to the provisions of Article XXİII. of the Treaty of 1858 at present subsisting between the Contracting Parties, as long as the said Treaty remains in force and thereafter, subject to the provisions of Articles V. and XV. of the Treaty signed this day, be applicalble to the articles therein cr.umerated, being the growth, pruduce, or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, upon importation into Japan. But nothing contained in this Protocol, or the fariff hereunto amnexed, shall be held to liwit or qualify the right of the Japanese Government to restrict or to prohibit the importation of adulterated drugs, medicines, food, or beverages, indecent or obscene prints, paintings, books, cards, lithographic or other engravings, photographs, or any other indecent or obscene articles; articles in violation of pat:nt, trade-mark, or copy-right laws of Japan, or any other article which for sanitary reasons, or in view of public security or morals, might offer any danger.

The ad valorem duties established by the said Tariff shall, so far as may be deemed prasticable, be converted into specific duties by a supplementary Convention, which shall be concluded letween the two Goveruments withiu six months from the date of this Protocol; the mediun prices, as shown by the Japanese Customs Returns during the six calendar months preceding the date of the present Protocol, with the addition of the cost of insurance and transportation from the place of purchase, production or fabrication, to the port of discharge, as well as commission, if any, shall be taken as the basis for such conversion, In the event of the Supplementary Convention not having come into force at the expiration of the period for the said Tariff to take effect, ad valorem duties in conformity with the rule recited at the end of the said 'lariff shall, in the meantime, be levied.

In respect of articles not enumerated in the said Tariff, the General Statutory Tariff of Japan for the time being in force shall, from the same time, apply, subject, as aforesaid, to the provisions of Article XXIII. of the Treaty of 1858 and Articles V. and XV. of the 'l'reaty signed this day respectively.

From the date the Tarifis aforesaid take effect, the Import tariff now in operation in Japan in respect of goods and merchandise imported into Japan by British subjects shall cease to be binding.

In all other respects the stipulations of the existing Treaties and Conventions slall be maintained meonditionally until the time when the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation signed this day comes into force.
2.-The Japanese Government, pending the opening of the country to British subjects, agrecs to extend the existing passport system in such a mamner as to allow British subjects, on the production of a certificate of recommendation from the British Representative in Tokyo, or from any of Her Majesty's Consuls at the open ports in Japan, to obtain upon application passports available for any part of the country, and for any period not exceeding twelve months, from the Imperial Japanese Foreign Office in Tokyo, or from the chief authorities in the Prefecture in which an open port is situated; it being understood that the existing Rules and Regulations governing British subjects who visit the interior of the Empire are to be maintained.
3.-The Japanese Government undertakes, before the cessation of British Consular jurisdiction in Japan, to join the International Conventions for the Protection of Industrial Property and Copyright.
4.- It is understood between the two High Coutracting Parties that, if Japan thinks it necessary at any time to levy au additional duty on the production or manufacture of refined sugar in Japan, an iucreased customs duty equivalent in amount may be levied on British refined sugar when imported into Japan, so long as such additional excise tax or inland duty continues to be raised.

Provided always that British refined sugar shall in this respect be entitled to the treatment accorded to refined sugar being the produce or manufacture of the most favoured nation.
5.- The undersigned Plenipotentiaries have agreed that this Protocol shall be submitted to the two High Contracting Parties at the same time as the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation signed this day, and that when the said Treaty is ratified the agreements contained in the Protocol shall also equally be considered as approved, without the necessity of a further formal ratification.

It is agreed that this Protocol shall terminate at the same time the sail Treaty ceases to be binding.

In witness wherenf the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

Done at London, in duplicate, this sixteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

THE CUSTOMS TARIFF OF JAPAN

In pursuance of Article III. of the Japanese Customs Tariff Law, the Customs Tariff for Japan has been revised in respect of those articles of import into the Japanese Empire, the rates of Customs duties on which are not fixed by the Commercial Treaties concluded by Japan with the various Powers. The revised Tariff came into force on the 1st April, 1903, and in view of the very considerable number of alterations which have been made, it has been thought desirable to publish the whole of the Customs Tariff of Japan as it now exists, including, that is, not ouly the articles and rates of duty covered by the Revision Ordinance, but also those covered by the treaties referred to above, to which the Ordinance did uot apply.

IMPERIAL ODRINANCE No. 385

Art. I.-When the Conventional Tariffs come into force, goods imported into the Empire shall be accompanied by a certificate verifying the place of origin.

Art. II.-On the certificate of the place of origin shall be given the mark, number, and class, the number of packages, quantity or weight of the goods, the name of the place of manufacture or production, the port and date of shipments. The certificate must be endorsed by the Japanese Consul or Commercial Agent at the port of shipment (or, at ports where there is no consulate, by the Customs or other authorities concerned). The certificate shall be valid for one year from its date.

Art. III.-In cases where the goods are not accoupanied by a certificate of the place of origin, or if the particulars in a certificate are incomplete or do not correspond with the goods themselves, or if the certificate is considered improper by the customs authorities, the duty will be imposed on the goods according to the Japanese Statutory Tariff. If a proper certificate is produced within six months after importation of the goods, the duty paid thereon shall be reduced to the rates of the Conventional Tariff.

AGREEMENT BETVEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND JAPAN

Signed at London, 30th January, 1902.

The Governments of Great Britain and Japan, actuated solely by a desire to maintain the stalus quo and genpral peace in the extreme East, being moreover specially in terested in maintaining the independence aud territorial integrity of the Empire of China and the Empire of Corea, and in securing equal opportunities in those countries for the commerce and industry of all nations, hereby agree as follows:-

Art. I.-The High Contracting Parties, having mutually recognised the independence of China and of Corea, declare themselves to be entirely uninfluenced by any aggressive tendencies in either comntry. Having in view, however, their special interests, of which those of Great Britain relate principully to China, while Japan, in addition to the interests which she possesies in Cuina, is interested in a peculiar degree politically, as well as commercially and industrially, in Corea, the High Contracting Paties recognise that it will be admissible for either of them to take such measures as may be indispensable in order to safeguard those interests if threatened either loy the aggressive action of any other Power, or by disturbances arising in China or Corea, and necessitating the intervention of either of the High Contracting Parties for the protection of the lives and property of its subjects.

Art. Il.-If either Great Britain or Japan, in the defence of their respective interests as above described, shonld become involved in war with another Power, the other High Contracting Party will maintain a strict neatrality, and use its efforts to prevent other Powers from joining in hostilities against its ally.

Art. III.-If in the above event any other Fower or Powers should join in hostilities against that ally, the other High Contracting Party will come to its assistance, and will conduct the war in common, and make peace in mutual agreement witl it.

Art. IV.-The High Contracting Parties agree that neither of them will, without consulting the other, enter into s?parate arrangements with another Power to the prejudice of the interests above described.

Art. V.-Whenever, in the opinion of either Great Britain or Japan, the abovementioned interests are in jeopardy, the two Governments will communicate with one another fully and fraukly.

Art. VI.-The present Agreement shall come into effect immediately after the date of its signature, and remain in force for five years from that date.

In case neither of the High Contracting Parties should have notified 12 months before the expiration of the said five years the intention of terminating it, it shall remain binding until the expiration ot one year from the day on which either of the High Contracting Parties shall have denounced it. But if, when the date fixed for its expiration arrives, either ally is actually engaged in war, the alliance shall, ispo facto, continue until peace is concluded.

In faith whereof the Undersigned, duly authorised by their respective Governments, have signed this Agreement, and have affixed thereto their seals.

EXT'RADITION TREATY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND JAPAN

Signed at Tokyo, on the 29th April, 1886Ratified at Tokyo, on the 27th September, 1886

His Majesty the Emperor of Japan and the President of the United States of America having judged it expedient, with a view to the better administration of justice, and to the prevention of crime within the two countries and their jurisdictions, that persons charged with or convicted of the crimes or offences hercinafter named, and being fugitives from justice, should, under certain circumstances, be reciprocally delivered up, they have named as their Plenipotentiaries to conclude a 'I'reaty for this purpose, that is to say:

His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, Count Inouye Kaorn, Jinsammi, His Imperial Majesty's Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, First Class of the Order of the Rising Sun, &cc., de., &e., and the President of the United States of America, Richard B. Hubbard, their Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Japan, who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:

Art. I.-The Higin Contracting Parties engage to deliver up to each other, under the circumstances and conditions stated in the present Trenty, all persons who, being atcused or convicted of one of the crimes or offences named below in Article II. and committed within the jurisdiction of the one party, shall be found within the jurisdiction of the other party.

Art. II.--1.-Murder and assault with intent to commit murder.
2.-Counterfeiting or altering money, or uttering or bringing into circulation counterfeit or altered money, counterfeiting certificates or coupons of public indebtedness, bank notes, or other instruments of public credit of either of the parties, and the utterance or circulation of the same.
3.-Forgery, or altering, and uttering what is forged or altered.
4.-Embezzlement or criminal malversation of the public funds committed within the jurisdiction of either party, by the public officers or depositaries.
5.-Robbery.
6.-Burglary, defined th be the breaking and entering by night-time into the house of another person with the intent to commit a felony therein; and the act of breaking and entering the house of another, whether in the day or night time, with the intent to commit a felony therein.
7.-The act of entering, or of breaking and entering, the offices of the Government and public authorities, or the offices of banks, banking-houses, savings-banks, trust companies, insurance or other companies, with the intent to commit a felony therein.
8.-Perjury or the subornation of perjury.
9.-Rape.
10.-Arson.
11.-Piracy by the law of nations.
12.-Murder, assault with intent to kill, and manslaughter committed on the high seas, on board a ship bearing the flag of the demanding country.
13.-Malicious destruction of, or attempt to destroy, railways, trams, vessels, bridges, dwellings, public edifices, or other buildings, when the uct endangers human life.

Art. III.-If the person demanded be held for trial in the country on which the demand is made, it shall be optional with the latter to grant extradition or to proceed with the trial: Provided that, unless the trial shall be for thecrime for which the fugitive is clamed, the delay shall not prevent ultimate extradition.

Art. IV.-If it be made to appear that extradition is sought with a view to try or punish the person demanded for an offence of a political character, surrender shall not take place, $n \cdots$ shall any person surrendered be tried or punished for any political offence committed previously to his extradition, or for any offence other than that in respect of which the extradition is granted.

Art. V.-The requisition for extradition shall be made through the diplomatic agents of the contracting parties, or in the event of the absence of these from the country or its seat of Government, by superior consular officers.

If the person whose extradition is requested shall have been convicted of a crime, a copy of the sentence of the Court in which he was convicted, authenticated under its seal, and an attestation of the official character of the judge by the proper executive authority, and of the latter by the Minister or Consul of Japan or of the United States, as the case may be, shall accompany the requisition.

When the fugitive is merely charged with crime, a duly authenticated copy of the warrant of arrest in the country making the demand and of depositions on which such warrant may have been issued, must accompany the requisition.

The fugitive shall be surrendered ouly on such evidence of criminality as according to the laws of the place where the fugitive or persou so charged shall be found, would justify his appreheusion and commitment for trial if the crime had been there committed.

Art. VI.--On being informed by telegraph, or other written communication, through the diplomatic channel that a lawful warrant bas been issued by competent authority upon probable cause for the arrest of a fugitive criminal charged with any of the crimes enumerated ia Article II. of this Treaty, and on being assured from the same source that a request for the surrender of such criminal is about to be made in accordance with the provisions of this Treaty, each Government will endeavour to procure, so far as it lawfully may, the provisional arrest of such criminal, and keep him in safe custody for a reasonable time, not exceedirg two months, to await the production of the documents upon which claim for extradition is founded.

Art. VII.-Neither of the contracting parties shall be bound to deliver up its own sulbjects or citizens under the stipulations of this convention, but they shall have the power to deliver them up if in their discretion it be deemed proper to do so.

Art. VIII.-The expenses of the arrest, detention, examination, and transportation of the accused shall be paid by the Government which has requested the extradition.

Art. IX.-The present treaty shall come into force sixty days after the exchange of the ratifications thereof. It may be terminated by either of them but shall remain in force for six months after notice has been given of its termination.

The treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications sball be exchanged at Washington as soon as possible.

In witness whereof the rospective Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Treaty in duplicate and have thereunto affixed their seals.

Done at the city of Tokyo, the twenty-ninth day of the fourth month of the nineteenth year of Meiji, corresponding to the twenty-ninth day of April in the eighteen bundred and eighty-sixth year of the Cbristian era.

TREATIES WITH SIAM

GREATBRITAIN

TREATY OF FRIENDSHIP AND COMMERCE BETWEEN HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN OF THE UNITED KINGDOM AND THE KINGS OF SIAM

Ratifications Exchanged at Bangkok, 15th April, 1856
Art. I.-There shall henceforward be perpetual peace and friendship between Her Majesty and her successors, and Their Majesties the Kings of Siam and their successors. All British subjects coming to Siam shall receive from the Siamese Government full protection and assistance to enalle them to reside in Siam in full security, at:d trade with every facility, free from oppression or injury on the part of the Siamese, and all Siamese subjects going to an English country shall receive from the British Government the same complete protection and assistance that shall be granted to British subjects by the Government of Siam.

Art. II. -The interest; of all British subjects coming to Siam slall be placed under the regulation and control of a Consul, who will be appointed to reside at Bangkok: he will himself conform to, and will enforce the observance by British subjects of all the provisions of this treaty, and such portions of the former treaty negotiated by Captain Burney, in 1826, as shall still remain in operation. He shall also give effect to all rules or regulations that are now or may hereafter be enacted for the government of British subjects in Siam, and conduct of their trade, and for the prevention of violdtions of the laws of Siam. Any disputes arising between British and Siamese subjects shall be heard and determined by the Consul, in conjunction with the proper Siamese officers; and criminal offences will be punished, in the case of English offenders, by their own laws, through the Siamese authorities. But the Consul shall not interfere in any matters referring solely to Siamese, neither will the Siamese authoritics interfere in questions which only concern the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

It is understood, however, that the arrival of the British Consul at Bangkok shall not talke place before the ratification of this treaty, nor until ten vessels owned by British subjects sailing under British colours and with British papers shall have entered the port of Bangkok for the purposes of trade, subsequent to the signing of this treaty.

Art. III.-If Siamese in the employ of British subjects offend arainst the law of their country, or if any Siamese laving so offended, or desiring to desert, take refuge with a British subject in Siam, they shall be searched for, and upon proof of their guilt or descrtion, shall be delivered up by the Consul to the Siamese authorities. In like manner any British offenders resident or trading in Siam, who may desert, escape to, or hide themselves in Siamese territory, shall be apprehendel and delivered over to the British Consul on his requisition. Chinese not able to prove themselves to be British subjects, shall not be considered as such by the British Consul, wol be entitled to his protection.

Art. IV.-British sulbjects are permitted to trade freely in all the seaports of Siann, but may reside permanently only at Bungkok, or within the limits assigned by this Treaty. British suljects coming to reside at Bangkok may rent laul, buy or build houses, but cannot purchase land within a circuit of 200 sen (not more than 4 miles English) from the city walls, until they shall have lived in Siam for ten years, or shall obtain special authority from the Siamese Government to euable them to do so. But with the exception of this limitation, British residents in Siam may at any time buy or rent houses, lands, or plantations, situated anywhere within a distance of twenty-four hours' journey from the city of Bangkok, to be computed by the tate at which boats of the country can travel. In order to obtain possession of such land or houses, it will be necessary that the British subject shall, in the first place, make application through the Consul to the proper Siamese officers; and the Consul haring satisfie: himself of the honest intention of the applicant, will assist him in settling, upon equitable terms, the amount of the purchase money, will mark out and fix the boundaries of the property and will convey the same to the British purchaser under sealed deeds. Wherenpon he and his property shall be placed under the protection of the Governor of the district and that of the particular local authorities; he shall couform, in ordinary matters, to any just directions given him by them, and will be subject to the same taxation that is levied on Siamese subjects. But if througd negligence and want of capital or other cause, a British sulject should fail to commence the cultivation or improvement of t'se land so acquired within a term of three years from the date of receiving possessiou thereof, the Siamese Government shall have the power of resuning the property, upou returning to the British subject the purchase-money paid hy him for the sume.

Art. V.-All British subjects intending to reside in Siam shall be registered at the British Consulate. They shall not go out to sea, nor proceed beyond the limits assigued by this treaty for the resilence of British suljects, without a passport from the Siamese authorities, to be applied for by the British Consul; nor shall they leave Siam, if the Siamese authorities show to the British Consul that legitimate objection exists to their quitting the cauntry. But within the limits appointed under the preceding article, British subjects are at liberty to travel to and fro under protection of a pass, to be furnished them by the British Consul and counter-sealed by the proper Siamese officer, stating, in the Siamese character, their names, calling, and description. The Siamese officers of the Government stations in the interior may, at any time, call for the production of this pass, and immediately on its being exhibited, they must allow the parties to proceed; but it will be their luty to detain those persons who, by travelling without a pass from the Consul, render themselves liable to the suspicion of their leing deserters; and such detention shall be inmediat.ly reported to the Cousul.

Art. VI.-All British subjects visiting or residing in Sia rn shall be allowed the frea exercise of the Christian religion and liberty to build churches in such localities as shall be consented to by the Siamese authorities. The Stamese Government will place no restriction upon the employment by the English of Siamese suhjeats as servants, or in any other capacity. But whenever a Siamese subject belongs to or owes service to some particular master, the servant who engages himself ts a British sulject without the consent of his master may be reclaimed by him; and the Siamese Government will not enforce an agreement between a British sulject and any Siamese in his employ, unless made with the knowledge and consent of the master who has a right to dispose of the services of the person engaged.

Art. Vfl.-British ships of war may enter the river and anchor at Paknam, but they shall not proceed above Paknam, unless with the consent of the Siannese authorities, which shall be given when it is necessary that a ship shall go into dock for repairs. Any British ship of war conveying to Siam a public functionary accredited by Her Majesty's Guvernment to the Court of Bangkok shall be allowed to come up to Bangkok, but shall not pass the forts called Pong Phrachamit and Pit-patch-nuck, unless expressly permitted to do so br the Siamese Government ; but in the absence of a British ship of war, the Siamese authorities engage to furnish the Consul with a force sufficient to evable him to give effect to his authority over British subjects, and to enforce discipline among British shipping.

Art. VIII. - The measurement duty hitherto paid by British vessels trading to Bangkok under the Treaty of 1826 slaall ba abolished from the date of this Treaty coming into opration, and British shipping and trade will henceforth be only subject to the payment of import and export duties on the goods landed or shipped. On all articles of import the duties shall be three por cent., payable at the option of the importer, either in kind or money, calculated upon the market value of the goods. Drawback of the full amount of duty shall be allowed upon goods found unsaleable and re-exported. Should the British merchant and ths Castom-house officers disagiee as to the value to be set upon importe ' articles, such disputes shall be referred to the Consul and proper Siamese officer, who shall cach have the power to call in an equal number of merchants as assessors, not excesding two on either side, to assist them in coming to an equitable decision.

Opium may be imported free of duty, but can ouly be sold to the opium farmer or his agents. In the event of no arrangement being effeeted with them for the sale of the opium, it shall be re-exported, and no impost or duty shall be levied thereon. Any infringement of this regulation slahll subject the opium to seizure and confiseation.

Articles of export from the time of production to the date of shipment shall pay one import duty, whether this be leviod under the nams of inland tax, transit duty, or duty on exportation. The tax or duty to ba paid on each article of Siamese produce previous to or upon exportation is specified in the tariff attached to this 'lreaty; and it is distinctly agreed that goods or produce which pay any description of tax in the interior shall be exempted from any further payment of the duty oa exportation.

English merchants are to be allowed to purchase directly from tha producar the articles in which they trade, and in like manner to sell their goods directly to the parties wishing to purchase the same, without the interference, in either case, of any other person.

The rates of duty laid down in the tariff attached to this Treaty are those that are now paid upon groods or produce shipped in Siamesa or Chinese vessels or junks ; and it is agreed that Bitish shipping shall enjoy all the privileges now exercised by, or which hereafter may be granted to, Siamese or Chinese vessels or junks.

British subjects will be allowed to build ships in Siam, on obtaining permission to do so from the Siamese authorities.

Whenever a scarcity may be apprehended of salt, rice, or fis'l, the Siamese Goveriment reserve to themselves the rirht of prohibiting, by public proclamation, the exprotation of these articles.

Bullion or personal effects may be imported free of charge.
Art. IX. - The code of ragulations appendel to this Treaty shall bz enforced by the Consul, with the co-operation of the Siamese authorities; and they, the said authorities and Consul, shall be enabled to introluce any further regulations which may be necessary in order to give effect to the objects of this Treaty.

All fines and penalties inflicted for infraction of the provisions and regulations of this Treaty shall be paid to the Siamese Government.

Until the British Consul shall arrive at Bangkok, and enter upon his fuactions the consignees of British vessels shall be at liberty to settle with the Siamese authorities all questions relating to their trade.

Art. X.-'I'he British Government and its subjects will he allowed free and equal participation in any privileges that may have been, or may hereafter be, granted by the Siamese Government to the govermment or subject of any other nation.

Art. XI.-After the lapse of ten years from the date of the ratification of this Treaty, upon the desire of either the British or Siamese Government, and on twelve months' notice being given by either party, the present and such portions of the Treaty of 1826 as remain unrevoked by this Treaty, together with the Tariff and the Ragulations hereunto annexed, or those that may hereafter be introduced, shall be subject to revision by Commissioners appointed on both sides for this purpose, who xvill be empowered to decide on and insert therein such amendments as experience shall prove to be desirable.

GENERAL REGULATIONS UNDER WHICH BRITISH TRADE IS TO BE CONDUCTED IN SIAY

Art. # TREATY BETIVEN FRANCE AND SLAM

Signed at Paris, Februiary, 1904

I.-'The frontier between Siam and Cambodia starts on the left bank of the Great Lake, from the month of the River Stung Ruolos. It follows th: paralled of this point in an Eastward direction till it meets the River Prea' Kompung 'Liam; then, turning Northward, it corresponds to the meridian of that point till it reaches the Pnom Dong-rek Mountains. Thence it follows the watershed between the basins of the Nam-Sen and the Mekong on the one side, antl of the Ninn-Mun on the other, and joins the Pnon Padang range, the erest of which it follows towarils the East as far as the Mekong. Above that point the Mekong remains the frontier of the Kingrdom of Siam, in conformity with Clause I. of the Ireaty of October 3, 1893.
II.-With regard to the frontier between Lonang-Prabang, on the right bank of the Mekong, and the Provinces of Muang-Phichai anl Muang-Nan, it starts from the Mekong at its confluence with the Nam-Huong, and follows the thalweg of that river to its confluence with the Nam-T'ang. Then, ascending the course of the said River Nam-Tang, it reaches the watershed between the basins of the Mekong and the Menan, at a point situated near Pon-Deike-Dene. From that spot it turns Northward, following the watershe 1 between the two basins to the sources of the River Nam-Kop, the course of which it follows till it meets the Mekong.
III.- The delimitation of the frontier between the Kingiom of Siam and the territories forming French Indo-China shall be carried oat. That delimitation shall be made ly mixed Commissions, composed of officers appointed by the two contracting countries. The daties of those Commissions shall concern the frontier determined by Clauses I. and II., as well as the region comprised between the Great Lake and the sea. With the object of facilitating the work of the Commissions and of avoiding every possible difficulty in the delimitation of the frontier in the region comprised between the Great Lake and the sea, the two Governments will come to an agreement before nominating the mixed Commissions, fixing the principal points of the delinitation in that region, and especially the point at which the frontier will reach the sea. The mixel Commissions shall be appointed and begin their work within fome months after the notification of the present Convention.
IV.-The Siamese Govermment renounces all Sovereign rights over the territories of Touang-Prabang, situated on the right bank of the Mekong. Merchant boats and wood ratts belonging to the Siamese shall have the riyht to navigate freely that portion of the Mekong traversing the territory of Louang-Prabang.
$Y$.- $\Lambda$ s soon as the $\Lambda$ greement stipulated for in Pararraph 2 of Clause III., relative to the delimitation of the frontier between the Great Lake and the sea, shall have been established, and as soon as it has been olficially notified to the French authorities that the territory involved in this Agreement, and the territories situated to the Last of the frontier, as indicated in Clauses I. and II. of the present 'reaty, are at their disposal, the French troops which provisionally occupied Chantabun, in virtue of the Convention of October 3, 1893, shall leave that town.
VI.-The stipulatious of Clause IV. of the Treaty of October 3,1893 , shall be replaced l,y the following:-"His Majesty the King of Siam undertakes that the troops he sends or keeps thronghont the whole of the Siamese Basin of the Mekong shall always be troops of Siamese nationality, commanded by olficers of that nationality. The only exception to this rule is made in favour of the Siamese Gendarmerie, at present commanded by Danish officers. Should the Sianese Goverument wish to substitute, for these officers, foreign officers belonging to another nationality, it must previously come to an understanding with the French Government. So far as the Prorinces of of Siem-Reap, Battambang, and Sesupon are concerned, the Siamese Government undertakes to keep there none but the PoliceContingents necessary for the maintenance of order. These contingents shall berecruited exclusively on the spot, from among the native inhabitants."
VII.-In future, in the Siamese portion of the Mekong Basin, if the Roval Govermment wishes to construct ports, canals, railways (especially railways intended to connect the Capital with any point in that basin), it will come to an agreement with the French Government, if such works cannot be exclusively executed by Sianese aud with Siamese capital. The same would naturally apply to the working of the said enterprises. With regard to the use of the ports, canals, and railways in the Siamese portion of the Mekong Basin, as well as in the rest of the Kingdom, it is understood that no differential rights shall be established, contrary to the principle of commercial equality included in the Treaties signed by Siam.
VIII.-In execution of Clause VI. of the Convention of October 3, 1893, plots of land of a superficial area to be determined shall be ceded by the Siamese Government to the Government of the Republic at the following points situated on the right Jank of the Mekony:-Xieug-Kheng, Mong-Kheng, Mong. Sing; on the right or Jeft bank-Mong-Dahan, Kemmarat, and the mouth of the Nam-Mong. The two Governments will come to an understanding to clear the course of the Nam-Moun, between its confluents with the Mekong and Pimun, of the obstacles which hinder navigation. In case of those works being found impossible to execute, or too costly, the two Governments will concert together for the establishment of communication by land between Pimun and Mekong. They will also come to an understanding for the construction between Eassak and the frontier of Louanc-Prabang, of the railway lines which may be recognised as necessary owing to the innarigability of the Mekong.-
IX.-It is from the present moment agreed that the two Governments will facilitate the establishment of a railway connecting Pnom Penh and Battanbang. The construction and working shall he undertaken either by the Governments themselves, each undertaking the portion which is on its territory, or by a Franco-Siamese Company accepted by the two Governments. The two Governments are agreed on the necessity of carrying out work for the improvement of the course of the river between the Great Lake and Battanbang. With that object in view, the Freneh Government is realy to place at the disposal of the Sianese Government the technical agents it may require, both for the execution and maintenance of the said works.
X.-The Government of his Majesty the King of Siam accepts the list of the French proteg's such as they exist at the preseut moment, with the exception of the persons whose licences may be recognised by both Parties as having l een illegally obtained. A copy of these lists will be communicated to the Siamese auborities by the French anthorities. The descendents of the proteges thus maintained under French jurisdiction shall not have the right to claim their licence if they do not belong to the category of persons described in the following Clause of the present Convention:-
XI. -Persons of Asiatic orision born in a territory subject to the direct domination, or placed under the Protectorate of France, except those who took up their residence in Siam previous to the time when the teritory on which they were horn was placed under that domination, or that Protectorate, shall have the right to French protection. French protection will be granted to the children of those persons, but it shall not extend to their grandchildren.
XII.-So far as concerns the juisidicton to which, for the future and without exception, all French subjects and all French protegés shall be subjected to in Siann, the two Governments agree to substitute for the existing recrulations the following: -

1. In criminal matters, French subjects or French protegés shall only be amenable to French judicial authority.
2. In civil matters, all actions brought by a Siamese against a Frenchman or French protegr, shall be heard kefore the French Consular (Gourt. All actions in which the Defendant is a Siamese shall be heard before the Siamese Court of Foreign Causes, instituted at Bangkok. Except in the provinces of Xieng Mai, Lakhon, Lampoun, and Nan, all civil and criminal cases involving

French subjects and protegs shall be heard before the International Siamese Court. But it is understood that in all these cases the French Consul shall have the right of being present at the trial, or of being represented by a duly authorised deputy, and of making all observations which may appear to him to be requirel in the interest of justice. In the case of the De'endent being French or a French protege, the French Consul may, at any time during the proceedings if he thinks fit, and upon a written requisition, claim to hear the case. The rase shall then le transferred to the French Consular Court, which, from this moment, shall alone he competent, and to which the Siamese authorities are hound to give their assistance and good offices. Appeals against the judgments delivered both by the Court of Foreion Canses, as well as the International Court, shall be taken becore the Court of Appeal at Bangliok.
XIII.-With regard to the future admission to French protection of Asiatics who are not born on territory under the direct authority or the protectorate of France, - or who may not find themselves legally natura'ised, the Government of the Republic shall enjoy rights equal to those which Si m may acconl to any other Power.
XIV.--The Regulations under former 'Treaties, Agreements, and Conrentions letween France and Sian, which ure not modified ly the present Convention, remain in full force.
XV.-In case of difficulties in the interpretation of the present Convention, which is drawn up in Freuch and Siamese, the French text alone shall stand.
XVI. -The present Convention shall be ratified within four months from the day of the signature, or earlier if possib.e."

Sir C. Scott to Count Mouravielf'

In order to complete the notes exchanged this day respecting the partition of spheres for concessions for the construction and workiog of railways in China, it has been agreed to record in the present a dditional note the arrangement arrived at with regard to the line Shanhaikuan-Newchwang, for the coustruction of which a loan has been already contracted by the Chinese Goverument with thי ShanghaiHongkong Bank, acting on behalf of the British and Chinese Corporation.

The general arragenent, established bv the above-mentioned notes is not to infringe in any way the rights achuired under the satil Loan Contract, and the Chinese Government, may appoint bot! an English engineer an an European accountant to suparvis the construction of the line in quest on, and the expenditure of the money appropriated to it.

But it remains understood that this fact cannot be taken as constituting a right of prop rty or fureign cuntrol, and that the line in question is to romain a Chinese line, under the control of the Chinese Government, aud cannot be mortgaged or alienated to a non-Chinese Company.

As regards the branch line from Siaoheichan to Sinminting, in addition to the aforesaid restrictions, it has been agreel that it is to be constructed by China herself, who may permit European-n,t necessarily British-engineers to periodically inspest it, and to verify and certify that the work is being properly executed.

The present special $\Lambda$ greement is naturally not to interfere in any was with the right of the Russian Government to support, if it thinks fit, applications of Russian subjeats or establishments for Concessions for railways, which, starting from the main Manchurian line in a south-westerly direstion, would traverse the reqion in which the Chinese line terminating at Sinminting and Newehwang is to be constructed.

ORDERS IN COUNCIL

ORDER OF HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN COUNCIL FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF HER MAJESTY'S sUbJECTS IN CHINA AND JAPAN

At the Court at Windsor, the 9th day of March, 1865
Present:-
T€E QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Proimble. fond 7 Yics. c. 80 .

Gicud 7 Vict. c. 11 .

Whereas an Act of Parliament was passed in the Sission of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign (chapter eighty) "for the better govermment of Her Majesty's suljjects resorting to China":

And whereas, by the Act it was enacted (among other things) that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order or Orders made with the advice of Her Privy Council, to ordain for the govermment of Her Majesty's sulbjects being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, any law or ordinanco which to Her Majesty in Council might seem meet, as fully and effectually as any such law or ordinance could be made by Her Majesty in Council for the government of Her Majesty's suljects being within Her Majesty's Island of Hongkong :

Aud whereas, another Act of Parliament was passed in the same Session (chapter ninety-four) "to remove dunbts as to the exercise of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers countries and places out of Her Majesty's dominions, and to render the same more effectual" (to which Act the expression "The Foreign Jurisdiction Act" when hereafter used iu this Order refers):

And whereas, by the Foreign Jurisdiction Act it was enacted (among other things) that it was and should be lawful for Her Majesty to hold, exercise, and enjoy any power or jurisdiction which Her Majesty then had, or might at any time herealter have, within any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions, in the same and as ample a manner as if HerMajesty had acquired such power or jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory :

And whereas, Her Majesty has lad and now has power and jurisdiction in the dominions of the Emperor of China, and in the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan:

And whereas, Her Majesty was pleased from time to time, ly and with the advice of Her Privy Council, by Orders in Council of the several dates in the Schedule to this Order specified, to ordain laws and ordinances for the better goverument of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within certain ships or vessels at a distance of not more than oue hundrel miles from the coast of China, and to make provision for the exercise of Her Majesty's power and jurisdiction aforesaid in the dominions of the Emperor of China and of the Tycoon of Japau respectively :

And whereas, it has seemed to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to be expedient at the present time to revise the provisions of the said Orders, and to ordain further and other laws and ordinances for the better govermment of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within such ships or vessels as aforesaid, and to make further and other provision for the due exercise of Her Majesty's power and jurisdiction aforesaid, and particularly for the more regular and efficient administration of justice among Her Majesty's subjects resident in or resorting to the dominions of the Emperor of China or of the Tycoon of Japan:

And whereas, under the authority of provisions in this behalf in the first-recited Act contained, ordinances for the peace, order, and good governn:ent of Her Majesty's subjects within the dominicns of the Emperor of China, or being within certain ships or vessels at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, have been from time to time made by the Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China (such Superintendent being also the Governor of Hongkong), with the advice of the Legislative Council of Honglong, which ordinances are known as Consular Ordinances:

And whereas such of those Consular Ordinances as are described in the Schedule to this Order are now in force, wholly or in part, but they are liable to repeal by order of Her Majestr in Council, an:l it is expedient that they be repealed, such of their provisions as are not intended to beabrogatel being consolidated with this Order:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers in this bebalf by the first-recited Act and 'The Foreign Jurisaliction Act, or either of thein, or otherwise in Her vested, is pleased by and with the advice of HerPaivy Council to order, and it is herely ordered, as follows :

Where partners are sued in the firm name, the petition must be served either on one or more of the partners within the jurisdiction, or at the principal place of the partuership husiness within the jurisdiction, on some person having then and there coutrol or management of the partnership business.
(7.) Where one person, carrying on business in the name of a firm apparently representing more persons than one, is sued in the firm name, the petition way be served at the frincipal place of the business within the jurisdiction on some person having then and there control or management of the business.
(8.) Where partners are sued in the firm nam', they must appear individually in their own names.
(9.) All subsequent proceedings, nevertheless, continue in the firm name.
(10.) Where a person, carrying on business in the name of a firm apparently representing more persons than one, is sued in the firm name he must appear in his own name.
(11.) All subsequent proseedings nevertheless continue in the firm name.
(12.) In any case not hereinbefore provided for, where persons claiming or being liable as partners sue or are sued in the firm name, any party to the suit may, on application to the Court, obtain a statement of the names of the persons who are partners in the firm, to be furnished and verified on oath or otherwise, as the Court thinks fit.
(13.) Where a judgment is against partners in the firm name execution may issue-
(i.) Against any property of the partners as such; and (ii.) Against any person who has admitted in the suit that he is a partner, or who has been adjudged to be a partner ; and (iii.) Against any person who has been served in the suit as a partner, and has failed to appeal.
(14.) If the party who has obtained judgment claims to be entitled to issue execution against any other person as being a partner, he may apply to the Court for leave so to do; and the Court, if the liability is not disputed, may give such leave, or if it is disputed may order that the question of the liability le tried and determined as a question in the suit, in such manner as the Court thinks fit.
(b.) The foregoing Rules may be from time to time varied by Rules of Procedure made under the China and Japan Order in Council, 1865.
(c.) Printed copies of the foregoing Rules must be exhibited conspicnously in each Court and Consulate in China and Japan, with the other rules of Procedure for the time being in force under the Ciina and Japan Order in Council, 1865, and be sold at such reasonable price as the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court from time to time directs.
(d.) A printed copy of the foregoing Rules purporting to be certified under the hand of the Caief Justice of the Supreme Court and the seal of that Court is for all purposes conclusive evidence thereof.
46.-(a.) The provisions of this Order do not apply to proceedings instituted by or against partnerships or partners or ageuts thereof, before the commencement of this Order.
(b.) As regards proceedings instituted by or against partnerships or partners or agents thereof before the commencement of this Order, the Regulations repealed by this Order shall, notwithstanding that repal, be in furce, and shall be deemed to have always been of the like validity and effect as if they had been Rules of Procedure made under the China and Japan Order in Council, 1865; and, as regards the same proceedings, the Rule of Procedure (252) repealed by this Order shall continue to have effect, notwithstanding that repeal, subject always to the operation of the Regulations repealed by this Order.

> Suits by or against Foreigners
47.-(a.) Where a foreigner desires to institute or take a suit or proceeding of a civil nature against a British subject, or a British subject desires to institute or take a suit or proceeding of a civil nature against a fore!guer, the Supreme Court for China and Japan, and the Court for Japan, and a Provincial Court according to the respective jurisdiction of the Court, may entertain the suit or proceeding and hear and determine it; and, if all parties desire, or the Court directs, a trial with a jury or assessors, then, with a jury or assessors, at a place where such a trial might be had if all parties were British subjects, but in all other respects according to the ordinary course of the Contt.
(b.) Revoked.
(c.) A counter-claim or cross-suit cannot be brought or instituted in the Court agaiust a plaintiff, being a foreigner, who has subenitted to the jurisdiction, by a defendant, except by leave of the Court first obtained.
(d.) The Court, before giving leave, requires proof from the defendant that his claim arises out of the matter in dispute, and that there is reasonable ground for it, and that it is not made for vexation or delay.
(e.) Nothing in this provision prevents the defendant from instituting or taking in the Court against the foreigner, after the termination of the suit or proceeding in which the foreiguer is plaintiff, auy suit or proceeding that the defendant might lave instituted or taken in the Court against the foreigner if no provisiou restraining counter-claims or cross-suits had been inserted in this Order.
(f.) Where a foreigner obtains in this Court an order against a defendant, being a British subject, and in another suit that defendant is plaintiff and the foreigner is defendant, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the British subject, stay the enforcement of the order pending that other suit, and may set off any amount ordered to be paid by one party in one suit against any amount ordered to be paid by the other party in the other suit.
(g.) Where a plaintiff, being a foreigner, obtains in the Court an order against two or more defendants, being British subjects, jointly, and in another suit one of them is plaintiff and the foreigner is defendant, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the British sulject, stay the enforcement of the other pending that other suit, and may set off any amount ordered to be paid by one party in one suit against any amount ordered to be paid by the other party in the other suit, without prejudice to the right of the British subject to require contribution from his codefendants under the joint liability.
(h.) Where a foreigner is co-plaintiff in a suit with a British subject who is within the particular jurisdiction, $\mathrm{i}_{\mathrm{t}}$ is not necessary for the foreigner to make deposit or give security for costs, unless the Court so direct; but the co-plaintiff British subject is responsible for all fees and costs.

Chinsse, Japanese, and Foreign Tribunals
48.-(a.) Where it is shown to the Supreme or other Court that the attendance of a British subject to give evidence, or for any other purpose connected with the administration of justice, is required in a Chinese or Japanese Court, or before a Chinese or Japanese judicial officer, or in a Court or before a judicial officer of any State in amity with Her Majesty, the Supreme or other Court may, if it thinks fil, in a case and in circumstances in which it would require his atlendance before itsclf, order that he do attend as so required.
(b.) A Provincial Court, however, cannot so order attendance at any place beyond its particular jurisdiction.
(c.) If the person ordered to attend, having reasonable notice of the time and place at which he is required to attend, fails to attend accordingly, and does not excase his failure to the satisfaction of the Supreme or other Court, he is, indpendently of any other liability, guilty of an offence against this Order, and for every such offence, on conviction thereof, br summary trial, is liable to a fine not exceeding $$ 500$, or in imprisonment for not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the Court.

The Schedule to which the foregoing Order in Council refers.

Motion that petition bo dismisted without any nawwer being required.
39. In case a petition states two or more distinct causes of suit, by and against the same parties, and the same rights, the Court may either before or at the hearing, if it appears inexpedient to try the different causes of suit together, order that different records be made up, and make such order as to adjourmment and costs as justice requires.

In case a petition states t wo or more distinct canses of suit luat nut by and against the same parties, or by and against the same parties but not in the same rights, the petition may, on the application of any defendant, be dismissed.

In case such app!ication is made within the time for answer, the petition may be dismissed, with substantial costs to be paid by the plaintiff to the defendant making the application ; but in case the application is not made within the time for answer, the pecition, when the defect is brought to the notic: of the C,urt, may be dismissed without costs, or on payment of Court fees only, as to the Courl seems just.

Defective Petition

49. Where a petition is defective on the face of it by rason of noncompliance with any provision of these Rules, the Cour's may either on application by a defendant, or of its own motion, make an order ts stay proceedings until the defect is remedied.

The Court shall, of its own motion, make an order to stay proceedings on a defective petition, where the defect is patent and serious, and comes to the knowledge of the Court before service of the petition on the defendant.

Copies for Service

41. Where there is only one defendant, one copy of the petition, and of any schedule thereto, for service, is to be left with the Court, together with the original; where there are two or more defendants, as many copies as there are parties to be served are to be left, together with the original.

Service of Petition
42. The plaintiff on filing his petition must obtain an order for service of it on the defendant.

Every order for service shall specify a rensonable time after service, ordinarily not more than eight days, within which the defendant inust put in his answer.

Defence on Ground of Law

43. Where a defendant conceives that he has a grod legal or equitable defence to the petition, so that even if thee allegations of fact in the petition were admitted or clearly established, yet the plaintiff would not be entitled to any decree against bim (the defendant), he may ruise this defonce by a motion that the petition be dismissed without any answer being required from him.

The motion paper sball be filed witlin the time allowed for putting in an answer.

It must state briefly the grounds of law on which the defendant intends to rely at the hearing of the motion.

The motion shall be heard and disposed of at as early a time as may be.

For the purposes of the motion the defendant shall be taken to admit the truth of the allegations of fact in the petition, and no evidence as to matters of fact or discussion cf questions of fact shall be admitted at the hearing of the motion.

On hearing the motion the Court shall either dismiss the petition or order. order the defendant to put in an answer within a short time, to be named in the order, and may give leave to the plaintiff to amend his petition it it appears requisite, and may impose such terins as justice requires.

Where, on the hearing of the motion, any grounds of law are urged cuts. in support of the motion beyond those stated in the motion paper, and the grounds stated therein are disallowed, the defendant shall be lialle to pay the same costs as if the motion were wholly refused, although the grounds of law newly urged are allowed, unless the Court thinks fit in any case to order otherwise.

Answer

44. The defendant may obtain further time for putting in his answer Further timo on summons stating the further time required, and the reasons why it is to unswer. required.

The application when made, unless consented to, must be supported by affidavit or by oral evidence on oath, showing that there is reasonable ground for the application, and that it is not made for the purpose of delay.
45. Where a defendant does not put in any answer he shall not be Effect of taken as admitting the allegations of the petition, or the plaintiff's right ansermering. no to the relief sought; and at the hearing (even though such defendant does not appear) the plaintiff must open his case, and adduce evidence in support of it, and take such julgment as to the Court appears just.
46. A defendant neglecting to put in au answer within the time or Later to anser $r$ further time allowed, shall not be at liberty to put in any answer without allowed. leave of the Court.

The Court may grant such leavo by order on the ex parte application of the defendant at any time before the plaintiff has set down the cause, or applied to have it set down for hearing.

Where the cause has been set down or the plaintiff has applied to have it set down for hearing, the Court shall not grant such leave except on return of a summons to the plaintiff, giving notice of the defendant's application, and on such terms as to costs and other matters as seem just.
47. The answer shall show the nature of the defpndant's defence to Form and the claim set up by the petition, but may not set forth the evidence by anserer. which surh defence is intended to be supported.

It should be clear and precise, and not introduce matter irrelevant to the suit, and the rules before laid down respecting the setting out of documents and the contents of a petition generally shall be cbserved in answer, mutatis mutandis.

It must deny all such material allegations in the petition as the defendant intends to deny at the hearing.

Where the answer denies an allegation of fact, it must deny it directly, and not by way of negative pregnant: (for example) where it is alleged that the defendant has received a sum of money, the answer must deny that he has received that sum or any part thereof, or else set forth what part he has received. And so, where a matter of fact is alleged in the petition with certain circunstances, the answer must not deny it literally as it is alleged, but must answer the point of substance positively and certainly.

The answer must specifically admit such material allegtions in the putition as tha defendant knows to be true, or desires to be taken as admittel. Such a lmission, if plain and specific, will prevent the plaintiff from obtaining the cost of proving at the liearing any matters of fact so admitted.

All material allegrations of fact admitted by a defendant shall be takeu as established against him, without proof thereof by the plaintiff at the hearing. But the plaintiff shall be bound to prove as against each defendant all allegations of fact not admitted by him, or not stated by Lim to be true to his belief.

The answer miust allege any matter of fact not stated in the petition on which the defendant relies in defence, -as establishing, for instance, fraud on tie part of the plaintiff, or showing that the plaintiff's right to recover, of to any relief capable of being granted on the petition, has not yet accrued, or is released or barred or otherwise gone.
48. The answer of a defendant shall not debar lim at the hearing Effect of answer from disproving any allegation of the petition not admitted by his answer at hearing. or from giving evidence in support of a defence not expressly set up by the answer,- except where the defence is such as, in the opinion of the Court, ought to hare been expressly set up ly the answer-or is inconsisteut with the statements of the answer-or is, m the opmion of the Court, likely to take the plaintiff by surprise, and to raise a fresh issue or fresh issues of fact or law not filirly arising out of the pleadings as they stand, and such as the plaintiff ought not to be then called upon to try.

Specific Answer.

49. Where the defendant does not answer, or puts in an answer amounting only to a general denial of the plaintiff's claim, the plaintiff may apply by summons for an order to compel hin to answer specifically to the several material allegrations in the petition; nud the Court, if such allegations are briefly, positively, separately, and distinctly made, and it thinlis that justice so requires, may grant such an order.

The defendant shall, within the time limited by such order, put in his answer accordinorly, and shall therein answer the several material allegations in the petition, either admitting or denying the truth of such allegations seriatim, as the truth or falschood of each is within his knowledge, or (as the case may be) stating as to any one or more of the allegations that he does not know whether such allegation or allegations is or are true or otherwise.

The defendant so answering may also set up by such answer :ny defendant to the suit, and may explain away the effect of any admission therein wade by any other allegation of facts.

Interrogatories

50. Where an answer so put in fails substantially to comply with the terms of the order, by reason of any one or more of the material allegations not being either deniel or admitted thereby, or not being met by a statement in the answer that the defendant does not know whether such allegation or allegrations is or are true or otherwise, the plaintiff may apply to the Court to examine the defendant on written interrogatories; and the Court may, if it sees fit, examine the defendant accordingly on written interrogatories allowerl hy the Court and embodying material allegations of the petition in an interrogative form, and may reduce the answers of the defendant to writing.

Such answers shall be taken for the purposes of the suit to be a part of the defendant's answer to the petition.
Cath

Where a defundant in his answer raises a defence by way of set-off, Cross suit. which, in the opinion of the Court, is not admissible as set-off, the Court may cither before or at the hearing, om his application, give him liberty to withdraw such defence, and to file a cross petition, ajd may make such order for the hearing of the suit and cross suit together or otherwise, on such terms as to costs and other matters as seem just.

Payment into Court
54. Payment into Court by the defendant must be accompanied by an answer. nonswer. The answer must state distinctly that the money paid in is praid in satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim generally, or (as the case may be) in satisfaction of some specific part of the plaintiff's claim, where the claim is stated in the petition for distinct sums or in respect of distinct matters.

Payment into Court, whether male in satisfaction of the plaintiff's earect. claim generally or in satisfaction of some specific part thereof, operases as an admission of liability to the extent of the amonnt aillin, and no more, and for no other purpose.

Where the defendant pays money into Court, the plaintiff shall be Aceentance br at liberty to accept the same in full satisfaction and discharge of the cause plannf. of suit in respect of which it is paid in; and in that case the plaintiff may forthwith apply by motion for payment of the money ont of Court to him; and on the learing of the motion the Court shall make such order as to stay of further proceedings in the suit, in whole or in part, and as to costs and other matters, as seems just.

If the plaintiff does not so apply, he shall be considered as insisting Noa-acceptance. that he has sustained damage to a greater amount, or (as the case may be) that the defendant was and is indebted to him in a greater amount than the sum paid in; and in that case the Courl, in determining the suit and disposing of costs at the hearing, shall have regard to the fact of the costs. paymeut into Court having been mado and not accepted.

Counter-claim

55. Where a defendant io his answer raises any specific defence, and cross petition it appears to the Court that on such defence being established he may be is same suit. entitled to relief against the plaintiff in respect of the subject-matter of the suit, the Court may, on the application of the defendint, either before or at the hearing, if under the circumstances of any case it thinks fit, give liberty to him to file a counter-claim lyy a crose-petition in the same suit, askiner for relief against the plaintiff, and may make such order for tho hearing of the suit and counter-clainn together or otherwise, and in such manner and on such terms as to costs and other matters as seem just, and may, if in any case it seems fit, require the plaintiff to give security to the satisfaction of the Court (by deposit or otherwise) to abide by and perform the decision of the Court on the counter-clain.

A list of the grants of probate and administration made by it up to the last preceding first day of January and first day of July respectively, and not included in any previous list.

An I also, a copy, certified by the Provincial Court to be a correct copy, of every will to which any such probate or administration relates. II.-Probate and Administration with Will annexed
202. In the following rules respecting probate and administration the expression "the proper officer" means, as to the Provinces, the ConsulGencral, Consul, or Vice-Consul holding and forming a Court; as to the ouf "hoer." Supreme Court, such one of the officers athached thereto as for the time being acts in matters of probate and alministration by the authority and under the direction of the Judge.
203. On receiving an application for probate or for administration with will amexed, the proper officer must inspect the will, and see whether itappears to be signed by the testator, or by some other person in his presence of execution. and by his direction, and subscribed by two witnesses, according to the provisions of the Acts of Parliament, 7 Will. 4, & 1 Vict. c. 26 sec. 9, and 15 & 16 Vict. c. 24 sect. 1 , and in 110 case may he proceed further if the will does not appear to be so signed and subscribed.
204. If the will appears to be signed by or for the testator, and subscribed by two witnesses, the officer must then refer to the attestation clause (if any), and consider whether the wording thereof shows the will to have been in fact executed in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts.
205. If there is no attestation clause to the will,-or if the attestation clause thereto is insufficient, - the officer must require an affidavic from at least one of the subscribing witnesses, if either of them is living, to prove that the will was in fact executed in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts.

The affidavit must, be engrossed and for:n part of the probate, so that the probate mar be a complete document on the face of it.

If on perusal of the affidavit it appears that the will was not in fact executed in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts, the officer must refuse probate.

If on perusal of the affidavit it appears doubtful whether or not the will was in fact executed in accordance with the provisions of the said Ac:ts, the officer must lay a statement of the matter before the Judge of the Supreme Court for his directions.

If both the subscribing witnesses are dead,-or if from other circumstances no affidavit can be olbtained from either of them,-resort must be had to other persons (if auy) who were present at the execution of the will; but if no affidut of any such other person can be obtained, evidence on oath must be procured of that fact, and of the handwriting of the deceased and of the subscribing witnesses, and also of any circunstances that inay raise a presumption in favour of the due execution of the will.
206. The officer shall not allow probate of will, or administration with the will annexed, of any blind persou, or of any obviously illiterate or ignorant person, to issue, unless he has previously satisfied himself, by what appears on the face of the will or by evidence on oath, that the will was read over to the deceased before its execntion, or that the deceased had at the time linowledge of its contents.

Where information is not forthcoming, the officer must communicate with the Judge of the Supreme Court.
207. Having satisfied himself that the will was duly executed, the Interlineations, officer must carefully inspect the same to see whether there are any alteritions, interlineations or alterations or crasures or obliterations appearing in it, obliterations. and requiring to be accounted for:

Interlineations and alterations are invalid unless they existed in the will at the time of its execution, or,-if made afterwards, unless they have been executed and attested in the mode required by the said Acts of Parlianent,-or unless they have been made valid by the re-execution of the will-or by the subsequent :xecution of some codicil thereto.

Where interlineations or alterations appear in the will (unless duly executed or recited in or otherwise identified by the attestation clause) an affidavit or affidarits in proof of their having existed in the will beforeits execution must le filed.

In like manner erasures and olbliterations are not to prevail unless proved to have existed in the will at the time of its execution-or unless the alterations thereby effected in the will are duly executed and attested, -or unless they have been made valud by the re-execution of the will, or by the sulsequent execution of some codicil thereto.

If no satisfactory evidence is adduced as to the time when the erasures or obliterations were made, and the words erased or obliterated are not entirely effaced, and can, on inspection of the paper, be ascertained, they must form part of the probate.

In every case of words having been crased which might have been of importance an affidavit must he required.

If reasonable doul, exists in regard to any interlineation, alteration, erasurc, or obliteration, the oflicer shall, before proceeding further in thematter, communicate with the Judge of the Supreme Court for his directions.
208. Where a will contains a reference to any deed, paper, memorandum, or other document, of such a nature as to raise a question whether it ought or ought not to form a constituent part of the will, the production of the deed, pajer, memorandum, or other document must he required, with a view to ascertain whether or not it is entitled to probate; and if not produced the non-production of it must be accointed for by evidence on oath.

Any deed, paper, memorandum, or other document cannot form part of a will or codicil, unless it was in existence at the time when the will or codicil was executed.

If there are any vestiges of sealing wax or wafers or other marles on the testamentary paper, leading to the inference that some paper, memorandum, or other document has heen amexed or attached thereto, they must be satisfactorily accounter for by evidence on oath, or the production of such paper, memorandum, or other document must be required; and if not produced, the non.production of it mish be accounted for by evidence on oath.

If doubt exists as to whether or not any such deed, paper, memorandum, or other docmment is entitled to probate as a constituent part of the will, the officer shall, before proceeding further in the matter, communicate with the Judge of the Supreme Court for his directions.
209. The forchoing rules respecting wills apply equally to codicils.

298. The room or place in which the preliminary examination is held is rot an open or public Court for that purpose; and the Court may, in its taishind not discretion, in case it appears to it that the ends of justice will be best pablic. answered by so doing, order that no person have access to, or remain in, the room or place withont the special permission of the Court.

Recognizance to Prosecute or give Evidence

299. The Court may, at the preliminary examination, bind by recog- prosecutor or nizance the prosecutor and every witness to appear at the Court at which witeseses to the accused is to be tried, to prosecute, or to prosecute and give evidence, recognizance. or t: give evidence (as the case may be).

A notice of each recognizance shall at the same time be given to the person tound thereby:

If a witness refuses to enter into a recognizance, the Court may, by warrant, commit him to prison, there to remain until after the trial of the accused, unless in the meantime he duly enters into a recognizance.

But if afterwards, from want of sufficient evidence or other cause, the accused is not either committed for trial or held to bail, the witness :shall be discharged from custody by direction of the Court.

300. If from the absence of witnesses or any other reasonable cause the Court considers it necessary or advisable to defer or adjourn the preliminary examination, the Court may, by warrant, from time to timeremand the accused for such time as seems reasonable, not exceeding fourteen days, to some prison or other place of security;

Or, if the remand is for not more than eight days, the Court may, by word of mouth, order the officer or person in whose custody the accused is, or any other fit officer or person, to continue or keep the accused in his. custody, and to bring him up at the time appointed for commencement or continuance of the examination.

During the period of remand the Court may, nevertheless, order theaccused to be brought before it.

Instead of detaining the accused in custody during the period of remand the Court may discharge him, on his entering into a recognizance with or without a surety or sureties, as the Court may think fit, for his appearunce.

A notice of each recognizance shall at the same time be given to.each person bound thereby.

Conmitment

301. When all the evidence ndduced at the preliminary examination on the part of the prosecution has been heard, if the Court is of opinion that it is not sufficient to put the accused on his trial the Court shall forthwith order him, if in custody, to be discharged as to the particular charge in question.

If, on the contrary, the Court is of opinion that the evidence is sufficient to put the accused on his trial, the Court shall either by warrant commit him to prison, there to remain till delivered by due course of law, or admit bim to bail.

Bail

302. Where the accused is charged with-Felony: Assault with intent to commit felony : Attempt to commit felony: Obtaining or attempting to obtain property by false pretences:-Receiving stolen property, or property obtained by false pretences: Perjury, or subornation of perjury: Concealing the birth of a child by secret burying or otherwise: Wilful or indecent exposure of the person: Riot: Assault on a constable or officer of the Court in the execution of his duty, or any person acting in his aid: Neglect or breach of duty a constable or officer of the Court : it shall be in the discretion of the Court to admit him to bail, either in the first instance, instcad of committiug him to prison for trial, or at any time after his commitment find before trial.

Where the accused is charged with any indictable misdemeanour other than those hereinbefore described, the Court shall ordinarily admit him to bail.
303. A person charged with murler or treason can be acmitted to bail by the Judge of the Supreme Court only.
304. The Judge of the Supreme Court may, on good grounds, admit any person to bail, although the Provincial Court before which the charge is made does not think fit to do so.
305. The accused who is to be admitted to bail is to produce sucls surety or sureties as, in the opinion of the Court, will be sufficient to ensure his appearance at the time and place when and where he is to be tried, and with such surety or sureties to enter into a recognizance accordingly.

A notice of each recognizance is at the same tiue to be given to cach person bound thereby.

Privileges of Accused

Copics of depositions of accu:cd.
306. At iny time after the' preliminary examination has been completed, the acoused is entitled to have copies of the depositions on which the has been committed for trial, or held to bail, on payment of a reason:able sum, not exceeding sixpence for every one hundred words, or gratis, if tise Court so directs.

The Court shall, at the time of commitment or of holding to bail, inform the accused of his rights in this respect.

> Preparalions for Trial
307. The written charge (if any), the depositions, the statement of the accusel, the recognizances of prosecutor and witnesses, and the recognizance of bail (if iny) shall be carefully transmitted in proper time to the Court :at which the rrial is to be held.

Inclictment

308. A trial before the Judge or an officer of the Supreme Court, with a jury, and the proceedings hefore and after trial relative thereto, shall be conducted as nearly as may be as a criminal trial before a Judge with a fury and the corresponding proceedings is and are conducted in England.

Other criminal trials, with or without a jury, or with Assessors, and the proccedings before and after trial relative thereto, shall be conducted in like manner, mutatis mutrndis.
309. In criminal cases to be tried on indictment before the Judge or Assistant Judge of the Supreme Court, whether with or without a jury, the depositions whell completed shall forthwith be delivered to the Law Secretary, as prosecutor on behalf of the Crown, who shall therenpon, in person or by some proper representative appointed by him, in any case by writing under his hand, take all proper steps for indicting and bringing to trial the accused, and conduct the prosecution in Court at the trial; and no such prosecution shall be under the direction or conduct of any private prosecutor.

Any private prosecutor may, however, retain any member of the Engish, Irish, or Scottish Bar, or any regular and duly qualified advocate of foreign nationality, to assist in the prosecution; and such barrister or adivocate may, with the assent of the prosecution for the Crown, appear in Court at the trial and take part in the prosecution ; but no such prosecution shall be withdrawn or abaudoned without the express consent of the Law Secretary, as prosecutor for the Crown, or of his representative, given in opesi Court.

III.-Summary Proceedings

310. The foliowing Rules (under the sub-heading "Sumnary Pro-extent of ceedings ") apply exclusively to cases where the charge is to be heard and following Rales. determined not on indictment, but in a summary way.

Hearing

311. Where the accused comes before the Court on summons, or warrant, or otherwise, either originally or on adjourmment, then if the prosecutor, having had due notice of the time and place appointed for the hearing or adjourned hearing of the charre, does not appear in person, or by counsel or attorney, the Court shall dismiss the charge, unless for some reason it thinks proper to adjourn or further adjoura the hearing, with or without imposing any terms.

314. The prosecutor shall be at liberty to conduct the charge, and tohave the witnesses examined and cross-examined by counsel or atrormey on his behalf.
315. The accused shall be admitted to make his full answer and defenceto the charge, and to have the witnesses examined and cross-esamined by counsel crinttorney on his behalf; and if he does not employ counsel or attorney, he shall, at the close of the examination of each witness for the prosccution, be asked by the Court whether he wishes to put any questions to the wituess.

If he puts any question to a witness, the witness may le re-examined fur the prosecution.
316. The room or place in which the Court sits to hear and determine the charge is an open and public Court, to which the public renerally may have access as far as the room or place can conveniently contain them.
317. The substance of the charge slall be stated to the accused, and he shall be asked if he has any cause to show why he should not be convicted.

If he thereupon admits the truth of the charge, and does not show sufficent cause why he should not be convicted, the Court may convict him accordingls.

If he does not admit the truth of the charge, the Court shall proceed to hear the prosecutor and such witnesses as he examines, and such other evidence as he adduces in support of his charge.

On the termination of the whole evidence in support of the charge, if it appears to the Coust that a prima facie case is made out against the accused, he shall be asked by the Cont if he wishes to say anything in answer, or has any witnesses to examine or other evidence to adduce in his. defence; and the Court shall then hear the accused and his witnesses and other evidence, if any.
318. If the accused adduces any evidence in his defence, the prosecutor may adduce evidence in reply thereto; but the prosecutor shall not in any case be allowed to make any observations by way of reply to the evidenceadduced by the accused, nor shall the accused in any case be allowed to make nny observations on evidence adduced by the prosecutor in reply.
319. A variance between the charge and the evidence adduced in support of it as to the time at which the alleged crime or offence wascommitted is not material if it is proved that, the charge wns in fact made within the time (if nuy) limited by law for the making thereof.

But if any variance between the charge and the cvidence appears 10 the Court to be such that the accused has been thereby deceived or misied, the Court may adjourn the hearing.

Adjournment

320. At any time before or during the hearing of the charge the Court may, in its discretion, for any good caluse recorded in the miuutes of proceedings, adjourn the hearing.

An adjourmment ordered for any ca:ase shall be made to a certain time and place, to be at the time of the adjournment appointed and stated in the presence and hearing of the parties, or their respective counsel or attorners.

During the period of adjournment the Court may in its discretion, according to the nature and circumstances of each case, either suffer the accused to go at large or commit him loy warrant to such prison or other place of security, or to such other safe custorly as the Court thinks fit, or may discharge him on his entering into a recognizance, with or without a surety or sureties, at the discretion of the Court, for his appearance at the time and place of adjomment.

A notice of each recognizance is at the same time to be given to each person bound thereby.

If at any time and place of adjournment of a bearing, which has once begun, the accused does not appear in person or by counsel or attorney, the Court may in its discretion proceed with the further hearing as if the accused were present.

Decision

321. The Court having heard what each party has to say as aforesaid, conriction or and the witnesses, and the evilence adluced, shall consider the whole matter and finally determine the same, and shall either convict the aceused or dismiss the charge.

Conviction

322. In case of conviction a minute thereof shall be made, and the Xinutr. conviction shall afterwards be drawn up in form, to be preserved among the records of the Court.

Dismissal

323. In case of dismissal of the charge the Court may, if it thinks fit, cortifcate. on being requested so to do, make an order of dismissal and give the accused a certificate thereof, which certificate shall on being produced, without further proof, be a bar to any subsequent charge for the same matter against the same person.

Costs

324. In case of conviction the Court may, in and by the conviction, on conviction: award and order that the person convicted do pay to the prosecutor such costs as seem just and reasonable, to be specified in the conviction.
325. In case of dismissal the Court may, in and by the order of dis- 0 n dismissal. missal, award and order that the prosecutor do pay to the accused such costs as scem just and reasonable, to be specified in the order of dismissal.

Execution of Conviction or Order of Dismissal

326. Where a conviction does not adjudge the payment of money, but inprisonment. adjudges that the offender be imprisoned, the Court shall issue a warrant of commitinent accordingly.
327. Where a conviction or order of dismissal adjudges any money Lerging of to be paid by any person convicted or any prosecutor for penalty, compensati m, costs, charges or otherwise, the money to be paid may be levied on the groods of the person adjudged to pay the same by distress and sale under wirrant.
328. If the officer having the execution of the warrant returns that he could find no groods or no sufficient goods whereon to levy the money jrenaty ar other moneys. mentioned in the warrant, together with costs, the Court may by warrant commit the persou adjudged to make the payment to prison for not more than two months, unless the money adjudged to be paid, and all costs and charges of the distress, commitment, and conveyance to prison, to be specified in the warrant of commitment, are sooner paid.
329. Where it appears to the Court that such distress and sale of Commitment in goods as aforesaid would be ruinous to the person ordercd to pay the money and his family, or (by confession of that person or otherwise) that he has no goods whereon a distress may be levied, then the Court, if it thinks fit, may, instead of issuing a warrant of distress, commit him to prison with or without hard labour, for not more tha: two months, unless the money adjudged to be paid, and all costs and charges of the commitment and conveyance to prison, to be specified in the warrant of commitment, are sooner paid.
330. Any person against whom a warrant of distress issues may pay or tender to the officer having the execution of the warrant the sum therein mentioned, togetber with the amount of the expense of the distress up to the time of such payment or tender, and thereupon tho officer shall cease to execute the same.

XVIII.-Proviso

109.-All decrees heretofore issued by authority of the Commissioners and Minister of the United States to China, which are inconsistent in whole or in part with the provisions of this Decree, are hereby annulled, and those portions are henceforth void and of no effect; and the promulgation of these rules abrogates no authority Litherto lawfally exercised by Cousuls in China not inconsistent herewith.

ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS

These regulations have been decreed, as having the force of law in the Consular Court of the United States in China, by James B. Angell, Eovoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States, and dated May 26th, 1881. They have been assented to by the various United States Consuls in China and are as follows :-
1.-In civil proceedings between American citizens in the Consular Courts in China, the service of summons upon the defendant, if he is found within the Empire of China, shall be personal. That is, the copy of the complaint and summons duly certified by a Marshal of any Consular Court in China shall be delivered into the hands of the person to be served. The officer serving the summons shall certify the same to the Consul before whom the suit is brought.
2.-When the defendant has removed from or is absent from the Empire, or conceals himself therein to avoid the service of summons, and the fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the Consul, and it also appears by such affidavit or by the verificd complaint on file that a good cause of action exists against the defendant, or that he is a necessary party to the action, such Cousul may make an order that the service be made by publication of the summons. Such order shall direct the publication to be made in a newspaper of general circulation (to be named) for such length of time as may be reasonable, in not less than six issues of such paper, if a daily, and in not less than four issues, if a weekly. Such publication shall be made in a newspaper published nearest to the Consulate where the suit or proceeding is pending, at least five months before the time fixed for the trial by the Consul. In case of publication, when the residence of a non-resident or absent defendant is unknown, the Consul shall direct a copy of the complaint and summons, duly certified, and addressed to the person to be served at his supposed place of residence to be deposited in the Post Office by the Marshal of the said Court.

COMMERCIAL 'IREATY BE'TWEEN CHINA AND POR'TUGAL

Signed at Shanghai, November, 1904.
Art. I.-The Treaty of Amity and Commerce between China and Portugal dated the first day of Decemher, 1887 (17th day, 10 th moon, 13 th year of Kwangsu) continues in force except in so far as modified by the present Treaty.

Art. II. - Portural accepts the increase in the import duties stipulated for in Article VI of the Peking protocol of Fth September, 1901, from the date of the ratification of this Treaty. Portugal will enjoy the privileges of the most favoured nation, and in no case shall Portuguese subjects pay higher or lower duties than those prid by the subjects of any other foreign mation. Article XII. of the Treaty of First December, 1887, is therefore reudered null and void.

Art. III.--The duty and likin on foreign opium will continue as provided for in exnsting treaties. The Government of His Most Faithful Majesty agrees to continue as heretofore to co-operate with the Govermment of His Imperial Chinese Majesty in the collection of the duty and likin on opium exported from Macao to China, and also to co-operate in the repression of smuggling in accordance with the Treaty and Special Opinm Convention of 1st December, 1887. In order to render this co-operation effective, it is clearly stipulated that all opium imported into Macao shall, on arrival, be registered at the Special Government Burean provided for this purpose, and the Portuguese Government will take the necessary steps, in order to have all this opiam stored under its exclusive control in a depot from which it will be removed as required by the demands of trade. The quantity of opinm required for consumption in Macio and its dependencies will be fixed annually by the Government of Macao in arreement with the Commissioner of the Imperial Maritime Customs referred to in Article II. of the above mentioned Convention, and under no pretext will removal from the Portuguese Government depot be permitted of any quantity of opium for local consumption in excess of that fixed by the said agreement, and necessary measures will be taken to prevent opium removed from the depot for re-export to any port other than a port in China being sent fraudulently to Chinese territory. The removal from the depot of opium for export will not be permitted except on production of proof that such opium has already paid all dues and duties leviable thereon by China. The rules for the carrying out of this Article shall be arranged by delegates from the Government of Macao and the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs.

Art. IV.—Such steps as are necessary for the repression of smuggling in the territory and waters of Macao shall be taken by the local Portuguese Gorcrnment in concert with the Commissioner of the Imperial Maritime Customs, and similar steps in the Chinese territory and waters near Macao shall be taken by the Imperial Maritime Customs in concert with the Portuguese Goverument of Macao. This cooperation is intended to render such steps effective on all points in respect of which co-operation is needel, and to avoid at the same time any injury to the sovereign rights of either of the High Contracting Parties. Special delegates from the local Govermment of Macao and the Imperial Maritime Customs shall proceed to fix the respective zones of operations, and shall devise practical means for the repression of smuggling.

Art. V.- With a view to the development of trade between Macao and neighbouring ports in the Kwangtung Province, the High Contracting Parties have agreed as follows:-
1.-Portuguese steamers desirous of proceeding for the purposes of trade from Macao to any of the ports of call and passenger stages on the West River, enumerated in the Special Article of the English-Burmah Convention of 1897, and Article $X$ of the British Treaty of Commerce of 1902 , shall be permitted to do so, provided they comply with the Special Regulations to be framed for this purpose by the two High Contracting Parties.
2.-Steamers specially registered for trade under the Inland Waters Steam Navigation Rules shall be permitted to ply between Macao and places in the Department of Kwang-chow-fu other than those mentioned in Section 1, provided they report to the Kungpei-kuan Customs for examination of cargo and payment of duties in accordance with Special Rerulations to be framed for this purpose ly the two High Contracting Parties. Such vessels may engage in all lawful trade, including the towage of juuks and conveyance of passengers and cargo, subject to the regulations for the time being in force.

The privileges hereby granted are granted on the express understanding that Special Regulations shall be framed defining in detail the conditions under which such traftic may be carried on. Until, then, the said Regulations have been agreed upon and published, the Article shall not become operative; and subsequently only on compliance with the said Regulations.

Art. VI.- Portugal having the right of most favoured nation treatment. it is clearly stipulated that any advantages China may think fit to grant to any nation in the importation of agricultural products, specially wines and oil, or in the importation of industrial products, specially woollen and cotton goods and preserved food stuffs, shall be extended to similar Portuguese goods on exactly the same conditions. It is also clearly understoud that Portuguese wine of all kinds proved by means of certificate of origin, issued ly Portuguese Consuls, to have becn imported from Portugal, direct or otherwise, shall when their alcoholic strength exceeds $14^{\circ}$, ${ }^{2} \mathrm{y}$ the duty leviable according to the annexed tariff on wines exceeding $14^{\circ}$ of alcholic strength. Wine passed through the Chinese Customs under designation "Port Wine" slatl not be entitled to the benefit of this Article unless accompanied by a certificate of origin as above.

Art. V.II.-Portuguese subjects may frequent, reside at, and carry on trade, industries and manufactures, and pursue any other lawful avocation in all the ports and localities in China which have alrealy been or may hereafter be opened to foreign residence and trade; and wherever in any such ports or localities a special area has been or may hereafter be sot apart for the use and occupation of foreigners, Portuguese subjects may therein lease lamd, erect buildings, and in all respects enjoy the same privileges and immunities as are granted to subjects of the most favoured nations.

Art. VIII.-Whereas China, with the object of reforming its fiscal system, proposes to levy a surtax in addition to the tariff duties on all goods passing through the customs honses, whether maritime or inland and frontier, in order to make good the loss incurred lyy the complete abolition of likin, the Portuguese Government agrees that foreign goods imported into China ly Portugeuse subjects shall on entry pay an import surtax equivalent to one and a half times the duty fixed by the Import Tariff as now revised, and that Chinese produce exported abroad ly Portuguese subjects shall pry export duties, inclusive of the tariff export duty, not exceeding seven and it half per cent. ad valorem, provided always that such import surtax and export duties hare been accepted ly all the Powers having treaties with China. With regard to the produce tax, consumption tas, and excise, as well as the duties on native opinu and salt, leviable ly China, Portugal further agrees to accept the same arrangements as shall be agreed upon between all the Treaty Powers and China. It is, however, understood that the commerce, rights, and privileges of Portugal shall not, in consequence of this undertaking, be placed in any way at a disadvantage as compared with the commerce, rights, and privileges of any other power.

Art. IX.-Drawback certificates for the return of duties shall be issued by the Imperial Maritime Customs to Portuguese subjects within twenty-one days from the date of presentation to the Customs of the papers entitling the applicant to receive such drawback certificates. These certificates will be accepted at their face value by the Customs authorities at the port of issue in payment of duties of all linds, tonnage dues excepted; or shall, in the case of drawhacks for duty pail oa foreign goods re-exported abroad within three years from the date of importation, be redeemable in full in ready money by the Imperial Maritime Customs at the port of issue, at the option of the holders thereof. But if, in connection with any application for a drawback certificate, the Customs authorities discover an attenpt on the part of a Portuguese subject to defraud the revenue, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five times the amount of the duty wheresf he atternptel to defraud the Customs, or to a confiscation of the goois. In case the groods have been removed from Chinese Territory, then the Cousul shall inflict on the guilty party a suitable fine to be paid to the Chinese Government.

Art. X.-China agrees to herself establish a system of uniform uational coinage and provide for a uniform national currency, which shall be freely used as legal tender in payment of all duties, taxes, and other obligations ly Portuguese subjects as well as by Chinese subjects in the Chinese Empire. It is understood, however, that all Customs duties shall continue to be calculated and paid on the basis of the Hai-Kwan Tael.

Art. XI.-The Government of His Most Faithful Majesty agrees to the prohibition ly the Chinese Government of the importation into China of morphia and of iustruments for its injection, on coudition, however, that the Chinese Government: will allow the importation of morphia and of instruments for its injection for medical purposes loy Portuguese doctcrs, chemists, and druggists, on payment of the prescribed duty and under special permit which will only be granted to an intending importer upon his signing at the Portuguese Consulate a suitable bond undertaking not to sell morphia except in small quantities and on receipt of a requisition signed by a duly qualified foreign medical practitioner. If fraud in connection with such importation be discovered by the Customs authorities the morphia and instrument for its injection will be seized and confiscated, aud the importer will be denied the right to import these articles.

Art. XII.-The Chinese Government recognizing that it is advantageous for the country to develop its mineral resources, and that it is desirable to attract foreign as well as Chinese capital to embark in mining enterprise, agrees to revise its existing mining regulations in such manner, by the selection of those rules in force in other nations which seem applicable to conditions in China, that the revision while promoting the interests of Chinese subjects and in no way prejudicing the sovereign rights of China, will offer no impediment to the employment of foreign capital, nor place foreign capitalists at a greater disadvantage than they would be under generally accepted foreigu regulations, and will permit Portuguese sulbjects to carry on in Chinese territory miuing operations and other necessary business relating thereto, provided they comply wit's the new regulations and conditions which will be imposed by China on its subjects and foreigners alike, relating to the opening of mines, the renting of mineral land, and payment of royalty, and provided they apply for permits, the provisions of which, in regard to necessary business relating to such operations, shall be observed. The residence of Portuguese subjects in connection with such mining operations shall be arreed upon between Portugal and China. Any mining concession granted alter the publication of such new rules shall be sulbject to these provisions.

Art. XIII. - It being only right that the sharcholders of any joint stock company, or the partners in any commercial undertaking, should all be on a footing of equality as regards division of profits and payment of obligations, according to the partnership agreement or memorandum and articles of association, the Chinese Government agrees that Chinese subjects joining with Portuguese subjects in the organisation of a joint stock company or commercial undertaking, legally constituted, shall be liable to the fulfiluent of the obligations imposed by said agreement or memorandum and articles of association, and that Chinese Courts will enforce fulfilment of such obligations, if a suit to that effect be entered; provided always that their liability shall not be other or greater than that of Portuguese shareholders or partners in the same company or partnership. Similarly Portuguese suljects who invest their capital in Chinese enterprises shall be bound to fulfil the obligations imposed by the partnership agreement or memorandum, and articles of association, and their liability shall be the same as that of the Chinese subjects engaged in the same undertaking. But as existing treaty stipulations do not permit foreign merchants to reside in the interior of Chiua for purpose of tride, such joint stock companies and commerial undertakings may be established in the interior by Portuguese aud Chinese subjects conjointly.

Art. XIV.-As Portugal affords protection to tralemarks used ly subjects of any other nationality, provided $\AA$ like protection is reciprocated for trademarks used by Portuguese suljects Chin:, in order to obtain this protection for its sulijects in Portuguese territory, agrees to grant protection to Portuguese tradenarks against unlawtul use, falsification or imitation by Chinese subjects. To this end t!.e Chinese Government will enact the necessary laws and regulations, and will establish registration offices at which foreign trademarks may le registered on payment of reasomatile fees. Further, the Chinese Govermment agrees that, as soon as a Patent Office has been establishel, and special laws with regard to inventions have been adoptell, it will, after payment of the prescribed fees, issue certifcates, valid for in fixed term of ye.rs, to Portugucse inventors, extending to their inventions the same protection as shall be givea to Clinese patents in Portural, provided that such inventions do not infringe on previous inventions by suljects of China. Any Clinisese or Portuguese subject who is the author, proprietor, ( $r$ seller of any fublication injarious to the peace and grod government of China shall be dealt with in accordance with the laws of his own country.

Art. XV.--'I'he Govermnent of China having expressel a strong desire to reform its judicial systen, and to bring it into accord with that of Western nations, Portugal agrees to give every assistance to such reform, and will also be prepared to relinquish extraterritorial rights when satisficd that the state of the Chinese laws, the arrangements for their administration, and other considerations warmat it in so doing.

Art. XVI.-The missionary guestion in China demands, in the opin:on of the Chinese Government, careful consideration, so as to avert in the future troubles which have oceurred in the past. l'ortugal, as a mation specially interested in the protection of its Catholic missions in Chinese territory, agrees to join in a commission to investigate this question and, if possille, to devise means for secuing permanent peace between converts and non-conrerts, should such it commission lie formed by China and the 'I'reaty Powers interested. No person, whether Portuguese subject or Chinese convert who, according to the tenets of Cliristianity, praceably teaches or prictises the principles of that religion, which aims at teaching men to do good, shall Le persecuted or harassed on account of his faith. But converts and non-converts, being alike subjects of Chini, shall conform to her laws, and shall pay due respect to those in authority, living together in jeale and amity; and the fact of his being a convert shall protect no one from the consequence of any offence he may have committed before or may commit after his admission into the church, or exempt him from payinglegal taxes and contributions levied for the support of religious customs and practices contrary to his fatith. Missionaries shall not interfere with the exercise ly the native anthorities of their juriscliction over Chinese subjeets, nor shall the native authorities make any distinction between converts and non-converts, but shall administer the law without partiality, so that both classes may live together in peace. lortuguese missions shall le permittel to rent and lease in perpetuity, as the property of the mission, buildings or lands in all parts of the Empire for mission purposes and, after the title deeds have been found in order and duly stamped by the local authorities, to erect such suitable huidings as may be required for carrying out their gooll work.

Art. XVII.-The present Treaty shall remain in force for a period of ten years bepinning with the date of the exchange of ratifications and untilat revision is effected as leereimafter provided.

It is further agreed that either of the two Figh Contracting Parties may demand revision of the Tariff and the Articles of the Treaty six months before the end of ten vears from the dute of the exchange of ratitications thereof. If no revision is demauled before the end of the first term of the ten years, then these articles in their present form shall remain in full force for al. further term of ten years reckoned from the end of the first term and so on for successive periods of ten years.

Art. XVIII. - In order to prevent in the future any discussion, this 'Jreaty is writteu in Portugucse, Chinese and English, and signed in six copies, two in each language. All these versions have the same sense and meaning, but if there should happen to be any divergence in the interpretation of the Portuguese and Chinese versions, the English text will be made use of to resolve the doubts that may have arisen.

Art. XIX.-The present Treaty shall be ratified by His Most Faithful Majesty the King of Portugal and Algarves and His Imperial Majesty the Fmperor of China. The exchange of the ratifications shall be made within the shortest possible tine, and the Treary will be printed and published, in order that the functionaries and subjects of the respective countries may have full livowledge of its stipulations and may fulfil them.

In faith whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the present 'Treaty and have affixed their scals thereto.

REVISED REGULATIONS FOR TIIE CONSTRUCHION OF RALLWAYS IN CHINA

Submited in a Memorlal by the Boamd of Commerce and Approvel by the Thione

J.-'The Board of Commerce having in obedience to an Imperial edict assumed the direction of Railway and Mining Affairs, will issue special regulations with regard to mining, and herely gives notice that all records relating to railway concessious already granted hare been trausferred to this Board by the General Bureau of Railways and Mines, and that all applications for railway concessions now pending will be considered and dealt with by this Board.
II.-All applications for railway concessions, whether by Chinese or foreigners, should be made in accorlance with these regulations, and no appeal will be allowed to Regulations which may have heretofore been adopted by provincial autharities and which may contlict with the present Rezulations. When a railway concession has been granted by this Board, persons to whom the privelege has been granted must carefully observe the Company Laws approved by the Throne.
III.-Whe:n the officials or merchants of any proviuce have raised the capital for the construction either of a main or branch line of railway, aud submitted plims and full particulars as regards the capital, they must wait until this Board has communicated with the local officials of the district to which they belong, requiring them to investigate and report to this Board concerning the trustworthiness and financial standing of the applicants, and whether or not they have done anything in violation of these Regulations. When the report of the local officials has been received the Board will decide the application.
IV.-When a railway route shall have been selected the local officials in the districts affected shall notify the people and warn them not to obstruct the progress of the work. The local officials shall also see that the necessary land is sold to the Company at reasonalle and current rates, and they must not allow the price to be increased. The lailway Company must agree to promply pay the annual taxes in respect of such land. Should there be any burying grounds in the line of railway they must be aroided if possible by a curve, so as not to hurt the susceptibilities of the people. If it be impossible to make the curve, then the local officials must decide what anount the Company shall pay by way of ecmpensation so that no popular clamour or disturlance may be caused.
V.- When Chinese merchants make application for a railway concession they must, if there be any foreign shareholders, not only file their application with this Board but likewise with the Buard of Foreign Affairs who will make due investigation into the matter; and if foreign merchants seek to obtain a roncession in their own naunes they must not only make application to the Board of Foreign Affairs, but to this Board as well. Whether foreign merchants alone, or in association with Chinese, undertale the construction of a railway, they must carefully observe these regulations, which must on no pretext be disobeyed.

VI.-In the raising of capital a Chineso company should take care to see that the majority of the shares are held by Chinese subjects, and if foreign financial assistance is sought, then the number of shares held by foreigners must not exceed the number owned by Chinese. When the application is presented, the exact number of shares to be allotted to foreigners must be clearly stated, and when foreign share capntal has been subscribed, it will not be permissible to also borrow foreign capital. This prohibition is to prevent deception and to insure security. Should it transpire that a concession has been obtained by fraud, such concession will be cancelled on discovery of the facts.
VII. - It being only just that Chines : merchants should be allowed to participate in a railway enterprise for which a foreign company shall have been grinted a concession in any province, it is required that in future a foreign compny which has been granted a railway concession shall set aside thitty per cant. of the capital stock for subscription by Chinese, who shall have the riybt of purchasing the same at any time at the original price.
VIII.-The local authorities must give equal protostion, whether it be to a Chinese company assisted by foreign capital or a foreign company assisted by Chinese capital; bat the said lowal authorities must not interfere with the management of the company's affairs. Should the company incur losses the matter must be dealt with in iccordance with the laws of China, but the Chinese Government will not indemnify the company.
IX.-If any Chiness obtain a concession and furnish personally the capital for the construction of the railway, amoanting to more than 500,000 taels, the Burd of Commerce will on the sucsessful completion of the railway me norialise the Throne in his behalf for the con'erment of ic reward as an encourargement to others ; should he raise from others Chinese capital anvunting t, more than 500,000 taels, then on completion of the work the Board of Commerso will ask the Imperial suction for the conferment of rewards in accordance with the Articles of the Regulations relating to rewards.
X. - IVhan application is mads by Chinese for parmission to construct a railway they must submit an estimute of the cost of the undertaking, so that the number and value of the shares m ly loe detemined. If after the commencenent of the work it is found that the cost will exced the original estimate, and additional share capital cannot be obtained, tha: the said compiny may rilise a foreign loan on the security of the plant and buildings, bat land must not be mortgiked. Such loan, however', should not exceed thirty per cent. of the original estimated capital, and the Board of Commerce should be duly informed of the intention to obtain foreign capital, it being however expressly understood that thas sail Chinese Company will borrow and repay, and that the Imperial Goverument assums no responsibility whatever in the matter.
XI. - If upon the completio: of the railway for which anthority has beea granted a Company, whose shares are exclusively owaed by Chinese, desires t, construct another line, and having extuusted the original capital desires to obtatin foreign capital for this purpose, it will be necessary to petition the Board of Cominerce for its sanction and await its decision.
XII.-Should any Chinese who apply for a railway concession enter into a secret contract with foreign merchants to borrow capital on the sccurity of the railway, and the concession be obtainel under false representations or, if after the construction of tho railway the concession be clandestinely sold to others, then on these circumstances beeoming known either to the Board of Commerce or the Viceroy or Governor of a province, an investigation will bs held and if the allegations are proved the railway will be confiscated, the concession cancelled, and the offenders punished according to the gravity of the offence.
XIII.-When a concession has been granted by the Board of Commerce, whether it be to Chinese or foreigners, the concessionaires must within six months from the date thereof make a through survey of the ronte, and commeuce the construction of the line within a further period of six months. The guage of the railway must bo exactly 4 feet $8 t$ inches (English measurement). The date of the commericement of thework must be reported to the Board of Comme:ce. If the time limit for the com. mencement of the work has been exceeded the concession will $b_{3}$ cancalled so as to preveat the evils likely to arise from the holding of such privelects by persons who are unable to raise the requisite amount of capital. If reasouable excuse can be offered for the delay, the company should, before the time limit has expired, send a petition to the Board of Commerce setting forth the facts, and if after investigation it is ascertained that the Company has truthfully representel the state of aff tirs, the Board may grant an extension of time.

XIV.-If in any province where railways are to be constructed owners of land demand an excessive prics for the land reqiired for the railway and thas olsitruct progress of the work, or it workmen combine to demud exorbitant rates of wages, the company should report to the lo al authority and the said lowal authority shall issue a proclamation to the prople strictly prohibiting such conduct, and also any extortionate practises on the part of yamen officials. The people should be informed of the advantages of the railway in the development of the trade and prosperity of the country, and that it has the active support of the Imperial Government. If the local authonities fail to give adequate protection to the Company they will be severely dealt with.
XV.-As there are but few Chinese at present competent to make r.ilway surveys, or to estimate the cost, or superintend the construction of railways, a company to whom a concession has been granted will be permitted to employ foreign experts, and the local authorities in the districts through which a railway will pass must exercise every care to afford them protection from danger. If any foreigner in the employ of the railway company does not properly conduct himself, the local authority should inlorm the railway company, who will he required to dismiss the said employee. The Company must not show favour to the said employee by transferring bim to another railway which they nay be constructiog. If the faults of the said employee be of a serious character, the matter shall be reported to the Board of Commerce who will communicate the complaints to the Consul concerned, and the offender shall not be allowed to remain in Chinese territory.
XVI.-When applications for railway concessions are made to Viceroys or Governors of provinces either by Chinese or foreigners, the said Viceroys or Governors shall make a careful investigation as to whether the proposed railway will be advantageons to Chinese trade and commerce, and also whether or not any violation of these Regulations may be involved. They shall then make a report to this Board who will consider aad determine the matter.
XVII. -If any dispute arise affecting the interests of a railway company, providing it be a Chinese company, the local authority shall equitable settle the dispute, preventing injustice to either of the parties thereto. If either is dissatisfied with the judgment, he may appeal to the Board of Commerce to hear and determine the dispute and to give due protection. If the dispute be between Chinese and foreign merchants, each party shall nominate a person to jointly investigate and decide the matter ; and if the tivo arbitrators are unable to agree in their decision they shall appoint a third man of honour and integrity who may or may not be comected with the railway company, and together they shall decide the dispute. The Governments of the two nationalities shall not concern themselves in the case.
XVIII.-Mines and railways are now separately administered, each being governed by its own regulations, and must be undertaken as separate concerns. A company applying for a railway concession must not at the same time demand the right to work mines in connection with the railway. Formerly the regulations admitted of the joint working of mines and railways, but such is no longer the case. If a railway company is unable to obtain the necessary supply of coal in the neighbourhood where it is required, and loss and inconvenience is thereby entailed to the company, the said company should send a petition to the Board of Commerce fully stating the facts, and the Board will then consider and decide whether the company shall be empowered to work mines or not. In order to prevent confusion no further petitions on the subject will be received. After the application has once been refused.
XIX.-Formerly the Burean of Mines and Railways approved a form for making reports. These forms will still be furnished by this Board to each company, and at the end of every year the said companies must fill in the answers to the questions on the said form and return the same to this Board to be inspected and filed.
XX.-When a company has been granted a concession a contract may be at once drawn up. Such contract may be subsequently amended before being signed, providing such amendments do not conflict with the regulations. When the terms have been finally arranged a copy shou'd be forwarded to the Board of Commerce for its consideration, and only after the Board has signified its approval can the contract be signcd. On the completion of the railway the Board of Commerce will consult with the Board of Revenue for the purpose of deciding the location of Custom houses where they may be required.
XXI. - When military operations make it necessary for the Imperial Government of China to transpoit troops, provisions, money, weapons or other supplies necessary for the conduct of such operations, the railway company whether Chinese or forergn owned shall transport the same at half the usual rates and allow the government the right of way.
XXII. - If it should be necessary to employ police while a railway is under construrtion, or after it is completed, the company will be permitted to employ one or two Chinese for every $l i$ of railway, but they will not be allowed to carry arms. In the event of it being necessary to employ soldiers to guard a railway a petition to that effect must be forwarded to this Board, and the Board will consult with the Tartar Gencrals, Viceroys and Governors of the provinces concerned as to the despatch of such troops. The company nust not employ soldiers on their own authority. The provisions and pay for such troops as are sent to gruard the railway must be furnished by the Railway Company.
XXIII.-Having regard to the consideration that Post Offices and Railways are of mutual assistance, the mail bags of the Imperial Chinese Post Offices should be carried by the railway companies. Detailed regulations in regard to this will be drawn up.
XIV.-The foregoing articles are General Regulations for the construction and operation of railways. Matters not defined therein may be set forth in detail when concessions are granted and contracts prepared.

TEMPORARY MINING REGULATIONS IN CHINA

Approved by the Throne, 17th March, 1904.

I.-The Board of Mining and Railway Affairs, having revised the re gulations relating to mining, and resolved upon the temporary adoption of the Rerised Re--gulations, will not hereafter consent to any request for a mining concession based on former regulatious or provincial rezulations, and will not acknowledre such former regulations as forming precedents; but mines already in operation, or for which concessions have already been granted, may continue to be worked in accordance with agreements already made.

I[.-Ouly permits for prospecting or working mines granted by this Board are valid; and no work must be undertaken unless the necessary permits have been first oltained.
III.-When the State is the owner of the mining lands, whatever be the lind of ore they contain, the Board may (at once) issue a permit; but if the lands be private property, the person desiring a permit must first enter into an agreement with the owner of the land as to the price to be paid, or obtain his consent to receiving shares in the enterprise in payment, and report the agreement to this Board. Only after this has bsen done may a permit be applied for. When mining land owned by a private individual is required by the Govermment for development the local authority must purchase the land at a fair valuation, and the owner must not oppose such purchase.
IV. - When application is made for a permit to prospect or to work a mine, whe-ther by Chinese, or by Chinse and foreigucrs combined, the petition inust be prepared strictly in accordance with the requirements set forth in the sub-sections of this article and may be presented directly to this Board, or forwarded through the Viceroy or Governor of the province concerned, and after investigations have been made as to whether local circumstances present any obstacles to the granting of a concession, and whether everything has been done in' conformity with the regulations, the Board will then come to ia decision on the application.

It is required:-
(a.) That the petition shall state clearly the full name of each petitioner, the province and district to which he belongs, and whether the petitioners inteud to work the mine themselves, or whether any other persons are associated with them in the undertaking. The mines should le operated by the company to whom permits are issued, and should not be disposed of to others.
(b.) If foreigners are shareholders in the undertaking for which a permit is required, the petition must state clearly the nationality of the foreigners and the exact number of shares they hold.
(c.) The petition must definitely state the situation aud boundaries of the mine, give the measurements of the boundaries and the area of the mine in square $l i$ and mow, and a map of the locality must accompany the petition so as to facilitate the investigation.
(d.) The petition must also state plainly the kinds of ores which the ipettioners intend to work.
V.-A Mining Concession must not exceed 30 square $l$, and must be in land which is continuous; the length must not be more than four times the breadthShould there be graves upon the land, arrangements must be made to avoid then in making slafts and tunnels. If it should prove impossible to avoid them then liberal compensation shall be paid for removing them.
VI.-If application is made for mining rights over land for which a concession has been already granted to some other person, or if the land is required for the use of the State, the application will after iuvestigation be refused.
VII.-When a permit to prospect is granted it must be clearly understood that the holder is not entitled thereunder to work a mine, but merely to examine the surface outcrop in the place indicated on the certificate. No deep horings must be made, nor must the examination extend over a wide area.
VIII.- $\Lambda$ permit to prospect shall be valid for one year; and if at the expiration of that period the examination shall not have been quite completed, an application may le made for an extension of time. The petition to the Board must contain a clear statement of the facts, and if upon investigation these are found correct, further time, not exceeding one rear, may be allowed.
IX.-The local authority sliall continue to collect the land tax, according to the Land Tax Regulations, in respect of private lands on which prospecting is permitted, and it is hereby required that the persons to whom a permit is granted for prospecting on land owned by the State shall pay to the local authority a tax of one Kuping Tael per mow per annum in respect of such land. For each permit to prospect a fee of 50 Kuping I'aels must be paid, and before prospecting can be commenced the person to whom such permit is granted must pay to the local authority the above mentioned tas for one year on all public land covered by the permit. If the permit be extended (vide Rule VIII) an additional year's taxes must be paid.
X.-When a permit to prospect is required the applicant must slate in a petition to the Board the exact locality, the total extent and the boundaries of the area it is desired to examine. The petition may be presented either to the Viceroy or Governor of the province in which the said mining lands are situated, who shall make an investigation for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not mining operations at the place described in the petition will injuriously affect the interests of the inhabitants of the district, whether the applicants be persons of repute and good finaucial standing, and whether there is in the application anything in riolation of these regulations; and if they shail find upon such investigation that there has been no violation of the regulations, they shall report all the facts to this Board who will then finally determine the matter; or the applicants may forward their petition direct to this Board, who will communicate their decision to the applicants after the necessary investigations above described have been made by the provincial autborities.
XI.-If the real owner of mining lands has not given his permission, and the prospector, having fraudulantly obtained a permit, comrances to prospect, the land owner slall report to the local authorities, who will require the prospector to pay compensation for any damage thereby sustained.
XII.-The person to whom a permit to prospect has been granted must, within a period of four months after the permit has expired fill in all excavations ihat may have been made, and repair any damage that may have been done to houses or trees. The foregoing shall not apply if the prospector shall, within the aforesaid period of four months, obtain a permit to work the mine.
XIII.--(The following refer to the working of mines.) If application be made for a permit to work a mine, whether by Chinese entirely, or ly Chinese and foreiguers jointly, they must first return to the Board for cancellation their permit to prospect, and in the petition state the exact amount of their capital stock, the ore to be worlsed, and at which bank in the province concerned the capital has been deposited, a certificate of deposit from the bank being submitted to the Board for inspection.
XIV.-In the event of the person to whom a permit to work a mine has been granted, desiring, either before or after operations have been commenced, to transfer the permit to another, he must first apply for the sanction of the Board. If it should -come to the knowledge of the Board that the permit bas been clandestinely transferred, the permit will be cancelled and the person to whom it was issued by the Board will be severely punished and the property confiscated.

XY.-Any person having a permit to work a mine will be allowed to dig for ore at the place mentioned in the permit, and also to transport the necessary plant for the working of mines to the localties where it is required. After paying the Customs duty, such materials will be exemptel from all further iulaud taxation. But if goods not required in the mining operations are sunggled into the country with such mining plant the persons responsible will be punished according to the regulations.
XVI.-When capital is raised for the working of a mine caro should be taken that Chinese own the majority of the shares; but should the Chinese capital subscribed be insufficient (to procure a majority of the shares), the shares taken up by foreigners must not exceed the number held by Chinese. In the application presented to the Board the number of foreign shares must be clearly and unequivocally stated, and it will not be permissible to obtain a foreigu loan after the aforesaid proportion of foreign capital has been subscribed. Should a permit to work the mine be obtained by misreprescutation, it will be cancelled and the property confiscated on discovery of the fraud.
XVII.-In applying for a permit to work a mine, a rough estimate should be furnished of the numbers to be employed, and the working expeuses. If upon examination the mine appears to promise good results, the share capital should be subscribed, and ouly whes the full amount of the capital required has been raised will a permit to work a mine be issued. If after the work has been commenced it is proved to be moro difficult, and the working expenses greater than had been estimated; and if the capital consequently prove insufficient and it is difficult to raise additional share capital, permission will he given, if the capital already employed is owned exclusively by Chinese, to raise a foreign loan on the security of the plant and buildings for a term of years. Land nust not be mortgaged, and the loan should not exceed thirty per cent. of the capital origit:ally subscribed. Application for permission to raise a loan must be made to the Board, and the applicants must clearly state the number of years for which the loan is needed, and the nationality of the person or persons from whom it is proposed to obtain the loan. It should be clearly expressed that the loan is borrowed ly merchants, and is repayable by merchants, and that the Imperial Government assumes no responsibility in conucction therewith. The Board will then consider and determine the application. When a contract is made a copy thereof must be deposited with the Board, and there must be no alteraliou of any of the stipulations without the Board's cousent.
XVIII.-Should Chinese merchants, who have obtained a permit to work a mine, contract with foreigners, without previously notifying the Board, to mortgage the mine as security fur a foreign lom, or if after the work has commenced they sell the mine to persons of another nationality and simply receive payment for the use of their name, they shall on discovery of these unlawful practices be punished under Article XIV of these Regulations according to the gravity of the offence.
XIX.-If Chinese applicants for a permit have fureigners associated with them in the enterprise, no matter whether the permit required is for prospecting or working a mine, they must oltain the s.nnction of the Board as well as that of the Board of Foreign Affairs. Foreigners who are willing to take shares must recognise and strictly conform to these regulations.
XX.-If a Chinese company, which is successfully carrying on mining operations for which a permit has been granted, desires to work further mines in the neighbourhood, and the original capital of the company being insufficient, desires to obtain more foreign share capital, it must apply to the Board for sanction, furnishing a careful and detailed statement of the proposals for the Board's consideration. A separate permit will be issued if the proposals are sanctionel by the Board, and the undertaking must bo regarded as a separate and distinct concern.
XXI.- If police protection for the works is deemed to be necessary, application should be made to the local authorities who will consider and decide the matter. Only Chinese must be employed to guard the mines. It is, moreover, essential that atl persons employed by the company, excepting those in charge of the machinery and those who ktep the accounts, should lee natives of the district in which the mine is situated. In the event of a strike, natives of other districts may le engaged, but on no account must foreigners le employed. The rations for the guard and all expenses incide:tal to their mantenance must he defrayed by the mine owners. In the event of the mine owners wishing to establish a school of mining for the purpose of incrensing the standard of efficiency of the men, the mineowrers are at liberty to take such action as they may desire.
XXII.-If it should be desired to make small railwars for the convenient transportation ofthe ore, application wust be made to the Boarii by petition stating whether there is any railway or port within a distance of ten li from the mine and inquiry should be made as to whether there are any local obstacles or oljectious. The Board will consider the information and decide whether the line may be made or not. If the length of the proposed line exceeds 10 li the proposal must be regarded as a distinct matter [i.e. a railway governed by the Railway Regnlations.-Translator.]
XXIII. - If the area covered by the permit to mine does not exceed 10 square $l$, a fee of 100 Kuping Taels will be charged for the permit, and for every additional square $l i$ Taels 10 must le paid. No concession will be granted exceeding 30 square $l i$ in extent. When the tirst year's rent for the concession has been paid to the local authorilies, the latter shall afferd due protection to all enployed on the mines, Chinese and fureigners alike, but the officials must not interfere with the management of the mine. If losses are incurred, action must be taken according to (Chinese) law; the Chinese Government is under no obligation to indemnify.
XXIV.-Operations must he commenced within six montles after a permit to work a mine shall have been granted, alike in the case of Chinese and foreigners, and the date of commencement must be reported to the Board. If no such report shall have been received by the Board within the aforesaid period of six mouths, the permit will be cancelled ind other persons be invited to carry on the operations. If delay is caused by any unforseen circumstances, a report explinining the causes of the delay should be made to the Board, who will make an investigation, and will grant an extension of time if there has been no misrepresentation of the facts.
XXV.-The boundaries of a concession must be marked by the permit-holders with stones so that the limits may be clearly's seen. 'They must also adopt proper measures to protect the engineers and workmen from necidents; and if, notwithstanding the adoption of precautions, an accident should occur, it must be promptly reported to the local official who will inquire into the matter. In the event of any workman being killed the employers must pay liberal compensation, the amout to be determined by the circumstances of the fatality, a generous allowance being made.
XXVI.-As there are but few Chirese mining experts at present, mine owners will be permitted to amploy foreign engineers to whom the local author:ties muss afford complete protection ou pain of impeachment and punishusent. The mining engineers wust conduct thenselves with propriety, and if they fail in th's respect they wust bear the consequences. On complaint by the local authority of offensive conduct ou the part of any foreign employees, the manager of the mine will ke required to discharge them and employ others. The offenders must be impartially dealt with.
XXVII.-The high officials of the provinces in which mining operations are being conducted, must direct the district officials to issue proclamations for the purpose of avoiding local disturbances. Should the inhalitants of the district or the workmen at the mine become contentious, the dispute must be brought hefore the nearest district magistrate, or sub-prefect, and the facts bo adjudicated in a just mamer. It is particularly necessary for the officials to prohibit persons euployed at the Yamen from extorting money on any pretext whatsoever. If the local ollicials fail to dischar ${ }^{\text {re }}$ these duties, and any accusation be made against them, this Brard, if upon iuvestigation the accusations are sustained, will impeach the officials concerned and request the high authorities to punish them severely.
XXVIII.-When any dispute arises, and both the parties to it are Chinese, the nearest local officiat should be requested to impartially decide the matter, an appeal being allowed to this Board if the decision of the local official is not accepted. When the dispute is between Chinese on the one hand and foreigners on the other, each side should appoint an arbitrator to hear the dispute together and arrange a settlement. Should the two arbitrators dis:gree, they should appoint a third, no matter whether connected with the undertaking or not, and together they should impartially decide the dispute. The Governments of the two nationalities coucerned must not interfere.
XXIX. - When a permit to work a mine has been issued, the contract for working the mine may he prepared covering all details, care being taken to avoid any infraction of the regulations. A copy of the draft contract must be submitted to the Board for its aproval before being signed.
XXX.-A permit to work a mine will be valid only for thirty years. If it be desired to renew the permit, the Boarl must be notified not later then six months prior to the expiration of the aforesaid thirty years, and the Board will then ennsider and determine the application. In cases of mining lands for which the State may have some other important purpose, no renewal of the permit will be granted. An estimate will be made of the amount to be paid for the recorery of the said lands. When a permit is renewed the same fees will be payable as in the case of an wriginal permit.
XXXI.-Notwithstanding that a permit has been issued to carry on mining operations (on Government land) within certain limits indicated on such permit, yet if within the toundaries described there should be any private property or private interests such property must bo marked off as not included in the concession. When a permit to work a mine is applied for any such circunstances should be reported to the Board, so that they may be recorded on the permit and thus avoid dispute. In the event of a permit being oltained by misrepresentation in regard to such circumstances the holder thereof will be held liable to a penalty on discovery of the facts.
XXXII.-When the mining concession incl des forests which may be needed by the State, trees can only be felled after permiss:on from the Board has been obtained. When application is made for the permit to conduct mining operaticus, the applicant must state if any felling of trees is contemplated, and, if after examination the Board gives its sanction, the extent of the forest which may be cleared will be recurded in the permit, and it will be unlawful to cut timber beyond the boundaries specified. All wood cut must he paid for at the current market price.
XXXIII. - If no ore shall have been taken out of a mine within twelve months after the rent of the concession has been paid, then the rent fur the second year must be paid; but if ore has been extracted in quantities within the first year, then the land tax must be paid as specified in the regulations, and no rent in addition will be demanded. This rule is allopted as an expression of the Government's consideration for trade. If, however, the rent shall not have been paid within three ${ }^{\text {onths of the }}$ due date, the mine and all the property connected therewith shall be sequestrated until the full amount due has been paid; and if the said debt shall not have been liquidated within a period of six months, the concession may be cancelled and the property contiscated.
XXXIV.-The tixx on the output of the mine will be generally in accordance with the classified list and scale given below, and ores not specified will rank for the purposes of taxation with those which most nearly approximate to them. The following rate of duty is payable in respect of ores extrasted from mines for the working of which contracts have already been made even though it be not specified in the conditions of the contract:-
(a.) Coal, Antimony, Iron, Alum, and Borax $5 \%$ ad valorem.
(b.) Petroleum, Copper, Tin, Lead, Sulphur, and Cinnabar $7 \frac{1}{2} \%$ ad valorem.
(c.) Gold, Platinum, Silver, Mercury, and Zine $10 \%$ ad valorem.
(d.) Diamonds, Quartz-crystal and all kinds of precious stones $20 \%$ ad valorem.
XXXV.-Export duty according to the tariff of the Imperial Maritime Customs must be paid on all ores sent out of the country, and when this has been paid no additional tax shall be levied at any inland barrier. All sums collected by the Customs in respect of the export of ores must ba kept as a separate fund until orders are issued for its appropriation.
XXXVI.-Mining companies must keep a careful record of all ores taken from the mines showing the exact quantities of each kind worked, and the quantities of each exported, as well as the grades of quality, and a report containing all this information must be sent to this Board every quarter. The Board may depute an examiner to visit the mine and verify the information, or may compare the returns with those furnished by the Customs, and if false returns are made a penalty will be imposed.
XXXVII.-When a prospecting permit is granted, the person to whom it is issued must furnish the Board with an approved bond as secuity in the amount of Tls. 5,000; and when a permit to work a mine is granted, an approved bond in the amount of Tls. 10,000 must be given as a guarantee that the holder of the permit will observe all the conditions of the permit, and conform to all the regulations of this Board. In default the bond money will be forfeited.
XXXVIII. - If a Chinese holder of a concession shall have been able to provide a sum exceeding Tls. 500,000 , and the Board is satisfied upon investigation that he is successfully working the mine, a special request will be made for an Edict conferring extraordinary rewards as an encouragement.

Nore.-The foregoing regulations, being a revised edition of those approved in the twenty-eight year of Kuangbsu (1902), are hereby declared to be the temporary regulations for the conduct of mining operations until a code of mining laws shall have been compiled and published containing such amendments to these regulations as may be found necessary.

THE REGIStration of trade Marks in china

Experimental Requlations.

1.-Any persou whether of Chinese or foreign nationality who desires to use a trade mark must first register the same in accordance with these Regulations. A special design, inscription, and emblem, either all three employed in combination, or any one or two of them, constitute the essential characteristics of a trade mark.
2.-The Board of Commerce will establish a Bureau of Registration to attend especially to such matters, and for the greater convenience of applicants for registration the Customs at Tientsin and Shanghai will serve temporarily as Branch Offices for receiving applications.
3.-Applicants for registration may send their applications either to the Bureau of Registration or to a Dranch Office to be forwarded to the Bureau.
4.-Every application must be accompanied by a memorandum containing a full description of the trade mark and a tripliate copy of the same; it must give (a) a general description of the trade mark ; (b) state to what class it belongs, and (c) on what particular kind of goods it is to be used. If the application be forwarded through a Branch Office, duplicates must be made both of the application and the memorandum.
5.-The Bureau of Registration having received an application, and having found nothing in it contrary to the regulations, shall file the same for six months, and if within that time no person shall have petitioned against the registration, the said trade mark shall be registered.
6. - If applications be made for the registration of two trade marks which resemble each other and which are to be used upon the same class of goods, registration will be granted to the person who first made application. If both applications be presented at the same time on the same day, permission to register will be given to both.
7.-In the case of a trade mark already registered in a foreign country, if application for its registration in China be made within four months from the date of its registration abroad, the date of such registration abroad may le recognised (as the date from which registration in China shall count.)
8.-Trade marks of the character specified below shall be refused registration :-
(i) Those which destroy respect for rank, do injury to the customs of the country, and deceive the people.
(ii) Those which imitate the impressions of seals specially reserved for the use of the Government (such as the Imperial seal and the oblong lead seals of the various yamens), or which imitate the desigus of the Imperial flag, the military banners or decorations for merit.
(iii) Marks already registered or marks resembling, or of the same nature as marks which for over two years prior to the application for registration have been publicly used in China or have covered a similar class of goods.
(iv) Those which are not sufficiently distinctive.
9.-The period during which Chinese or foreign merchants shall have the exclusive right to a trade mark is limited to twenty years, from the date of registration. The period for trade marks regristered abroad, which it is desired to register in China, shall count from the date of original registration, but in no case must it exceed twenty years.
10.-If owners of a trade mark wish $t$, have their exc'usive rights therein continued, they must within six months prior to the date of expiry give notice of their intention to reuew registration.
11. - If an owner of a reristered trade mark wishes to transfer his exclusive rights therein to another or to give others a share therein, he must at once give notice to the Registration Office and have the fact recorded.
12.-If a mark, already registered, coutravenes pariuriuphs i, ii, or iii, of Regulation 8 , the Registrar will have the right to cancel the same.
13. - Anyone who considers himself injured ly the fact that a trade mark has been rergistered in co: travention 8, iii., may apply to the Registrar to have registration cancelled, but he must do so within a period of three years from the date of registration.
14.--The Registrar must state in writing any reasons he may have for refusing to register a trade mark.
15. - Any reason for objection to the Regrstrar's ruling under Regulation 14, must be filed within six months from the date of refusal to register. If this be done the decision will be subject to revision.
16.-Applicants for registration, or owners of trade marks not resident in China, or residing at a distance from the Revistration Office, must appoint some trustworthy argent to act for them.
17.-Copics of entrie; on the Rerister, or permission 10 inspect the Register, may be applied for through the Registration Office or its branches. Those residing at a distance may apply through their agent.
18.-The Registrar will publish a 'Trade Marks' Gazette with a list of trade marks, and of any matters concerning the registration or cancellation of the same.
19.-At the instance of the owners cf exclusive rights in a trade mark, suits may be instituted against any who may iufringe such rights, and, on conviction, the latier will be inuleted in damages.
20.-Suits for infringement of trade marks will be conducted as follows :-
(a) If the defendant be a foreigner, the local authorities will move the Consul concerned to hold a joint investigation and trial.
(b) If the defendant be a Chinese, the Consul concerned will communicate with the Chinese authorities and a joint investigation will take place.
(c) If both plaintiff and defeudant are Chinese, or if both are foreigners, the Courts concerned will, in case of infringement, afford all necessary protection.
21.-The undermentioned offences are punishable with imprisonmeat up to one year, and a fine not exceeding Tlls. 300 , but judgmest can only be given in a suit instituted by the party aggrieved.
(a) Any attempt to use a similar class of goods, or to imitate a registered trade mark, belonging to another party, or to offer the same for sale.
(b) To imitate a trade mark, or apply it to a similar class of roods, or hnowingly to sell such goods, or have the same on the premises for purposes of sale.
(c) To use an imitation of a trade mark as a "chop," or to employ it for purposes of idvertisement.
(d) Knowingly to use packages or wrappers bearing the registered trade mark of others, for the same class of goods, or knowincrly to offer the same for sale.
(e) To import goods being well aware of the fact that they infringe the trade mark rights of others.
22.--In the event of any infringement, such as is described in Regulation No. 21, being discovered, all trade marlis, or articles used for making the same, shall be confiscated, and any goods or wrappers, packages or "chops," which cannot be dissociated from the marks they bear, shall be destroyed.
23.-Chinese or foreigners must pay fees according to the following scale, in connection with the registration of their marks and the issue of certificates:-

On every application to register a mark ......................Haikuan Tls. 5.00

9.-Letters containing any article of value should not be posted in a Pillar lox but should be registered at the General or Branch Post Office.
10.-Persons posting in thes.? boxes may cancel their stamps by writing the date across them.

Private Boxes.

11.--Private boxes may lee rented in the General Post Office, Hongkong, and in the Post Office, Shanghai. The fee is $$ 10$ a year, payable in advance.
12.-Each boxholder is supplied with an account book free, but must himself provide at least two stout bags (Shanghai firms require four), marked with his name in English and Chinese on both sides. Chinese nankin makes the best bags for this purpose. They should be without strings, but have a couple of iron rings at the mouth for suspending. Boxholders should insist on their coolies returning these bags to the Post Oftice as soon as emptied, or at any rate not later than next morning. The only safe way to empty a bag is to turm it inside out.
13.-Each boxholder's coolie will he provided with a stout ticket of pasteboard, bearing his employer's name in English and Chinese. This will enable him to obtain letters whenever a mail arrives and ensure that no coolie can wrongly obtain letters.
14.-The advantages of renting a box are many. It secures a quicker and more accurate delivery of correspondence. Hoxes are required to be cleared by lioxholders on the arrival of European and American Mails; on ordinary days delivery will he made by postmen unless boxholders desire that their daily correspondence should remain in their boxes to be cleared by themselves. Access to the boxes will be afforded to the boxholders between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily except on Sundays, when the time will be between $8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Unpaid letters are delivered to boxholders without the delay of demanding payment, change, de., as they are charged to the account. The boxholders of Hongkong and Shanghai send bags down in the mail steamer to be filled. Boxholders are allowed to post their letters in sealed boxes* and to mark their Postage Stamps. They receive free copies of all notices issued by the Post Office, Tables of Rates, \&c.
15.- lhoxholders' books are sent out for settlement on the first day of each month and should be returned promptly. As a general rule no information can be given as to the correspondence charged in these accounts, where it came from, &c. There is only one way to obtain such information, and that is to file the covers of all unpaid corvespondence received. Entries On Joard are for unpaid correspondence dealt with by the marine officer on his way up from Singapore.

& \text { By any vessel from any port during the course } \\

108.     - Tnterceptions shall be made when practicable, hut the fees so paid shall not entitle the persons applying to have their mail matter intercepted to clam as of right the interception of all or any particular postal packet addressed to them.
109.-The Postmaster-General shall not be bound to entertain any request for interception unless such request is accompanied by the above prescribed fees. Correspondence clirected to care of boxholders in Hongkong must, without exception, be delivered as addressed.
110.- liequests for the redirection or interception of correspondence must be in writing. The precise address of the correspondence must be given.
$111 .-$ No request for redirection will be acted upon for more than three months, at the end of which time the correspondence resumes its usual course.

Poste Pestante.

112.-All letters and other Postal packets superscribed "To be kept till called for," "To await arrival," or in any similar way, and also those addressed "Post Office," or "Hongkong" without any other address are held to fall under the head "Poste liestante."
113.-When correspondence is received addressed to parties in "Hongkong" without a full address and no request has been received from the addressee regarding it or his name does not appear in the Directory, such correspondence will be placed in Poste liestante.
114.-The Poste liestante being intended solely for the accommodation of strangers and travellers who have no permanent abode in the town, letters or other postal packets for residents must not be addressed to the Post Ottice to be called for, nor will such letters or postal packets be kept in the loste lestante longer than the following periods, viz.:-

Local letters are kept for 1 month  International ", "2 months

Letters for steamers are kept for 3 months " sailing vessels " 4 "
115. - Letters or other postal packets addressed to initials or to fictitious names or to a christian name without a surname are not taken in at the loste liestante but are at once sent to the lieturned Letter Branch for disposal.
116.-All persons applying for Poste liestante letters or other postal packets must furnish the necessary and required particulars to prevent mistakes and to ensure the delivery of the same to the persons to whom they properly belong and sign the register. If the addressee does not apply for same in person the messenger must be furnished with the required information and must have a written authority to receive them. If the applicant be a foreigner he must produce his passport or other evidence of identity

Jisposial of Undelivered Correspondence.

117.-Every letter or other postal article should bar the full name and address of the sender in order to ensure its return in case of non-delivery.
118. -An undelivered local or foreign letter or post card bearing the full name and address of the sender printed or written upon the outside is returned direct to the sencler. ()ther undelivered local letters and post cards are sent to the lieturned Letter Bramch where, after having been advertised, they will at the expiration of ten days be opened and returned, if possible, to the senders; if they contain neither sender's name or address, nor any enclosure of importance they will be destroyed. Letters found to contain articles of value are recorded and if returned are registered. Letters from abroad are returned unopened to the country of origin after having been advertised.
119.-Book packets and newspapers which cannot be delivered and which bear the name and address of the sender with a request for their return in case of non-delivery are returned direct to the sender on payment of a second postage. 'Those bearing no name nor request for return are sent to the Returned Letter Jranch, where, after having been advertised, they will, at the expiration of ten days thereafter, if not previously claimed and a second postage paid, be disposed of.
120.-The name and address of the sender and the request for return should be written or printed in small type at the upper left-hand comer of the packet.
121. - All unpaid undelivered letters or post cards shall be delivered to the senders only on the payment of the amount charged thercon.

Airticles of Vaiula.

122.-Neither money nor any other article of value ought to be sent by post except in a registered postal packet, and in the case of money by means of a Post Office Money Order or of a Postal Order duly filled up) with the name of the payee. Any person who sends money or any other articles of value otherwise runs tho risk of losing his property and the Post Office declines all responsibility for such and will make no enquiries into alleged losses of such letters.

Miscellaneous.

123.- Contrary to general usage, the IIongkong Post Office will give a Certificate of posting for an ordinary letter, to assure the sender his correspondence has not been stolen on the way to the l'ost. The conditions under which such Certificate will be given are as follows:
(1.) The certificate of posting written in ink must be presented to an officer on cluty at the Post Office along with the article to be posted during the hours which the Post Office is open to the public.
(2.) The certificate must contain an exact copy of the address on the article to which it relates and must have a postage stamp value one cent affixed thereto.
(3.) The officer to whom the article and certificate are presented will compare the address on the article with the certificate and if it be correct will obliterate the postage stamp and impress the date starop on the certificate and return the certificate to the person posting the article. (4.) The granting of such certificate affords the public an assurance that letters and other articles entrusted to servants and messengers for posting have actually been posted, but implies no responsibility on the part of the Post Office if such articles be lost or dimaged in transit.
124.-It is no part of the cluties of the Post Office to affix stamps to correspondence, or to see that servants purchase or affix the proper amounts, nor can the officers of the Department, under any circumstances, undertake to do this.
125.-Any article of correspondence rluly prepaid and posted becomes the property of the addressee, and cannot be returned to the sender, nor can it be detained, without the written authority of the Governor of Hongkong or of His Majesty's Consul at the l'ort on an application stating fully the reasons for the recpuest.
126. - Postal ofticials are not bound to give change, nor are they authorized to demand it ; and when money is paid at a l'ost Office, whether as change or otherwise, no question as to its right amount, goodness or weight can be entertained after it has been removed from the counter.
127.-Postal officials are not bound to weigh for the public, letters, books, packets or newspapers brought for the post, but they ma? do so if their duty be not thereby impeded. This rule does not apply to parcels, which are tested both as to weight and size before being accepted.
128. - No information can be given respecting letters or any other postal packets except to the persons to whom they are addressed, and in no other way is official information or a private character allowed to be made public.
129.-Circulars should be tied in bundles, with all the addresses in one direction, and should be posted as early as possible before the hour fixed for closing, so as to secure due despatch.
130.-The Post Office is not legally liable for any loss or inconvenience which may arise from the damage, delay, non-delivery, mis-sending, or mis-delivery of any letter or other postal packet, but liability for actual loss or damage is accepted on certain conditions in the case of parcels and registered packets.
131.-All complaints in Hongkong and those which cannot be arjusted locally at Postal Agencies should be addressed to the Postmaster General, Hongkong, and if marked "On Postal Business," will be forwarded free by any Postmaster or agent. The cover of any correspondence about which complaint is made should if possible be forwarded with such complaint. When correspondence has been missent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally), all that the complainant need do is to write on the cover, Sent to ......, or Delivered at ...... or Tot received till the .. ...th. instant, or as the case may be, and forward it, without any note or letter whatever, to the Postmaster General. Attention to this would save much writing and needless trouble.

Local Money Orders And Postal Notes.

132.- -The hours of business at the General Post Office, Hongkong, daily, excepting Saturdays, are from $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.; Saturdays, $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to 1 p.m. On the working day next before the English and French contract mails for Europe learing at noon the Otfice is open from 10 a $\mathbf{2} . \mathrm{m}$. to 5 p.in. Money orders for the Straits, Inclia and Europe are not issued before noon on dilys when the contract mail for Lurope leaves at that hour. Postal notes, however, can be obtained.

135.- Applications for Money Orders must be made on the printed forms provided for the purpose at the Money Otrler Ollices. The full name and address of both applicant and payee should always be given.
136.-Parties procuring Money Orders should examine them carefully to see that they aro properly filled up and stamped.
137.-When a Money Order is presented for payment at the office upon which it is drawn, the Postmaster will use all proper means to assure himself that the applicant is the person named and intended in the advice or is the endorsee of the letter, and upon payment of the order care must be taken to obtain the signature of the payee or of the person authorized by him to receive payment to the receipt on the face of the order.
138. When a Money Order has been lost by either remitter or payee a duplicate thereof will be issued by the paying olfice on payment of a second commission; and when a remitter desires to correct any error in an order obtained by him such correction may be made on payment of a second commission. Application for either of the above purposes should be made in writing to the P'ostmaster-General.
139. -The remitter of a local order may request at the time of issue or subsequently that the order be crossed like a cheque, thus, "= dCo." in order that it may be paid only through a bank. In the case of crossed orders the remitter may at his pleasure give or withhold the payee's name or description.
140.- If the payee is unable to write he must sign the receipt by making his mark, to be witnessed in writing by some one known to the lostmaster but unconnected with the Post Office. The witness should sign his name with his address in the presence of the Postmaster, and the latter will then certify the payment by adding his own initials. In no case should the I'ostmaster act as witness himself. It is not necessary that the witness should be personally acquainted with the payec.
141.-After once paying M Money Order, by whomsoever presented, provided the required information has been given ly the party who presented it, the Department will not hold itself liable to any further claim.
142.-The Commission to be charged on the issue of Money Orders payable in IIongkong and the Agencies in China will be one cent per dollar, or fraction of a dollar, with a minimum charge of five cents.
143.- An order remaining unpaid after one year from date of issue-fien, issued in January, but unpaid at the end of the following January)-is considered as void and lapsed to Govermment and will not be paid unless satisfactory explanation as to the cause of delay in prosenting it for payment can be furnished to the P'ostmaster-General, who alone can authorize such payment. A second commission will be payable on any such payment.

Postal Notes.

144.- Local Postal Notes shall be for one of the following amounts, payable within six months, issued and paid at the General Post Office, Hongkong, and at the several British I'ostal Agencies, and in respect thereof the Commission payable shall be:-

| Amount. | Commission. | Amount. | Commission. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 25 cents | 1 cent | $$ 3.00$ | 6 cents |
| 50 | 1 | $"$ | 4.00 |
| $$ 1.00$ | 2 | $"$ | 5.00 |
|  | 40 | 20 | $"$ |

145.-In addition to the aloove commission on Postal Orders issued at the General Post Office, Hongkong, Hoihow, Canton, Swatow, Amoy and Foochow payable at Shanghai, Ningpo, Hankow, Liu Kung Tau and Chefoo, a further charge at current rates is made to cover the difference between chopped and clean dollars.
146.-Broken amounts, may be made up by the use of Hongkong postage stamps not exceeding 24 cents in value affixed to the face of any one lostal Order. Perforated stamps cannot be accepted for this murpose.
147. -The office issuing any Postal Note shall fill in the name of the port where it is payable. The purchaser may, before parting with the order, fill in the name of the Payee.
148.- Every person to whom a Postal Order is issued should keep) a record of the nurnber, date and name of oflice of issue, to facilitate enquiry if the Order should be lost, and should register the letter in which it is forwarded.
149.-If a Postal Note be lost or destroyed no duplicate thereof can be issued. This regulation cannot be departed from in any case whatever, for the reason that every Postal Note is payable to bearer and that no specified person can therefore satisfactorily establish the fact of his ownership in a lost Order which is not filled in, and which if found at any time, would be payable to bearer.
150.-If a Postal Order be crossed $=$ & Co. payment will only be made through a Banker, and if the name of a lanker is added payment will only be made through that Banker.
151.-After a Postal Order has once been paid, to whomsoever it is paid, the Government will not be liable for any further clam.
152. - If any crasure or alteration be made, or if the Order is cut, defaced or mutilated, payment may be refused.
153.- Any officer in charge of a Post Office may rlelayor refuse the payment of a Postal Order, but he must at once report his rensons for so doing to the Postmaster-General.
154.-After the expiration of six months from the last day of the month of issue a Postal Order will be payable only on payment of a commission equal to the amount of the original commission, but after twelve months it will become invalid and not payable. 155.-It shall be within the discretion of the Postmaster-General to suspend at any time the issue of Local Postal Orders.

The Non-Postal Charges are as follows:-(1.) 60 cents on every parcel, due to the American Dixpress Co. for Customs clearance and formalities, and (2.) 60 cents in respect of the charges levied by the United States Government under the title of "Simple Office Fee" or "Storage Fee" on every parcel entering the Country.

Mode of Prepayment.

(c.) The postal charges must be prepaid by means of stamps affixed to the cover of the purcel. It is open to the sender:-(1.) To prepay in the same way the non-postal charges other than Customs duties. (2.) While prepaying' the charges specitied under hearling I., to assume responsibility for the Customs charges, so that the parcel may be delivered free of cost to the recipient. In this case it will be necessary to proceed in the manner described in liule 206. This arrangement ensures a speedierconveyance, since ordinary parcels will remarn at the New Cork Custom House matil the addressees nave remitted thither the amount of duty and other charges upon them. The charges not prepaid by the sender will be collected from the addressee.

Parcels Fonwarded in Bond,

(d.) The sender may, without extia charge, direct that a parcel be sent through the New lork Custom House in bond, for Customs Examination at any of the "L'nited States l'orts of Entry," or Inland Custom Houses, of which a list is appended. This arrangement also does away with the delay at New York referred to in the preceding paragraph, but, on the other hand, the addressees will have to make arrangements for the relivery of purels so treated after they have been cleared at the Custom H Louse of the Inland Port of Entry. The sender of a parcel intended to he forwarded in boud must mark it plainly "In bond to............................," maning the Inland Port of Entry chosen, and the sane words must also appear in the same handwriting on the Customs declaration which accompanies the parcel.

Customs Declarations.
(c.) The non-adhesive form of Customs declaration must be used. Two copies are required. If the parcel is to be sent in bond to in Inland Port of lintry, it must be endorsed as rimected in para. d. Moreover, if the value of the goods contained in the parcel exceeds $$ 100$ (Gold) or $£ 20$ 10s. the declaration mast be made before a United States Consul on forms supplied by him.

When Parcels are posted to be sent via San Francisco.
(a.) The contents of all such Parcels must be specially declared, and must not be of greater value than $$ 50$ (Gold).
(b.) The weight limit must not exceed 4 lts. 6 ozs .
(c.) Parcels must not be sealed.
(d.) Parcels cannot be registered or iusured and no compensntion is payable should any such be lost or climaged when forwarded by this route.
206.-Arrangements have been made whereby persons sending parcels to the undermentioned countries and places can take upon themselves the payment of the Customs and other charges ordinarily payable by the addressees : -

Foreiga Countries.

The sender must pay a fee of 25 cents, must sign an undertaking to pay on demand the amount due, and must make a deposit on account of the charges at the rate of 25 per cent. of the value of the parcel. A final settlement will take place as soon as the amount of the charges due has been ascertained from the country of destination. l'arcels intended to be sent under these arragements must be handed in at the General Post Oflice.

Forbidden Alrticles, Enclosures, de.

$207 .--$ No article which is inadmissible by the Local Parcel Post (see Rule 86) may be sent by the Foreign Parcel Post, nor my enclosure which bears an address different from that placed on the cover of the parcel.
208. - No letter, even if addressed in the same way as the parcel in which it is enclosed, may be sent in a parcel addressed to any Foreign Country or to Australia, British Central Africa, Cape Colony, Natal and other parts of South Africa, Fiji, Jamaica, Mauritius, New Zealand, Seychelles, Straits Settlements, Trinidad, the United States. l'arcels for other British possessions may contain a letter for the addressee, but packets of letters must not be sent by Pacel Post to any place abroad. An invoice in an open envelope, giving simply particulars of the goods contained in the parcel, may be enclosed in my parcel.

201 .-Further, no parcel is admissible which contains base or counterfeit coin, articles infringing trademark or copyright laws, any article or substance liable to become offensive or injurious through natural decay during the time ordinarily occupied in transmission (for example, butter, de., addressed to a tropical or subtropical country, or having to pass through the tropics in course of transmission, unless enclosed in a hermetically sealed tin), or any article or substance specially prohibited from importation into the country or colony to which the parcel is addressed. For a list of such special prohibitions, see 'l'able of Postage, (ve. (liule 243). The l'ost Office can accept no responsibility for the correctness and completeness of this list, although efforts are made to secure accuracy.
210. - It is pointed out that many perishable articles, even though in good condition at the time of posting, may become offensive and worthless owing to the length of the journey, although delivered in proper course of post.
211.-T'arcels for Ascension, St. Melena, South and Central Africa, and uninsured parcels for Egypt and Zanzibar, may not exceed $£ 50$ in value, and parcels for Straits Settlements exceeding the value of $$ 50$ must be insured.
212.- I'arcels containing coin, any article of yold or silver, on: any article of value, cannot be sent ly l'arcel l'ost to the United Kinydom, reny L'oreign countr? or British possession included in the insurance system (for list of such places see Rule $2 \mathscr{\circ}$ ), unless they are insured for at least part of their value, and are packed and sealed in accordance with the special regulations given in Rules 231-w33.

Packing and Sealing.

213.-The rules as regards articles which require to be packed with special care (see IRules 86 and 87) must be observed in the case of Foreign and Colonial parcels. More careful and substantial packing is necessary for such parcelsthan for local parcels, owing to the much greater distance over which, as a rule, the former have to be conveyed, the very different conditions of transit, and the influences of climate. This is a consideration which must necessarily be taken into account in dealing with claims for compensation. Parcels for Greece, Persia, lioumania and liussia must be packed in some material stronger than paper or cardboard.
214.-For parcels containing liquids and substances which easily liquefy the following method should be adopted :-Two receptacles should he used, and between the inner one, which contains the liquid, and the outer one, which should be of wood or metal, space should be left all round, and this space should be filled with bran, sawdust, or other absorbent material.
215.-Further, a parcel for it Foreign Country must be so sealed by the sender that it cannot be opened without breaking the seals or leaving an obvous truce of violation, The seals must bear the impression of a private mark of the sender.
210.-- - s to the packing and sealing of insured parcels, see liule 231.

Delivery of Parcels.

217.     - In Hongkong parcels are not, like letters, delivered at the residences of the addressees. Notice of the arrival of a parcel is sent to the addressee, who must then claim the parcel at the Post Oftice where it is lying.
218. -In Belgium, France and Spain parcels are delivered by the Railway Companies and not loy the Post Office, and parcels intended to be called for should be addressed, not to a loste liestante in those countries, but to a Railway Station (en gave) 219. - In the United States parcels are not in all cases delirered at the houses of the recipients. They will, however, be delivered at all places within the delivery of any Express Company of the United States, and when they are not delivered, a notice of their arrival will be sent to the addressees, who must then arrange to obtain them. at the point where they are lying.

lie-direction and Return of Parcels.

220.-larcels arriving in this Colony and re-directed from one address to another in the Colony are treated and charged under the regulations which govern the treatment and charge of re-directed parcels by the Local Parcel Post. (See lRule 106.)

221 .- A parcel which is returned or re-directed from one country to another is charged the full postage.

Compensation for Loss on Damage.

222.-The I'ostmaster-General will (not in consequence of any legal liability, but voluntarily, as un act of grace) give compensation for the loss or damage of uninsured parcels sent by Parcels lost between Hongkong and the United Kingdom and the undermentioned British Possessions and Foreign Countries, when such loss or damage takes place while the parcels are in his custody, and does not arise from any fault or neglect of the senders or the nature of the contents:-

Regulations.

228.-The fee (which is for insurance and registration) must be prepmid by meanof postage stamps, which the sender must hand in at the same time with the parcel to be affixed to the certificate of posting ; the!, must not be plared on the cover or lablel of the precel. A certificate of posting must always be obtamed by the sender of an insured parcel.

229 - No parer can be insured for more than the sum set in the list given on the preceding page against the name of the country or colony to which it is aldressed, or for a sum above the real value of the contents. $\Lambda$ pareel of which the contents have no saleable value may, however, be insured for $a$ nominal sum in order to obtain the safeguards of the registration system. Oner-insurance is a bar to compensation.
230. -The sum for which a purcel is to be insured must be entered on the cover, thus:-"Insured for $£-$--s.-d." It must also be inscribed in the phee provided on the respatch note if one is used. The number of pounds should be entered in words. So alteration or erasure of the entry is permitted.

[^16]231.- Every insured parcel must be packed carefully and substantially, with due regard to the nature of the contents. and the length of the journey, and must be sealed with wax or lead in such a way that it cannot be opened without either breaking the seal or leaving obvious traces of violation. For instance, seals must be placed over each join or loose flap of the covering of a parcel, and if string he used in packing a seal must be placed on the cuds of the string where they are tied.
232.-All the seals on a parcel must be of the same kind of wax or lead and must bear distinct impresssons of some device, and this device must be the same on each seal and must not consist merely of straight, curved, or crossed lines. Coins must not be used for sealing, and it is strongly recommended that, when possible, an impression of the seal used on the parcel should be made on the counterfoil of the despateh note.
233.- Pircels containing coin, any article of gold or silver, or any article of value, must be enclosed in strong boxes or cases, which must be sewn up, or otherwise fastened, in wrappers of linen, canvas, strong paper, or other substantial material. In such cases the seals must be placed along the edges of each joint or loose flap at distances not more than three inches apart. The address of such parcels must be written on their actual covering.
234.-If a parcel tendered for insurance does not, in the opinion of the officer to whom it is tendered, fulfil the foregoing conditions as to packing and sealing, it is his duty to refuse to insure it ; but the onus of properly packing and fastening the parcel lies upon the sender, and the P'ost Office assumes no liability for loss or damage arising from defects of packing or fastening which may not be observed at the time of posting.
235. - Unless parcels containing coin, any article of gold or silver or any article of value, are insured for at least part of their value, they cannot be sent by Parcel Post to the places mentioned in Rule 220. Any such parcel posted uninsured will generally be returned to the sender. A compulsory registration fee of 20 cents will be collected on the delivery of every uninsured parcel received from the places above mentioned and found to contain coin, any article of gold or silver, or any article of value.
236. When an insured parcel is re-rlirected from one country to another a fresh insurance fee becomes payable for each transmission. If this fee is not prepaid it is collected from the addressee on delivery. Insured parcels can only be re-directed to countries which have adopted the insurance system.
237. - Compensation for a parcel lost or damaged in the Post will not exceed the amount of the actual loss or damage, and no compensation at all will be paid for a parcel containing any prohibited article, or for a parcel which has been delivered with out external trace of injury and has been accepted without remarks by the addressee ; nor does it follow as a matter of course that compensation will be given when loss or damage arises from tempest, shipwreck, earthquake, war, or other causes beyond control. No claim for compensation will be admitted if made more than a year after the parcel was posted. The seuder has the first claim to any compensation which may be payable, but he may waive his claim in favour of the addressee.
238. - No legal liability to give compensation in respect of any parcel for which an insurance fee has been paid attaches to the Postmaster-General, either personally or in his official capacity. The final decision upon all questions of compensation rests with the Postal Adnmistration of the country in which the loss or clamage has taken place.
239.-The insurance system also applies to parcels from the places mentioned in Rule 226, but parcels to or' from other places abroad cannot be insured.
240.-Any insurance effected contrary to the foregoing Regulations is invalid.

DIRECTORY

VLADIVOSTOCK

This port, on some charts still called lort May, lies in latitude 43 deg. 7 min . N. and longitude 131 deg. 54 min . L., at the southern end of a long peninsula reaching into Peter the Great Bay. Of the ports in East Siberia, it is by far the most important both as a military and commercial centre. Vladivostock is one of the most magnificent hartours in the East. From its peculiar long and narrow shape and the once supposed hidden treasures in the slightly auriferous soil of its surrounding hills, it has not inappropriately been called the follen IIom. The entrances to the harlour are hidden by Dundas Island, which divides the fairway into two narrow passages. This tine sheet of water first runs for about half a mile in a northern direction and then suddenly bends to the east for a distance of about one mile. On all sides it is surrounded by hills, low on the southern and higher on the northern shore, and which slope sharply down to the water's edge. These hills, once verdant with foliage, have been completely denuded of trees by reckless felling. The harlour, capable of accommodating an almost unlimited number of vessels of deep draught and large capacity, affords a safe anchorage. It is usually icebound in January and February, but steamers can always find their way in with the assistance of an ice-breaker. There is a floating dock capable of taking in vessels up to 3,000 tons, and a fine graving dock was opened on the 13th Octoler, 1897. The dimensions of this dock are :- Length over all, 625 feet; length at loottom, 505 feet; breadth, 120 feet; breadth at entrance, 90 feet; depth, 30 feet. Two large docks especially for naval purposes are in course of construction.

Before Russia obtained her usufruct of Port Arthur, the port of Vladivostock was the chief naval station of liussia on the Pacific, but in recent years it has taken second rank in that respect. The port is commanded by an Admiral appointed from home, and there is also a military Governor residing at Tladivostock, who is in command of the forces spread over the South Ussuri rlistrict. The municipal affairs of the town are managed by a Mayor and Town Council electerl by and from among the liussian civil community. In 1899 the Commercial Harbour-()flice was opened. The town is built on the southern slope of the hills ruming along the northern shore of the harbour, and handsome brick residences have been erected in recent years, replacing the older woolen structures. 'The entire area, with the exception of some unoccupied lots intervening here and there, is covered by buildings ; and the town is well laid out with widebut ill-kept roads. The sanitary arrangenents are bad, though the town is fairly healthy. Most conspicuous among the buildings are the govermment oflices, the post and telegraphoffice, municipal house, the barracks, the railway station, the museum, the Russian chureh, the Governor's residence and that of the Admiral Commanding, which is surrounded by a Public Garden, while the houses of the more affluent merchants are well and substantially built. In the Public Garden the naval band plays twice a week during the summer. There is a Naval Club, to which civilians are ardmitted ns non-voting members, four or five hotels, a high oriental lyceum with a gymmasium and school for boys, an institute for girls, and military, naval and civil hospitals. There are monuments of Admiral Nevelsay havoysco. The town has a population of ahout 30,000 , most of whom are of European extraction. The retail trade is principally in the hands of Germans and Chinese and the port is one of importance, Russian, British, (Xerman and Japanese steamers doing most of the carrying trade. Juring the past year the war has put a stop to the sea-borne trude of the port, and a Japanese squarlron has periodically bombarded the fonts. A large garrison is maintained, but exact figures are not obtainable. In June, 1891, the present Tsar cut the first sod of the Vladivostock section of the Siberian Railway, which extends to Habarofsk, with a banch to Harbin in Manchuria. The accommodation and service are very good, and the fares very reasonable. Commercial agents for Great Britain, the United States, Italy, Belgium, Japan, China, F'rance and IIolland resided at Vladivostock until the outbreak of war.

NICOLAJEWSK

The port and settlement of Nicolajewsk, founded in 1851 by Admiral Nevelskoi, it situated on the river Amur, about 29 miles from its mouth. The Anur is here about nine miles in width, with a depth in mid stream of eight to nine fathoms and a current of three to four knots, though the river is very shallow in parts, even in mid-stream. It is navigable for vessels of light draught for more than 2,000 miles, and vessels of 32 feet driught can get up 600 miles. The town is built on a plateau 50 feet above the sea level and gradlually slopes down to the river to the eastward. The most conspicuous edifice is the Cathedral, round which the town is luilt. This structure is imposing inappearance, with a large west tower, having belfry aml dome, but it is built of wood and is already showing signs of deterioration. At the lack of the Cathedral is a large grass grown square two sides of which are occupied hy Barracks, Governor's House, and Police Station. There are few substantial houses in the town, except those used as public buildings or stores, and the buildings are small and wholly built of wood. There is little trade except in fish and cranberries, quantities of salmon being dried and cured here. Since the naval and military head-quarters were transferred to Vladivostock the place has declined in impurtance.

JAPAN

Constitution and Government

The govermment of the Japanese Empire was formerly that of an absolute monarchy. In the year 1868 the now ruling sovereign overthew, after a short war, the power of the Shogun, together with that of the Dainios or feudal nobles, who, on the 25 th June, 1869 , resigned their lands, revenues, and retainers to the Mikalo, hy whom they were promitte:l to retain one-tenth of their original incomes, hat ordered to reside in the capital in future. 'The sovereign bears the name of limperor' ; but the appellation by which he has been gemerally known in foreign countries is the ancient title of Mikado.

Mutsu-hito, the reigning monarch, was born it Kyoto, on November 3rel, 1852; succeeded his father, Kome 'lemno, 1897; married I)ecember 28th, 1868 , to l'rincess Haru-ko, lorn April 17 th, 18\%0, danghter of Prince Itchijo. The reigning Emperor is the $]$ enst of an unbroken dynasty, which was founded figo b.c. liy the moient and regular law of succession the crown devolves upon the chdest son, and, failing male issue, upon the dedest daughter of the sovereign. This law has often been disregarded in. consequence of the partiality of the monarch or the ambition of powerful ministers, which was one of the principal canses that culminaterl in the dual system of (fovernment in Japan. 'lhe Throne has trequently been occupied loy a female. A new law of succession was promulgated in Fehruary, 1880, which excludes females from the [mperial Throne.

The power of the Mikalo was formerly alsolute, but its exercise was controlled to some extent hy custom and public "pinion. His Majesty, in 1875, when the Senate and Supreme Julicial Tribunal were founded, solemmy dechared his earnest desire to have a constitutional system of government. The Mikado has long heen regarded as the spiritual as well as the temporal head of the limpire, hat although the Shinto faith is held to be a form of national religion, the Emperor does not interfere in religious matters, amdall religions are tolerated in Japan. The lecelesiastical Department was in 1877 reduced to a simple bureau under the control of the Dinister of the Interior. The Mikalo acts through an Executive Ministry divided into nine departments, namely:Gwamu Sho (Forelgn Affairs), Namu Sho (Interior), ( kura Sho (f゙inance), Kagun Sho (Navy), likugun Sho (Army), Shihosho (Justice), Mombu Sho (Blucation), Noshomu Sho (Agriculture and Commerce), and Teishin Sho (Communications). In 1888 a Privy Council, modelled on that of (hreat Britain, was constituted. The new Constitution, promised ly the Mikulo in 1881, was prochamed on the 11 th Fehruary, 1889, and in July, 1890, the first larlimment was elected, and met on the e9th Nowember. The limliamentary system is hicameral, the House of Peers and the House of liepresentatives constituting the Imperial liet.
'The limpire is divided for administrative purposes into three fu, or cities ('lokyo, Kyoto, and (Osaka), and forty-three Lien, or prefectures, including the Lonchoo Islands, which have heen converted into a ken mol named (Okimwa. The island of Yezo is under a separate administration called Hokkido-cho, ind Formosia is governed as a colony. These fu and hen are governed hy prefects, who are all of equal rank, are under control of the Namu Sho, and have limited powers, being required to submit every matter, unless there is a precedent for it, to the Minister of the Interior. Nor have they any concern in judicial proceedings, which come under the cornizance of the forty-eight lowal (burts and the seven Supreme Courts at Tokyo, ()saka, Nagoya, Hiroshima, Nagasaki, Migagi, amd Hakodate, over which the baishin In presides at T'ukyo.

Previous to the last change of Govemment, which restorel the ancient Imperial régime, the udministrative authority rested with the Shogun (Military Commander), whom foreigners were at first led to recognise as the temporal sovereign, and with whom they negotiated treaties of peace and commerere. The shognate was founded in 1184 by Yoritomo, a general of great valour and ability, and was continued through several dynasties until 1869, when the Tokugaw fanily were dispossessed of the usurped authority. Cnder the Shogun three fandred or move Damios (feudal princes) shared the administrative power, being practically suprome in their respective domains, conditionally upon their loyalty to the Shogun; hat their rank and power disappeared with the Shogumate. On the Tth July, 188 l , however, Mis. Majesty issued an Imperial Notification and leseript rehabilitating the mohility, and admitting to its ranks the most distinguishord civil and military otticials who tork part in the work of the liestomation The old titless were ilkolished, and have been replaced by those of Prince ( $\mathrm{K}^{\circ}$ ), Marguis Ko), Cuunt (I/aku), Viscount (Shi), ard Biaron (D)(an).

Revenue and Expenditure

The annual State revenue pertaining to the general account is estimated in the Budget for 1904-1905 at yen 229,855,933, while the expenditure is estimated at yen 223,181,230, leaving a surplus of a little more than six and a half million yen. The estimated revenue is considerally lower than it has been in the preceding five years, but this is mainly due to special causes. A surtax on land has terminated, and with the commencement of the fimmeinl year 1904-1905 the land-tax was restored to its original rate, resulting in a decrease of over yen $10,00,000$; there was also a decrease of over yen $3,000,000$ in the transfer of Chinese indemnity funds which had been set aside to meet certain extraordinary expenditures. In the items of the revenue account which form an index to the prosperity of the country, such, for instance, as the income and business taxes, the estimates contemplate increased receipts. The outhreak of war necessitated the provision of a War Fund. A "Reserve Fund for Emergencies" which amounted to $40,000,000$ yen was apmopriated for this purpose, and Imperial sanction was obtained for a sum of yen $156,000,000$ to be raised by loans and bonds and by borrowing from the special accounts. In addition an Extraordinary War Budget was passed for yen 380,0 (1,000, making a total war expenditure of yen $576,000,000$, equivaient to about £ $58,000,000$.
1)uring the last five years Japan has been spending largely on military and naval expansion schemes, which were formulated after her war with China. These schemes involved a total expenditure of yen $342,384,750$ covering the period down to March, 1906, and in addition the ordinary expenditure on the Army and Nary has steadily increased in correspondence with the increments in the growth of the Imperial forces.

The national debts outstanding at the end of the last finameial year (1003-4) amounted to yen $564,918,951$. Included in this amount is the foreign loan of $£ 10,000,000$ issued in 1899. The lom is for 5o years, from Jantary 1, 1899, but is redeemable at ${ }^{2} 100$ per cent. after January 1,1900 , loy drawings from time to time at the option of the Govermment of Japan, on their giving six months' notice. The rate of interest is 4 per cent., and the loan was issued at $£ 90$ per $£ 100$. The proceeds of the lon are being applied towards the completion of the various remuncrative public works cited in the following Acts of Parliament: Railway Construction Loan of 1892. Public Undertakings Loan of 1896, Hokkaido Railwiay Construction Loan of 1896, the law relating to the placing of a public loan ina foreign country of 1899. The expenditure under these Acts is estimated to be as follows : $£ 8,900,000$ for railway construction and improvement ; $£ 900,000$ for estahlishment of steel works ; $£ 1,000,000$ for extension of the telephone service.
$\Lambda$ War Loan for $£ 10,000,0 \% 0$ at 6 per cent, redecmable in seven years was issued in May, 1904 -half in England and half in the United States. The issue price was 933 , the security being in first charge on the Customs receipts. The half of the loan raised in Fingland was nearly 31 times over-subscribed. In November 1904 another 6 per cent. sterling loan for $£ 12,000,000$ was issued, half heing placed in England and the other half in the United States. The subscription price was $90 \frac{1}{5}$ per cent. This loan which is secured by a charge on the Customs is, like the last, refteemable in 1911. It was very largely over-sulscribed in both countries. In England the subscriptions amounted to $\mathfrak{£} 80,5: 53,800$.

Army And Nayy

Until the war with China the Army consisted of six divisions and the Imperial Guards, with a peace footing strength of 70,000 in round numbers and a war footing of 268,000 , exclusive of the Gendarmerie and the Yezo Militia; but on the conclusion of the war a large scheme of expansion was alopted, under which the number of divisions was raised to twelve, exclusive of the Guards. The peace footing is now 145,000 , and the war footing 520,000 .

At the conclusion of the war with China, Japan found herself in possession of a fighting fleet of forty-three serviceable vessels-independent of twenty-six torpedo-boats-their aggregate displacement being 78,774 tons. Of these, ten, with an aggregate displacement of 15,055 tons, had been captured from Chima-namely, an armour-clad turret-ship of 7,335 tons, two steel cruisers, six steel gunboats, and one wooden gumboat. (l'ror to the capture of the Chen-y/uen, now called the Chin-yen, Japan did not possess i line-of-battle ship). Her Heet consisted entirely of comparatively small vessels). There were also on the stocks two steel cruisers and a steel despatch vessel. An expansion scheme, extending from 1st April, 1806, to 31st March, 1906, was then adopted and orders were subsequently placed for ships in Great Britain, the United States, France, and Germany, as well as in the home yards. The building programme was as follows -4 first-chass battle-ships of 15,240 tons each, 6 first-class cruisers of 9,200 tons each, 3 second-class cruisers of 4,850 tons each, 2 thirl-calss cruisers of 3,200 tons each, 3 torpedo-gunloats of 1,200 tons each, 1 torpedo depot-ship, 11 torpedo-boat destroyers, 89 torpedo-boats. It was calculated that with these alditions the total force in 1906 would be 6 first-class battle-ships from 12,510 to 15,240 tons, 1 second-class battle-ship of 7,335 tons, 6 first-chass amoured cruisers of over 9,200 tons each, 7 second-class cruisers of over 4,000 toms each, 6 thind class cruisers of over 3,000 toms cach, 12 fourth-class cruisers of over 1,500 toms each, 3 torpedo gunboats of 1,200 tons each, I torperlo depot-ship of 6,750 tons, 11 torpeab-boat destroyers 115 torpedo-boats, 2.5 gunboats, slong)s, isc. The war had not affected this calculation to any great extent down to the time of issuing this volume.

Porvlation, Tradis, and Inhustiey
The total area of Japan, exclusive of Formosa, is estimated at $10 ; 3,0.42$ square miles, and the population, according to census returns taken in December, 1901 , wins $45,426,651$, but at the end of 1903 it was astimated to have increased to $46,304,499$. There are, exclusive of Chinese, about 5,000 foreigners residing in Japan, more than one-third that number being l3ritish subjects. The empire is geographically divided into the four islands: Honshiu, the central and most important territory ; Kiushiu, "nine provinces," the south-western island ; Shikokn, "the four provinces," the southem island ; and lezo, the most northerly and least developed The former three islands are sul-divided into eight large roads, contaning sixty-six provinces, and the latter (lezo or Hokkaido) is divided into eleven provinces.

The total value of the foreign trade for the last six years was:-

The largest item in the Export returns of the country is law Silk which (not including waste) reppesented in $1 \mathscr{N}) 3$ a value of $74,428,907$ yen though the guantity exportect. ( $7,315,531$ catties) was considerably below the quantities in 1901 and 1902. 'I'lese were-1901, $8,697,706$ catties value $7.4,667,331$ yen; $19122,8,078,166$ catties, value $76,859,48$ yen. Next in importance is the export of Cotton Yams. In 1890 this export represented at value of only 2,364, yen ; in 1903 yarn was exported to the value of $31,418,614$ yen. Cutton tissues allso (with the exception of whites, which showed a remarkable decline in 190 ) substantially exceeded the figures of previous years notably in grey shirtings. The Tha expont has never been so high an it was in 1903 when Grean Tea represented a value of over yen $13,000,000$. Black Tha was exported to the value of 290,301 yen; this, though showing a large increase on the return for 1902 , is less than half the imount in the retums for 1900 and 1901. Copper has exhibited a steady incroase and reached a value in 1903 of $14,909,0: 34$ yen. Coal, too, which in 1901 and 1902 was exported to the value of $17,000,000$ yen, increased to $19,260,000$ yen in 1903 . The expont of matches also maintains a steady increase, the value of $28,628,860$ gross in 1903 being $8,473,072$ yen.

The leading article in the Import list is Raw Cotton. In the last ten years this import has more than quadropled in value, which is eloquently indicative of the rapid progress the country has been making in her endeavor not only to supply her own needs but to slame in the market for manufactured goods on the continent of Asim. In 1903 she imported gimed cotton to the value of $68,209,725$ yen, which, lmwever, was less by more than tom millions the value of her import in 1902, which was her record year in that, respect, 1903 coming next. But while Japan has become a competitor of importance in the Asiatic markets for cotton goorls her own import of cotton piece goorls has not suffered to the extent expecterl. In 1902 her import of these goods represented it value of $15,416,942$ yen, but in 1003 it fell to $11,086,834$ yen which is approximately the avarge value of the yearly inport in the last five years. Woollen Goods were imported to the value of yen $7,082,882$ in 189 , yen 12,780,326 in 1895, and yen $18,268,460$ in 1896 , but 1897 showed a marked reverse, the value in that year being yen $12,009,002$, while 1898 showed only a slight improvement, namely, to yen 13,069,870, and in 1899 to $13,990,186$ yen. In 1900 tho imbort tonk $\Omega$ leap to $23,44,018$ yen, but it was not mantaned in 1001 and $190 \%$, the returns showing a value of $11,837,534$ yen for 1901 and $14,301,534$ yen for 1902. The import for 1903 showed a slight improvement, the total value being yen $16,36,074$. Metals have shewn a steady increase from yen 6,792,024 in 1893 to yen $17,553,543$ in 1896, yen $20,306,841$ in 1897, and yen $23,646,159$ in 1898 ; fell to $19,698,346$ in 1899, but recovered again considerably in 1900, when the value imported was yen $37,766,270$. The value of this commodity imported in 1901 was yen $25,406,566$, and in 1902 yen $23,836,697$. In 1903 it rose to yen $27,741,078$. The importation of Kerosine Oil rose from $54,692,886$ gallons in 1896 to ( $61,058,217$ in 1897, and $67,905,455$ in 1898 ; in 1899 it dropped to $52,421,837$ gallons, but in 1900 rose again to $67,842,324$ gallons. In 1901, 68,996,392 gallons, in 1902, $75,480,154$ gillons and in $1903,50,780,206$ gallons were imported. Sugar imported showed a steady increase from 1891 to 1898 . In 1899 there was a marked decrease, $2,731,817$ piculs only being imported. 1900, however, showed a distinct improvement, the quantity imported being $4,045,785$ piculs. The import for 1901 was $4,928,075$ piculs, while in 1902 the quantity imported declined again to $2,638,129$ piculs but the returns for 1903 showed 7,166,780 piculs imported.

The total Customs lievenue for the same year consisted of-Export Duties, nil; Import Duties, yen 16,372, 024 ; Miscellaneous, yen ( 975,866 ; Total, yen 17,047,890. The revenue shows an increase of yen $1,734,818$ compiured with that of 1902.

Extension of the Japanese railway system goes on uninterruptedly. The most recent returns give the length of the railway lines as 5,581 miles, 1,739 miles of Government and 3,842 miles of private railway, on March 31,1904 . The total cost of these lines was $338,945,792$ yen. There were also 1,389 miles under constructon at the date mentimed, their estimated cost in the aggregate being $19,748,156$ yen. The principal private lines not the Nippon lailway, mileage 857 miles; Kiushiu Railway, mileuge 416 miles; Sanyo hailway, mileage 33 f miles; Hok-kaido Thoko lailway, mileage 207 miles. A P'rivate Railway Law and lialway Business Law were promulgated on March 15, 1900, for the better exercise of control over the construction of railways and matters comnected with railway work in general, which came into force on Octuher $1,1900$. Sleeping-cars were hought into use on the Tokaido line from the same date.

By treaties made with a number of foreign (iovernments the Japanese ports of Kanagrwa (Yokohama), Nagasaki, Kobe, Hakodate, Niigata, and the cities of Tokyo (furmerly called Yedo) and ()saka were thrown open to foreign commerce. In 1894 a new treaty was signed with (ireat Brituin by which extraterritoriality was abolished and tho whole country opened to foreign tuale and residence, the treaty to come into force in July, 1899, provided similar treaties were effected with the other Powers. This was done and extraterritoriality ceased to exist on August 4th, 1890.

> Currency

From ()ctober 1897, Jipan placed her currency on a gold basis. The unit of value is a gold dollar weighing .833:' grammes and containing .75 grammes of fine gold. The conversion from silver to gold was effected at the ratio of 1 to 32.348 . $\Lambda$ searcity of money availablo for mercantile purposes with a high rate of interest, was much felt during 1900.

EuUcation

Elucation is very general in Japan, aml is making grat progress. There are numerous Higher Schools, Middle Schools, Normal Schools, and Colleges for special studies, zuch as Law, Science, Medicine, Mining, Agriculture, and Foreign Iangunges, and several Female High Schools have been established, and are carefully fostered by the Government. In orler to facilitate the prosecution of foreign studies the Government employs many Luropean professors, and also sends, at the public expense, a largenumber of st,udents every year to America and Europe.

TOKYO

The capital of Japan [until the liestoration called Yedo] is situated at the north on the Bay of Yedo, has a circumference of 27 miles, and covers a surface of nearly 36 square miles. The river Sumida runs through the city, dividing Tokyo proper from the districts on the east side called Honjo and Fukagawa.

Tokyo as viewed from the bay is a pleasant-looking city, being well situated on undulating ground, and possessing al)undant foliage. The city is divided into fifteen grand divisions, and its suburbs into six divisions. It is in fact more like an aggregation of towns than one great city. The Castle of Tokyo cccupies a commanding position on a hill a little to the westward of the centre of the city. It is enclosed in double walls, and surrounded by a fine broad moat. Within the Castle formerly stood the Shogun's Palace and several public offices, but the destructive fire of the 3 rd of $\mathrm{April}^{\text {p }}$ 1872, levelled these ancient and massive buildings, leaving only the lofty turrets and walls. A new Palace on the old site has been constructed and the Mikado took up his residence there in January, 1889. The Imperial Garden called Fukiage is situated within the enclosure of the Castle. It is tastefully laid out in the pure native style, and contains fine forest trees, rare and beatuiful plants of all kinds, a large pond, cascarles, de.

Between the Castle and the outer walls, a large area was formerly occupied by the numerous palaces of the Daimios, but nearly all these feurlal erections have now given place to brick or stone buildings, used as Puhlic Offices, Barracks, Government Schools, de., so that at the present time very few of the Daimios' malaces remain to illustrate what old Yedo was like in the time of the Shogumate. They are large long buildings of a single high storey, plain but substantial, with no pretensions to architecture, but interesting as reminiscences of feudal. Japan.

The remaining portion of the city outside the walls is very densely inhabited, and may be called the commercial district of Tokyo. It has a circumference of 24 miles and covers an area of about 29 square miles. The most important part of the business quarter is on the east of the Castle, and is traversed hy a main street running from the north to the south-west under different names. A considerable length of this thoroughfare, which is called (Ginza, is lined with brick buildings in the European style; the road is wide and well kept, the pavement hroad and planted with trees on either side. As it is in close contiguity to the principal railway station, it is always very animated and thronged with vehicles and foot pissengers.

The north end of the main strcet learls to the public park or garten named Uyeno, where formerly stool the magnificent Temple founded and maintained by the Sheguns, and which was destroyed by fire during the war of Restoration in July, 1868. In these grounds the Industrial Exhibition of 1877 was held, when the gardens were converted into a public pleasure resort ly the Government. Several exhibitions have since leen held here and have proved very successful. In Uyeno is also situated the fine Imperial Museum (Haku-butsu-kwan).

Among the places much resorted to by visitors is the ancient temple of Kwannon, at Asakusa, not far from Tyeno, one of the most popular and most frequented temples in Japan. The temple is clevated about 20 feet from the ground. A tlight of steps gives access to the interior. There is a chief altar at the extreme end of the temple, with side. chapels at its right and left, containing a great number of wooden images and ex votos. The interior is not very large, and is mot so conspicuous for cleanliness as most of the public buildings in Japan. At the right of the temple there is a fine old Pagoda, and near it two colossal stome statues. A new park was also opened close to the temple about the same time as that of Uyeno. Thus, with Shiba, in the south-west, where are to be seen some of the splendid shrines of the Shoguns, among the chief glories of Tokyo, there are three large pullic gardens within the city. The fine buildings of the Imperial University (Teikoku Daigaku) stand in the district of Hongo near Uyeno Park. There are altogether 1,275 temples in Tokyo, some of which are tine editices. The building in which the Imperial Diet meets is a plain edifice, and is only intended for temporary use.

The districts of IIonjo and Fukagawa form the quiet portion of the capital. This quarter is connected with Tokyo proper by tive great bridges, some of which are constructed of iron and some of wood. They are called, commencing on the north, Adsuma-Bashi, Umaya-Bashi, liyogoku-Bashi, O-Hashi, and Jitai-Bashi respectively, From these the traveller may obtain a fine view of the animated river-life of the Sumida, whose waters are always covered with junks and boats of all descriptions.

A great part of the remaining area forming the district north of the Castle is. covered by paddy fields, in the midst of which rise picturesquely situated houses. There are also extensive pleasure gardens, such as Asuki-yama, and neat little villages. The part west of the Castle contains tifty temples, and a number of nobles' palaces. The district on the south of the Castle, with an area of about $17 \frac{1}{2}$ square iniles, contains about sixty temples. The most remarkable amoug them is Fudo-sama in Meguro.

Several great fires have during the last two decades or so swept 'Tokyo, and these have led to great improvements and widening of the streets. Rows of good houses in brick and stone, and new bridges, in many cases of iron or stone, have been built and the city has in many portions been thoroughly modernised. There are some very large and handsome official and mercantile buildings. Tramways have been laid and the cars are usually crowded with passengers. The main streets and those aljacent to them are lighted by electricity, and the remainder by gas and oil lamps. Lines of telegraph. amounting in all to 200 miles, comect the various parts of the city with one another, and with the country lines. The main streets are broad and well kept, and improvements attend the work of reconstruction after each conflagration. But as the city is in a transition state, it necessarily presents many strange anomalies. Side ly side with lofty stone buildings stand rows of rude wooden houses. $\Lambda \mathrm{s}$ with the buildings so with the people; while the mass still wear the native dress, numbers appear in European costume. The soldiers and police are dressed in uniform on the Western model.

The environs of Thokyo are very picturesque and offer a great variety of pleasant walks or rides. Foreigners will find much to interest them in the country round. The finest scenery is at the northern and western sides of the city, whero the country is surrounded by beautiful hills, from which there is a distant view of the noble mountains of Hakone, while beyond rises in solitary grandeur the towering peak of Fuji-san, covered with snow the greater part of the year. The population of ''okyo, according to the official census of 1898 , was $1,425,366$.

The native lress is represented by more than a hundred newspapers, several of which are dailies. There is a daily paper run by Japanese in the English language called the Japan Times, which is representative of Japanese interests. There are 1,225 schools of different classes, including one university. A large and handsome hotel designed for foreigners and called the Imperial Hotel, was opened in 1890 . There is also a tirstclass hotel, called the Metropole, under foreign management.

YOKOHAMA

Yokohama is the principal Treaty port of Japan, and was opened to foreign trade in July, 1859. It is situated on the Bay of Yokohama, a small bay on the western side of the Gulf of Yedo, in lat. 35 deg. 26 min .11 sec . N., and long. 139 deg. 39 min .20 sec ., in the island of Honshiu, and is distant about eighteen miles from the capital, with which it is connected ly a line of railway. The town having sprung up from a poor fishing village only since the site was selected for a treaty port, instead of the little town of Kanagawa, possesses few attractions for the visitor. The scenery around, however, is hilly and pleasing, and on clear days the snow-crowned summit and graceful outlines of Fuji-san, a volcanic mountain 12,370 feet highcelebrated in Japanese literature and depicted on innumerable native works of art-is most distinctly visible, though some seventy-five miles distant. The native portion of Yokohama is compactly built of low houses with tiled roofs. The town is divided into two nearly equal parts, the western half being occupied by what was known, before the abolition of extra-territoriality, as the foreign settlement. Beyond the plain on which the town is built rises a sort of semi-circle of low hills called "The Bluff," which is thickly dotted with handsome foreign villas and dwelling-houses in various styles of architecture, all standing in pretty gardens. From these dwellings charming prospects are obtainable. Along the water-front runs a good road called the Bund, on which, facing the water, stand many of the principal houses and hotels and the United Club. The streets are fairly paved, curbed, and drained. There are Anglican, lrench Catholic, Union Protestant, and several native Mission Churches in the Settlement. $\Lambda$ fine Cricket and Recreation Ground exists in the Settlement, and there are well laid out Public Gardens on The Bluff. There is a fairly goonl lace Course situated about two miles from the Settlement. $\Lambda$ goorl Boating Club also exists, which has provided facilities for deep sea bathing. The l'ublic Hall, containing a theatre and assembly romms, nearly built of brick, is situated at the top of Camp Hill, and was opened in 1885. The chief publie buildings in the native town are the Kencho, opposite the British Consulate, the Town I Iall, which has a clock tower, and the Custom House. The Railway Station is also a creditable structure, being a well designed and commodious terminus. On the 12 th August, 1899, a disastrous lire occurred in the Iseza Kicho district, in which some seventeen streets were swept by the flames, the number of houses destroyed leing 3,237. The

The attention of Captains and Shipowners is respectfully called to the advantages which this establishment offers for docking and repairing vessels.

Every description of repair work is carried out for vessels and machinery. The plant and tools are of the most recent patterns for dealing quickly and cheaply with work. A large stock of material is kept, plates and angles being tested by Lloyd's surveyors. Two powerful twin screw tow boats are available for taking vessels in and out of dock. The floating derrick is capable of lifting 45 tons. Engines and machinery of all kinds, boilers, steam launches and lighters, steel buildings, roofs, and bridge work are made on the premises. Estimates and information of any sort will be given upon sliort notice by cable or letter.

The workmanship and material will ke guarmateed, and the cost will be found to compare favourably with that in any part of the world. All work is done under European supervision, and careful attention is given to small items. The staff and foremen are men of long experience in the engineering trade.

HAKODATE

This, the most northerly of the old treaty ports of Japan, is sitnated in the south of Yezo, in the Straits of 'Tsugaru, which divile that iskand from Honshiu. The port lies in latitude 41 deg. 47 min. 8 sec . N., and longitude 140 deg. 45 min .34 sec . E., and tho harbour is nearly land-locked. The town clusters at the foot and on the slope of a bold rock known to foreigners as Hakolate Head, 1,10f feet in height. The surrounding country is hilly, volennic, and striking, but the town itself possesses few attractions. A row of fine temples, with lofty picturestue roots, occupying higher gromm than the rest of the town, are the most conspicuous buildings. There are some Public Giardens at the eastern end of the town, which contain a small hut interesting Museum. Waterworks for supplying the town with pure water were completed in 1889 . The climate of Hakolate is healthy and bracing. The hottest month is August, but the thermometer there rarely rises above 00 degrens Fahr.; in the winter it sometimes sinks to 18

Regrees. The mean temperature throughout the year is about 48 degrees. The population of Hakonlate in 1902 was 88,886 . The number of foreign residents on Jecember 31 st, 1992 , was 209 , of whom 38 were Jritish, 40 American, 32 French and 89 Chinese.

The foreign trate of the port is small. The value of the imports declinel from S676,534 in 1890 to 812,101 in 1892, but increased by an arerage of slightly over a hundred per cent. each year to Yen $1,74,181$ in 1899 and Yen $3,000,284$ in $190 \%$. The imports for 190:3 were Jen 4,104,860. The exports in 190:3 amounter to Jon $3,008,90$ f against Jen $2,005,524$ in 1902.149 steamers of 129,686 tons and re8 sailing lessels (inclu:ling junks) of $21,29 \pm$ tons entered, and 173 stemmers of 140 , fi98 fons and 192 sailing vessels (including junks) of 31,716 tons, cleared during tha year 190:3. The agricultural resources of Yezo have been to some extent developed under thr atuspices of the Kaitakushi or Colonization Department. The rich pasture lands are wel!: adipted for laceding cattle. In the valuable and extensive fisheries on the coast, lowever, the chief exports of the future from Hakodate are to be looked for: Increasing quantities of dried fish and seaweed are exported ammally, mostly to China. The mineral resources of Yezo are large, aur may also some day rield it valumbe addition to the exports of this port. Sulphur is at mesent the most rimbule item in the list of exports. There are now four large coal mines in operation, whe in Poronai, one at Ikushumbetsu, one at Yubari abd if fourth at Sorachi. The quantity of eoal contained in the fields of the Hokkaido is apmoximately estimated at $600,000,000$ tons. Washing for gold dust is being energeticahy carried on in Kitami and there is reason to believe with proper machinery the gold mines of Hokkato may be worked with fair profit. [ip till the summer of 1899 but little interest was taken by the publio in the oil prorlu-tion of Hokkido, but since then a great deal has been hearal of the kerosene wealth of this district, and it is even stated the prospects are not inferion to those of Echigo. The places where oil is said to exist are numerous. At Nukimi- Mum on Soya Strait-in the extreme North-oil wells were discovered long ago, and have been workerl by hand for some years. The oil, in fact, overflows into the sein, and in somy weather boats take refuge at Nukimi Mura, ats the sea is rendered smonth by the wil. Oil also mists at Nigori-Kawa, near Hakodate; at Kayamagori, near Shiribechi : at Itaibetsu, on a tributary of the Irin River (output 800 gallons per (ay); at Kotamimurat :and J'sukisama Mura (Imperial property), near Sapporo; and noar Abashiri, where the wells are considered rich. Hakolate is connected with the capital by telegraplo, and the construction of a new line of milway between I Fakodate and ()taru ( 157 miles) is being rigorously pushed forwarl. It is expected to be open for tratic in the sprag of 190. . A milwivy from Otaru to Sapporo, 29 mile long, was upened to public traflic on the 28 th November, 1880, and has since been carried on to Poronai, where are some large conl mines, the total length of the line being off miles. A brinch to Ikushmbetsu, seven miles, has since been made, and another line from the - wal mines to Murom, a port on the south-east of the island, a distaneo of 143 miles, Was opened to traftic in July, 1892. It the station of Oiwake, from which proint there is a hranch line to Vubari ( $26!$, miles), the Jronko Tetsudn Kaisha have established ovens fin the manufacture of coke. The aggregate mileage at the end of 1503 was 380 miles, nearly 300 of which belong to the Tanko Tetsudn Kinisha, or Mining and lailway (ompany about 50 miles of railway are still under construction in Hokkado. The Hakodate Harbour Improvement works were ampleted in 1900, and a patent -lip capable of taking ressels up to 1,500 tons was also finished. There is also under construction a dry dock to accommodate ships up to 10,000 tons at ordinary - bring tides, and at highest spring tides the dock will lee capable of receriving the largesi battleships in the Japanese Navy. Harbour improvements are also being carried on at Otaru, where a massive loreakwater, about 3,500 feet long, is under construction.

OSAKA

Usaka is the second city in Japan in point of size and commercial importance, and has not inaptly been termed the Venice of the Far Last, owing to the manner in which it is intersected by canals. The city is compact and well laid out, the streets being regular, clean, and animated. ()saka is essentially Japanese, though a go-ahead and progressive city, and possesses much of interest to the foreign visitor. It is situated in the province of settsu, and is built on the banks of the river $\Lambda_{j i}$, nbout five miles from the sea. The river is only navigable for small vessels, and on the opening of the railway to Kobe the foreign trade of Osaka commenced to decline. Almost all the foreign firms which at one time were established in the latter city have removed to Kobe. Hopes are very generally entertained in Osaka of a recovery of the city's lost position in this respect, and to that end a new harbour is being constructed to accommodate ocean-coing steamers. The most imposing and at the same time the most interesting ohject to be seen in Osaki is the Castle, erectel in 1583 by one of the Shoguns, the famous Toyotomi Hideyoshi. Though less extensive than that of Tokyo, it is a much grander and more striking edifice, and is indeed, next to that of Nagoya, the fnest example of the ancient feudal castles of Japan. It is now occupied by the Osaka garrison, and forms the headquarters of one of the six great military districts, and it has also within its inclosure an extensive military arsenal. The city is the seat of the provincial govermment, which is called Fucho, in contradistinction to the other provincial govermments, which are termed Kencho. ()saka is the seat of numerous industries, including cotton spimning mills, shiphuilding yards, and iron works, and the Imperial Mint is located there. This establishment is in active operation and turns out a coinage not surpassed by any in the world. The imports in 1900 amounted to yen $9,741,436$ against yen $6,390,913$ in 1899 and the exports to yen $9,626,595$ in 1900 against yen $5,939,290$ in the previous year. The value of imports for 1902 was yen $11,875,730$ and exports yen $15,050,579$. The figures for 1903 ire:-Imports yen if,506,488, and exports yen $18,394,998$. The lhritish and American residents, numbering about 100 , are, with few exceptions, missionalies.

KOBE-HYOGO

Kobe was until 1892 the foreign port of the adjoining town of Hyogo and was: opened to foreign trade in 1868, and in 1899 the two towns were incorporated under the title of Kobe City, when the City Municipal Law was put into force. The port is finely situated on the Idzuni-madi, at the gate of the far-famed Jnland Seal The harbour is good and affords safe anchorage for vessels of almost any size. The two towns face the land-locked water covered with white sails, while behind, at a distance of about a mile, rises a range of picturesque and lofty hills, some of which attain an altitude of about 2,500 feet, and the steep sides of which are partly covered with pines. On one of these hills-Rokkosan-are a number of foreign residences. the place having become a favourite summer resort. The summit of this hill has been well prepared for the purpose, several miles of excellent paths making walking on the hills easy and enjoyable. Among the attractions of Rokkosim are excellent golf links. Kobe and Hyogo stretel for some three miles along the strip of land between the hills and the water. The Foreign quarter at kobe is well lad out: the streets are broad and clean, and lighted with gats. The limur has a tine stone embankment and extends the whole length of Kobe. The foreign houses are neatly louilt, and the Sannomiya railway station, within three minutes' walk of the Bund, has in very English look. The railway terminus is at the other end of Kobe, where it meets Hyogo, and there are extensive carriage works adjoining the station. There are two Clubs-the Kobe Club (British) and the Club Coneorchia (German). At Mirume the K. I. & A. (: have a fine boathonse and large lawn for all kinds of sports, and commodious chambers for the members. The Union I'rotestant Chureh and a French Loman Catholic Cinurch are in what was formerly known as the Comeession. An English Episcopal Church, All Saints', was opened in 1898 on the Hill behind, and there is niso a native Protentant Church in Kobe town. There are two foreign hotels in the town-the Oriental and the (ireat Eastern. Two foreign daily papers, the Kobe Chronicle and the Kolve Herrlil, and one weekly, the Japan C'homicle, are published in Kobe. There aro also two native papers. The population of the city of Kobe in December, 1900, was 249,987. There are about 3,000 foreigners residing in Kobe, but of this number nearly two-thirds wo Chinese. When a census was taken in 1901, the British numberd 602 , Germans 188 , Americans 179 , French 67 , and the Portuguese 70.

The Temple of Sofukuji, which possesses a large bronze louddhe, and which is situated in the old town of Hyogo, is worth a visit; and there is a momment to the Japanese hero Kiyomori, erected in 1286, in a grove of trees in the vicinity of the temple, which clams some attention from its historic associations. ("n the Kole side o the old river known as the Minato-gawa also stands a temple redicated to Kusunok Masashige, so famous in Japanese history for loyalty, and valour, who died on the spot in 1336 during the musuccessful wars for the restoration of the hlikado's power. The Kawasaki Shiphuilding laml situated at Hyogo is one of the langest in Japan. The new graving Dock will accommodate vessels of some 5,000 tons.

Kobe's excellent railway communications, both north and south, have naturally tended to centralise trade at this port.

SHIMONOSEKI AND MOJI

These two towns are situatell one on each side of Shimonoseki straits, the western entrance of the laland Ser-- the former on the north and the latter on the south side. The interests of both towns, so far as shipping is concerned, are indentical, and in movement exists to have both embraced in one new lim, in place of, as at present, Shimonoseki heing under the jurisdiction of Yamaguchi, 51 miles away, and Moji under that of Fukuoki, 47 miles away. The foreign merchants have their offices on the side that suits their own convenience; Custom House and Banks having establishments on both sides of the sitraits. There is a fairly strong tidal current through the Straits but the anchorage, which is along the south shore, is only affected by an eddy, and good holding ground is general. Steaners entering from the West can get pilots at Rokuren light, where boats have to stop) in any ase for medical inspection and harbour master's instructions. Prom the eastwards this inspection talses place at Hezaki Light. The climate is exceedingly healthy, and means of transport are good. Liners run regularly to all foreign odinary ports of call ; and while from Shimmoseki the Sanyo Railway tips the North, from Moji the Kiushiu Railway taps the South of Japan. Excellent foreign accommonation can be had at the Shimmoseki Station Hotel belonging to the Sanyo lailway. This Railway has also two large ferry boats plying between Moji and the Shimonoseki Station, while a ten-minute ferry plies between the usual landing, places at Moji and Shimonoseki. Waterworks are in course of construction for shimonoseki and leing talked of for Moji. Both places are lit by electricity and are connected loy telephone with the principal towns, from kumamoto and Nagasaki in the South, to Chofu in the North. Imports for $190: 3$ amounted to Yen 1,373,7:2 for Shimonoseki and Yen 8,380, 33 for Moji, and Exports to Yen 721,233 for Shimonoseki and Yen 15,519,488 for Moji. Imports consist principally of machinery, iron ore, sugar, riw cotton, and lour' : and Exports of coal, coton yarn, and rice. The quantity of coal exported from Moji in 1903 was $2,063,838$ tons. 2,300 steamers entered into Shimonoseki and Moji in 1003 representing a total tomage of $3, i 11,683$, of which 476 vessels of $1,195,557$ tons were British. The population of shimonoscki at the curd of 1902 was 44,733 , and of Moji $3 f ; 7$, 98 . It shoukd be specially noted that photographing and sketching are forbidden within a radius of ten miles round Shimonosekiand Moji on land and seat. The law in this respect is strictly enfored and ignorance is not accepted as an excuse.

NAGASAKI

Nagasaki is a city of great antiquity, and in the early days of European intercourse with the Far East was the most important seat of the foreign trade with Japan. It is admimally situated on the south-western coast of the Island of Kiushiu. A melancholy interest attaches to the neighbourlood as the scene of the extinction of Christianity in the empire and the extermination of the professors of that religion in 1637 . At the entrance to the harlour lies the celelrated island of Pappenberg, where thousands of Christians are said to have been thrown over the high cliff rather than go through the form of trampling on the cross. Not fiar from Nagasaki is also the village of Mogi, where 37,000 Christinns suffered death in defending themselves against the forcessent to subulue them. When the Christian religion was crushed and the foreigners expelled, to the Jutch alone was extended the privilege of trading with falam, and they were confined to a small plot of ground at Nagasaki called Deshima. By the Treaty of 1858, Nagasaki was one of the ports opened to British trade on the lst July in the following year.

On entering the harbour of Nagasaki no stranger can fail to be struck with the admirable situation of the town and the beautiful panorama of hilly scenery opened to his view. The harbour is a landlocked inlet deeply indented with small bays, about. three miles long with in width varying from halt-imile to a mile. A reclamation scheme was commenced in October 1897 . 147 acres have been reclaimed, and retaining walls measuring nearly five miles in length has been built in front of what were formerly the foreign concessions at Jeshima and Megasaki. Simultaneously, the harhour has been deepened. The cost of the work was four millions yen. The town is on the eastern side of the harbour, and is about two miles long lyy about three-guarters of a mile in extreme wilth. The foreign quarter iuljoins the town on the south side. The chief mercantile houses are situated on the bund facing the harloour, behind which are a few streets running parallel with it, mal there are a number of private residences on the hill-side. There are English Protestant and Roman Catholic chanches, two clubs, and a Masonic Loxlge. The principal hotel is the Nagasaki Hotel, opened in 1898, a three-storeyed brick building situated on the Bund. There are severai other hotels, of which the largest are the Hotel de France, Japan Hotel, Belle Vue Hutel, the Cliff House and the Hotel de Japan. The Mitsu Bishi Company own two docks in Nagasiaki, the largest admitting vessels 500 feet in length on a draught of 26 feet. $\Lambda$ new dock is in course of construction which will be the largest in the Far East. It will have a length of 714 feet on the keel blocks and a depth of water at ordinary springtides of 34 ft .6 in . As a ship-building centre the place is rapidly developing, and since 1889 eight large ocean-going vessels, of between $\{, 000$ mul 7000 tons, have been launched, having been built there for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. The waterworks, owing to the growth of the town, were found tol be insufticient for its wants, and a large extension of the works was completed in March last. The reservoirs holds $405,240,000$ gallons, and there are three filter beds and a service reservoir. The Sanyo lailway is mow completed between Shimonoseki nud Yatsushiro, in Hyogo province. Connection is made at Moji (across the narrow strait) with the Kiushiu line to Nagasaki, so that it is possible, with is brief sea passage of ten minutes between Moji and Shimonoseki, to travel hy rail to Kole and thence to Tokyo. The climate in Xagasaki is mild and salubrions, and there are several very popular health resorts in the neighbourlanol, the must fanous being Mount Vnzen.

In 1903 the imports were valued at len $12,867,380$, a sulstantial increase of Yen $3,541,549$ as compared with the figures for 1902 , while exports remained about the same, the value heing len $4,956,980$.

Though the foreign trade has fallen off considerably, the population of the port has increased greatly. In September 1903 it was returned as 152,727 , nearly double what it was ten years ago. The foreign population, exclusive of Chinese, was 481 including 91 British, 83 Frenel, 37 German, 49 Russian, and 102 American. An English newspaper, entitled the Fuyusuhi Press, is published daily; a monthly magazine is publisherl from the same Oflice, entitled Cherry Blossoms: The Muyasoki Press Mouth! !

FORMOSA

This island, one of the largest in Asia, is situated between latitude 22 and 26 degrees N., and longitude 120 and 122 degrees E., and is separated from the coast of Fukien, China, by a chamel aloout one hundred miles in width. It is a prolongation of the Japanese and Loochoo Archipelagoes and in 1895 was incorporated in the Japanese empire. Its name Fomosa, signifying "beautiful islame", was conferred by the Portuguese, the first Europeans to visit it, but it was called Taiwan (Great Bay) by the Chinese, to whom it belongel from 1661 to 1894. It is said that the Japanese endeavoured to form a colony in the island in 1620 , but large numbers of Chinese were settled there prior to that date. The I)utch arrived in $16 ; 34$, and founded several settlements, and traces of their occupation are still to be found in the island, but they were compelled in 1661 ti) retire by the Chinese pimte chief Koxinga, who then assumed the sovercignty of western Formosia. His gramlson and successor however, was inducel, twenty-two years later, to resign the crown to the Emperor of China. By the treaty of Shimonoseki, which terminated the war between China and Japan in 189.5, the island was ceded to Japan as one of the terms of peace, and on the 1st June, 1895, the formal surrender was made, the ceremony taking place on board ship outside Kelung. The resident Chinese ofticials, however, declared a republic, and offered resistance, and it was not until the end of October that tho opposing forces were completely overcome, the last stand being made in the south by Liu Yung-fu, the Black Flag (ieneral, of Toukin notoriety. Takow was bombarded ant captured on 15th October, and Anping was peacefully oecupied on the 21st of the same month, Liu lung-fu having taken refuge in flight.

Formosa is alluout 260 miles in length, and from 60 to 70 miles broad in the widest part. It is intersected from north to south by a range of mountains, which forms a kind of backhone to the island, the loftiest peak of which, Homnt Morrison, (Niitalsaymara), is over 13,000 feet high. On the western side of this range the slope is more gradual than on the eastern side, and hroken by fertile valleys which lose themselves in the large undulating plain on which the Chinese are settleed. The whole of the territory east of the dividing chain is poopled by an aboriginal race who acknowledged no allegiance to the Clinese Covermment and made frequent raids on the outlying Chinese settlements, but they have provel themselves friendly th the Japancse. They are a siarage and warlike people, allied to the Malays and lolynesians, and live principally by the chase. The total population of Formosa is given as $3,082,404$. The Chinese prypulation is alput $2,872,000$; whilst 5650 tribes of aborigines, described in the returns as savages, aggregate 90,597 persons. The latest census returns give the number of Japanesie in the island as 50,94 . The revenue amounts to alout $90,000,000$ yen a y year, $1, n t$ for the current year a revenue of $18,8+0,641$ yen is estimated. The productions of Formosia are numeryus, vegetation being every where most luxuriant, testifying to the richuess of the soil. Sugar, teia, and camphor are largely cultivated and exported. The fanm includes bears, monkeys, deer, will boar, badgers, martens, the scaly ant-eater, annlother smaller animals. Bircs are not very numerous, and snakes are not so common is might be expected where vegetation is so ahundant. It is believed that the mineral wealth of the island is very considerable. The gold mining industry is advancing rapidly. In 1902 no less than 43,400 ozs. were obtained from the mines and alluvial washings, representing in value of $£ 168,6266$. In $1903,42,770$ ounces of a value of $£ 138,964$ were exported to Japan. The gold mines and alluvial waslings are sitnated in the Kelung and Zuilo districts, and the industry from all accounts allows of considerable expansion. There are coal mines near Kelung and sulphur springs also exist in the north of the island. The interior of the island is, however, still practically mexplored. One great drawhack to the island is its want of good harbours, which is more especially felt on account of the strength of the monsoons in the Fommosa Chamel. Those on the castern side are few and neither commodious nor accessible, while on the west coast most of the harbours are little better than open roalsteads. Harbour improvements are now being carried out in Keelung. Taipeh is the capital of Formosa, but Tainan-fu is the chiet city in point of population. The open ports are four in number-- Takow and Tainan-fu in the south, and Tamsui and Kelung in the north. The latter was held for some months an 1884-5 hy the French, under Arlmiral Courlet, but was evacuated on the 21 st June, 2885. The rivers of Formosa are few, shallow, and winding, only mavigable to small flat-bottomed boats. The scenery is delightful, and the climate is very pleasant in thewinter, but hot in some parts of the island and malarious in the wet season. There are railways from Kelung to Hsinchiku (Teckcham) via Taihoku (Taipeh), Taihoku to Tamsui (Hobe), and Takow to Tainan-fu. A connecting line between Hsinchiku and Tainan is now under construction, being completed as far as Hakkōkōk. There are also narrow guage tramways in several directions, and many new roadways have been opened.

TAMSUI AND KELUNG

The port of Tamsui lies in lat. 25 deg. 10 min. N. and long. 101 deg. 26 min . E. on the north-western side of the fertile island of Formosa. The harbour, like all others in Formosa, has it troublesome bar, which greatly retards the growth of the port. 1)redging would do much to render it more accessible. The town, called Hobe, is situated on the north side of the river, about two miles from the bar. In October, 1884, the French ships under Admiral Courbet bombarded 'lamsui, but were unable tor take the place. The Japanese took possession on the 7 th. June, 1895 . Tea grows on the hills in the locality, the export in 1903 amounting to $23,680,185$ pounds, as compared with $22,067,106$ pounds, in 1902 , and $20,084,741$ pounds in 1901. According to the British Cousular report, the totill trade of North Formosa in 1903 amounted to $£ 3,270,663$ against $£ 3,208,379$, in 1902, $£ 2,517,289$ in 1901, and $£ 2,551,760$ in 1900.

The port of Kelung lies to the north－east of Tamsui，in latitude 25 deg． 6 min ． N and longitude 121 deg． 47 min ．E．It is situated on the shores of a bay between the capes of Foki and Peton，some twenty miles apart，amidst bold and striking scenery，backed by a range of mountains．It was once a Spanish Settlement，but was subsequently （aptured and held by the l）utch until they in turn gave place to the Chinese under Koxinga，a pirate chief who caused humself to be proclaimed King of Formosa． Shough a mere village，it has long carried on a considerable native tracle with Amoy， ©hin－chew，and loochow．Its stiple product used to be coal，but the quantity at present produced is largely absorbed by local requirements．Kelung was opened to foreign trade at the same time as the other Formosan ports．The limits of the port are defined to bo withiu a straight line drawn from Image P＇oint to Bush Island．On the 5th August，1884， the port was bombarded by the French under Admiral Lespes，when the forts above the town were reduced to ruins，and the place captured．It was then garrisoned by the Trench，who held it until ifter the Treaty of Peace had been signed at Tientsin in June，1885．The place was occupied by the Japanese on the 3rd June， 1895.

At Kelung the harbour works authorities have prepared plans for proposed improvements，and actual work commenced in November 1900，when two dredgers started work deepening the bottom of the harbour．The construction of a break water is included in the programme．A slipway is at Kelung for vessels of 400 tons but a project is on foot to enlarge it to accommodate vessels up to 1,000 tons． Designs for another slipway are under consideration by the naval authorities．The Japanese Budget for the current year includes a sum of 3，500，000 yen for harbour improve－ mentsat Kelung．During 1900 a lighthouse was completed on Pak－sa Point，a low headland on the westeoast，some 20 miles south－west of Tansui．A pier has recently been built in conjunction with the ralway，alongside which most steamers are now berthed．

The railway line between Tamsui and Daitotei（Twatutia）was opened on 2⿹丁口th Au－ gust，1901，and has heen of great benefit to the people of the district．The actual cost of construction was insignificant，the line having been laid upon a practically level sur－ face for nearly the whole of its route．Over 100 miles of railways are now in working order in this district，which are to extend from Kelung to the south of the island，and now reach to Hakkoko the remaining 13 miles constituting the line between Taihoku and Tamsui．In the sonth the line has been completed and is in working order as far north as Tarumi nearly 81 miles from Takow，thus making in all some 200 miles over which traffic is running．The capital，called by the Chinese T＇aipeh，is now under the Japanese nomenclature，called Taihoku．Twatutia will he found in the Japanese postal guide as Daitotei．It is here，on the outskirts of Taihoku，and on the Tamsui River which flows past Daitotei，that the foreign merchants have their residential and business quarters．At the mouth of the Tamsui River lies the town of Hobe，in Japanese Kobi，but now most usually called Tamsui to avoid confusion with Kobe in Japan proper．
